Indorsements.—It is negotiable to the extent of one indorsement except when the order is put through a bank, in which case it may pass through the banking system and bear as many bank indorsements as may be necessary, a bank indorsement for the purpose of effecting final payment not being considered as coming under the regulation limiting indorsements to one. A money order bearing the receipt of the payee is equivalent to a check indorsed in blank, and in general will be treated as such. As a matter of fact a money order may be treated exactly as a check is treated and in the same way may be used for the payment of bills, the settlement of accounts and for deposit in banks, both commercial and savings, so long as the payee is known. It frequently happens that, through ignorance of this facility in the negotiation of a money order, those holding them believe that money orders must be presented at a postoffice for payment, and it is seldom, unless precautions to make themselves known have been taken beforehand, that payees can identify themselves without annoyance and trouble. It is not sufficient that the letter in which the money order was transmitted be submitted as a means of identification. A money order is seldom lost without the letter of transmittal also being lost, both falling into the hands of the finder at the same time. The postoffice clerk paying a money order is personally responsible for the proper payment of the order, and he must make good any loss that his wrong payment may cause.

Money Order Purchased but not Sent.—A money order purchased but not sent to the payee may be "repaid" to the remittitur or purchaser when presented at the office of issue under proper identification. Only the face value of the order will be repaid. The amount of the fee will be retained. Thus an order cashed at the office of issue is "repaid" and when cashed at the office of payment it is "paid." An order may be paid or repaid when the holder, remitter, payee or indorsee, is at an office other than the office of issue or the office of payment, by sending the order by mail to the proper office, the office of issue if he be the remitter and the office of payment if he be the payee or indorsee, with a request that a new order for the same amount, less the necessary fee for the new order, be drawn on the office in the jurisdiction of which he then resides, and payable to him. This new order will be forwarded to him and may be cashed in the usual way. The order must be properly indorsed or receipted before being forwarded for this purpose.

Duplicate Order.—When an order is lost application should be made to the office of issue by the remitter or to the office of payment by the payee, as the case may be, for a duplicate order. This duplicate order will be issued by the Money Order Department at Washington, D. C., after proper precautions have been taken to prevent the payment or repayment of the original order should it be found and presented for payment or repayment before or after the duplicate has been issued. A duplicate money order will be issued to either the remitter, the payee or the indorsee.

Indorsee.—The indorsee of an order stands in the same relation as the payee and may exercise all the rights of a payee.

Warrant.—A money order remains valid for one year after the first day of the month following its issue. Should it be presented for payment or repayment after the lapse of that time application must be made for a "warrant" to take its place. This application may be made at any money order office and the warrant will be issued at Washington, D. C.

Money Orders Lost.—Money orders are of no use to anyone but the remitter, the payee, or the indorsee, and if lost, the rightful owners will lose nothing, but will be able to recover full value through a duplicate, or, if a year has elapsed, through a warrant.

Rules Apply to Foreign or International Orders.—In general the rules governing the payment, repayment, loss, etc., of domestic orders apply as well to foreign or international orders.

Foreign Money Order.—The foreign money order system, through direct or indirect exchange, covers the transportation of money to nearly every country on the globe.

International Money Orders.—International money orders may be issued and made payable in any of the following foreign countries at a designated money order office: Apia (Samoa), Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Chili, Costa Rica, Denmark, Egypt, France, Algeria and Tunis, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Republic of Honduras, Hongkong (China), Hungary, Italy (including San Marino), Japan, Liberia, Luxemburg, Netherlands, New South Wales, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Portugal, Queensland, Russia, Salvador, South Australia, Sweden, Switzerland, Tasmania, Union of South Africa (which comprises the provinces of the Cape of Good Hope (formerly Cape Colony), the Transvaal, the Orange Free State (formerly Orange River Colony) and Natal (including Zululand), Uruguay and Victoria.

International orders may also be sent to many places with which this country has no direct exchange, through other countries, information in regard to which will be given upon application.

Fees on Money Orders.—The fees on money orders drawn on, or through any of the above-named countries are divided into classes as follows:

When payable in or through Apia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Costa Rica, Denmark, Egypt, Germany, Great Britain and Ireland, Honduras, Hongkong, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Luxemburg, New South Wales, New Zealand, Peru, Portugal, Queensland, Russia, Salvador, South Australia, Switzerland, Tasmania, Union of South Africa, Uruguay and Victoria:

For orders from $	00.01	to $	2.50	10 cents
"	"	"	2.51	"	5.00.....15 cents

"	"	"	80.01	"	90.00.....90 cents
"	"	"	90.01	"	100.00.....1 dollar

When payable in or through any other foreign country the fees are ten cents on each $10 or fraction thereof.

Direct Exchange.—Direct exchange is the term used to designate the system that deals directly with any particular country.

Indirect Exchange.—Indirect exchange the system that deals with a particular country through the medium of another country with which the direct exchange is established.

Blank Application.—In making application for a money order, either domestic or foreign, the remitter must fill out the blank application himself, and in as complete detail as possible. Postoffice clerks are not allowed to make out applications for money orders for patrons, or to assist them in any way except to give them all the information possible and such advice as the case warrants.

POSTAGE AND CLASSIFICATION.

Table.—The following table gives the rates of postage on first, second and third class domestic mail, with the character of each class of mail. Permissible additions to second and third class mail are treated under the head of preparation of mail. Parcel Post is treated separately.

In this table is also given the features of the use of the "permit" or privilege of paying postage on third-class matter and parcel post in money, and the use of the precanceled stamp on third-class matter and parcel post.

Class.	Rates.	Includes.
First.	Two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.	All sealed matter (except proprietary articles). All written matter produced by hand or typewriting, including carbon copies.
	Limit of weight four pounds.
	One cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.	Drop letters mailed at noncarrier offices for local delivery, but not if delivered by rural carrier.
	Limit of weight four pounds.
	One cent each.	Postal cards issued by the government and private post cards which conform to regulations.

Class.	Rates.	Includes.
First.	Two cents each.	Reply postal cards issued by the government.
Second.	One cent for each pound or fraction thereof. No limit to weight.	Newspapers and periodicals mailed by publishers and news agents to points other than place of mailing, except weekly papers, which are mailable to all domestic points at the pound rate. Publications other than weeklies when addressed to box or general delivery at mailing office are also mailable at the pound rate.
	One cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. No limit to weight.	Newspapers and periodicals mailed by others than publishers or news agents. This is the rate used by the general public.
	One cent per copy. No limit to weight of bundles.	Newspapers other than weeklies (without regard to weight) and periodicals not exceeding two ounces in weight mailed by publishers or news agents for carrier delivery at mailing office.
	Two cents per copy. No limit to weight.	Periodicals exceeding two ounces in weight mailed by publishers or news agents for carrier delivery at mailing office.
	Free in county. No limit to weight.	Publications of the second class, one copy to each actual subscriber residing in the county where the same are printed in whole or in part, and published. Such papers, however, must not be delivered at letter carrier offices, or distributed by carriers unless postage is paid at the rate of one cent for each pound or fraction thereof.
Third.	One cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. Limit of weight four pounds except for single books on which there is no limit.	(The word "Newspaper" as used in the foregoing means publications issued as often as once a week, and the word "Periodical" refers to such as are published at greater intervals.) Books, circulars, photographs and other matter wholly in print, proofsheets, corrected proofsheets and manuscript copy accompanying the same. Also imitations of handwriting or typewriting produced by the mimeograph, multigraph or other similar process when mailed at a post-office window in lots of not less than twenty identical copies.
Seeds.	One cent for each two ounces. Limit of weight 11 pounds.	Seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions and plants.
Congressional Record.	One cent for each copy.	Mailed in Washington as transient matter. If mailed by members or delegates to Congress, free under frank.
Permit Matter.	Third Class one cent for each two ounces. Parcel Post one cent for each ounce up to four ounces. Over four ounces the parcel post rates apply.	Third-class or parcel post matter mailed in minimum lots of 2,000 identical pieces, permit having first been obtained from postmaster.

Class.	Rates.	Includes.
Precanceled Stamps.	Second Class—One cent for each four ounces. Third Class—One cent for each two ounces. Parcel Post—One cent for each ounce up to four ounces. Over four ounces parcel post rates apply.	Good for postage on transient second-class matter and third-class and parcel post packages mailed at a postoffice window in lots of not less than 500 pieces at the office where precanceled.
Official Matter.	Matter mailed by officers or bureaus of the Government (excepting members of Congress) relating to the business of the Government.
Franked Matter.	Public documents mailed by the Vice-President, Senators or Representatives in Congress. Congressional Record or parts thereof mailed by members of Congress. Seeds sent by Secretary of Agriculture or by members of Congress receiving same from the Department of Agriculture for distribution. Also reports of that department. Correspondence not exceeding four ounces in weight (except when addressed to a government official) sent by the Vice-President, members and members-elect, delegates and delegates-elect of Congress on official business. All matter mailed by or addressed to Lucretia R. Garfield, Frances F. Cleveland or Mary Lord Harrison.
Free Matter.	Mail addressed to the Census Office, the Director of the Census, Assistant Director, Chief Clerk, Supervisor, Enumerators or Special Agents. One copy each of the annual reports required by the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture from agricultural colleges addressed to other agricultural colleges and to the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture. Bulletins and reports of Agricultural Experiment Stations. Copyright matter addressed to the Register of Copyrights, Washington. Letters written in point print or raised characters for the use of the blind. Books and other reading matter for the blind, containing no advertising or other matter sent by public institutions for the blind or by public libraries as a loan to blind readers or returned by such readers to the institutions referred to. Letters mailed by soldiers, sailors and marines when countersigned by an officer may be dispatched without postage being prepaid and only the single rate shall be collected on delivery.
Soldiers' and Sailors' Letters.	Matter pertaining to the business of the Postal Savings System is chargeable at the same rate as similar matter mailed by the public, except that the postage thereon, and registry fee, if any, shall be prepaid by special stamps prepared for the Postal Savings System.
Postal Savings System.

Prices of Printed (Special-Request and Office-Request) Stamped Envelopes at a slight increase in price, ranging from $0.01 for quantities of 10 to $0.44 for quantities of 1,000 of the largest size

Special Return Cards.—Special return cards, including the purchaser's name and address, will be printed on orders for five hundred or a multiple of five hundred envelopes. "Special request" envelopes are only supplied to purchasers through the postoffice named in the return card. No advertisements or special device of any kind, nor the names of addressees, will be printed on stamped envelopes by the Department. The matter to be printed will be limited to (1) a request to return after a given number of days; (2) the name of the purchaser (individual, firm, corporation, institution, association, or society); (3) rural delivery route, postoffice box number, street address (in the case of city delivery postoffices only), or the name of a building and room number therein, or the names of intersecting streets, in lieu of a street address; (4) the names of postoffice or branch postoffice, county, and State. Any portion of the foregoing, except the name of the postoffice or branch postoffice and State, may be omitted, when desired by the purchaser of the envelopes, if the address to which undelivered letters are returnable is not thereby made indefinite. The form of return request for stamped envelopes intended to inclose letters will be, "After five days, return to"; for envelopes intended to inclose third-class matter, "Postage for return will be sent on notice after five days to"; the number of days in either case to be not less than three.

Postal Cards.

Postal cards are made in the following denominations and sizes:

- No. 4. One cent, domestic, single; $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches;
- No. 5. One cent, domestic, single; 3×5 inches;
- No. 6. One cent, domestic, reply; $3\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches, each half;
- No. 7. Two cent, foreign, single, $3\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches;
- No. f. Two cent, foreign, reply; $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ inches, each half;
- No. 4. One cent in sheets, 48 cards to the sheet, $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ or 3×5 inches.

Postal cards may bear written, printed or other additions, as follows:

The face of the card may be divided by a vertical line one-third of the distance from the left end of the card, the space to the right being used for the address only, the space to the left to be used for a message. Addresses may be either printed, written, or affixed at the option of the sender.

Very thin sheets of paper may be attached to the card provided they completely adhere thereto. Such sheets may bear both writing and printing. Advertisements, illustrations, or reading may appear upon the back of the card and upon the left third of the face.

The addition to the postal card of matter other than as herein referred to will subject the card to postage according to the character of the message; at the letter rate if wholly or partly in writing, or the third class rate of entirely in print. In either case the postage value of the stamp upon the card will not be impaired.

Postal cards will be treated in all respects as sealed letters except that when undeliverable to the addressee they may not be returned to the sender.

Post Cards.

Post cards or private mailing cards must conform to the following conditions:

A post card must be an unfolded piece of cardboard not exceeding $3\frac{9}{16}$ inches by $5\frac{9}{16}$ inches or less than $2\frac{3}{4} \times 4$ inches. It must in form and in quality and weight of paper be substantially like the Government post card. It may be of any color not interfering with a legible address or postmark. It may or may not, at the option of the sender, bear at the top of the face the words "Post Card." The face of the card may be divided by a vertical line, the left half to be used for a message; that to the right for the address only. In other respects they are carried under the same regulations as affect postal cards.

Sale of Stamps, Envelopes, etc.

Stamps.—Stamps when sold over a counter or at a window will be laid face down when handed out to purchasers. Stamp clerks will not affix stamps to letters, parcels, etc., for patrons.

Sales of Envelopes and Weapons.—In making sales of envelopes and wrappers in small quantities it is expected that postmasters will evince a proper spirit of accommodation, but they are not required to lose the fraction of a cent. Postmasters should provide themselves with minor coins and bills of small denomination sufficient to enable them to make change for purchasers of stamped paper; but if a postmaster cannot make change the applicant should tender the exact amount of his purchase.

When the schedule price of a single envelope is three cents and that of a single wrapper is two cents, and both are purchased in the same transaction, four cents, and not five cents, will be charged, and the same principle applies to all similar sales of different sizes, qualities, or denominations. That is, where several envelopes of different styles are sold the postmaster will retain only the fraction of a cent on the whole purchase, and not on each envelope.

Postmasters must not exchange postage stamps, postal cards or stamped envelopes or wrappers; nor will any of these be accepted in payment for the purchase of any stamp supplies. Postmasters are not allowed to solicit the sale of stamps so as to increase the sales of their offices.

Mutilated or Abraded Coins or Currency.—In the sale of stamp supplies, foreign gold and silver coins, perforated, mutilated or abraded coins, or mutilated paper currency will not be accepted. An exception is made in the case of fractional silver or other minor coins worn by abrasion when the superscription thereon can still be distinguished. The "trade dollar" is not legal tender and should not be accepted as it will not be received by the United States Treasury as a deposit.

Minor Coins Legal Tender.—Minor coins—five, three and one cent pieces—are legal tender to the amount of twenty-five cents and fractional silver is legal tender up to ten dollars.

REDEMPTION.

Postage Stamps.—Postage stamps are not redeemable at all from the public.

Uncanceled, Unserviceable and Spoiled Stamped Envelopes and Newspaper Wrappers.—Uncanceled, unserviceable and spoiled stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers are redeemable at the value of the stamps, if submitted in substantially a whole condition, payment being made only in postage stamps or other stamped paper.

Stamped envelopes bearing a printed return card or address may be redeemed only from the original purchaser.

Postal Cards.—Uncanceled, unserviceable, and spoiled postal cards not treated by bronzing, enameling or other process of coating may be redeemed in postage stamps or other stamped paper only at 75% of their postage value when presented by the original purchaser. Parts or pieces of cards will not be redeemed. Each unused half of a reply postal card will be regarded as a single card. When the redemption value of the cards includes the fraction of a cent such fraction will accrue to the department.

Reply Coupons will be redeemed at five cents apiece, their face value, payable in stamps or stamped paper.

FOREIGN MAIL.

Handling of Foreign Mail.—The handling of foreign mail is governed by the rules of the Universal Postal Union, a form of organization among certain countries for the exchange of mail, the adjustment of the expense incident thereto, and the protection of mail matter.

In general, so far as the public is concerned, foreign mail is handled exactly as is domestic mail. The principal difference lies in the classification and rates of postage, the special restrictions and prohibitions of the different countries, and the feature of custom duties involved in the transfer of merchandise through the mails to foreign countries. The matter of custom duties is confined mainly to foreign parcel post, but it applies as well to letters and samples of merchandise.

Samples of Merchandise.—Samples of merchandise are assessed in the same manner as parcel post and the duty collected on delivery.

Letters or Sealed Matter.—Letters or sealed matter, however, cannot be examined until they have been opened by the addressee. Therefore, when a sealed letter or package is received for delivery, the delivering office, or the office of arrival or exchange office, will mark it "Supposed liable to customs"; the addressee will be notified to call at the office where it is being held, a customs officer will be summoned, delivery will be made to the addressee in the presence of the customs officer, and the addressee will break the seal, open the letter or package, and the customs officer will then examine the contents and assess and collect the duty. This is only done when from the form or general character of a foreign letter or sealed package it is thought probable that it contains matter on which, from its nature or quantity, duty should be paid.

Special Delivery of Foreign Mail.—The special delivery of foreign mail is provided for in the agreement of the Postal Union, but is made optional with the different countries, not all of them have taken advantage of it. The United States has not adopted this feature for either incoming or outgoing foreign mail.

Reply Coupons.—Reply coupons (see Stamps and Stamped Paper) may be inclosed in correspondence with foreign countries to pay postage on a reply. These are good for their face value, five cents, in stamps of any foreign nation.

Stickers.—Stickers of any kind either on front or back of foreign mail matter are forbidden on foreign mail addressed to the principal foreign countries.

FOREIGN RATES AND CLASSIFICATION.

Table.—The following table gives the classification, rates of postage and general characteristics of the foreign mail service, except Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Republic of Panama, U. S. Postal Agency at Shanghai, and U. S. Naval Hospital at Yokohama, Japan.

Prepayment of postage on ordinary letters and postal cards is optional; on registered articles and parcel post packages it is compulsory; on all other articles it must be at least partially prepaid. Double the amount of deficiency is collected upon delivery.

Class.	Rates.	Remarks.
Letters.	Five cents for the first ounce or fraction, three cents for each additional ounce or fraction. England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Newfoundland, also Germany by DIRECT steamers which land the mails at German ports; two cents per ounce or fraction.	No limit of weight or size. Stamps or forms of prepayment, current or obsolete, canceled or uncanceled, as well as printed matter constituting the sign of monetary value are subject to the letter rate.
Postal Cards.	Two cents each for single. Four cents each for double.	Post cards must not exceed 5% inches in length by 3% inches in width nor be less than 4 inches in length and 2% inches in width and must be made of cardboard or paper. They must not be inclosed in an envelope. Post cards (so called) consisting of wood, leather, or material other than cardboard or paper, are subject to treatment as letters. An address label not exceeding 2 inches by ¾ of an inch may be pasted on the address part of a post card.
Printed Matter.	One cent for each two ounces or fraction; limit four pounds six ounces.	The following are considered as prints, and admitted as such at the reduced postage applicable to "prints," viz.: Newspapers and periodical works, printed books script, other than the name or the social position of the sender, the address of the addressee, a manufacturer's or trade-mark, numbers, prices and indications relating to the weight, size and quantity to be disposed of, and words which are necessary to precisely indicate the origin and nature of the merchandise.

Articles of glass, liquids, oils, fatty substances, dry powders, as well as live bees, are admitted to the mails as "samples" provided they are packed in the following manner:

(a) Articles of glass must be packed solidly in boxes of metal or wood in a way to prevent all damage to other articles or the employees.

(b) Liquids, oils and substances easily liquefiable must be inclosed in glass bottles hermetically sealed. Each bottle must be placed in a wooden box filled with spongy material sufficient to absorb the liquid in case the bottle should be broken. Finally, the box itself must be inclosed in a case of metal or wood with a screw top, or of strong and thick leather. If wooden blocks perforated to contain several vials or wooden mailing cases are used, measuring at least one-tenth of an inch in the thinnest part, lined with sufficient absorbing material and furnished with a lid, the blocks need not be inclosed in a second case.

(c) Fatty substances, such as ointments, soft-soaps, resins, etc., must be inclosed in an inner cover (box, linen bag, parchment, etc.), which must be placed in a second box of wood, metal or strong, thick leather.

(d) Dry powders must be placed—if coloring—in bags of leather, gummed cloth or strong oiled paper; and if not coloring, in boxes of metal, wood or cardboard, which bags or boxes must be inclosed in a cloth or parchment bag.

(e) Live bees must be inclosed in boxes which avoid all danger and permit examination of the contents.

Composite Packages.

It is permitted to inclose in the same package, samples of merchandise, prints and commercial papers, but subject to the following conditions: (1) That each class of articles taken singly shall not exceed the limits which are applicable to it as regards weight and size. (2) That the total weight of the package must not exceed two kilograms (four pounds six ounces). That the minimum charge shall be five cents when the package contains commercial papers, and two cents when it consists of printed matter and samples.

POSTAGE RATES ON ARTICLES FOR CANADA, CUBA, MEXICO, THE REPUBLIC OF PANAMA AND THE UNITED STATES POSTAL AGENCY AT SHANGHAI.

Articles addressed for delivery in Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Republic of Panama are subject to the same postage rates and conditions which would apply to them if they were addressed for delivery in the United States: Except that:

(a) Letters and postal cards must be dispatched to Canada and Mexico if prepaid one full rate of postage and to Cuba and Panama even if they do not bear postage stamps. Other articles for Cuba and Panama will be dispatched if prepaid at least in part.

(b) Packages of "prints" may weigh not to exceed four pounds, six ounces.

(c) "Samples" and "commercial papers" may be sent subject to the postage rates and conditions applicable to similar articles in mails for foreign countries generally.

(d) Plants, seeds, etc., mailed to Canada are subject to the postage rate of one cent an ounce.

(e) Articles other than letters in their usual and ordinary form are excluded from the mails, unless they are so wrapped that their contents can be easily examined by postmasters and customs officers. Any article inclosed in an envelope, as the word "envelope" is generally used, without regard to its size, is considered to be "in the usual and ordinary form" of a letter. But unsealed packages may contain, in sealed receptacles, articles which cannot be safely transmitted in unsealed receptacles; provided, the contents of the closed receptacles are plainly visible or are precisely stated on the covers of the closed receptacles and that the package is so wrapped that the outer cover can be easily opened.

Second-class Matter for Canada.—The postage rate applicable in the United States to "second-class matter" addressed for delivery in Canada is one cent for each four ounces or fraction of four ounces, calculated on the weight of each package and prepaid by means of postage stamps affixed; except that the postage rate to publishers and news agents applicable to legitimate daily newspapers issued as frequently as six times a week addressed to bona fide subscribers in Canada, is one cent a pound or fraction of a pound, to be paid at the office of mailing as second-class matter.

Unmailable.—The following articles are unmailable under any conditions, viz.:

All sealed packages, which, from their form and general appearance, evidently are not letters; publications which violate the copyright laws of the country of destination; poisons, explosive or inflammable substances; live or dead (not dried) animals, insects (except bees) and reptiles; fruits and vegetables which quickly decompose, and substances which exhale a bad odor, lottery tickets or circulars; all obscene or immoral articles, articles which may destroy or damage the mails, or injure the persons handling them; and to Cuba and the Republic of Panama, liquids and fatty substances, except samples thereof.

Merchandise for Canada and Cuba is sent as domestic parcel post limited to four pounds six ounces.

Merchandise for Mexico and Panama may be sent as domestic parcel post limited to four pounds six ounces, or by international parcel post up to eleven pounds for Panama and eleven pounds to some Mexican offices, four pounds six ounces to others.

It is advisable to send parcels for Mexico and Panama by international parcel post.

They cannot be insured; but can be registered.

United States Postal Agency at Shanghai, China.—Articles of every kind that are admitted to the domestic mails of the United States may be sent by mail for delivery in the city of Shanghai at the postage rate and under the conditions which apply to similar articles addressed for delivery in the United States.

Letters for Shanghai specially addressed to go "via Siberia" are subject to Postal Union rates and conditions.

United States Naval Hospital at Yokohama, Japan.—Articles mailed in the United States addressed to the officers and men of the United States Navy in the U. S. Naval Hospital at Yokohama, are subject to domestic rates and conditions.

WITHDRAWAL.

Withdrawing Mail.—The matter of withdrawing mail after it has reached a foreign country is also one which the countries of the Postal Union permit or not as they please. Some allow it and some do not.

The withdrawal of mail from a foreign country that permits such withdrawal must be done by the sender through the postmaster at the dispatching office, who will take the matter up with the Second Assistant Postmaster-General in Washington, D. C. He will take such action as may be necessary and the mail will be returned to him for delivery to the sender. All expense for telegraph tolls, etc., will be borne by the sender. In making application for the withdrawal of mail from a foreign country, the particular piece of mail sought to be withdrawn must be properly identified, as in the case of a withdrawal of domestic mail.

The legislation of Great Britain and the British Colonies (except Southern Rhodesia, Antigua, Bahamas, Barbados, Ceylon, Gold Coast, British Guiana, Jamaica, Zanzibar and the Australian Colonies), including Canada and British India; also Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Republic of Colombia and the French establishments in Oceania does not allow the senders of articles to withdraw them from the mails. Consequently senders cannot prevent the delivery of mail to the original addressees when dispatched for delivery to any one of these countries from the United States, nor from those countries and colonies to the United States.

PARCEL POST.

Domestic and Foreign.—In the Parcel Post System, as in other classes of mail, the line between domestic and foreign is sharply drawn. The system with foreign countries has been established for some years; the domestic system has been running only since January, 1913. In this short time, however, it has developed into a large and most important part of the mail, and daily it is broadening out into an arm of the service that is distinct from all others, and is becoming of increasing value as it becomes more generally understood.

Fourth-class Mail Only.—Under the act of Congress establishing the Parcel Post System it includes what under the old classification was fourth-class mail only. Therefore the present Parcel Post System does not include such articles as books, photographs, printed matter etc., that are third class, although it is probable that before long all such articles will be included in the general term "merchandise," and will be accepted for shipment under the parcel post rates.

Classification.—The classification of articles mailable as well as the weight limit, the rates of postage, zone or zones, and other conditions of mailability are under the control of the Postmaster-General, and if he shall find on experience that they are such as to prevent the shipment of articles desirable, or permanently to render the cost of the service greater than the receipts of the revenue therefrom, he is authorized, subject to the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission after investigation, to reform from time to time such classification, weight, limit, rates, zone or zones or conditions, in order to promote the service to the public or to insure the receipt of revenue from such service adequate to pay the cost.

Weight and Measurement.—Under the present parcel post regulations any package of merchandise properly packed for mailing and not forbidden under the mail regulations, will be accepted for mailing up to the limit of eleven pounds in weight and up to a limit of size not above seventy-two inches in length and girth combined.

In this matter of measurement it must be understood that a package must first be measured along its longest dimension in order to secure the length, and it then must be measured around its next largest dimension in order to secure its girth. The two measurements added together must not exceed seventy-two inches. Thus a hat in its bandbox must first be measured across the top of the bandbox, along the long diameter if it be oval, and then around top, bottom and sides. A spade must be first measured for its full length and to this must be added the measurement around the blade. A box twenty-four inches long and twelve inches on each side will measure just seventy-two inches under the parcel post regulations and will therefore be the limit in size.

Zone System.—Parcel post rates are based upon what has been designated the "zone system," a system that assigns to each postoffice a definite relation to every other postoffice, with rates fixed according to the distance of one from the other.

In establishing this zone system the United States has been divided into "units of area," each unit being thirty minutes of measurement or about thirty miles, to a side. This in space measurement is one-quarter of a degree, or one-quarter of the area formed by the intersection of the parallels of latitude and the meridians of longitude. The zones are measured from the center of each one of these units. They are as follows:

First Zone.—All territory included within the local delivery of any office; the first zone rate to apply to all packages deposited at an office or on any of its rural routes for local delivery, or for delivery on any of the rural routes emanating from that office.

Second zone.—All territory outside the first zone and with a radius of one hundred and fifty miles.

Third zone.—All territory outside the second zone and included within a radius of three hundred miles.

Fourth zone.—All territory outside the third zone and included within a radius of six hundred miles.

Fifth zone.—All territory outside the fourth zone and included within a radius of one thousand miles.

Sixth zone.—All territory outside the fifth zone and included within a radius of one thousand four hundred miles.

Seventh zone.—All territory outside the sixth zone and included within a radius of one thousand eight hundred miles.

Eighth zone.—All territory outside the seventh zone.

All units of area cut by a zone line drawn on the proper radius are considered wholly within the zone line that cuts them.

Every postoffice in the United States is assigned, according to its geographical position, to one of these units of area. If therefore it be known in what unit of area a certain postoffice lies, it is only necessary to draw the zones to proper scale from the center of the unit to find out its relation to every other postoffice in the country.

Maps showing all units of area and with zone lines drawn for any particular postoffice, together with a guide showing the unit of area in which every postoffice in the United States is located, can be had from the Postoffice Department for seventy-five cents.

Rates and Postage.—Parcels weighing four ounces or less are mailable at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailable at the pound rates shown in the following table, a fraction of a pound being considered a full pound.

The rates for the different zones are as follows:

The parcel post rate between any point in the United States and any point in the Hawaiian Islands, the United States Postal Agency at Shanghai, and any point in Alaska, and between any two points in Alaska, except for parcels weighing four ounces or less, on which the rate is one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof, shall be twelve cents for the first pound and twelve cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof. These rates also apply to parcels mailed in the United States for delivery in the Canal Zone, and to parcels between the Philippine Islands and any portion of the United States, including the District of Columbia and the several Territories and possessions.

The eighth zone rate of postage, except on parcels weighing four ounces or less, on which the rate shall be as prescribed in section 3, shall apply to all parcels of fourth-class matter mailed in the United States for delivery in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, and the Republic of Panama: Provided (a), That as prescribed by existing special postal conventions with these countries such parcels shall not exceed two kilograms (4 lbs. 6 ozs.) in weight, and (b) that nothing in this section shall affect the dispatch of parcel post packages to Mexico and the Republic of Panama up to eleven pounds (5 kilograms) in weight under the existing parcel post conventions with these countries.

Seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants are matter of the fourth class, notwithstanding that a special rate of postage (one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof regardless of distance) applies thereto. The limit of weight is increased to eleven pounds by the parcel post law, but no other change is made.

Cut flowers, dried plants, and botanical specimens not susceptible of propagation are transmissible at parcel post rates.

Samples of wheat or other grain in its natural condition, potatoes, beans, peas, chestnuts, acorns, etc., when intended for planting, must be prepaid at the special rate of postage, but when intended to be used as food the parcel post rates apply.

Any stamps are acceptable for the payment of postage on parcel post matter. If unpaid or insufficiently paid, a parcel shall be held for postage and the sender or the addressee will be notified of the proper amount of postage that must be forwarded to insure its dispatch or delivery.

Parcels under four ounces may be dropped in a mail box, but parcels over four ounces in weight, and all insured parcels or parcels sent C. O. D. must be brought to a postoffice or station and there handed to a window clerk assigned to the duty of handling parcel post.

Parcels collected on star routes must be deposited in the next post-office at which the carrier arrives and postage charged at the rate from that office.

Postmasters must examine parcels when presented for mailing to ascertain that the postage is fully prepaid.

When any parcel offered for mailing is sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, or contains or bears writing not permissible, it is subject to postage at the first-class rate and shall be treated as first-class matter (except as provided in the case of proprietary articles in original packages, etc.) If such a parcel exceeds four pounds in weight it is unmailable.

A parcel containing two or more classes of mail matter is chargeable with postage at the rate applicable to the highest class of matter inclosed. A parcel composed of two articles, one being matter of the third class and the other matter of the fourth class, is chargeable with postage at the fourth-class rate when such postage is equal to or greater than that which would be chargeable if the third-class rate were applicable. However, when the postage on a parcel containing both third and fourth class matter amounts to more at the third-class than at the fourth-class rate, owing to the graduated zone rates, the parcel must be charged with postage at the third-class rate (one cent for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces), and in such case the parcel must not exceed four pounds in weight, unless it is a single book.

Packages of merchandise packed according to parcel post regulations and unsealed will be accepted under a government frank up to a weight of eleven pounds.

Insufficiently Prepaid Matter, etc.—Parcel post mail insufficiently prepaid, if the sender cannot be located, will be held for postage and the addressee notified. Matter which is insufficiently or illegibly addressed will be returned to the sender at the rate of postage originally paid. If the sender is unknown, the matter will be sent to the Division of Dead Letters, at Washington, D. C., or destroyed.

Forwarding.—Parcels will be remailed or forwarded on payment of additional postage at the rate that would be charged if they were originally mailed from the forwarding office, the necessary stamps being affixed by the forwarding postmaster. Payment must be made each time a parcel is forwarded.

Delivery.—The same rules for delivery, as set forth under “Mail Matter, Delivery,” apply as well to parcel post as to other mail.

Parcel post packages will be delivered as promptly as possible. If wrongly addressed an effort will be made to find the proper address at which they can be delivered, and if a forwarding order is on file the addressee will be notified that a parcel addressed to his old address is being held and that if the proper amount of postage be sent, the amount being designated, the parcel will be forwarded to him.

If packages that contain matter that decays quickly, or that is otherwise perishable, or likely to become offensive, should be found undeliverable, the package will be destroyed, or if deemed proper, the postmaster may turn it over to some hospital, asylum, or other charitable or reformatory institution.

Parcels may be given the benefit of special delivery service under the usual special delivery rules. (See Special Delivery.)

Preparation for Mailing.—Parcels must be prepared for mailing in such manner that the contents can be easily examined.

A parcel must not be accepted for mailing unless it bears the name and address of the sender preceded by the word “From.”

Special care should be used in packing parcels which contain liquids, butter, eggs, or other matter easily injured in transit, or which if broken may damage other mail matter.

Fragile articles, such as liquids, millinery, toys, musical instruments, etc., and articles consisting of wholly or in part glass, or contained in glass, must be securely packed, and attention should be called at the time of mailing to the fact that the package contains fragile matter, in order that it may be properly stamped “Fragile,” thus insuring special treatment in the mails.

Perishable articles must be stamped at the office of mailing with the word “Perishable,” in order that proper treatment may be given such mail.

It is extremely important that parcels be packed in accordance with the directions outlined herein, as investigations of complaints of damage to parcels in the mail show, in most cases, that the damage is due to failure sufficiently and securely to wrap the parcels for safe transmission.

Boxes to which the lids are nailed or screwed will be accepted, if with reasonable effort the lids may be removed for the purpose of examining the contents.

Sewed Bags will be accepted, provided it is apparent that the contents thereof is wholly fourth-class matter.

Medicines composed wholly or in part of poison or poisons, and anesthetic agents, which are not outwardly or of their own force dangerous or injurious to life, health, or property, and not in themselves unmail-able (see Mail Matter—Unmailable), when properly packed, will be accepted for mailing from the manufacturer thereof, or dealer therein, to licensed physicians, surgeons, pharmacists, or dentists.

Dangerous Articles otherwise admissible, which from their form or nature might damage other mail matter or equipment, or injure the person of any postal employee, may be mailed when packed in accordance with the following conditions:

When not Liquid or Liquefiable, they must be placed in a bag, box, or removable envelope, or wrapping, made of paper, cloth, parchment, or similar material, and inclosed in a box or tube of metal or wood, with a sliding clasp or screw lid. In the case of such articles liable to break, the inner box, bag, envelope, or wrapping must be surrounded by sawdust, excelsior, cotton, or other similar substances.

Liquids, Oils, Pastes, Salves, or other articles easily liquefiable, will be accepted for mailing when intended for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route starting therefrom, when inclosed in a glass or metal container, securely closed and heavily wrapped, provided it be not necessary to transport them over steam or electric railways. They will be accepted for mailing regardless of distance, when packed as follows:

When in strong glass bottles, holding four ounces or less, the total quantity sent in one parcel shall not exceed twenty-four ounces, liquid measure. Each bottle shall be wrapped in paper or other absorbent substance and placed in a box made of cardboard or other suitable material and then placed in a box and packed in a container made of double-faced corrugated pasteboard of good quality. The corners of the container must fit tightly and be reinforced with tape so as to prevent the escape of any liquid if the contents should be broken, and the whole parcel shall be securely wrapped with strong paper and tied with twine. Single bottles of liquid holding four ounces or less may also be packed as prescribed in the following paragraph:

When in glass bottles holding more than four ounces, the total quantity sent in one parcel shall not exceed sixteen ounces, liquid measure. The bottle must be very strong and must be inclosed in a block or tube of metal, wood, papier-mache, or similar material; and there must be provided between the bottle and the block or tube a cushion of cotton, felt, or other absorbent. The block or tube must be at least five thirty-seconds of an inch thick in its thinnest part for bottles holding eight ounces or less, and at least three-sixteenths of an inch thick for bottles holding more than eight ounces. The block or tube must be rendered water-tight by an application on the inside of paraffine or other suitable substance and must be closed by a screw-top cover with sufficient screw threads to require at least one and one-half complete turns before it will come off. The cover must be provided with a washer so that no liquid will escape if the bottle should be broken.

Inflammable Liquids are held to be any liquid or liquid mixture that gives off inflammable vapors at or below a temperature of 80° Fahrenheit, and therefore liquids having a flash-point higher than 80°

Fahrenheit will be accepted for mailing, when packed as outlined in the foregoing.

Butter, Lard, Fish, Fresh Meats, Dressed Fowls, Vegetables, Fruits, Berries, and other such perishable articles which decay quickly, when so packed or wrapped as to prevent damage to other mail matter, will be accepted for local delivery, either at the office of mailing, or any rural route starting therefrom. When inclosed in any inner cover and a strong outer cover of wood, metal, heavy corrugated pasteboard or other suitable material, and wrapped so that nothing can escape from the package, they will be accepted for mailing to all offices within the first zone. When intended for delivery at offices beyond the first zone, they must be packed in accordance with the foregoing sections relating to liquids, oils, pastes, salves, or other articles easily liquefiable accepted for mailing regardless of distance.

Meat and Meat Food Products will be accepted for mailing from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, when the provisions of the Act of June 30, 1906, and the regulations promulgated thereunder by the Department of Agriculture, have been complied with, and when properly packed; except that fresh meat will be accepted for mailing to offices within the first zone only.

Vegetables and Fruits which do not decay quickly will be accepted for mailing to any zone if packed so as to prevent damage to other mail matter.

Eggs will be accepted for local delivery when so packed in a basket or other container as to prevent damage to other mail matter. They will be accepted for mailing regardless of distance when each egg is wrapped separately and surrounded with excelsior, cotton, or other suitable material, and packed in a container made of double corrugated pasteboard, metal, wood, or other suitable material in such manner as to place each egg on its end and to prevent them from striking together or against the side or top of the container. Also there must be an outer cover of double corrugated pasteboard, metal, wood or other suitable material, and wrapped so that nothing can escape from the packages. All such parcels must be marked "Eggs."

Flour of all kinds must be put up in such manner as to prevent the package breaking or cracking or the flour being scattered in the mails.

Candies, Confectionery, Yeast Cakes, Soap in hard cakes, etc., must be inclosed in boxes and so wrapped as to prevent injury to other mail matter.

Seeds and other admissible articles, which are liable from their form or nature to loss or damage, unless specially protected, may be put up in sealed envelopes of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly without opening.

Seeds of fruit, Nursery Stock, and all other Plant Products for propagation, must be mailed in accordance with the instructions of the Department of Agriculture.

Queen Bees, Live Insects, and Dried Reptiles may be mailed in accordance with the instructions of the Department of Agriculture.

Specimens of Dried Blood or of Diseased Tissues infected with communicable diseases, Cultures and Tubercular Sputum may be mailed in accordance with instructions of the Treasury Department (Bureau of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service).

Hides, Pelts, or Furs which have been cured or thoroughly dried and have no bad odor, will be admitted to the mails if properly packed so as to prevent grease soaking through the wrapper when subjected to the warmth of mail cars and postoffices.

Ink Powders, Snuff, Pepper, or other similar powders, not explosive, or any similar pulverized dry substance, not poisonous, will be accepted for mailing when packed in the manner prescribed herein for liquids, or when inclosed in cases made of metal, wood, papier-mache, or similar material, in such manner as to render impossible the escape of any of the contents.

Hats, when mailed in a pasteboard box, should be securely crated or inclosed in a wooden box of sufficient strength to withstand ordinary usage.

Castings, Hardware, Plow Points, Pieces of Machinery, etc., should be wrapped to prevent damage to mail and equipment by their sharp points and rough edges.

Sharp Pointed Instruments should be packed with their points capped or encased, so that they cannot cut through their covering.

Blades should be bound so that they will remain firmly attached to each other or within their handles or sockets.

Firearms, either complete or in detached parts, will be accepted if properly packed. They must not be loaded.

Clothing, Dry-goods, Shoes, etc., should be so put up as to reach their destination in unbroken packages, as, when the wrappers are broken, the contents are liable to be soiled and damaged.

Proprietary articles in sealed original packages, such as soap, tobacco, pills, tablets, etc., put up in fixed quantities by the manufacturer, and not in themselves unmailable, will be accepted for mailing when properly packed.

Post Cards, either blank or bearing pictures or printing on the message side, when sent in bulk, may be mailed as parcel post matter.

Catalogues. (See Parcel Post—Permissible Additions.)

Coin, National Bank Notes, and United States Treasury notes, will be accepted for mailing when properly packed.

Permissible Additions.

In addition to the name and address of the sender, which is required, it is permissible to write or print on the covering of a parcel, or on a tag or label attached to it, the occupation of the sender, and to indicate in a small space by means of marks, letters, numbers, names, or other brief description, the character of the parcel, but ample space must be left on the address side for the full address in legible characters, and for the necessary postage stamps. Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas," "Please do not open until Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and the like, may be placed on the covering of the parcel in such manner as not to interfere with the address.

Simple directions for repairing merchandise, placed on or with such articles, are regarded as for the purpose of description, as are also directions for taking medicine written on a label attached to or inclosed in such package, and are permissible.

Printing on an article of merchandise, or on its wrapper, or on a label pasted to it in such manner as to form an integral part of it, is also permissible. Printed matter relating to an article of merchandise which it accompanies, is regarded as descriptive of the article, and is permissible.

Order forms, mainly in print, are third-class matter. However, a single order form, mainly in print, may be inclosed with a parcel post mail, as may also a bill or invoice showing in writing or printing the name and address of the sender and of the addressee, the names and quantities of articles inclosed, together with inscriptions indicating "for purpose of description" the price, style, stock number, size and quality of the articles, the order or file number, date of order and date and manner of shipment, the initials or name of the salesman, or of the person by whom the articles were packed or checked. This invoice may be inclosed in a combination address tag and envelope, and may contain a reference to a card or letter (sent separately) concerning repairs, etc., also a request for the return of the envelope.

Printed catalogues are third-class mail, and samples of merchandise permanently attached thereto will not affect their classification as such when such samples constitute only an incidental feature of the catalogue, such samples being considered an incidental feature when less than twenty per cent of the space in a catalogue is occupied by them. When at least twenty per cent of the space in a catalogue is occupied with samples of merchandise, permanently attached thereto, the catalogue will be considered as parcel post mail.

Unmailable.—All articles covered in the laws defining unmailable matter (See Mail Matter—Unmailable) are inadmissible to the parcel post mail, and in addition the following:

Raw or green hides, pelts, or furs, and hides, pelts, or furs which have a bad odor. Lye, powdered or solid. Live or dead (and not stuffed) animals, birds, or poultry (except as prescribed herein), guano, or any article having a bad odor.

Spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquors of any kind.

All matter not properly packed or prepared for mailing.

Insurance.—Parcels may be insured to their value or to a maximum limit of fifty dollars. Should the parcel be of the value of twenty-five dollars or less it may be insured to a maximum of twenty-five dollars for a fee of five cents, payable in stamps affixed to the parcel. Should the parcel be of a value over twenty-five dollars it may be insured to a maximum of fifty dollars for a fee of ten cents, payable in stamps affixed to the parcel.

Domestic parcel post packages cannot be registered.

A receipt will be given to the sender for every insured parcel mailed, and if so desired, and a request to that effect be indorsed upon the insurance tag that must be affixed to every insured parcel, a return receipt from the addressee will be secured and forwarded back to the sender.

The liability of the Postoffice Department will cease when delivery of an insured parcel shall have been effected.

Also indemnity will be paid only for loss or damage that amounts to total loss.

C. O. D. Parcels.—Parcel post packages sent C. O. D. will be accepted for mailing on the payment of a fee of ten cents, payable by stamps affixed.

Collection up to the value of one hundred dollars will be made on any C. O. D. package, and the amount collected will be remitted to the sender by money order. On mailing a C. O. D. package the sender will make out the necessary tag and affix it to the parcel. This tag will bear the amount that is to be collected from the addressee. To this will be added by the receiving clerk the amount of the fee necessary to return the amount of the collection to the sender by money order, and this total amount will be collected from the addressee before delivery. The sender will be given a receipt for his C. O. D. parcel, but no receipt from the sender will be given, the return of the amount of the collection being held to be sufficient receipt from him.

The payment of the ten-cent fee for C. O. D. also includes the insurance of the parcel up to its value or a maximum of fifty dollars.

Addressees will not be permitted to examine a C. O. D. parcel before delivery and collection.

Postage and collection fee must be prepaid on all C. O. D. parcels, but the amount of the postage and fee may be included in the amount to be collected from the addressee.

The use of the "permit" and precanceled stamps is permitted on domestic parcel post mail. (See Postage and Classification.)

Foreign Parcel Post.

Parcels submitted for mailing in this country are subject to all the rules regarding mailability, preparation and prohibition that relate to domestic parcel post. In addition a parcel is subject to all the regulations that govern mail in the country to which it is addressed. Thus, a parcel mailable in this country might not be mailable to some foreign countries and might be acceptable in others. If unmailable in this country, however, it would not be accepted even to countries where it might be considered mailable.

Also in the foreign parcel post system the matter of customs is involved, and it is therefore necessary to affix to each foreign package a tag form of customs declaration, setting forth the contents of the package and its value. This tag, verified by an examination of the contents of the parcel, form the basis on which the duty on the parcel, if any, is assessed and collected on delivery. This same system for the declaration of value and contents, and the assessment of the duty thereon applies to both incoming and outgoing parcels.

It is also frequently necessary in the delivery of certain foreign parcels to collect a delivery charge, generally five cents, from the addressee.

The following countries have Parcel Post conventions with the United States:

Australia, Austria, Bahamas, Barbados, Belgium, Bermuda, Bolivia, Brazil, British Guiana, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Curacao, Danish West Indies (St. Croix, St. John and St. Thomas), Denmark (including Iceland and Faroe Islands), Dominican Republic, Dutch Guiana, Ecuador, France, Germany, Great Britain, including Ireland, Guadeloupe, Guatamala, Haiti, Honduras (British), Honduras (Republic of), Hong Kong, Hungary, Italy, Jamaica, including the Turks and Caicos Islands; Japan, including Formosa, Karafuto (Japanese Saghalien), and Korea; Leeward Islands (Antigua with Barbuda and Redonda, St. Kitts, Nevis, with Anguilla, Dominica, Montserrat and the Virgin Islands); Martinique, Netherlands, Newfoundland, New Zealand, including Fanning Island, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama (Republic), Peru, Salvador, Sweden, Trinidad, including Tobago, Uruguay (cannot register), Venezuela, Windward Islands (Grenada, St. Vincent, the Grenadines, and St. Lucia).

Postage on every foreign parcel post package must be fully prepaid at the rate of twelve cents per pound or each fraction of a pound.

The size of a parcel is important. Remember that length and girth combined must not be greater than six feet. A parcel three feet six inches long may be two feet six inches around its thickest part. The greatest length allowed is three and a half feet.

A Certificate of Mailing may be obtained by request.

A Customs Declaration accurately describing contents must be attached to parcel. Describe definitely. It is not sufficient to write only "samples" or "Merchandise." Fasten the customs tag through the eyelet with strong cord. For Salvador and The Netherlands attach two copies of "Declaration" to each parcel. For Venezuela three copies to each parcel. For France use a special form of customs declaration and attach two copies. Forms may be obtained at any postoffice.

Parcels may be sent to the Dead Letter Office if a customs declaration is not attached.

Communications of a personal nature must not be inclosed in foreign parcels, but an open bill or invoice may be included.

Foreign parcels must not contain articles addressed to persons other than the person named in the outside address of the parcel itself.

Liquids of all kinds are prohibited in foreign parcel post mails, except in the case of Brazil.

Besides these general prohibitions each country has certain particular prohibitions. These are constantly changing, and information regarding them should be sought at the postoffice. A notable example of these is the prohibition of playing cards, coin, gold, silver, jewelry, and precious articles in the parcel post mails to France.

By the additional payment of a registration fee of ten cents parcels may be registered to any country except France, Great Britain, Guadeloupe, Martinique, The Netherlands, Barbados, Dutch Guiana and Uruguay.

A limit of value of fifty dollars is placed on parcels for Ecuador.

The scope of the parcel post service to Germany has been extended to certain places in Africa and China. Official Postal Guide should be consulted.

Parcels addressed for delivery in Aberdeen, Amoy, Autau, Canton, Cheefoo, Chungchow, Foochow, Hoihao (Haihow), Kowloon, Liu Kung Tau, Ningpo, Pingshan, Saikung, Shatin, Sha Tau Kok, Swatow, China, are mailable subject to the rate and conditions applicable to parcels for Hong Kong.

Parcels addressed for delivery in Amoy, Changsha, Cheefoo, Foochow, Hangehow, Kiukiang, Newchwang, Peking, Shanghaiwan, Shasi, Soochow, Tientsin, Tongku and Wuhu, China, and for certain places in Manchuria are mailable subject to the rate and conditions applicable to parcels for Japan. For Manchuria the list of places in the Official Postal Guide should be consulted.

Candy not containing fruit is mailable by foreign parcel post providing it is substantially packed.

The Postoffice Department is not responsible for the loss of, or damage to, any foreign parcel.

Do not drop foreign parcels in a letter box, but take them to the postoffice and hand them to the postal official in charge.

Parcels not properly wrapped will not be accepted. Pack and tie them securely and in such way that their contents may be easily examined without damaging the cover.

Additions to the address and to the contents of domestic parcel post packages permissible in this country are not allowed in the foreign parcel post mails.

SUGGESTIONS TO HOMESTEADERS AND PERSONS DESIRING TO MAKE HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

1. Information as to Character and Occupancy of Public Lands.—Persons desiring to make homestead entries should first fully inform themselves as to the character and quality of the lands they desire to enter, and should in no case apply to enter until they have visited and fully examined each legal subdivision for which they make application as satisfactory information as to the character and occupancy of public lands cannot be obtained in any other way.

Affidavit.—As each applicant is required to swear that he is well acquainted with the character of the land described in his application, and as all entries are made subject to the rights of prior settlers, the applicant cannot make the affidavit that he is acquainted with the character of the land, or be sure that the land is not already appropriated by a settler, until after he has actually inspected it.

Plats.—Information as to whether a particular tract of land is subject to entry may be obtained from the register or receiver of the land district in which the tract is located, either through verbal or written inquiry, but these officers must not be expected to give information as to the character and quality of unentered land or to furnish extended lists of lands subject to entry, except through plats and diagrams which they are authorized to make and sell as follows:

For a township diagram showing entered land only.....	$1 00
For a township plat showing form of entries, names of claimants, and character of entries.....	2 00
For a township plat showing form of entries, names of claimants, character of entry, and number.....	3 00
For a township plat showing form of entries, names of claimants, character of entry, number, and date of filing or entry, together with topography, etc.....	4 00

Township Diagram Showing Vacant Lands.—Purchasers of township diagrams are entitled to definite information as to whether each smallest legal subdivision, or lot, is vacant public land. Registers and receivers are therefore required in case of an application for a township diagram showing vacant lands to plainly check off with a cross every lot or smallest legal subdivision in the township which is not vacant, leaving the vacant tracts unchecked. There is no authority for registers and receivers to charge and receive a fee of twenty-five cents for plats and diagrams of a section or part of a section of a township.

Access to Plats and Tract Books.—If because of the pressure of current business relating to the entry of lands registers and receivers are unable to make the plats or diagrams mentioned above, they may refuse to furnish the same and return the fee to the applicant, advising him of their reason for not furnishing the plats requested, that he may make the plats or diagrams himself, or have same made by his agent or attorney, and that he may have access to the plats and tract books of the local land office for this purpose, provided such use of the records will not interfere with the orderly dispatch of the public business.

List Showing Character of Public Lands.—A list showing the general character of all the public lands remaining unentered in the various counties of the public land States on the thirtieth day of the preceding June may be obtained at any time by addressing "The Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C."

Blank Forms.—All blank forms of affidavits and other papers needed in making application to enter or in making final proofs can be obtained by applicants and entrymen from the land office for the district in which the land lies.

2. Kind of Land Subject to Homestead Entry.—All unappropriated surveyed public lands adaptable to any agricultural use are subject to homestead entry if they are not mineral or saline in character and are not occupied for the purposes of trade or business and have not been embraced within the limits of any withdrawal, reservation, or incorporated town or city, but homestead entries on lands within certain areas (such as lands in Alaska, lands withdrawn under the reclamation act, certain ceded Indian lands, lands within abandoned military reservations, agricultural lands within national forests, lands in western and central Nebraska, and lands withdrawn, classified, or valuable for coal) are made subject to the particular requirements of the laws under which such lands are opened to entry. None of these particular requirements are set out in these suggestions, but information as to them may be obtained by either verbal or written inquiries addressed to the register and receiver of the land office of the district in which such lands are situated.

HOW CLAIMS UNDER THE HOMESTEAD LAW ORIGINATE.

3. Claims, How Initiated.—Claims under homestead laws may be initiated either by settlement on surveyed or unsurveyed lands of the kind mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, or by the filing of a soldier's or sailor's declaratory statement, or by the presentation of an application to enter any surveyed lands of that kind.

4. Settlement—Actual Residence—Entry.—Settlement is initiated through the personal act of the settler placing improvements upon the land or establishing residence thereon; he thus gains the right to make entry for the land as against other persons. A settlement on any part of a surveyed quarter section subject to homestead entry gives the right to enter all of that quarter section, but if a settler desires to initiate a claim to surveyed tracts which form a part of more than one technical quarter he should define his claim by placing some improvements on each of the smallest subdivisions claimed. When settlement is made on unsurveyed lands the settler must plainly mark the boundaries of all lands claimed. Within a reasonable time after settlement actual residence must be established on the land and continuously maintained. Entry should be made within three months after settlement upon surveyed lands or within that time after the filing in the local land office of the plat of survey of lands unsurveyed when settlement was made. Otherwise, the preference right of entry may be lost. Under the act of August 9, 1912 (37 Stat. 267), settlement right on not exceeding 320 acres of lands designated by the Secretary of the Interior as subject to entry under the enlarged homestead law may be obtained by plainly marking the exterior boundaries of all lands claimed, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, followed by the establishment of residence, except as to lands designated under section 6 of said acts, where residence is not required, but where the settlement right is required to be initiated by plainly marking the exterior boundaries of the land claimed and the placing and maintenance of valuable improvements thereon.

5. Soldiers' and Sailors' Declaratory Statements.—Soldiers and sailors' declaratory statements may be filed in the land office for the district in which the lands desired are located by any persons who have been honorably discharged after ninety days' service in the army or navy of the United States during the war of the Rebellion or during the Spanish-American War or the Philippine insurrection. Declaratory statements of this character may be filed either by the soldier or sailor in person or through his agent acting under a proper power of attorney, but the soldier or sailor must make entry of the land in person, and not through his agent, within six months from the filing of his declaratory statement, or he may make entry in person without first filing a declaratory statement if he so chooses. If a declaratory statement is filed by a soldier or sailor in person, it must be executed by him before one of the officers mentioned in paragraph 16, in the county or land district in which the land is situated; if filed through an agent, the affidavit of the agent must be executed before one of the officers above mentioned, but the soldier's affidavit may be executed before any officer using a seal and authorized to administer oaths and not necessarily within the county or land district in which the land is situated.

BY WHOM HOMESTEAD ENTRIES MAY BE MADE.

6. Any Person not Within Excluded Classes.—Homestead entries may be made by any person who does not come within either of the following classes:

- (a) Married women, except as hereinafter stated.
- (b) Persons who have already made homestead entry, except as hereinafter stated.
- (c) Foreign-born persons who have not declared their intention to become citizens of the United States.
- (d) Persons who are the owners of more than one hundred and sixty acres of land in the United States.
- (e) Persons under the age of twenty-one years who are not the heads of families, except minors who make entry as heirs, as hereinafter mentioned, or who have served in the army or navy during the existence of an actual war for at least fourteen days.
- (f) Persons who have acquired title to or are claiming, under any of the agricultural public land laws, through settlement or entry made since August 30, 1890, any other lands which, with the lands last applied for, would amount in the aggregate to more than 320 acres.

7. Married Woman may Make Entry.—A married woman who has all of the other qualifications of a homesteader may make a homestead entry under any one of the following conditions:

- (a) Where she has been actually deserted by her husband.
- (b) Where her husband is incapacitated by disease or otherwise from earning a support for his family and the wife is really the head and main support of the family.

(c) Where the husband is confined in a penitentiary and she is actually the head of the family.

(d) Where the married woman is the heir of a settler or contestant who dies before making entry.

(e) Where a married woman made improvements and resided on the lands applied for before her marriage, she may enter them after marriage if her husband is not holding other lands under an unperfected homestead entry at the time she applies to make entry.

8. Deserted Wife.—If an entryman deserts his wife and abandons the land covered by his entry, his wife then has the exclusive right to contest the entry if she has continued to reside on the land, and on securing its cancellation she may enter the land in her own right, or she may continue her residence and make proof in the name of and as the agent for her husband, and patent will issue to him.

9. Deserted Minor Children.—If an entryman deserts his minor children and abandons his entry after the death of his wife, the children have the same right to make proof on the entry as the wife could have exercised had she been deserted during her lifetime.

10. Marriage of Entrywoman.—The marriage of the entrywoman after making entry will not defeat her right to acquire title if she continues to reside upon the land and otherwise comply with the law. A husband and wife cannot, however, maintain separate residences on homestead entries held by each of them, and if, at the time of marriage, they are each holding an unperfected entry on which they must reside in order to acquire title, they cannot hold both entries. In such case they may elect which entry they will retain and relinquish the other.

11. Widow.—A widow, if otherwise qualified, may make a homestead entry notwithstanding the fact that her husband made an entry and notwithstanding she may be at the time claiming the unperfected entry of her deceased husband.

12. Person Serving in Army or Navy.—A person serving in the army or navy of the United States may make a homestead entry if some member of his family is residing on the lands applied for, and the application and accompanying affidavits may be executed before the officer commanding the branch of the service in which he is engaged.

13. Second Homestead Entries.—Second homestead entries may be made by the following classes of persons if they are otherwise qualified to make entry:

(a) By a person who commuted a former entry prior to June 5, 1900.

(b) By a homestead entryman who, prior to May 17, 1900, paid the Indian price of lands to which he would have been afterward entitled to receive patent without payment under the "free homes act."

(c) By any person whose former entry was made prior to February 3, 1911, which entry has been subsequently lost, forfeited, or abandoned for any cause, provided the former entry was not canceled for fraud or relinquished or abandoned for a valuable consideration in excess of the filing fees paid on said former entry. If an entryman received for relinquishing or abandoning his entry an amount in excess of the fees and commissions paid to the United States at time of making said entry, or if he sells his improvements for a sum in excess of such filing fees and relinquishes his entry in connection therewith, he cannot make a second entry.

(d) By persons whose original entries have failed because of the discovery, subsequent to entry, of obstacles which could not have been foreseen and which render it impracticable to cultivate the land, or because, subsequent to entry, the land becomes useless for agricultural purposes through no fault of the entryman. There is no specific statute authorizing the making of second entries in these classes of cases, and such entries are allowed under the general equitable power of the Land Department to grant relief in cases of accident and mistake.

(e) Any person otherwise qualified, who has made final proof for less than one hundred and sixty acres under the homestead laws, may make an additional entry for such an amount of public lands as will, when added to the amount for which he has already made proof, not exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres. Residence, cultivation, and improvement must be performed as in the case of an original entry.

(f) Each application for second or additional entry must give the date and number of the former entry and the land office at which it was made, or the section, township, and range in which the land entered was located. Any person coming within paragraphs (a), (b), or (e) must also give date when the former entry was perfected. Any person coming within paragraph (c) must show by the affidavit of himself and some other person or persons the date when his former entry was lost, forfeited, or abandoned; that it was not canceled for fraud; and the consideration, if any, received for the abandonment or relinquishment. Any person coming within paragraph (d) must, in addition to the evidence above specified, show in his corroborated affidavit the grounds on which he seeks relief, and that he used due diligence prior to entry to avoid mistake.

(g) A person who has made, lost, forfeited or abandoned an entry of less than one hundred and sixty acres is not entitled to another entry unless he comes within paragraph (c) or (d) above. Such a person cannot make another entry merely because his first entry contained less than one hundred and sixty acres.

14. Additional Homestead Entry.—An additional homestead entry may be made by a person for such an amount of public lands adjoining lands then held and resided upon by him under his original entry as will, when added to such adjoining lands, not exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres. An entry of this kind may be made by any person who has not acquired title to and is not, at the date of his application, claiming under any of the agricultural public land laws, through settlement or entry made since August 30, 1890, any other lands which, with the land then applied for, would exceed in the aggregate three hundred and twenty acres, but the applicant will not be required to show any of the other qualifications of a homestead entryman. See, however, instructions under the enlarged homestead act (par. 47).

15. Adjoining Farm Entry.—An adjoining farm entry may be made for such an amount of public lands lying contiguous to lands owned and resided upon by the applicant as will not, with the lands so owned and resided upon, exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres; but no person will be entitled to make entry of this kind who is not qualified to make an original homestead entry. A person who has made one homestead entry, although for a less amount than one hundred and sixty acres, and perfected title thereto, is not qualified to make an adjoining farm entry.

HOW HOMESTEAD ENTRIES ARE MADE.

16. Presentation of Application.—A homestead entry may be made by the presentation to the land office of the district in which the desired lands are situated of an application properly prepared on blank forms prescribed for that purpose and sworn to before either the register or the receiver, or before a United States commissioner, or a judge, or a clerk of a court of record, in the county or parish in which the land lies, or before any officer of the classes named who resides in the land district and nearest or most accessible to the land, although he may reside outside of the county in which the land is situated.

17. Application and Affidavits must Recite Facts.—Each application to enter and the affidavits accompanying it must recite all the facts necessary to show that the applicant is acquainted with the land; that the land is not, to the applicant's knowledge, either saline or mineral in character; that the applicant possesses all of the qualifications of a homestead entryman; that the application is honestly and in good faith made for the purpose of actual settlement and cultivation, and not for the benefit of any other person, persons, or corporation; that the applicant will faithfully and honestly endeavor to comply with the requirements of the law as to settlement, residence, and cultivation necessary to acquire title to the land applied for; that the applicant is not acting as the agent of any person, persons, corporation or syndicate in making such entry, nor in collusion with any person, corporation, or syndicate to give them the benefit of the land entered or any part thereof; that the application is not made for the purpose of speculation, but in good faith to obtain a home for the applicant, and that the applicant has not directly or indirectly made, and will not make, any agreement or contract in any way or manner with any person or persons, corporation, or syndicate whatsoever by which the title he may acquire from the Government to the lands applied for shall inure, in whole or in part, to the benefit of any person except himself.

18. Applications must Describe Acts of Settlement.—All applications by persons claiming as settlers must, in addition to the facts required in paragraph 17, state the date and describe the acts of settlement under which they claim a preferred right of entry, and applications by the widows, devisees, or heirs of settlers must state facts showing the death of the settler and their right to make entry, that the settler was qualified to make entry at the time of his death, and that the heirs or devisees applying to enter are citizens of the United States or have declared their intentions to become such citizens, but they are not required to state facts showing any other qualifications of a homestead entryman, and the fact that they have made a former entry will not prevent them from making an entry as such heirs or devisees, nor will the fact that a person has made entry as the heir or devisee of the settler prevent him from making an entry in his own individual right if he is otherwise qualified to do so.

19. Applications by Soldiers, Sailors, or Their Widows.—All applications by soldiers, sailors, or their widows, or the guardians of their minor children should be accompanied by proper evidence of the soldier's or sailor's service and discharge and of the fact that the soldier or sailor had not, prior to his death, made an entry in his own right. The application of the widow of the soldier or sailor must also show that she is unmarried and that the right has not been exercised by any other person. Applications for the children of soldiers or sailors must show that the father died without having made entry, that the mother died or remarried without making entry, and that the person applying to make entry for them is their legally appointed guardian.

20. Must be Accompanied by Fee and Commissions.—Applications for entry must be accompanied by the proper fee and commissions. (See par. 41.) A receipt for the money is at once issued, but this is merely evidence that the money has been paid and as to the purpose thereof. If the application is allowed and the entry placed of record, formal notice of this fact is issued on the prescribed form; if the application is rejected or suspended, notice of such action is forwarded to the applicant as soon as practicable.

RIGHTS OF WIDOWS, HEIRS, OR DEVISEES UNDER THE HOMESTEAD LAWS.

21. Right of Entry After Decease of Settler.—If a homestead settler dies before he makes entry, his widow has the exclusive right to enter the lands covered by his settlement. If there be no widow, the right to enter the lands covered by the settlement passes to the persons who are named as heirs of the settler by the laws of the State in which the land lies. If there be no widow or heirs, the right to enter the lands covered by the settlement passes to the person to whom the settler has devised his rights by a proper will; but a devisee of the claim will not be entitled to take when there is a widow or an heir of the settler. The persons to whom the settler's right of entry passes must make entry within the time named in paragraph 4 or they will forfeit their right to the next qualified applicant. They may, however, make entry after that time if no adverse claim has attached.

22. Rights After Decease of Entryman Before Final Proof.—If a homestead entryman dies before making final proof, his rights under his entry will pass to his widow; or if there be no widow, and the entryman's children are all minors, the right to a patent vests in them upon making publication of notice and proof of the death of the entryman without a surviving widow, that they are the only minor children and that there are no adult heirs of the entryman, or the land may be sold for the benefit of such minor children in the manner in which other lands belonging to minors are sold under the laws of the State or Territory in which the minors are domiciled.

If the children of a deceased entryman are not all minors and his wife is dead, his rights under the entry pass to the persons who are his heirs under the laws of the State or Territory in which the lands are situated. If there be no widow or heirs of the entryman, the rights under the entry pass to the person to whom the entryman has devised his rights by proper will, but a devisee of the entry will be entitled to take only in the event there is no widow or heir of the entryman.

23. Rights After Decease of Contestant.—If a contestant dies after having secured the cancellation of an entry, his right as a successful contestant to make entry passes to his heirs; and if the contestant dies before he has secured the cancellation of the entry he has contested, his heirs may continue the prosecution of his contest and make entry if they are successful in the contest. In either case to entitle the heirs to make entry they must show that the contestant was a qualified entryman at the date of his death; and in order to earn a patent the heirs must comply with all the requirements of the law under which the entry was made, to the same extent as would have been required of the contestant had he made entry.

24. Entry by Widow or Minor Children of Deceased Soldier or Sailor.—The unmarried widow, or, in case of her death or remarriage, the minor children of soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged after ninety days' actual service during the War of the Rebellion, the Spanish-American War, or the Philippine insurrection may make entry as such widow or minor children if the soldier or sailor died without making entry, or failed to perfect an entry and was, at the time of his death, qualified to make another. The minor children must make a joint entry through their duly appointed guardian.

RESIDENCE AND CULTIVATION REQUIRED UNDER THE HOMESTEAD LAWS.

25. Residence.—A homestead entryman is required to establish residence upon the land within six months after date of entry unless an extension of time is allowed, as explained in paragraph 35, and is required to maintain residence there for a period of three years. He may absent himself, however, for a portion of each year succeeding establishment of residence, as more fully explained in paragraph 26. Residence and cultivation in the case of an adjoining farm homestead or of an additional homestead entry for a tract contiguous to an original homestead entry may be maintained either upon the original or additional farm.

26. Absences Permitted.—During each year, beginning with the date of establishment of actual residence, the entryman may absent himself from the land for one period of not exceeding five months, but the law does not authorize a number of shorter absences aggregating this period. In order to be entitled to this absence the entryman need not file application therefor, but must at the time he leaves the land file, by mail or otherwise, at the proper local land office, notice of time of leaving, and upon returning to the land must notify said office of the date of his return. A second period of absence immediately following the first, though in different years of residence, is not permitted by the law; there must be some substantial term of actual continuous residence between the periods of absence.

27. Cultivation.—(a) Cultivation of the land for a period of three years is required. During the second year not less than one-sixteenth of the area entered must be actually cultivated, and during the third year and until final proof cultivation of not less than one-eighth is required. There must be actual breaking of the soil followed by planting, sowing of seed, and tillage for a crop other than native grasses. Summer fallowing or grazing of cattle cannot be accepted. These requirements are applicable to all homesteads on which residence is required whether made under the general or enlarged homestead laws, but do not apply to homesteads made under the reclamation act or the so-called Kinkaid act, applicable to Nebraska. As to amount of cultivation required under section 6 of the enlarged homestead acts, see paragraphs 48 and 49.

Reduction of Amount of Cultivation.—(b) Where the amount of cultivation above indicated is impossible or would be unreasonable, the Secretary of the Interior may, on satisfactory showing, reduce the required amount. Such reduction will not be granted on account of physical or financial disabilities or misfortunes of the entryman. Applications for reduction (Form 4-007a) must be filed in the proper local land office within one year after date of entry, setting forth all pertinent facts regarding the physical and climatic conditions appertaining to the land; as to entries made before June 6, 1912, such applications must be filed prior to June 6, 1913.

Improvements.—(c) The homestead entryman must have a habitable house upon the land entered at the time of submitting proof. Other improvements should be of such character and amount as are sufficient to show good faith.

Proofs Where Homestead Entry Made Prior to June 6, 1912.—(d) By paragraph 18 of the instructions of July 15, 1912, the Secretary of the Interior (under his statutory authority to reduce the requirements as to cultivation) prescribed the following rule to govern action on proofs submitted under the new law, where the homestead entry was made prior to June 6, 1912:

"Respecting cultivation necessary to be shown upon such an entry, in all cases where, upon considering the whole record, the good faith of the entryman appears, the proof will be acceptable if it shows cultivation of at least one-sixteenth for one year and of at least one-eighth for the next year and each succeeding year until final proof, without regard to the particular year of the homestead period in which the cultivation of the one-sixteenth was performed."

Entries Made Prior to June 6, 1912, How Perfected.—(e) Entries made prior to June 6, 1912, may be perfected either by showing compliance with the laws then in force or with the requirements of the act of June 6, 1912.

Proof by Settler Prior to June 6, 1912.—(f) Where a qualified person settled upon a tract of unsurveyed public land, subject to settlement, prior to the passage of the act of June 6, 1912, but made entry after its enactment or shall hereafter make entry, he may elect to submit proof under said act or under the law existing when he established his residence upon the land. The filing of a formal election is not required, but the designation of three year or five year proof, in the notice to submit same, may constitute such election.

28. Residence by Soldier or Sailor.—A soldier or sailor of one of the classes mentioned in paragraph 5 who makes entry as such must begin his residence and cultivation of the land entered by him within six months from the date of filing his declaratory statement, but if he makes entry without filing a declaratory statement he must begin his residence within six months after the date of the entry. Thereafter he must continue both residence and cultivation for such period as will, when added to the time of his military or naval service (under enlistment or enlistments covering war periods), amount to three years; but if he was discharged on account of wounds or disabilities incurred in the line of duty, credit for the whole term of his enlistment may be allowed; however, no patent will issue to such soldier or sailor until there has been residence and cultivation by him for at least one year, nor until at least one-eighth of the land has been actually cultivated and a habitable house has been placed on the entry.

No credit can be allowed for military service where commutation proof is offered.

29. Soldier or Sailor Making Entry During Enlistment in Time of Peace.—A soldier or sailor making entry during his enlistment in time of peace is not required to reside personally on the land, but may receive patent if his family maintain the necessary residence and cultivation until the entry is three years old or until it has been commuted; but a soldier or sailor is not entitled to credit on account of his military service in time of peace. If such soldier has no family, there is no way by which he can make entry and acquire title during his enlistment in time of peace.

30. Entry Based on Husband's or Father's Military or Naval Service. Widows and minor children of soldiers and sailors who make entry based on the husband's or father's military or naval service must conform to the requirements specified for the soldier or sailor in paragraph 28.

31. Widow, Heirs, or Devisee of Settlers must Improve and Cultivate. Persons who make entry as the widow, heirs, or devisee of settlers are not required to reside upon the land entered by them, but they must improve and cultivate it for such period as, added to the time during which the settler resided on and cultivated the land, will make the required period of three years, and the cultivation must be to the extent required by the law under which the proof is offered. Commutation proof may, however, be made upon showing fourteen months' actual residence and cultivation had either by the settler or the heirs, devisee, or widow, or in part by the settler and in part by the widow, heirs, or devisee.

32. Widow, Heirs, or Devisees of Homestead Entryman must Cultivate.—Persons succeeding as widow, heirs, or devisees to the rights of a homestead entryman are not required to reside upon the land covered by the entry, but they must cultivate it as required by law for such period as will, added to the entryman's period of compliance with the law, aggregate the required term of three years. They are allowed a reasonable time after the entryman's death within which to begin cultivation, proper regard being had to the season of the year at which said death occurred. If they desire to commute the entry, they must show a fourteen months' period of such residence and cultivation on the part of themselves or the entryman, or both, as would have been required of him had he survived.

33. Homestead Entryman Elected to Federal, State or County Offices.—Homestead entrymen, who have been elected to Federal, State, or county offices after making entry and establishing their actual residence on the land are not required to continue such residence during their term of office if the administration of their bona fide official duties necessarily requires them to reside elsewhere than on the land, but they must continue the improvement and cultivation of the land for the statutory period. Such officeholder cannot commute his entry unless he can show at least fourteen months' actual residence on the land preceding date of final proof. A person who makes entry or establishes residence after he has been elected to office is not excused from maintaining residence, but must comply with the law in the same manner as though he had not been elected. Persons holding appointive offices are not entitled to the foregoing privileges.

34. Insane Homestead Entryman.—Neither residence nor cultivation by an insane homestead entryman is necessary after he becomes insane, if such entryman made entry and established residence before he became insane and complied with the requirements of the law up to the time his insanity began. Proof on the entry may be submitted by his duly appointed guardian or committee after the expiration of three years from its date. If the entryman is an alien and has not been fully naturalized, evidence of his declaration of intention to become a citizen is sufficient.

35. (a) Additional Time for Establishment of Residence.—A homestead entryman is allowed additional time not exceeding six months, for establishment of residence upon his entry where climatic reasons, sickness or other unavoidable cause prevents establishing residence within the first six months after entry. Such extension will not be granted in advance, and no application therefor should be filed; but in the event adverse proceedings are started against his entry the homesteader may set forth the facts causing the delay in the establishment of residence, and on proper showing secure the benefit of the provision of law granting the extension of time. The entryman, however, is not entitled to any additional time within which to establish residence after the hindering cause is removed, but must thereafter promptly proceed to establish his residence.

(b) Leave of Absence.—Leave of absence for one year or less may be granted by the register and receiver of the local land office to entrymen who have established actual residence on the lands in cases where total or partial failure or destruction of crops, sickness, or other unavoidable casualty has prevented the entryman from supporting himself and those dependent on him by cultivation of the land. Applications for such leave of absence must be sworn to by the applicant and corroborated by at least one witness in the land district or county within which the entered lands are located before an officer authorized to administer oaths and having a seal. Applications must describe the entry and show the date of establishing residence on the land and the extent and character of the improvements and cultivation performed by applicant. It must also set forth fully the facts on which the claimant bases his right to leave of absence, and where sickness is given as the reason, a certificate signed by a reputable physician should be furnished if practicable.

COMMUTATION OF HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

36. What may be Commuted.—All original, second, and additional homestead, and adjoining farm entries may be commuted, except such entries as are made under particular laws which forbid their commutation.

Showing on Commutation.—The entryman or his statutory successor submitting such proof, must show substantially continuous residence upon the land, and cultivation thereof, for a period of at least fourteen months immediately preceding submission of proof or filing of notice of intention to submit same, and the existence of a habitable house upon the claim. The area actually cultivated must equal at least one-sixteenth of the entire acreage.

Price of Land.—A person submitting commutation proof must, in addition to certain fees, pay the price of the land; this is ordinarily $1.25 per acre, but is $2.50 per acre for lands within the limits of certain railroad grants. The price of certain ceded Indian lands varies according to their location, and inquiry should be made regarding each specific tract.

Showing of Citizenship on Commutation.—Where commutation of entry is made, full citizenship on the part of the claimant must be shown, no distinction being made between persons submitting such proofs and those submitting three year proofs.

Commutation, When not Allowed.—Commutation proof cannot be made on homestead entries allowed under the act of April 28, 1904 (33 Stat. 547), known as the Kinkaid act; entries under the reclamation act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388); entries under the enlarged homestead acts (post, par. 43 et seq.); entries allowed on coal lands under the act of June 22, 1910 (36 Stat. 583), so long as the land is withdrawn or classified as coal; additional entries allowed under the act of April 28, 1904 (33 Stats. 527); second entries allowed under the act of June 5, 1900 (31 Stat. 267); or second entries allowed under the act of May 22, 1902 (32 Stat. 203), when the former entry was committed.

FINAL PROOFS ON HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

37. Time of Making.—Either final or commutation proof may be made at any time when it can be shown that residence and cultivation have been maintained in good faith for the required length of time and to the required extent. Proof under the act of June 6, 1912, must be submitted within five years after the date of the entry, while proof submitted under the law in force before that date must be made within seven years after the date of the entry. Failure to submit proof within the proper period is ground for cancellation of the entry unless good reason for the delay appears; satisfactory reasons being shown, final certificate may be issued, and the case referred to the board of equitable adjudication for confirmation. See, also, paragraph 27 (e).

38. Must be Made Personally.—(a) Final proof must be made by the entrymen personally or their widows, heirs, or devisees, and cannot be made by agents, attorneys in fact, administrators, or executors, except as explained in paragraphs 8, 9, 22, and 34. Final proof can be made only by citizens of the United States.

(b) Minors may be Represented by Guardian.—Where entries are made and proof offered for minor orphan children of soldiers or sailors the minors may be represented by their guardian.

39. How Proofs may be Made.—Final or commutation proofs may be made before any of the officers mentioned in paragraph 16 as being authorized to administer oaths to applicants.

Any person desiring to make homestead proof should first forward a written notice of his desire to the register and receiver of the land office, giving his postoffice address, the number of his entry, the name and official title of the officer before whom he desires to make proof, the place at which the proof is to be made, and the name and postoffice addresses of at least four of his neighbors who can testify from their own knowledge as to facts which will show that he has in good faith complied with all the requirements of the law.

40. Register to Furnish Notice.—The register will furnish a notice naming the time and place for submission of proof to the claimant, who must cause same to be published at his expense once a week for five consecutive weeks preceding submission of proof in the newspaper designated by the register.

Publication of Notice of Intention to Make Proof.—This notice must be published once a week for five consecutive weeks preceding submission of proof, and a copy thereof must be posted in a conspicuous place in the office of the register. The homesteader must arrange with the publisher for publication of the notice of intention to make proof and make payment therefor directly to him. The register will be responsible for the correct preparation of the notice.

Hearing and Continuances.—On the day named in the notice the entryman must appear before the officer designated to take proof with at least two of the witnesses named in the notice; but if for any reason the entryman and his witnesses are unable to appear on the date named, the officer should continue the case from day to day until the expiration of ten days, and the proof may be taken on any day within that time when the entryman and his witnesses appear, but they should, if it is at all possible to do so, appear on the day mentioned in the notice. Entryman are advised that they should, whenever it is possible to do so, offer their proofs before the register or receiver, as it may be found necessary to refer all proofs made before other officers to a special agent for investigation and report before patent can issue, while, if the proofs are made before the register or receiver, there is less likelihood of this being done, and there is less probability of the proofs being incorrectly taken. By making proof before the register or receiver the entrymen will also save the fees which they are required to pay other officers, as they will be required under the law to pay the register and receiver the same amount of fees in each case, regardless of the fact that the proof may have been taken before some other officer.

Improperly Commuting Entries.—Entrymen are cautioned against improvidently and improperly commuting their entries, and are warned that any false statement made in either their commutation or final proof may result in their indictment and punishment for the crime of perjury.

FEES ON ENTRIES AND FINAL PROOFS.

41. Fees and Commissions.—When a homesteader applies to make entry he must pay in cash to the receiver a fee of $5 if his entry is for eighty acres or less, or $10 if he enters more than eighty acres. And in addition to this fee he must pay, both at the time he makes entry and final proof, a commission of $1 for each forty-acre tract entered outside of the limits of a railroad grant and $2 for each forty-acre tract entered within such limits. Fees under the enlarged homestead act are the same as above, but the commissions are based upon the area of the land embraced in the entry. (See paragraph 43.) Where an entry is commuted no commissions are payable, except in connection with certain ceded Indian lands, as to which inquiry must be made specifically at the proper local land offices. On all final proofs made before either the register or receiver, or before any other officer authorized to take proofs, the register and receiver are entitled to receive fifteen cents for each one hundred words reduced to writing, and no proof can be accepted or approved until all fees have been paid.

In all cases where lands are entered under the homestead laws in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming the commissions due to the register and receiver on entries and final proofs, and the testimony fees under final proofs, are fifty per cent more than those above specified, but the entry fee of $5 or $10, as the case may be, is the same in all the States.

Remittances—How Made.—Remittances of moneys to the local land offices must be made in cash or currency; but certified checks when drawn in favor of the receiver of public moneys on national and State banks and trust companies, which can be cashed without cost to the government, can be used. Likewise, United States postoffice orders are acceptable when they are made payable to the receiver and are drawn on the postoffice at the place where the receiver is located.

ALIENATION OF LAND BY HOMESTEADER.

42. Alienation Prior to Proof will Prevent Satisfactory Proof.—The alienation of all or any part of the land embraced in a homestead prior to making proof, except for the public purposes mentioned in section 2288, Revised Statutes, will prevent the entryman from making satisfactory proof, since he is required to swear that he has not alienated any part of the land except for the purposes mentioned in section 2288, Revised Statutes.

Mortgage not Considered Alienation.—A mortgage by the entryman prior to final proof for the purpose of securing money for improvements, or for any other purpose not inconsistent with good faith, is not considered such an alienation of the land as will prevent him from submitting satisfactory proof. In such a case, however, should the entry be canceled for any reason prior to patent, the mortgagee would have no claim on the land or against the United States for the money loaned.

Alienation After Proof and Before Patent.—The right of a homestead entryman to patent is not defeated by the alienation of all or a part of the land embraced in his entry after the submission of final proof and prior to patent, provided the proof submitted is satisfactory. Such an alienation is, however, at the risk of the entryman, for if the reviewing officers of the Land Department subsequently find the final proof so unsatisfactory that it must be wholly rejected and new proof required, the entryman cannot then truthfully make the nonalienation affidavit required by section 2291, Revised Statutes, and his entry must in consequence be canceled. The purchaser takes no better title than the entryman had, and if the entry is canceled the purchaser's title must necessarily fail.

ENLARGED HOMESTEADS.

43. Homestead Entries for Areas not Exceeding Three Hundred and Twenty Acres.—The acts of February 19, 1909, June 17, 1910, and June 13, 1912 (37 Stat. 101), extending the first-named act to North Dakota and California, provide for the making of homestead entries for areas of not exceeding three hundred and twenty acres of public lands in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, designated by the Secretary of the Interior as nonmineral, nontimbered, nonirrigable. As to Idaho, the act of June 17, 1910, provides that the lands must be "arid."

Terms "Arid" or "Nonirrigable" Land.—The terms "arid" or "nonirrigable" land, as used in these acts, are construed to mean land which, as a rule, lacks sufficient rainfall to produce agricultural crops without the necessity of resorting to unusual methods of cultivation, such as the system commonly known as "dry farming," and for which there is no known source of water supply from which such land may be successfully irrigated at a reasonable cost.

Lands Which may not be Entered Under These Acts.—Therefore lands containing merchantable timber, mineral lands, and lands within a reclamation project, or lands which may be irrigated at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply may not be entered under these acts. Minor portions of a legal subdivision susceptible of irrigation from natural sources, as, for instance, a spring, will not exclude such subdivision from entry under these acts, provided, however, that no one entry shall embrace in the aggregate more than forty acres of such irrigable land.

44. Designation of Lands.—From time to time lists designating the lands which are subject to entry under these acts are sent to the registers and receivers in the States affected, and they are instructed immediately upon the receipt of such lists to note the same upon their tract books. In the order designating land a date is fixed on which such designation will become effective. Until such date no applications to enter can be received and no entries allowed under these acts, but on or after the date fixed it is competent for the registers and receivers to dispose of applications for land designated under the provisions of these acts in like manner as other applications for public lands.

Designation not Conclusive.—The fact that lands have been designated as subject to entry is not conclusive as to the character of such lands, and should it afterward develop that the land is not of the character contemplated by the above acts the designation may be canceled; but where an entry is made in good faith under the provisions of these acts, such designation will not thereafter be modified to the injury of anyone who, in good faith, has acted upon such designation. Each entryman must furnish affidavit as required by section 2 of the acts.

45. Compactness.—Lands entered under the enlarged homestead acts must be in a reasonably compact form and in no event exceed one and one-half miles in length.

Fees.—The acts provide that the fees shall be the same as those now required to be paid under the homestead laws; therefore, while the fees may not in any one case exceed the maximum fee of $10 required under the general homestead law, the commissions will be determined by the area of the land embraced in the entry.

46. Form of Application.—Applications to make entry under these acts must be submitted on forms prescribed by the General Land Office, and in case of an original entry on No. 4-003.

Affidavit must be Corroborated.—The affidavit of an applicant as to the character of the land must be corroborated by two witnesses. It is not necessary that such witnesses be acquainted with the applicant, and if they are not so acquainted their affidavits should be modified accordingly.

47. Entries of Adjoining Designated Lands.—(a) Under section 3 of the enlarged homestead acts persons who have entered one hundred and sixty acres or less of lands of the character described in the act and designated by the Secretary of the Interior thereunder, and who have not made final proof on their original entries, may enter adjoining designated lands which will not, together with the tract first entered, exceed three hundred and twenty acres, and residence upon and cultivation of the original entry may be accepted as equivalent to residence upon and cultivation of the additional.

(b) Rules of Proof Where Original Entry is Prior to June 6, 1912.—Where a person has, prior to June 6, 1912, made entry under the general provisions of the homestead laws, and subsequently an additional entry under said section 3, the following rules govern the requirements as to the cultivation and residence to be shown by him, on submission of proof:

(c) Cultivation.—He may show compliance with the requirements of the law applicable to his original entry, and that, after the date of additional entry, he cultivated, in addition to such cultivation as was relied upon, and used in perfecting title to the original entry, an amount equal to one-sixteenth of the area of the additional entry for one year, not later than the second year of such additional entry, and one-eighth the following year and each succeeding year until proof submitted; however, the rules explained in paragraph 27 (d) are applicable to such cases. The cultivation in support of the additional entry may be maintained upon either entry.

(d) When Proof is Submitted on Both Entries at the Same Time.—

When proof is submitted on both entries at the same time, he may show the cultivation of an amount equal to one-sixteenth of the combined area of the two entries for one year, increased to one-eighth the succeeding year, and that such latter amount of cultivation has continued until offer of proof. If cultivation in these amounts can be shown, proof may be submitted without regard to the date of the additional entry, i. e., the required amount of cultivation may have been performed in whole or in part on the original entry before the additional entry was made, and proof on the additional need be deferred only until the showing indicated can be made. Such combined proof may be submitted not later than seven years from the date of the original entry.

(e) Where Proof is First Made on the Original Entry.—In instances where proof is first made on the original entry meeting the requirement of the homestead law respecting residence, no further showing in this particular will be exacted in making proof upon the additional entry; neither will a period of residence be exacted in proof upon the combined entry in excess of that required under the original entry.

48. Constructive Residence on Certain Lands in Utah.—Lists of lands designated under this section will be from time to time furnished to the registers and receivers, who will be instructed to note same on their tract books immediately upon their receipt. These lists will fix a date on which the designations will become effective. Applications under this section must be submitted on Form No. 4—003a.

During the second year of the entry at least one-eighth of the area must be cultivated, and during the third, fourth, and fifth years, and until submission of final proof, one-fourth of the area entered must be cultivated. Proof may be submitted on entries of this class within seven years after their dates.

49. [Omitted.]

50. Officers Before Whom Applications and Proofs may be Made.—

The acts provide that any person applying to enter land under the provisions thereof shall make and subscribe before the proper officer an affidavit, etc. The term "proper officer," as used herein, is held to mean any officer authorized to take affidavits or proof in homestead cases.

FRED DENNETT,
Commissioner.

Assistant Secretary.

UNITED STATES HOMESTEAD LAWS.

REVISED STATUTES.

§ 2288. Right to Transfer for School Purposes, or for Right of Way. Any bona fide settler under the pre-emption, homestead, or other settlement law shall have the right to transfer by warranty against his own acts any portion of his claim for church, cemetery, or school purposes, or for the right of way of railroads, telegraph, telephones, canals, reservoirs, or ditches for irrigation or drainage across it; and the transfer for such public purposes shall in no way vitiate the right to complete and perfect the title to his claim.

§ 2289. Who Entitled to Enter.—Every person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who has filed his declaration of intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws, shall be entitled to enter one quarter-section, or a less quantity, of unappropriated public lands, to be located in a body in conformity to the legal subdivisions of the public lands; but no person who is the proprietor of more than one hundred and sixty acres of land in any State or Territory shall acquire any right under the homestead law. And every person owning and residing on land may, under the provision of this section, enter other land lying contiguous to his land, which shall not, with the land so already owned and occupied, exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres.

§ 2290. Person Applying to Make Affidavit.—That any person applying to enter land under the preceding section shall first make and subscribe before the proper officer and file in the proper land office an affidavit that he or she is the head of a family, or is over twenty-one years of age, and that such application is honestly and in good faith made for the purpose of actual settlement and cultivation, and not for the benefit of any other person, persons, or corporation, and that he or she will faithfully and honestly endeavor to comply with all the requirements of law as to settlement, residence, and cultivation necessary to acquire title to the land applied for; that he or she is not acting as agent of any person, corporation, or syndicate in making such entry, nor in collusion with any person, corporation, or syndicate to give them the benefit of the land entered, or any part thereof, or the timber thereon; that he or she does not apply to enter the same for the purpose of speculation, but in good faith to obtain a home for himself, or herself, and that he or she has not directly or indirectly made, and will not make, any agreement or contract in any way or manner, with any person or persons, corporation, or syndicate whatsoever, by which the title which he or she might acquire from the government of the United States should inure, in whole or in part, to the benefit of any person, except himself, or herself, and upon filing such affidavit with the register or receiver on payment of $5, when the entry is of not more than eighty acres, and on payment of $10, when the entry is for more than eighty acres, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the amount of land specified.

§ 2291. Final Proof—Leave of Absence—Death of Entryman—Cultivation—Entryman may Elect to Make Proof upon His Entry Under Law Under Which Same was Made.—No certificate, however, shall be given or patent issued therefor until the expiration of three years from the date of such entry; and if at the expiration of such time, or at any time within two years thereafter, the person making such entry, or if he be dead his widow, or in case of her death his heirs or devisee, or in case of a widow making such entry her heirs or devisee, in case of her death, proves by himself and by two credible witnesses that he, she, or they have a habitable house upon the land and have actually resided upon and cultivated the same for the term of three years succeeding the time of filing the affidavit, and makes affidavit that no proof of such land has been alienated, except as provided in section 2288, and that he, she, or they will bear true allegiance to the government of the United States, then in such case he, she, or they, if at that time citizens of the United States, shall be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided by law: Provided, That upon filing in the local land office notice of the beginning of such absence, the entryman shall be entitled to a continuous leave of absence from the land for a period not exceeding five months in each year after establishing residence, and upon the termination of such absence the entryman shall file a notice of such termination in the local land office, but in case of commutation the fourteen months' actual residence as now required by law must be shown, and the person commuting must be at the time a citizen of the United States: Provided, That when the person making entry dies before the offer of final proof those succeeding to the entry must show that the entryman had complied with the law in all respects to the date of his death and that they have since complied with the law in all respects as would have been required of the entryman had he lived, excepting that they are relieved from any requirement of residence upon the land: Provided further, That the entryman shall, in order to comply with the requirements of cultivation herein provided for, cultivate not less than one-sixteenth of the area of his entry, beginning with the second year of the entry, and not less than one-eighth, beginning with the third year of the entry, and until final proof, except that in the case of entries under section 6 of the enlarged homestead law double the area of cultivation herein provided shall be required, but the Secretary of the Interior may, upon a satisfactory showing, under rules and regulations prescribed by him, reduce the required area of cultivation: Provided, That the above provision as to cultivation shall not apply to entries under the act of April 28, 1904, commonly known as the Kinkaid act, or entries under the act of June 17, 1902, commonly known as the reclamation act, and that the provisions of this section relative to the homestead period shall apply to all unperfected entries as well as entries hereafter made upon which residence is required: Provided, That the Secretary of the Interior shall, within sixty days after the passage of this act, send a copy of the same to each homestead entryman of record who may be affected thereby, by ordinary mail to his last known address, and any such entryman may, by giving notice within one hundred and twenty days after the passage of this act, by registered letter to the register and receiver of the local land office, elect to make proof upon his entry under the law under which the same was made without regard to the provisions of this act.

§ 2292. Sale of Land for Benefit of Orphan Infant Children.—In case of the death of both father and mother, leaving an infant child or children under twenty-one years of age, the right and fee shall inure to the benefit of such infant child or children; and the executor, administrator, or guardian may, at any time within two years after the death of the surviving parent, and in accordance with the laws of the State in which such children, for the time being, have their domicile, sell the land for the benefit of such infants, but for no other purpose; and the purchaser shall acquire the absolute title by the purchase, and be entitled to a patent from the United States on the payment of the office fees and sum of money above specified.

§ 2293. Affidavit by Soldier or Sailor.—In case of any person desirous of availing himself of the benefits of this chapter, but who, by reason of actual service in the military or naval service of the United States, is unable to do the personal preliminary acts at the district land office which the preceding sections require; and whose family, or some member thereof, is residing on the land which he desires to enter, and upon which a bona fide improvement and settlement have been made, such person may make the affidavit required by law before the officer commanding the branch of the service in which the party is engaged, which affidavit shall be as binding in law, and with like penalties, as if taken before the register or receiver; and upon such affidavit being filed with the register by the wife or other representative of the party, the same shall become effective from the date of such filing, provided the application and affidavit are accompanied by the fee and commissions as required by law.

§ 2294. Proofs, Before Whom Taken—Fees.—That hereafter all proofs, affidavits, and oaths of any kind whatsoever required to be made by applicants and entrymen under the homestead, pre-emption, timber culture, desert land, and timber and stone acts, may, in addition to those now authorized to take such affidavits, proofs, and oaths, be made before any United States commissioner or commissioner of the court exercising Federal jurisdiction in the Territory or before the judge or clerk of any court of record in the county, parish, or land district in which the lands are situated: Provided, That in case the affidavits, proofs, and oaths hereinbefore mentioned be taken out of the county in which the land is located the applicant must show by affidavit, satisfactory to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, that it was taken before the nearest or most accessible officer qualified to take said affidavits, proofs, and oaths in the land districts in which the lands applied for are located; but such showing by affidavit need not be made in making final proof if the proof be taken in the town or city where the newspaper is published in which the final proof notice is printed. The proof, affidavit, and oath, when so made and duly subscribed, or which may have heretofore been so made and duly subscribed, shall have the same force and effect as if made before the register and receiver, when transmitted to them with the fees and commissions allowed and required by law. That if any witness making such proof, or any applicant making such affidavit or oath, shall knowingly, willfully, or corruptly swear falsely to any material matter contained in said proofs, affidavits, or oaths he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be liable to the same pains and penalties as if he had sworn falsely before the register. That the fees for entries and for final proofs, when made before any other officer than the register and receiver, shall be as follows:

“For each affidavit, twenty-five cents.

“For each deposition of claimant or witness, when not prepared by the officer, twenty-five cents.

“For each deposition of claimant or witness, prepared by the officer, one dollar.

“Any officer demanding or receiving a greater sum for such service shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.”

§ 2296. Lands not Liable for Debt.—No lands acquired under the provisions of this chapter shall in any event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor.

§ 2297. Abandonment—Extension of Time to Commence Residence. If, at any time after the filing of the affidavit as required in section 2290 and before the expiration of the three years mentioned in section 2291, it is proved, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office that the person having filed such affidavit has failed to establish residence within six months after the date of entry, or abandoned the land for more than six months at any time, then and in that event the land so entered shall revert to the government: Provided, That the three years' period of residence herein fixed shall date from the time of establishing actual permanent residence upon the land: And provided further, That where there may be climatic reasons, sickness, or other unavoidable cause the Commissioner of the General Land Office may, in his discretion, allow the settler twelve months from the date of filing in which to commence his residence on said land under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe.

with existing pre-emption rights; and all persons who may have filed their applications for a pre-emption right prior to the 20th day of May, 1862, shall be entitled to all the privileges of this chapter.

§ 2300. Age Limit Removed from Certain Soldiers and Sailors.—No person who has served, or may hereafter serve, for a period not less than fourteen days in the army or navy of the United States, either regular or volunteer, under the laws thereof, during the existence of an actual war, domestic or foreign, shall be deprived of the benefits of this chapter on account of not having attained the age of twenty-one years.

§ 2301. Commutation.—Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to prevent any person who shall hereafter avail himself of the benefits of section 2289, from paying the minimum price for the quantity of land so entered at any time after the expiration of fourteen calendar months from the date of such entry, and obtaining a patent therefor, upon making proof of settlement and of residence and cultivation for such period of fourteen months, and the provision of this section shall apply to lands on the ceded portion of the Sioux Reservation by act approved March 2, 1889, in South Dakota, but shall not relieve said settlers from any payments now required by law.

§ 2302. Race or Color.—No distinction shall be made in the construction or execution of this chapter on account of race or color; nor shall any mineral lands be liable to entry and settlement under its provisions. . . .

§ 2304. Soldiers' and Sailors' Homesteads.—Every private soldier and officer who has served in the army of the United States during the recent rebellion for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged and has remained loyal to the government, including the troops mustered into the service of the United States by virtue of the third section of an act approved February 13, 1862, and every seaman, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States or in the Marine Corps during the rebellion for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged and has remained loyal to the government, and every private soldier and officer who has served in the army of the United States during the Spanish War, or who has served, is serving, or shall have served in the said army during the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines for ninety days, and who was or shall be honorably discharged; and every seaman, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States or in the Marine Corps during the Spanish War, or who has served, is serving, or shall have served in the said forces during the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines for ninety days, and who was or shall be honorably discharged, shall, on compliance with the provisions of this chapter, as hereinafter modified, be entitled to enter upon and receive patents for a quantity of public lands not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, or one quarter-section, to be taken in compact form, according to legal subdivisions, including the alternate reserved sections of public lands along the line of any railroad or other public work not otherwise reserved or appropriated, and other lands subject to entry under the homestead laws of the United States; but such homestead settler shall be allowed six months after locating his homestead and filing his declaratory statement within which to make his entry and commence his settlement and improvement.

§ 2305. Time Served Deducted—Proof by Widow or Minor Orphan Children.—The time which the homestead settler has served in the army, navy, or Marine Corps shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect title, or if discharged on account of wounds received or disability incurred in the line of duty, then the term of enlistment shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect title, without reference to the length of time he may have served; but no patent shall issue to any homestead settler who has not resided upon, improved, and cultivated his homestead for a period of at least one year after he shall have commenced his improvements: Provided, That in every case in which a settler on the public land of the United States under the homestead laws died while actually engaged in the army, navy, or Marine Corps of the United States as private soldier, officer, seaman, or marine, during the war with Spain or the Philippine insurrection, his widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, may proceed forthwith to make final proof upon the land so held by the deceased soldier and settler, and that the death of such soldier while so engaged in the service of the United States shall, in the administration of the homestead laws, be construed to be equivalent to a performance of all requirements as to residence and cultivation for the full period of five years, and shall entitle his widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, to make final proof upon and receive government patent for said land; and that upon proof produced to the officers of the proper local land office by the widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, that the applicant for patent is the widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, his orphan children or his or their legal representatives, and that such soldier, sailor, or marine died while in the service of the United States as hereinbefore described, the patent for such land shall issue. . . .

§ 2309. Entry by Agent.—Every soldier, sailor, marine, officer, or other person coming within the provisions of section 2304, may, as well by an agent as in person, enter upon such homestead by filing a declaratory statement, as in pre-emption cases; but such claimant in person shall within the time prescribed make his actual entry, commence settlement and improvements on the same, and thereafter fulfill the requirements of the law.

THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY ACRE LIMITATION.

No person who shall, after the passage of this act, enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate, under all of said laws, but this limitation shall not operate to curtail the right of any person who has heretofore made entry or settlement on the public lands, or whose occupation, entry, or settlement is validated by this act: Provided, That in all patents for lands hereafter taken up under any of the land laws of the United States or on entries or claims validated by this act, west of the one hundredth meridian, it shall be expressed that there is reserved from the lands in said patent described a right of way thereon for ditches or canals, constructed by the authority of the United States. (26 Stats. at Large, 391.)

MINERAL LANDS EXCLUDED.

The provisions of "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one and for other purposes," which reads as follows, viz.: "No person who shall after the passage of this act enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate under all said laws," shall be construed to include in the maximum amount of lands the title to which is permitted to be acquired by one person only agricultural lands, and not include lands entered or sought to be entered under mineral land laws. (26 Stats. at Large, 1095.)

ADDITIONAL HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

Every person entitled, under the provisions of the homestead law, to enter a homestead, who has heretofore complied with or who shall hereafter comply with the conditions of said laws, and who shall have made his final proof thereunder for a quantity of land less than one hundred and sixty acres and received the receiver's final receipt therefor, shall be entitled under said laws to enter as personal right, and not assignable, by legal subdivisions of the public lands of the United States subject to homestead entry, so much additional land as added to the quantity previously so entered by him shall not exceed one hundred and sixty acres: Provided, That in no case shall patent issue for the land covered by such additional entry until the person making such additional entry shall have actually and in conformity with the homestead laws resided upon and cultivated the lands so additionally entered, and otherwise fully complied with such laws: Provided also, That this section shall not be construed as affecting any rights as to location of soldiers' certificates heretofore issued under section 2306 of the Revised Statutes. (25 Stats. at Large, 854.)

LAND LYING CONTIGUOUS TO ORIGINAL ENTRY.

That any homestead settler who has heretofore entered, or may hereafter enter, less than one quarter-section of land may enter other and additional land lying contiguous to the original entry which shall not, with the land first entered and occupied, exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres, without proof of residence upon and cultivation of the additional entry; and if final proof of settlement and cultivation has been made for the original entry when the additional entry is made, then the patent shall issue without further proof: Provided, That this section shall not apply to or for the benefit of any person who does not own and occupy the lands covered by the original entry: And provided, That if the original entry should fail for any reason prior to patent, or should appear to be illegal or fraudulent, the additional entry shall not be permitted, or, if having been initiated, shall be canceled. (33 Stats. at Large, 527.)

COMMUTATION NOT ALLOWED.

That commutation under the provisions of section 2301 of the Revised Statutes shall not be allowed of an entry made under this act. (33 Stats. at Large, 527.)

PERSON WHO HAS COMMUTED ENTITLED TO BENEFITS OF HOMESTEAD LAWS.

That any person who has heretofore made entry under the homestead laws and commuted same under provisions of section 2301 of the Revised Statutes of the United States and the amendments thereto, shall be entitled to the benefits of the homestead laws, as though such former entry had not been made, except that commutation under the provisions of section 2301 of the Revised Statutes shall not be allowed of an entry made under this section of this act. (31 Stats. at Large, 267.)

ADDITIONAL ENTRY WHERE PRIOR ENTRY PERFECTED BEFORE MAY 17, 1900.

That any person who, prior to the passage of an act entitled "An act providing for free homesteads on the public lands for actual and bona fide settlers, and reserving the public lands for that purpose," approved May 17, 1900, having made a homestead entry and perfected the same and acquired title to the land by final entry by having paid the price provided in the law opening the land to settlement, and who would have been entitled to the provisions of the act before cited had final entry not been made prior to the passage of said act, may make another homestead entry of not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres of any of the public lands in any State or Territory subject to homestead entry: Provided, That any person desiring to make another entry under this act will be required to make affidavit, to be transmitted with the other filing papers now required by law, giving the description of the tract formerly entered, date and number of entry, and name of the land office where made, or other sufficient data to admit of readily identifying it on the official records: And provided further, That said person has all the other proper qualifications of a homestead entryman: And provided also, That commutation under section 2301 of the Revised Statutes or any amendment thereto, or any similar statute, shall not be permitted of an entry made under this act, excepting where the final proof, submitted on the former entry hereinbefore described, shows a residence upon the land covered thereby for the full period of five years or such term of residence thereon as added to any properly credited military or naval service shall equal such period of five years. (32 Stats. at Large, 2037.)

SECOND HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

Any person who, prior to the approval of this act, has made entry under the homestead or desert land laws, but who, subsequently to such entry, from any cause shall have lost, forfeited, or abandoned the same, shall be entitled to the benefits of the homestead or desert land laws as though such former entry had not been made, and any person applying for a second homestead or desert land entry under this act shall furnish a description and the date of his former entry: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to any person whose former entry was canceled for fraud, or who relinquished his former entry for a valuable consideration in excess of the filing fees paid by him on his original entry. (36 Stats. at Large, 896.)

RIGHTS OF SETTLERS.

Any settler who has settled, or who shall hereafter settle, on any of the public lands of the United States, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, with the intention of claiming the same under the homestead laws, shall be allowed the same time to file his homestead application and perfect his original entry in the United States Land Office as is now allowed to settlers under the pre-emption laws to put their claims on record, and his right shall relate back to the date of settlement the same as if he settled under the pre-emption laws. (21 Stats. at Large, 140.)

COMMUTATIONS.

All commutations of homestead entries shall be allowed after the expiration of fourteen months from date of settlement. (29 Stats. at Large, 197.)

HOMESTEAD ENTRY BY MARRIED WOMAN.

Where an unmarried woman who has heretofore settled, or who may hereafter settle, upon a tract of public land, improved, established, and maintained a bona fide residence thereon, with the intention of appropriating the same for a home, subject to the homestead law, and has married, or shall hereafter marry, before making entry of said land or before making application to enter said land, she shall not, on account of her marriage, forfeit her right to make entry and receive patent for the land: Provided, That she does not abandon her residence on said land, and is otherwise qualified to make a homestead entry: Provided, further, That the man whom she marries is not, at the time of their marriage, claiming a separate tract of land under the homestead law. This act shall be applicable to all unpatented lands claimed by such entrywoman at the date of passage. (31 Stats. at Large, 683.)

SETTLERS WHO BECOME INSANE.

In all cases in which parties who regularly initiated claims to public lands as settlers thereon, according to the provisions of the pre-emption or homestead laws, have become insane or shall hereafter become insane before the expiration of the time during which their residence, cultivation, or improvement of the land claimed by them is required by law to be continued in order to entitle them to make the proper proof and perfect their claims, it shall be lawful for the required proof and payment to be made for their benefit by any person who may be legally authorized to act for them during their disability, and thereupon their claims shall be confirmed and patented, provided it shall be shown by proof satisfactory to the Commissioner of the General Land Office that the parties complied in good faith with the legal requirements up to the time of their becoming insane, and the requirements in homestead entries of an affidavit of allegiance by the applicant in certain cases as a prerequisite to the issuing of the patents shall be dispensed with so far as regards such insane parties. (21 Stats. at Large, 166.)

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

That whenever it shall be made to appear to the register and receiver of any public land office, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe, that any settler upon the public domain under existing law is unable, by reason of a total or partial destruction or failure of crops, sickness, or other unavoidable casualty, to secure a support for himself, herself, or those dependent upon him or her upon the lands settled upon, then such register and receiver may grant to such a settler a leave of absence from the claim upon which he or she has filed for a period not exceeding one year at any one time, and such settler so granted leave of absence shall forfeit no rights by reason of such absence: Provided, That the time of such actual absence shall not be deducted from the actual residence required by law. (25 Stats. at Large, 854.)

FINAL PROOF NOTICE.

Before final proof shall be submitted by any person claiming to enter agricultural lands under the laws providing for pre-emption or homestead entries, such person shall file with the register of the proper land office a notice of his or her intention to make such proof, stating therein the description of lands to be entered and the names of the witnesses by whom the necessary facts will be established. Upon the filing of such notice the register shall publish a notice, that such application has been made, once a week for the period of thirty days, in a newspaper to be by him designated as published nearest to such land, and he shall also post such notice in some conspicuous place in his office for the same period. Such notice shall contain the names of the witnesses as stated in the application. At the expiration of said period of thirty days the claimant shall be entitled to make proof in the manner heretofore provided by law. The Secretary of the Interior shall make all necessary rules for giving effect to the foregoing provisions.

Accident or Unavoidable Delays.—That the “act to provide additional regulations for homestead and pre-emption entries of public land,” approved March 3, 1879, shall not be construed to forbid the taking of testimony for final proof within ten days following the day advertised as upon which such final proof shall be made, in cases where accident or unavoidable delays have prevented the applicant or witnesses from making such proof on the date specified. (25 Stats. at Large, 472.)

Penalties for Destroying Corner Monuments.—Whoever shall willfully destroy, deface, change, or remove to another place any section corner, quarter-section corner, or meander post, on any government line of survey, or shall willfully cut down any witness tree or any tree blazed to mark the line of a government survey, or shall willfully deface, change, or remove any monument or bench mark of any government survey, shall be fined not more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months or both. (U. S. Crim. Code, c. 4, § 57.)

Relinquishments.—When a pre-emption, homestead, or timber culture claimant shall file a written relinquishment of his claim in the local land office, the land covered by such claim shall be held as open to settlement and entry without further action on the part of the Commissioner of the General Land Office. (21 Stats. at Large, 140.)

Enlarged Homesteads.—Any person who is a qualified entryman under the homestead laws of the United States may enter, by legal subdivisions, under the provisions of this act, in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, three hundred and twenty acres or less, of nonmineral, nonirrigable, unreserved and unappropriated surveyed public lands which do not contain merchantable timber, located in a reasonably compact body, and not over one and one-half miles in extreme length: Provided, That no lands shall be subject to entry under the provisions of this act until such lands shall have been designated by the Secretary of the Interior as not being, in his opinion, susceptible of successful irrigation at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply. (35 Stats. at Large, 639; 37 Stats. at Large, 132.)

§ 2. That any person applying to enter land under the provisions of this act shall make and subscribe before the proper officer an affidavit as required by section 2290 of the Revised Statutes, and in addition thereto shall make affidavit that the land sought to be entered is of the character described in section 1 of this act, and shall pay the fees now required to be paid under the homestead laws. (35 Stats. at Large, 639.)

§ 3. That any homestead entryman of lands of the character herein described, upon which entry final proof has not been made, shall have the right to enter public lands, subject to the provisions of this act, contiguous to his former entry, which shall not, together with the original entry, exceed three hundred and twenty acres. (Act of Feb. 11, 1913.)

§ 4. That at the time of making final proofs, as provided in section 2291 of the Revised Statutes, the entryman under this act shall, in addition to the proofs and affidavits required under said section, prove by two credible witnesses that at least one-sixteenth of the area embraced in such entry was continuously cultivated for agricultural crops other than native grasses beginning with the second year of the entry, and that at least one-eighth of the area embraced in the entry was so continuously cultivated beginning with the third year of the entry: Provided, That any qualified person who has heretofore made or hereafter makes additional entry under the provisions of section 3 of this act may be allowed to perfect title to his original entry by showing compliance with the provisions of section 2291 of the Revised Statutes respecting such original entry, and thereafter in making proof upon his additional entry shall be credited with residence maintained upon his original entry from the date of such original entry, but the cultivation required upon entries made under this act must be shown respecting such additional entry, which cultivation, while it may be made upon either the original or additional entry, or upon both entries, must be cultivation in addition to that relied upon and used in making proof upon the original entry; or, if he elects, his original and additional entries may be considered as one, with full credit for residence upon and improvements made under his original entry, in which event the amount of cultivation herein required shall apply to the total area of the combined entry, and proof may be made upon such combined entry whenever it can be shown that the cultivation required by this section has been performed; and to this end the time within which proof must be made upon such combined entry is hereby extended to seven years from the date of the original entry: Provided, further, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to require residence upon the combined entry in excess of the period of residence as required by section 2291 of the Revised Statutes. (Act of Feb. 11, 1913.)

§ 5. That nothing herein contained shall be held to affect the right of a qualified entryman to make homestead entry in the States named in section 1 of this act under the provisions of section 2289 of the Revised Statutes, but no person who has made entry under this act shall be entitled to make homestead entry under the provisions of said section, and no entry made under this act shall be commuted. (35 Stats. at Large, 639.)

§ 6. That whenever the Secretary of the Interior shall find that any tracts of land, in the State of Utah, subject to entry under this act, do not have upon them such a sufficient supply of water suitable for domestic purposes as would make continuous residence upon the lands possible, he may, in his discretion, designate such tracts of land, not to exceed in the aggregate two million acres, and thereafter they shall be subject to entry under this act without the necessity of residence: Provided, That in such event the entryman on any such entry shall in good faith cultivate not less than one-eighth of the entire area of the entry during the second year, one-fourth during the third year, and one-half during the fourth and fifth years after the date of such entry, and that after entry and until final proof the entryman shall reside within such distance of said land as will enable him successfully to farm the same as required by this section. (35 Stats. at Large, 639.)

Settlement Rights Under Enlarged Homestead Acts.—Any settler upon lands designated by the Secretary of the Interior as subject to the provisions of sections 1 to 5 of the enlarged homestead acts of February 19th, 1909 (Thirty-fifth Statutes, 639), and June 17th, 1910 (Thirty-sixth Statutes, 531), shall be entitled to the preference right of entry accorded by this section, provided he shall have plainly marked the exterior boundaries of the lands claimed as his homestead: And provided further, That after the designation by the Secretary of the Interior of public lands for entry under the nonresidence provisions of the enlarged homestead acts of February 19, 1909, and June 17, 1910, any person who shall have plainly marked the exterior boundaries of the lands claimed under said provisions of law and made valuable improvements thereon shall have a preference right to enter the lands so claimed and improved at any time within three months after the date on which such lands become subject to entry, but such right shall forfeit unless the settler or claimant under the provisions of the enlarged homestead acts shall annually cultivate and improve the lands in the form and manner and to the extent therein required following date of initiation of his claim hereunder. (37 Stats. at Large, 267.)

Settlement Prior to Three Year Homestead Law.—That any person entitled to enter lands under the homestead laws, who may have established residence upon unsurveyed lands (which were subject to homestead entry) prior to the passage and approval of the act of June 6th,

1912, entitled, "An act to amend section 2291 and section 2297 of the Revised Statutes relating to homesteads," may perfect his proof for such lands under said act of June 6, 1912, or under the law existing at the time of the establishment of such residence, as he may elect, such election to be signified to the Department of the Interior in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary. (Act of March 4, 1913.)

ACTS RELATING TO TIMBER AND STONE ENTRIES.

Public Lands Unfit for Cultivation may be Sold.—Surveyed public lands of the United States within the public land States not included within military, Indian, or other reservations of the United States, valuable chiefly for timber, but unfit for cultivation, and which have not been offered at public sale, according to law, may be sold to citizens of the United States, or persons who have declared their intention to become such, in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to any one person or association of persons, at the minimum price of two dollars and fifty cents per acre; and lands valuable chiefly for stone may be sold on the same terms as timber lands: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall defeat or impair any bona fide claim under any law of the United States, or authorize the sale of any mining claim, or the improvements of any bona fide settler, or lands containing gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal, or lands selected by the said States under any law of the United States, donating lands for internal improvements, education, or other purposes: And provided further, That none of the rights conferred by the act approved July 26, 1866, entitled "An act granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners over the public lands, and for other purposes," shall be abrogated by this act; and all patents granted shall be subject to any vested and accrued water rights, or rights to ditches and reservoirs used in connection with such water rights, as may have been acquired under and by the provisions of said act; and such rights shall be expressly reserved in any patent issued under this act. (20 Stats. at Large, 89.)

§ 2. Statement.—That any person desiring to avail himself of the provisions of this act shall file with the register of the proper district a written statement in duplicate, one of which is to be transmitted to the General Land Office, designating by legal subdivisions the particular tract of land he desires to purchase, setting forth that the same is unfit for cultivation, and valuable chiefly for its timber or stone; that it is uninhabited; contains no mining or other improvements, except for ditch or canal purposes, where any such do exist, save such as were made by or belonged to the applicant, nor, as deponent verily believes, any valuable deposit of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal; that deponent has made no other application under this act; that he does not apply to purchase the same on speculation, but in good faith to appropriate it to his own exclusive use and benefit, and that he has not, directly or indirectly, made any agreement or contract, in any way or manner, with any person or persons whatsoever, by which the title which he might acquire from the government of the United States should inure, in whole or in part, to the benefit of any person except himself; which statement must be verified by the oath of the applicant before the register or the receiver of the land office within the district where the land is situated; and if any person taking such oath shall swear falsely in the premises, he shall be subject to all the pains and penalties of perjury, and shall forfeit the money which he may have paid for said lands, and all right and title to the same; and any grant or conveyance which he may have made, except in the hands of bona fide purchasers shall be null and void. (20 Stats. at Large, 89.)

§ 3. Notice of Application—Patent—Objection.—That upon the filing of said statement, as provided in the second section of this act, the register of the land office shall post a notice of such application, embracing a description of the land, by legal subdivisions, in his office, for a period of sixty days, and shall furnish the applicant a copy of the same for publication, at the expense of such applicant, in a newspaper published nearest the location of the premises, for a like period of time; and after the expiration of said sixty days, if no adverse claim shall have been filed, the person desiring to purchase shall furnish to the register of the land office satisfactory evidence, first, that said notice of the application prepared by the register as aforesaid was duly published in a newspaper as herein required; secondly, that the land is of the character contemplated in this act, unoccupied and without improvements, other than those excepted, either mining or agricultural, and that it apparently contains no valuable deposits of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal; and upon payment to the proper officer of the purchase money of said land, together with the fees of the register and the receiver, as provided for in case of mining claims in the twelfth section of the act approved May 10, 1872, the applicant may be permitted to enter said tract, and, on the transmission to the General Land Office of the papers and testimony in the case, a patent shall issue thereon: Provided, That any person having a valid claim to any portion of the land may object, in writing, to the issuance of a patent to lands so held by him, stating the nature of his claim thereto; and evidence shall be taken, and the merits of said objection shall be determined by the officers of the land office, subject to appeal, as in other land cases. Effect shall be given to the foregoing provisions of this act by regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Lands Chiefly Valuable for Building Stone.—Any person authorized to enter lands under the mining laws of the United States may enter lands that are chiefly valuable for building stone under the provisions of the law in relation to placer mineral claims: Provided, That lands reserved for the benefit of the public schools or donated to any State shall not be subject to entry under this act. (27 Stats. at Large, 348.)

Military Bounty Land Warrants Receivable in Payment for Any Lands Entered Under the Desert Land Law, the Timber Culture Law, and the Timber and Stone Law.—In addition to the benefits now given thereto by law, all unsatisfied military bounty land warrants under any act of Congress, and unsatisfied indemnity certificates of location under the act of Congress approved June 2, 1858, whether heretofore or hereafter issued, shall be receivable at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre in payment or part payment for any lands entered under the desert land law of March 3, 188[70]7, entitled "An act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain States and Territories," and the amendments thereto, the timber culture act of March 3, 1873, entitled "An act to encourage the growth of timber on the Western prairies," and the amendments thereto; the timber and stone law of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nebraska, and Washington Territory," and the amendments thereto, or for lands which may be sold at public auction, except such lands as shall have been purchased from any Indian tribe within ten years last past. (27 Stats. at Large, 348.)

Distinction Between Offered and Unoffered Lands Abolished.—In cases arising from and after the passage of this act the distinction now obtaining in the statutes between offered and unoffered lands shall no longer be made in passing upon subsisting pre-emption claims, in disposing of the public lands under the homestead laws, and under the timber and stone law of June 3, 1878, as extended by the act of August 4, 1892, but in all such cases hereafter arising the land in question shall be treated as unoffered, without regard to whether it may have actually been at some time offered or not. (30 Stats. at Large, 418.)

APPLICATION AND SWORN STATEMENT.

[To be made in duplicate.]

United States Land Office,

I,, hereby make application to purchase the quarter of section, in township and range in the State of, and the timber thereon, at such value as may be fixed by appraisement, made under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior, under the act of June 3, 1878, commonly known as the "Timber and stone law," and acts amendatory thereof, and in support of this application, I solemnly swear: That I am a native (or naturalized) citizen of the United States (or have declared my intention to become a citizen); that I am years of age and by occupation; that I did on, 19.., examine said land, and from my personal knowledge state that said land is unfit for cultivation and is valuable chiefly for its timber, and that to my best knowledge and belief, based upon said examination, the land is worth dollars, and the timber thereon, which I estimate to be feet, board measure, is worth dollars, making a total value for the land and timber of dollars and no more; that the land is uninhabited; that it contains no mining or other improvements, nor, as I verily believe, any valuable deposit of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper or coal, or other minerals, salt springs or deposits of salt; that I have made no other application under said acts; that I do not apply to purchase the land above described on speculation, but in good faith to appropriate it to my own exclusive use and benefit; that I have not, directly or indirectly, made any agreement or contract, in any way or manner, with any person or persons whomsoever, by which the title I may acquire from the government of the United States may inure in whole or in part to the benefit of any person except myself; that since August 30, 1890, I have not entered and acquired title to, nor am I now claiming, under an entry made under any of the nonmineral public land laws, an amount of land which, together with the land now applied for, will exceed in the aggregate 320 acres; that I am not a member of any association, or a stockholder in any corporation which has filed an application and sworn statement under said act; and that my postoffice address is, at which place any notice affecting my rights under this application may be sent. I request that notice be furnished me for publication in the newspaper, published at

I hereby certify that the foregoing affidavit was read to or by affiant in my presence before affiant affixed signature thereto; that affiant is to me personally known, or has been satisfactorily identified before me by (give full name and postoffice address); that I verily believe affiant to be a qualified applicant and the identical person hereinbefore described, and that said affidavit was duly subscribed and sworn to before me, at my office in (town), (county and State), within the land district this day of, 19..

(Official designation of officer.)

In case the applicant has been naturalized or has declared his intention to become a citizen, a certified copy of his certificate of naturalization or declaration of intention, as the case may be, must be furnished.

If the residence is in a city, the street and number must be given.

The newspaper designated must be one of general circulation, published nearest the land.

DESIGNATION OF APPRAISER.

 Sir: You are designated to appraise the quarter of section, township, , and range,, which embraces a total of acres. This land has been applied for by, of, under the timber and stone law. If you accept this designation, it will be your duty to personally visit and carefully examine each and every legal subdivision of the land, and the timber thereon, and to make a return through this office of the approximate quantity, quality, and the stumpage cash value of the various kinds of timber, the cash value of the land, and the total value of the land and timber. The total appraisement of the land and timber, however, must not amount to less than two dollars and fifty cents per acre for each acre appraised. Each legal subdivision must be separately appraised, or your return must show specifically that the appraisement applies to each legal subdivision.

Please inform me as soon as possible, and not later than, 19 . . ., whether you will be able to do the work, and also advise me the approximate date the appraisal will be completed.

Very respectfully,

.....
Chief of Field Division, General Land Office.

REGULATIONS UNDER TIMBER AND STONE LAW.

The regulations under the act of June 3, 1878 (20 Stat. 89), and amendatory acts, commonly known as the timber and stone law, are hereby revised, modified, and reissued as follows:

Provision for Appraisement.—Any lands subject to sale under the foregoing acts, may, under the direction of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, upon application or otherwise, be appraised by smallest legal subdivisions, at their reasonable value, but at not less than $2.50 per acre; and hereafter no sales shall be made under said acts except as provided in these regulations.

Character of Lands Subject to Entry.—All unreserved, unappropriated, nonmineral, surveyed, public lands within the public land States, which are valuable chiefly for the timber or stone thereon and unfit for cultivation at the date of sale, may be sold under this act at their appraised value, but in no case at less than $2.50 per acre, in contiguous legal subdivisions upon which there is no existing mining claim, or the improvements of any bona fide settler claiming under the public land laws. The terms used in this statement may be defined substantially as follows for the purpose of construing and applying this law:

2. Unreserved and unappropriated lands are lands which are not included within any military, Indian, or other reservation, or in a national forest, or in a withdrawal by the government for reclamation or other purposes, or which are not covered or embraced in any entry, location, selection, or filing which withdraws them from the public domain.

3. Unoccupied lands are lands belonging to the United States upon which there are no improvements belonging to any person who has initiated and is properly maintaining a valid mining or other claim to such lands under the public land laws. Abandoned and unused mines, shafts, tunnels, or buildings occupied by mere trespassers not seeking title under any law of the United States, do not prevent timber and stone entries if the land is otherwise capable of being so entered.

4. Nonmineral lands are such lands as are not known to contain any substance recognized and classed by standard authorities as mineral, in such quantities and of such qualities as would, with reasonable prospects of success in developing a paying mine thereon, induce a person of ordinary prudence to expend the time and money necessary to such development.

5. Timber is defined as trees of such kind and quantity, regardless of size, as may be used in constructing buildings, irrigation works, railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, tramways, canals, or fences, or in timbering shafts and tunnels or in manufacturing, but does not include trees suitable for fuel only.

6. Lands valuable chiefly for timber, but unfit for cultivation, are lands which are more valuable for timber than they are for cultivation in the condition in which they exist at the date of the application to purchase, and therefore include lands which could be made more valuable for cultivation by cutting and clearing them of timber. The relative values for timber or cultivation must be determined from conditions of the land existing at the date of the application to purchase.

7. Lands in all public land States may be entered, but timber and stone entries cannot be made in the Territories or in the District of Alaska.

8. Entries may be Made by Any Person, Association or Corporation.—One timber and stone entry may be made for not more than 160 acres (a) by any person who is a citizen of the United States, or who has declared his intention to become such citizen, if he is not under twenty-one years of age, and has not already exhausted his right by reason of a former application for an entry of that kind; or has not already acquired title to or is not claiming under the homestead or desert land laws through settlement or entry made since August 30, 1890, any other lands which, with the land he applies for, would aggregate more than 320 acres; or (b) by an association of such persons, or (c) by a corporation, each of whose stockholders is so qualified.

9. A married woman may make entry if the laws of the State in which she applies permit married women to purchase and hold for themselves real estate, but she must make the entry for her own benefit, and not in the interest of her husband or any other person, and she will be required to show that the money she pays for the land was not furnished by her husband.

10. Method of Obtaining Title.—Any qualified person may obtain title under the timber and stone law by performing the following acts: (a) Personally examining the land desired; (b) presenting an application and sworn statement, accompanied by a filing of $10; (c) depositing with the receiver the appraised price of the land; (d) publishing notice of his application and proof; (e) making final proof.

11. Examination of the land must be made by the applicant in person not more than thirty days before the date of his application, in order that he may knowingly swear to its character and condition.

12. Application and Sworn Statement—Deposit.—The application and sworn statement must contain the applicant's estimate of the timber, based on examination, and his valuation of the land and the timber thereon, by separate items. It must be executed in duplicate, after having been read to or by the applicant, in the presence of the officer administering the oath, and sworn to by him before such officer, who may be either the register or the receiver of the land district in which the land is located, a United States commissioner, a judge or a clerk of a court of record in the county or parish in which the land is situated, or one of these officers outside of that county or parish if he is nearer and more accessible to the land than any other qualified officer, and has his office or place of business within the land district in which the land is located. Each applicant must at the time he presents his application and sworn statement, deposit with the receiver, either in cash or in postoffice money orders payable to the receiver, a filing fee of $10.

13. Applications by Associations or Corporations.—Applications by associations or corporations must, in addition to the facts recited in the foregoing statement, show that each person forming the association or holding stock in the corporation is qualified to make entry in his own right and that he is not a member of any other association or a stockholder in any other corporation which has filed an application or sworn statement for other lands under the timber and stone laws.

14. Disposition of Application.—After application and deposit have been filed in proper form, as required by these regulations, the register and receiver will at once forward one copy of the application to the chief of field division having jurisdiction of the land described, who, if he finds legal objection to the allowance of the application, will return it to them with report thereon. The register and receiver will, if they concur in an adverse recommendation of the chief of field division, dismiss or deny the application, subject to the applicant's right of appeal; but if they disagree with his recommendation, they will forward the record to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, with their report and opinion thereon, for such action as he may deem advisable.

Lands to be Appraised.—If the chief of field division finds no such legal objection to the application, he shall cause the lands applied for to be appraised by an officer or employee of the government.

15. Appraisement—Method.—The officer or employee designated to make the appraisement must personally visit the lands to be appraised, and thoroughly examine every legal subdivision thereof, and the timber thereon, and appraise separately the several kinds of timber at their stumpage value, and the land independent of the timber at its value at the time of appraisement, but the total appraisement of both land and timber must not be less than $2.50 per acre. He must, in making his report, consider the quantity, quality, accessibility, and any other elements of the value of the land and the timber thereon. The appraisement must be made by smallest legal subdivisions, or the report must show that the valuation of the land and the estimate of the timber apply to each and every subdivision appraised.

16. Appraisement—Manner of Return—Approval.—The completed appraisement must be mailed or delivered personally to the chief of field division under whose supervision it was made, and not to the applicant. Each appraisement upon which an entry is to be allowed must be approved respectively or conjointly as provided in these regulations, by the chief of field division under whose supervision it was made, by the register and receiver who allow the entry, or by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

17. Appraisement—Disagreement Between Appraising and Approving Officers—How Determined.—The chief of field division will return to the appraiser, with his objections, an appraisement which he deems materially low or high, and the appraiser shall, within twenty days from the receipt thereof, resubmit the papers, with such modifications or explanations as he may deem advisable or proper, upon receipt of which the chief of field division will either approve the schedule as then submitted, or forward the papers to the register and receiver, with his memorandum of objection. The register and receiver will thereupon consider the case. If they approve the appraisement, they will sign the certificate appended thereto, and advise the chief of field division thereof. If the register and receiver approve the objection of the chief of field division, they will so indicate, and if the appraising officer is an employee of the Interior Department, under the subdivision of the chief of field division, they will return the papers to the chief of field division, who will thereupon order a new appraisement by a different officer. If, however, the register and receiver approve the objection of the chief of field division, when the appraiser is an officer of another bureau of this department, or of another department, they will forward the record of the case to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, who will then determine the controversy.

18. Appraisement—Notation and Effect Thereof.—When the appraisement is completed, the register and receiver will note the price on their records, and thereafter the land will be sold at such price only, under the provisions of the timber and stone acts, unless the land shall have been reappraised in the manner provided herein.

19. Failure to Appraise—Rights of Applicant—How Terminated.—Unless the land department, as hereinbefore provided, or otherwise, as directed by the Secretary of the Interior, shall appraise any lands applied for under these regulations within nine months from the date of such application, the applicant may, without notice, within thirty days thereafter, deposit the amount, not less than $2.50 per acre, specified in his application as the reasonable value of the land and the timber thereon, with the receiver, if appraisement has not been filed prior to such deposit, and thereupon will be allowed to proceed with his application to purchase as though the appraisement had been regularly made. The failure of the applicant to make the required deposit within thirty days after the expiration of the nine months' appraisement period will terminate his rights without notice.

20. Notice of Appraisement—Payment or Protest.—The register and receiver, after noting the appraised price on their records, will immediately inform the applicant that he must, within thirty days from service of notice, deposit with the receiver, either in lawful money or in postoffice money orders payable to the receiver, or as provided in section 36 hereof, the appraised price of the land and the timber thereon, or within the time allowed for payment file his protest against the appraisement, deposit with the receiver a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of a reappraisement (which sum, not less than $100, must be fixed by the register and receiver and specified in the notice to the applicant) together with his application for reappraisement at his own expense.

Notice should be given by registered letter and the envelope should be marked for return if not delivered within thirty days. If notice be returned after being held in the postoffice for thirty days, such proceedings will constitute constructive notice for thirty days.

21. Objection to Appraisement—Application for Reappraisement.—Any applicant filing his protest against an appraisement, and his application for reappraisement, must support it by his affidavit, corroborated by two competent, credible, and disinterested persons, in which he must set forth specifically his objections to the appraisement. He must indicate his consent that the amount deposited by him for the reappraisement, or such part thereof as is necessary, may be expended therefor, without any claim on his part for a refund or return of the money thus expended.

22. Reappraisement.—Upon the receipt of a protest against appraisement and application for reappraisement conforming to the regulations herein, the register and receiver will transmit such protest and application to the chief of field division, who will cause the reappraisement to be made by some officer other than the one making the original appraisement. The procedure provided herein for appraisement will be followed for reappraisement, except the latter, if differing from the former, must, to give it effect, be approved both by the chief of field division and the register and receiver, or, in case of disagreement between them, by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

23. Notice of Appraisement.—When a reappraisement is finally effected, the register and receiver will note the reappraised price on their records, and at once notify the applicant that he must, within thirty days from the date of notice, deposit with the receiver the amount fixed by such reappraisement for the sale of the land, or thereafter, and without notice, forfeit all rights under his application.

24. Cost of Making Reappraisement.—The officer or employee of the United States making the reappraisement shall be paid from the amount deposited with the receiver by the applicant therefor, the salary, per diem, and other expenses to which he would have been entitled from the government, in the case of an original appraisement, for his services for the time he was engaged in making and returning the reappraisement. The receiver will, out of the money deposited by the applicant, pay such compensation including reasonable expenses for subsistence, transportation, and necessary assistants; and the officer will deduct from his expense account with the government the amount which he has received from the receiver for such services. The receiver will return to the applicant the amount, if any, remaining on deposit with him after paying the expenses of said reappraisement.

25. Final Proof.—After the appraisement or reappraisement and deposit of purchase money and fee have been made the register will fix a time and place for the offering of final proof, and name the officer before whom it shall be offered and post a notice thereof in the land office and deliver a copy of the notice to the applicant, to be by him and at his expense published in the newspaper of accredited standing and general circulation published nearest the land applied for. This notice must be continuously published in the paper for sixty days prior to the date named therein as the day upon which final proof must be offered.

26. Time, Place, and Method of Making Final Proof.—Final proof should be made at the time and place mentioned in the notice, and, as a part thereof, evidence of publication, as required by the previous paragraph, should also be filed. If final proof is not made on that day or within ten days thereafter, the applicant may lose his right to complete entry of the land. Upon satisfactory showing, however, explaining the cause of his failure to make the proof as above required, and in the absence of adverse claim, the Commissioner of the General Land Office may authorize him to readvertise and complete entry under his previous application.

27. Final Entry.—After an appraisement or reappraisement has been approved, the payments made, and satisfactory proof submitted in any case as required by these regulations, the register and receiver will, if no protest or contest is pending, allow a final entry.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

28. Contests and Protests.—Protest may be filed at any time before an entry is allowed, and contest may be filed at any time before patent issues, by any person who will furnish the register and receiver with a corroborated affidavit alleging facts sufficient to cause the cancellation of the entry, and will pay the cost of contest.

29. False Swearing—Forfeiture.—If an applicant swear falsely in his application or sworn statement, he will be liable to indictment and punishment for perjury; and if he be guilty of false swearing or attempted fraud in connection with his efforts to obtain title, or if he fail to perform any act or make any payment or proof in the manner and within the time specified in the foregoing regulations, his application and entry will be disallowed and all moneys paid by him will be forfeited to the Government, and his rights under the timber and stone acts will be exhausted

30. Effect of Application to Purchase.—After an application has been presented hereunder no other person will be permitted to file on the land embraced therein under any public land law until such application shall have been finally disposed of adverse to the applicant.

31. Lands appraised or reappraised hereunder, but not sold, may, upon the final disallowance of the application, be entered by any qualified person, under the provisions of the timber and stone laws, at its appraised or reappraised value, if subject thereto.

32. Lands applied for but not appraised and not entered under these regulations may, when the rights of the applicant are finally terminated, be disposed of as though such application had not been filed.

33. Any lands which have not been reappraised may be reappraised upon the request of an applicant therefor under these regulations who complies with the requirements of section 21 hereof.

34. An applicant securing a reappraisement under these Regulations shall acquire thereby no right or privilege except that of purchasing the lands at their reappraised value, if he is qualified, and if the lands are subject to sale under his application; and he must otherwise comply with these Regulations, but shall not, in any event, be entitled to the return of any money deposited by him and expended in such reappraisement.

35. The Commissioner of the General Land Office may at any time direct the reappraisement of any tract or tracts of public lands, when, in his opinion, the conditions warrant such action.

36. Unsatisfied military bounty land warrants under any act of Congress and unsatisfied indemnity certificates of location under the act of Congress approved June 2, 1858, properly assigned to the applicant, shall be receivable as cash in payment or part payment for lands purchased hereunder at the rate of $1.25 per acre.

37. Any application to purchase timber and stone lands filed before January 1, 1909, which does not conform to these regulations shall be suspended, and the register and receiver should at once notify the applicant that he may, if he so elect, file a new application conformable to these regulations within thirty days from the date of the notice, and that failure to file such new application within the time specified will work a forfeiture of all rights under his suspended application, which will thereupon stand rejected without further notice.

38. Regulations, When Effective.—These regulations shall be effective on and after December 1, 1908, but all applications to purchase legally pending on November 30, 1908, may be completed by compliance with the regulations in force at the time such applications were filed.

39. The forms mentioned herein and included in the appendix hereto shall be a part of these regulations.

40. Entry of Stone Lands.—The foregoing regulations apply to entries of lands chiefly valuable for stone, and the forms herein prescribed can be modified in such manner as may be necessary to the making of entries of stone lands.

41. Former Regulations Revoked.—All former regulations, decisions, and practices in conflict with these regulations are hereby revoked.

STATEMENT BY APPRAISER.

I have carefully examined each and every legal subdivision of the quarter of section, township, range, and the timber thereon, and the estimates included in the above table and the foregoing statement were based on personal examination. I did not find any indication that the land or any part thereof contains any valuable mineral or coal deposits, and found no improvements or other evidence that any claim is being asserted under any of the public land laws. I recommend that the application to purchase receive favorable action.

Appraiser.

ACTION ON APPRAISEMENT.

I have carefully examined the within appraisal and find no reason to believe that it is improperly made.

It is therefore, accordingly, approved.

Chief of Field Division.

NOTICE TO APPLICANT OF APPRAISEMENT.

United States Land Office,
.....

Sir: You are informed that the land, and the timber thereon, embraced in your timber and stone application No., filed, 19.., have been appraised in the total sum of dollars.

You are therefore notified that your application for said lands will be dismissed without further notice, if you do not, within thirty days from service of this notice, deposit the appraised price of the land with the receiver of this office, or file your written protest against such appraisement, setting forth clearly and specifically your objection thereto, which protest must be sworn to by you, and corroborated by two competent, credible, and disinterested persons. The protest, if filed, must be accompanied by your application requesting that the land be appraised at your expense, and you must deposit with the receiver the sum of dollars, to be expended therefor, and you must indicate your consent that the amount so deposited may be expended for the reappraisement, without any claim on your part that any portion thereof, so expended, shall be returned or refunded to you.

If a reappraisement is made under your application, you will secure no right or privilege, except that of purchasing the lands at their reappraised value, if they are subject to sale and you are properly qualified.

Very respectfully,
.....,
Register.
.....,

REAPPRAISEMENT.

Form C may be modified so as to show that the action taken is a reappraisement instead of an original appraisement. The return of the appraising officer and indorsements by the chief of field division and the register and receiver must show that the action taken is a reappraisement, and it must be approved conjointly by the chief of field division and the register and receiver.

NOTICE OF REAPPRAISEMENT.

United States Land Office.

Sir: You are advised that, pursuant to your application, the quarter of section, township, and range, and the timber thereon, embraced in your timber and stone sworn statement, No, have been reappraised, and the price fixed at dollars, which amount you must deposit with the receiver of this office within thirty days from service of notice hereof, or your application will be finally disallowed without further notice.

Very respectfully,

.....,
Register.

TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES.

I,, (give full Christian name), being duly called as a witness in support of the application of, (give full Christian name), filed at the land office, to purchase the section, township, range, meridian, testify as follows:

Question 1. What is your age, occupation, postoffice address, and where do you live?

Answer.

Question 2. By whom were you employed during the last six months?

Answer.

Question 3. Are you acquainted with the land above described by a personal examination of each of its smallest legal subdivisions? Describe the tract fully.

Answer.

Question 4. When, with whom, and in what manner was such examination made?

Answer.

Question 5. Is it occupied or are there any improvements on it not made for ditch or canal purposes, or which were not made by, or do not belong to, the said applicant?

Answer.

Question 6. Is it fit for cultivation?

Answer.

Question 7. What causes render it unfit for cultivation?

Answer.

Question 8. Are there any salines or indications of deposits of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, coal, or other minerals on this land? If so, state what they are.

Answer.

Question 9. Is the land valuable for mineral, or more valuable for any other purposes than for the timber or stone thereon, or is it chiefly valuable for timber or stone? (Answer each question.)

Answer.

Question 10. From what facts do you conclude that the land is chiefly valuable for timber or stone?

Answer.

Question 11. How long have you known the applicant?

Answer.

Question 12. What is his financial condition so far as you know?

Answer.

Question 13. Do you know of your own knowledge that applicant has sufficient money of his own to pay for this land and hold it six months without mortgaging it?

Answer.

Question 14. Do you know whether the applicant has, directly or indirectly, made any agreement or contract, in any way or manner, with any person whomsoever by which the title he may acquire from the government of the United States may inure in whole or in part to the benefit of any person except himself?

Answer.

Question 15. Are you in any way interested in this application or in the land above described, or the timber or stone, salines, mines, or improvements of any description thereon?

Answer.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ENTRIES AND PROOFS UNDER THE DESERT-LAND LAWS.

Laws Governing Desert-land Entries.—1. The laws, or portions of laws governing the making of desert-land entries, assignments thereof, and the proofs required, will be found printed in full herein, and are as follows: Act of March 3, 1877; March 3, 1891; August 30, 1891; June 27, 1906; March 26, 1908; March 28, 1908; March 4, 1904, amending section 2294, Revised Statutes of the United States; June 22, 1910; March 3, 1909; June 25, 1910; February 3, 1911.

States and Territories in Which Desert-land Entries may be Made.—2. The act of March 3, 1877, provided for the making of desert-land entries in the States and Territories of California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Arizona, and New Mexico. The act of March 3, 1891, extended the provisions of the desert-land laws to Colorado.

Lands That may be Entered as Desert Land.—3. Lands which, by reason of a lack of rainfall, or of sufficient dampness in the soil, will not produce native grasses sufficient in quantity, if unfed by grazing animals, to make an ordinary crop of hay in usual seasons, nor produce an agricultural crop of any kind in amount to make the cultivation thereof reasonably remunerative, and do not contain sufficient moisture to produce a natural growth of trees may be classed as desert in character and, if surveyed and unappropriated, may be entered under the desert-land law.

Unusual Rainfall.—Lands situated within a notoriously arid or desert region, and themselves previously desert within the meaning of the desert-land law, do not necessarily lose their character as desert lands merely because on account of unusual rainfall for a few successive seasons their productiveness was increased and larger crops were raised thereon; and, under such circumstances, a strong preponderance of evidence will be required to take them out of the class of desert lands. The final proof, however, of one who makes desert entry of such lands will be closely scrutinized as to the sufficiency of his water supply and the adequacy of his ditches and laterals.

Lands Which Border upon Bodies of Water.—While lands which border upon streams, lakes, and other bodies of water, or through or upon which there is any stream, body of water, or living spring, may not produce agricultural crops without irrigation, such lands are not subject to entry under the desert-land laws until the clearest proof of their desert character is furnished.

Who may Make a Desert-land Entry.—4. Any citizen of the United States, twenty-one years of age, or any person of that age who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and who can make the affidavit specified in paragraphs 8 and 9 of these regulations, can make a desert-land entry. Thus, a woman, whether married or single, who possesses the necessary qualifications, can make a desert-land entry, and, if married, without taking into consideration any entries her husband may have made.

Entrymen of Alien Birth.—At the time of making final proof, however, entymen of alien birth must have been admitted to full citizenship, which must be shown by a duly certified copy of the certificate of naturalization.

Quantity of Land That may be Entered.—5. Under the act of March 3, 1877, desert-land entries to the maximum of 640 acres were allowed, but by the act of March 3, 1891, the area that may be embraced in a desert entry was reduced to 320 acres as the maximum. This limitation must, however, be read in connection with the act of August 30, 1890, which limits to 320 acres, in the aggregate, the amount of land to which title may be acquired under all the public land laws, except the mineral laws. Hence, a person having initiated a claim under the homestead, timber and stone, pre-emption, or other agricultural land laws, or under all such laws, since August 30, 1890, say, to 160 acres in the aggregate, and acquired title to the land so claimed, or who is claiming such an area under subsisting entries at the date of his desert-land application, if otherwise qualified, may enter 160 acres of land under the desert-land laws. In other words, he may make a desert-land entry for such a quantity of land as, taken together with land acquired by him under the agricultural land laws, since August 30, 1890, and claimed by him under such laws, does not exceed 320 acres in the aggregate. It is to be noted, also, that the act of June 22, 1910, provides that desert-land entries made for lands withdrawn or classified as coal lands, or valuable for coal, shall not exceed 160 acres in area.

Right of Entry Exhausted How.—A person's right of entry under the desert-land law is exhausted either by making an entry or by taking an assignment of an entry, in whole or in part, whether the maximum quantity of land, or less, is entered or received by assignment; except, however, that under the act of March 26, 1908, if a person, prior to the passage of that act, has made an entry and has abandoned, lost, or forfeited the same, or has relinquished without receiving a valuable consideration therefor, such person may make a second entry. In such cases, however, it must be shown when the former entry was abandoned, lost, or forfeited, that it was not assigned, in whole or in part, canceled for fraud, or relinquished for a valuable consideration, and it must be so described by section, township, and range, or by date and number, as to be readily identified on the records of the General Land Office. The showing required must be by affidavit of applicant wherein the facts upon which is based his claim of right to make a second desert-land entry are set forth fully and in detail. This affidavit must be corroborated, as far as possible, by the affidavit of one or more persons having personal knowledge of the facts stated by applicant. Registers and receivers are authorized to allow a second desert-land entry in any case wherein it is shown that applicant is entitled to make such entry under the provisions of said act of March 26, 1908. Otherwise the application will be noted on the district office records and forwarded to the General Land Office with appropriate recommendation.

Land must be in Compact Form.—6. Land entered under these laws should be in compact form, which means that it should be as nearly a square form as possible. Where, however, it is impracticable on account of the previous appropriation of adjoining lands, or on account of the topography of the country, to take the land in a compact form, all the facts regarding the situation, location, and character of the land sought to be entered, and the surrounding tracts, should be stated, in order that the General Land Office may determine whether, under all the circumstances, the entry should be allowed in the form sought. Entry-men should make a complete showing in this regard, and should state the facts and not the conclusions they derive from the facts, as it is the province of the Land Department of the Government to determine whether or not, from the facts stated, the entry should be allowed.

How Preference Right may be Acquired on Unsurveyed Land.—7. Prior to the act of March 28, 1908, a desert-land entry could embrace unsurveyed lands, but since the date of that act desert-land entries may not be made of unsurveyed lands. This act provides, however, that if a duly qualified person shall go upon a tract of unsurveyed desert land and reclaim, or commence to reclaim, the same, he shall be allowed a preference right of ninety days after the filing of the plat of survey in the local land office to make entry of the land. To preserve this preference right the work of reclamation must be continued up to the filing of the plat of survey, unless the reclamation of the land is completed before that time, and in that event the claimant must continue to cultivate and occupy the land until the survey is completed and the plat filed. A mere perfunctory occupation of the land, such as staking off the claim, or posting notices thereof on the land claimed, would not secure the preference right as against an adverse claimant, but occupation in entire good faith, accompanied by acts and works looking to the ultimate reclamation of the land, are necessary and required.

How to Proceed to Make a Desert-land Entry.—8. A person who desires to make entry under the desert-land laws must file with the register and receiver of the proper land office a declaration, or application, under oath, showing that he is a citizen of the United States, or has declared his intention to become such citizen; that he is twenty-one years of age or over; and that he is also a bona fide resident of the State or Territory in which the land sought to be entered is located. He must also state that he has not previously exercised the right of entry under the desert-land laws by making an entry or by having taken one by assignment; that he has personally examined every legal subdivision of the land sought to be entered; that he has not, since August 30, 1890, acquired title, under any of the agricultural land laws, to lands which, together with the land applied for, will exceed, in the aggregate, 320 acres; and that he intends to reclaim the lands applied for, by conducting water thereon, within four years from the date of his application. This declaration must contain a description of the land, by legal subdivisions, section, township, and range.

Terms of Application.—9. Special attention is called to the terms of this application, as they require a personal knowledge by the entryman of the lands intended to be entered. The affidavit, which is made a part of the application, may not be made by an agent or upon information and belief, and the register and receiver must reject all applications in which it is not made to appear that the statements contained therein are made upon the applicant's own knowledge, and that it was obtained from a personal examination of the lands. The blank spaces in the application must be filled in with a complete statement of the facts, showing the applicant's acquaintance with the land and how he knows it to be desert land. This declaration must be corroborated by the affidavits of two reputable witnesses, who also must be personally acquainted with the land, and they must state the facts regarding the condition and situation of the land upon which they base the opinion that it is subject to desert entry.

Entry of Lands Reclaimed Before Survey.—The statements in the blank form of declaration and accompanying affidavits, as to present character of the land, may be modified so as to show the facts, in any case wherein application is made for entry of lands reclaimed, or partially reclaimed, by applicant, before survey, under the provisions of the act of March 28, 1908; as to a former entry, in case application is made for a second entry under the provisions of the act of March 26, 1908, and as to the character of the land with respect to coal deposits in case application is made, under the provisions of the act of June 22, 1910, for lands withdrawn or classified as coal lands, or valuable for coal.

Residence, Occupation, and Postoffice Address.—10. Applicants and witnesses must in all cases state their places of actual residence, their business or occupation, and their postoffice addresses. It is not sufficient to name only the county or State in which a person lives, but the town or city must be named, also, and where the residence is in a city, the street and number must be given. It is especially important to claimants that upon changing their postoffice addresses they promptly notify the local officers of such change, for upon failure to do so their entries may be canceled upon notice sent to the address of record, but not received by claimant. The register and receiver will be careful to note the postoffice address on their records.

Proofs, Affidavits and Oaths.—11. The application and corroborating affidavits, and all other proofs, affidavits, and oaths of any kind whatsoever, required by law to be made by applicants and entrymen and their corroborating witnesses, must be sworn to before the register or receiver of the land district in which the land is located, or before a United States commissioner, if the lands are within the boundaries of a State, or a commissioner of a court exercising federal jurisdiction, if in a Territory, or before a judge or clerk of a court of record, in the county, or land district, in which the land is situated. The only conditions permitting the taking of such evidence outside the proper land district is where the county in which the land is situated lies partly in two or more land districts, in which case such evidence may be taken anywhere in the county. In case the application and affidavits are not made before either of the local officers, or in the county in which the land is located, they must be made before some of the officers above named, in the land district nearest to, or most accessible from, the land, which latter fact must be shown by affidavit of applicant. The declaration of applicant and the affidavits of his two witnesses must, in every instance, be made at the same time and place and before the same officer.

Water Right.—12. Persons who make desert-land entries, must acquire a clear right to the use of sufficient water to irrigate and reclaim the whole of the land entered, or as much of it as is susceptible of irrigation, and of keeping it permanently irrigated. Therefore, if a person makes an entry before he has taken steps to acquire water right, he does so at his own risk, because, ordinarily, one entry will exhaust his right and he will not be repaid the money paid at the time of making the entry.

Map and Payment.—13. At the time of filing his application with the register and receiver the applicant should also file a map, showing the plan by which he proposes to conduct water upon the land and the manner by which he intends to irrigate the same, and at the same time he must pay the receiver the sum of twenty-five cents per acre for the land applied for. The receiver will issue a receipt for the money, and the register and receiver will jointly issue a certificate showing the allowance of the entry. This application will be given its proper serial number at the time it is filed, and at the end of each month an abstract of collections under these laws will be transmitted to the General Land Office.

Assignments.—14. While by the act of March 3, 1891, assignments of desert-land entries were recognized, the Land Department, largely for administrative purposes, held that a desert-land entry might be assigned as a whole, or in its entirety, but refused to recognize the assignment of only a portion of an entry. The act of March 28, 1908, however, provides for the assignment of such entries, in whole or in part; but this does not mean that less than a legal subdivision may be assigned. Therefore, no assignment, otherwise than by legal subdivisions, will be recognized.

Entry by Assignment Equivalent to Making Entry.—15. The act of March 28, 1908, also provides that no person may take a desert-land entry by assignment, unless he is qualified to enter the tract so assigned to him. Therefore, if a person is not a resident citizen of the State or Territory wherein the land involved is located, or, if he has made a desert-land entry in his own right, he cannot take such an entry by assignment. The language of the act indicates that the taking of an entry by assignment is equivalent to the making of an entry, and this being so, no person is allowed to take more than one entry by assignment. The desert-land right is exhausted either by making an entry or by taking one by assignment.

Practice Prior to March 28, 1908.—However, in view of the practice that obtained in the General Land Office prior to March 28, 1908, of recognizing the right of a person to make an entry, and also to take one or more entries by assignment, the aggregate area of the land embraced in all such entries not exceeding 320 acres, such entries and assignments so made or taken will not now be disturbed. But all assignments and entries made subsequent to the approval of the act of March 28, 1908, must be governed by the terms of that act, which is held to mean that the desert-land right is exhausted, either by making an entry or by taking one by assignment. Said act provides that no assignment to, or for the benefit of, any corporation or association shall be authorized or recognized.

Evidence of Assignment.—16. As stated above, desert-land entries may be assigned, in whole or in part, and, as evidence of the assignment, there should be transmitted to the General Land Office the original deed of assignment, or a certified copy thereof. Where the deed of assignment is recorded, a certified copy may be made by the officer who has custody of the record. Where the original deed is presented to an officer qualified to take proof in desert-land cases, a copy certified by such officer will be accepted. Attention is called to the fact that copies of deeds of assignment certified by notaries public or justices of the peace, or, indeed, any other officers than those who are qualified to take proofs and affidavits of desert-land cases, will not be accepted.

Affidavit.—An assignee must file, with his deed of assignment, an affidavit showing his qualifications to take the entry assigned to him. He must show what entries have been made by, or assigned to, him under the agricultural laws, and he must also show his qualifications as a citizen of the United States, that he is twenty-one years of age or over, and also that he is a resident citizen of the State or Territory in which the land assigned to him is situated. In short, the assignee must possess the qualifications necessary to enter the land proposed to be assigned were it subject to entry.

No Assignable Right Prior to Payment.—Desert-land entries are initiated by the payment of twenty-five cents per acre, and no assignable right is acquired by the applicant prior to such payment. An assignment made on the day of such payment, or soon thereafter, is treated as suggesting fraud, and such cases will be carefully scrutinized. The provision of law authorizing the assignments of desert entries, in whole or in part, furnishes no authority to a claimant under said law to make an executory contract to convey the land after the issuance of patent, and to thereafter proceed with the submission of final proof in furtherance of such contract.

Sale Before Final Payment.—The sale of the land embraced in an entry at any time before final payment is made must be regarded as an assignment of the entry, and in such cases, the person buying the land must show that he possesses all the qualifications required of an assignee.

Assignment Papers.—The assignor of a desert-land entry may execute the assignment papers wherever he may be before any officer authorized to take acknowledgments, but the assignee must execute the affidavit, and all other required oaths and affidavits, before some one of the officers specified and in the manner set out in paragraph 11 of this circular.

Assignments Conclusive When Recognized.—No assignments of desert-land entries or parts of entries are conclusive until examined in the General Land Office and found satisfactory and the assignment recognized. When recognized, however, the assignee takes the place of the assignor as effectually as though he had made the entry, and is subject to any requirement that may be made relative thereto. The assignment of a desert-land entry to one disqualified to acquire title under the desert-land law, and to whom, therefore, recognition of the assignment is refused by the General Land Office, does not of itself render the entry fraudulent, but leaves the right thereto in the assignor.

Annual Proof.—17. In order to test the sincerity and good faith of the claimant under the desert-land laws, and to prevent the reservation or segregation of tracts of public land in the interest of persons having no intention of reclaiming the land, but rather, by payment of the initial sum of twenty-five cents per acre, hoping to gain the use of the land for a number of years, Congress in the act of March 3, 1891, made the requirement that a map be filed at the initiation of the entry, showing the mode of contemplated irrigation and the proposed source of the water supply, and that there be extended yearly for three years from the date of the entry not less than one dollar for each acre of the tract entered, making a total of not less than three dollars per acre, in the necessary irrigation, reclamation, and cultivation of the land, in permanent improvements thereon, and in the purchase of water rights for the irrigation thereof, and that at the expiration of the third year a map or plan be filed showing the character and extent of the improvements placed on the claim. The said act, however, authorizes the submission of final proof at an earlier date than four years from the time the entry is made in cases wherein reclamation has been effected and expenditures of not less than three dollars per acre have been made. Proof of these expenditures must be made before some officer authorized to administer oaths in desert-land cases. This proof, which is known as yearly or annual proof, must be made by applicant, whose affidavit must be corroborated by affidavits of two reputable witnesses, all of whom must have personal knowledge that the expenditures were made for the purpose stated in the proof.

Expenditures Accepted.—18. Expenditures for the construction and maintenance of storage reservoirs, dams, canals, ditches, and laterals to be used by claimant for irrigating his land, for roads where they are necessary, for erecting stables, corrals, etc., for digging wells, where the water therefrom is to be used for irrigating the land, and for leveling and bordering land proposed to be irrigated will be accepted. Expenditures for fencing all or a portion of the claim may be accepted, in case it is clearly shown that the fence is necessary for the protection of a portion of the land being prepared for irrigation and cultivation or for the protection of canals, ditches, etc., thereon. Expenditures for surveying, for the purpose of ascertaining the levels for canals, ditches, etc., and for the first breaking or clearing of the soil may be accepted.

Expenditures not Accepted.—Expenditures for cultivation after the soil has been first prepared may not be accepted, because the claimant is supposed to be compensated for such work by the crops to be reaped as a result of cultivation. Expenditures for surveying the claim in order to locate the corners of same may not be accepted. The cost of tools, implements, wagons, and repairs to same, used in construction work may not be computed in the cost of construction. Expenditures for material of any kind will not be allowed unless such material has actually been installed or employed in and for the purpose for which it was purchased. For instance, if credit is asked for posts and wire for fences or for a pump or other well machinery, it must be shown that the fence has been actually constructed or the well machinery actually put in place. Annual proofs must contain itemized statements showing the manner in which expenditures were made.

Expenditure for Interest in Irrigating Company.—No expenditure for stock or interest in an irrigating company, through which water is to be secured for irrigating the land, will be accepted as satisfactory annual expenditure until a special agent, or other authorized officer, has submitted a report as to the resources and reliability of the company, including its actual water right, and such report has been favorably acted upon by the department. The stock purchased must carry the right to water, and it must be shown that payment in cash has been made at least to the extent of the amount required in connection with the annual proof submitted, and such stock must be actually owned by the claimants at the time of the submission of final proof. A certificate of the secretary, or other qualified officer of the company involved, must be furnished, showing the extent of actual water appropriation by the company, to what extent water had been previously disposed of, quantity of water carried under the stock or interest purchased by the desert claimant, and a statement showing the previous ownership of the shares of stock forming the basis of proffered proof, and a description of the land in connection with which such stock has been previously issued or used. Circumstances in connection with stock which has been previously made the basis of proof or annual expenditure will be carefully scrutinized and inquired into.

Suspended Proofs.—Registers and receivers are instructed to carefully examine all annual proofs filed and are authorized to suspend same, with notice to claimants to cure defects within thirty days, or to reject, subject to the usual right of appeal to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. These proofs are to be forwarded with the regular monthly returns.

Notice to Submit Proof.—At the end of each year, if the required proof of actual expenditures has not been made, the register and receiver will send the entryman notice and allow him sixty days in which to submit such proof. If the proof is not furnished as required, the fact that notice was served upon the claimant should be reported to the General Land Office, with evidence of service, whereupon the entry will be canceled. Registers and receivers should keep on hand a sufficient supply of blank forms used in notifying the entrymen that annual proofs are due, and they should send such notices whenever necessary, without waiting for instructions from the General Land Office.

Proof may be Submitted as Soon as Expenditures Made.—19. Nothing in the statutes or regulations should be construed to mean that the entryman must wait until the end of the year to submit his annual proof, because the proof may be properly submitted as soon as the expenditures have been made. Proof sufficient for the three years may be offered whenever the amount of three dollars an acre has been expended in reclaiming and improving the land, and thereafter annual proof will not be required.

Final Proof.—20. The entryman, his assigns, or, in case of death, his heirs or devisees, are allowed four years from date of the entry within which to comply with the requirements of the law as to reclamation and cultivation of the land and to submit final proof, but final proof may be made and patent thereon issued as soon as there has been expended the sum of three dollars per acre in improving, reclaiming, and irrigating the land, and one-eighth of the entire area entered has been actually cultivated with irrigation, and when the requirements of the desert-land laws as to water rights and the construction of the necessary reservoirs, ditches, dams, etc., have been fully complied with. The cultivation and irrigation of the one-eighth of the entire area may be had in a body on one legal subdivision or may be distributed over several subdivisions. When an entryman has reclaimed the land and is ready to make final proof, he should apply to the register and receiver for a notice of intention to make such proof. This notice must contain a complete description of the land and must describe the entry by giving the number thereof and the name of the entryman. If the proof is made by an assignee, his name, as well as that of the original entryman, should be stated. It must also show when, where, and before whom the proof is to be made. Four witnesses may be named in this notice, two of whom must be used in making the proof.

Notice.—21. This notice must be published once a week for five successive weeks in a newspaper of established character and general circulation published nearest the land, and it must also be posted in a conspicuous place in the local land office for the same period of time.

The date fixed for the taking of the proof must be at least thirty days after the date of first publication. Proof of publication must be made by the affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper or by some one authorized to act for him. The register will certify to the posting of the notice in the local office.

Making Proof.—22. At the time and place mentioned in the notice, and before the officer named therein, the claimant will appear with two of the witnesses named in the notice and make proof of the reclamation, cultivation, and improvement of the land. This proof may be taken by any one of the officers named in paragraph 11 hereof. All claimants, however, are advised that, whenever possible, they should make proof before the register or receiver, because by doing so, they may, in many instances, avoid such delay as results from the practice whereby proofs submitted before officers other than the register or receiver are frequently suspended for investigation by a special agent.

Testimony.—The testimony of each claimant should be taken separate and apart from and not within the hearing of either of his witnesses, and the testimony of each witness should be taken separate and apart from and not within the hearing of either the applicant or of any other witness, and both the applicant and each of the witnesses should be required to state, in and as a part of the final proof testimony given by them, that they have given such testimony without any actual knowledge of any statement made in the testimony of either of the others. In every instance where, for any reason whatever, final proof is not submitted within the four years prescribed by law, or within the period of an extension granted for submitting such proof, an affidavit should be filed by claimant, with the proof, explaining the cause of delay.

Irrigation, Cultivation, and Water Rights—Reclamation and Improvement.—23. The final proof must show specifically the source and volume of the water supply and how it was acquired and how maintained. The number, length, and carrying capacity of all ditches to and on each of the legal subdivisions must also be shown. The claimant and the witnesses must each state in full all that has been done in the matter of reclamation and improvement of the land, and must answer fully, of their own personal knowledge, all of the questions contained in the final-proof blanks. They must state plainly whether at any time they saw the land effectually irrigated, and the different dates on which they saw the land irrigated should be specifically stated.

One-eighth Portion Irrigated.—24. While it is not required that all of the land shall have been actually irrigated at the time final proof is made, it is necessary that the one-eighth portion which is required to be cultivated shall also have been irrigated in a manner calculated to produce profitable results, considering the character of the land, the climate, and the kind of crops being grown.

Main and Lateral Ditches.—Furthermore, the final proof must clearly show that all of the permanent main and lateral ditches necessary for the irrigation of all the irrigable land in the entry have been constructed so that water can be actually applied to the land as soon as it is ready for cultivation. If there are any high points or any portions of the land, which for any reason it is not practicable to irrigate, the nature, extent, and situation of such areas in each legal subdivision must be fully stated. If less than one-eighth of a smallest legal subdivision is practically susceptible of irrigation from claimant's source of water supply, such subdivision must be relinquished.

Actual Tillage.—25. As a rule, actual tillage of one-eighth of the land must be shown. It is not sufficient to show only that there has been a marked increase in the growth of grass, or that grass sufficient to support stock has been produced on the land, as a result of irrigation. If, however, on account of some peculiar climatic or soil conditions, no crops except grass can be successfully produced, or if actual tillage will destroy or injure the productive quality of the soil, the actual production of a crop of hay, of merchantable value, will be accepted as sufficient compliance with the requirements as to cultivation. In such cases, however, the facts must be stated, and the extent and value of the crop of hay must be shown, and, as before stated, that same was produced as a result of actual irrigation.

Steps Required by Laws of State for Securing Right to Water.—26. The final proof must also show that the claimant has made the preliminary filings and taken such other steps as are required by the laws of the State or Territory in which the land is located, for the purpose of securing a right to the use of a sufficient supply of water to irrigate successfully all of the irrigable land embraced in his entry. It is a well-settled principle of law in all of the States and Territories in which the desert-land acts are operative, that actual application to a beneficial use of water appropriated from public streams measures the extent of the right to the water, and that failure to proceed with reasonable diligence to make such application to beneficial use, within a reasonable time, constitutes an abandonment of the right. The final proof, therefore, must show that the claimant has exercised such diligence as will, if continued, under the operation of this rule, result in his definitely securing a perfect right to the use of sufficient water for the permanent irrigation and reclamation of all of the irrigable land in his entry. To this end, the proof must at least show that water, which is being diverted from its natural course and claimed for the specific purpose of irrigating the lands embraced in claimant's entry, under a legal right acquired by virtue of his own or his grantor's compliance with the requirements of the State or territorial laws governing the appropriation by individuals of the waters of public streams or other sources of supply, as shown by the record evidence of such right which accompanies the proof, has actually been conducted through claimant's main ditches to and upon the land; that one-eighth of the land embraced in the entry has been actually irrigated and cultivated and that water has been brought to such a point on the land as to readily demonstrate that the entire irrigable area may be irrigated from the system and that he is prepared to distribute the water so claimed over all of the irrigable land in each smallest legal subdivision in quantity sufficient for practical irrigation as soon as the land shall have been cleared or otherwise prepared for cultivation. The nature of the work necessary to be performed in and for the preparation for cultivation of such part of the land as has not been irrigated should be carefully indicated, and it should be shown that the said work of preparation is being prosecuted with such diligence as will permit of beneficial application of appropriated water within a reasonable time.

Where No Final Adjudication of Water Right can be Secured.—

27. In those States where entrymen have made applications for water rights and have been granted permits, but where no final adjudication of the water right can be secured from the State authorities, owing to delay in the adjudication of the watercourses, or other delay for which the entrymen are in no way responsible, proof that the entrymen have done all that is required of them by the laws of the State, together with proof of actual irrigation of one-eighth of the land embraced in their entries, may be accepted. This modification of the rule that the claimant must furnish evidence of an absolute water right will apply only in those States where, under the local laws, it is absolutely impossible for the entryman to secure final title to his water right within the time allowed him to submit final proof on his entry, and in such cases the best evidence obtainable must be furnished.

Where Final Proof not Made Within Four Years.—28. Where final proof is not made within the period of four years, or within the period for which an extension of time has been granted, the register and receiver should send the claimant a notice, addressed to him at his post-office address of record, informing him that he will be allowed ninety days in which to submit final proof. Should no action be taken within the time allowed, the register and receiver will report that fact, together with evidence of service, to the General Land Office, whereupon the entry will be canceled.

Extension of Time in Submitting Proof Under Certain Conditions.—

29. Under the provisions of the act of March 28, 1908, the period of four years may be extended, in the discretion of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, for an additional period not exceeding three years, if, by reason of some unavoidable delay in the construction of the irrigating works intended to convey water to the land, the entryman is unable to make proof of reclamation and cultivation required within the four years. This does not mean that the period within which proof may be made will be extended as a matter of course for three years. The statute authorizes the Commissioner of the General Land Office to grant the extension, in his discretion, for such a period as he may deem necessary for the completion of the reclamation, not exceeding three years, but such applications for extension will not be granted unless it be clearly shown that the failure to reclaim and cultivate the land within the regular period of four years was due to no fault on the part of the entryman, but to some unavoidable delay in the construction of the irrigation works, for which he was not responsible and could not have readily foreseen. Under no other condition is an extension of time to make final proof authorized, except in cases falling under section 5 of the act of June 27, 1906, pertaining to the entry of land within the limits of reclamation projects.

Application for Extension.—An entryman who desires to make application for extension of time under the provisions of the act of March 28, 1908, should file with the register and receiver an affidavit setting forth fully the facts, showing how and why he has been prevented from making final proof of reclamation and cultivation within the regular period. This affidavit should be executed before one of the officers named in paragraph 11 of this circular and must be corroborated by two witnesses who have personal knowledge of the facts, and the register and receiver, after carefully considering all of the facts, will forward the application to the General Land Office, with appropriate recommendation thereon. Inasmuch as registers and receivers reside in their respective districts, they are presumed to have more or less personal knowledge of the conditions existing therein, and for that reason much weight will be given their recommendations.

Payments—Fees.—30. At the time of making final proof the claimant must pay to the receiver the sum of one dollar per acre for each acre of land upon which proof is made. This, together with the twenty-five cents per acre paid at the time of making the original entry, will amount to one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, which is the price to be paid for all lands entered under the desert-land law, regardless of their location. The receiver will issue a receipt for the money paid, and, if the proof is satisfactory, the register will issue a certificate in duplicate and deliver one copy to the entryman and forward the other copy to the General Land Office at the end of the month during which the certificate was issued.

Final Certificate to Heirs or Devisees.—If the entryman is dead and proof is made by anyone for the heirs, no will being suggested in the record, the final certificate should issue to the heirs generally, without naming them; if by anyone for the heirs or devisees, final certificate should issue, in like manner, to the heirs or devisees.

Final Proof on Entry Prior to Act of March 28, 1908.—When final proof is made on an entry made prior to the act of March 28, 1908, for unsurveyed land, if such proof is satisfactory, the register and receiver will approve the same and forward it to the General Land Office without collecting the final payment of one dollar an acre and without issuing final certificate. Fees for reducing the final proof testimony to writing should be collected and receipt issued therefor, if the proof is taken before the register and receiver. As soon as the land is surveyed they will call upon the entryman to make proof, in the form of an affidavit, duly corroborated, showing the legal subdivisions covered by his entry.

When this has been done the register and receiver will, in the absence of conflict or other objection, correct their records so as to make them describe the land by legal subdivisions, and, if final proof has been made and found satisfactory and no other objections exist, final papers should be issued upon payment of the proper amount.

Fees and Commissions.—31. No fees or commissions are required of persons making entry under the desert-land laws, except such fees as are paid to the officers for taking the affidavits and proofs. The only payments made to the government are the original payment of twenty-five cents an acre at the time of making the application and the final payment of one dollar an acre, to be paid at the time of making final proof. Where final proofs are made before the register or receiver in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, and Montana they will be entitled to receive, jointly, twenty-two and one-half cents for each one hundred words of testimony reduced to writing; in all other States they will be allowed fifteen cents per one hundred words for such service. The United States commissioners, United States court commissioners, judges, and clerks are not entitled to receive a greater sum than twenty-five cents for each oath administered by them, except that they are entitled to receive one dollar for administering the oath to each entryman and each final proof witness where final proof testimony has been reduced to writing by them.

Contests and Relinquishments—Contests.—32. Contests may be initiated against a desert-land entry for illegal inception, abandonment, or failure to comply with the law after entry. Successful contestants will be allowed a preference right of entry for thirty days after notice of the cancellation of the contested entry, in the same manner as in homestead cases, and the register will give the same notice and is entitled to the same fee for notice as in other cases. However, see, in this connection, the act of June 25, 1910.

Relinquishments.—33. A desert-land entry may be relinquished at any time by the party owning the same, and when relinquishments are filed in the local land office the entries will be canceled by the register and receiver in the same manner as in homestead, pre-emption, and other cases, under the first section of the act of May 14, 1880.

Desert-land Entries Within a Reclamation Project.—34. By section 5 of the act of June 27, 1906, it is provided that any desert-land entryman who has been or may be directly or indirectly hindered or prevented from making improvements on or from reclaiming the lands embraced in his entry, by reason of the fact that such lands have been embraced within the exterior limits of any withdrawal under the reclamation act of June 17, 1902, will be excused during the continuance of such hindrance from complying with the provisions of the desert-land laws.

Persons Affected.—35. This act applies only to persons who have been, directly or indirectly, delayed or prevented, by the creation of any reclamation project or by any withdrawal of public lands under the reclamation act, from improving or reclaiming the lands covered by their entries.

Affidavit Showing Right to be Excused.—36. No entryman will be excused under this act from a compliance with all of the requirements of the desert-land law until he has filed in the local land office for the district in which his lands are situated an affidavit showing in detail all of the facts upon which he claims the right to be excused. This affidavit must show when the hindrance began, the nature, character, and extent of the same, and it must be corroborated by two disinterested persons, who can testify from their own personal knowledge.

Engineer's Report.—37. The register and receiver will at once forward the application to the engineer in charge of the reclamation project under which the lands involved are located and request a report and recommendation thereon. Upon the receipt of this report the register and receiver will forward it, together with the applicant's affidavit and their recommendation, to the General Land Office, where it will receive appropriate consideration and be allowed or denied, as the circumstances may justify.

Extension of Time for Making Annual Proof.—38. Inasmuch as entrymen are allowed one year after entry in which to submit the first annual proof of expenditures for the purpose of improving and reclaiming the land entered by them, the privileges of this act are not necessary in connection with annual proofs until the expiration of the years in which such proofs are due. Therefore, if at the time that annual proof is due it cannot be made, on account of hindrance or delay occasioned by a withdrawal of the land for the purpose indicated in the act, the applicant will file his affidavit explaining the delay. As a rule, however, annual proofs may be made, notwithstanding the withdrawal of the land, because expenditures for various kinds of improvements are allowed as satisfactory annual proofs. Therefore an extension of time for making annual proof will not be granted unless it is made clearly to appear that the entryman has been delayed or prevented by the withdrawal from making the required improvements; and, unless he has been so hindered or prevented from making the required improvements, no application for extension of time for making final proof will be granted until after all the yearly proofs have been made.

Final Proof.—39. An entryman will not need to invoke the privileges of this act in connection with final proof until such final proof is due, and if at that time he is unable to make the final proof of reclamation and cultivation as required by law, and such inability is due, directly or indirectly, to the withdrawal of the land on account of a reclamation project, the affidavit explaining the hindrance and delay should be filed in order that the entryman may be excused for such failure.

Time not Computed.—40. When the time for submitting final proof has arrived and the entryman is unable, by reason of the withdrawal of the land, to make such proof, upon proper showing, as indicated herein, he will be excused, and the time during which it is shown that he has been hindered or delayed on account of the withdrawal of the land will not be computed in determining the time within which final proof must be made.

Notice of Abandonment of Project.—41. If after investigation the irrigation project has been or may be abandoned by the government, the time for compliance with the law by the entryman will begin to run from the date of notice of such abandonment of the project and of the restoration to the public domain of the lands which had been withdrawn in connection with the project.

Reclamation Project Carried to Completion.—If, however, the reclamation project is carried to completion by the government and a water supply has been made available for the land embraced in such desert-land entry, the entryman must comply with all the provisions of the act of June 17, 1902, and must relinquish all the land embraced in his entry in excess of 160 acres, and upon making final proof and complying with the terms of payment prescribed in said act of June 17, 1902, he shall be entitled to patent.

Entryman may Proceed Independently.—42. Special attention is called to the fact that nothing contained in the act of June 27, 1906, shall be construed to mean that a desert-land entryman who owns a water right and reclaims the land embraced in his entry must accept the conditions of the reclamation act of June 17, 1902, but he may proceed independently of the government's plan of irrigation and acquire title to the land embraced in his desert-land entry by means of his own system of irrigation.

Entrymen Who Expect to Secure Water from the Government.—43. Desert-land entrymen within exterior boundaries of a reclamation project, who expect to secure water from the government must relinquish all of the lands embraced in their entries in excess of 160 acres whenever they are required to do so through the local land office and must reclaim one-half of the irrigable area covered by their water right in the same manner as private owners of land irrigated under a reclamation project.

Previous Rulings Vacated.—44. All previous rulings and instructions not in harmony herewith are hereby vacated.

STATUTES.

An Act to Provide for the Sale of Desert Lands in Certain States and Territories.

Declaration — Appropriation of Water.—It shall be lawful for any citizen of the United States, or any person of requisite age "who may be entitled to become a citizen, and who has filed his declaration to become such" and upon payment of twenty-five cents per acre—to file a declaration under oath with the register and the receiver of the land district in which any desert land is situated, that he intends to reclaim a tract of desert land not exceeding one half-section, by conducting water upon the same, within the period of four years thereafter: Provided, however, That the right to the use of water by the person so conducting the same, on or to any tract of desert land of six hundred and forty acres shall depend upon bona fide prior appropriation; and such right shall not exceed the amount of water actually appropriated, and necessarily used for the purpose of irrigation and reclamation; and all surplus water over and above such actual appropriation and use, together with the water of all lakes, rivers, and other sources of water supply upon the public lands, and not navigable, shall remain and be held free for the appropriation and use of the public for irrigation, mining, and manufacturing purposes subject to existing rights. Said declaration shall describe particularly said section of land if surveyed, and, if unsurveyed, shall describe the same as nearly as possible without a survey. At any time within the period of three years after filing said declaration, upon making satisfactory proof to the register and receiver of the reclamation of said tract of land in the manner aforesaid, and upon the payment to the receiver of the additional sum of one dollar per acre for a tract of land not exceeding six hundred and forty acres to any one person, a patent for the same shall be issued to him: Provided, That no person shall be permitted to enter more than one tract of land and not to exceed 320 acres, which shall be in compact form. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Desert Lands.—That all lands exclusive of timber lands and mineral lands which will not, without irrigation, produce some agricultural crop, shall be deemed desert lands within the meaning of this act, which fact shall be ascertained by proof of two or more credible witnesses under oath, whose affidavits shall be filed in the land office in which said tract of land may be situated. (19 Stat. L. 377.)

States Affected.—That this act shall only apply to and take effect in the States of California, Oregon, and Nevada, and the Territories of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, and Dakota, and the determination of what may be considered desert land shall be subject to the decision and regulation of the Commissioner of the General Land Office. (19 Stat. L. 377.)

Map.—That at the time of filing the declaration hereinbefore required the party shall also file a map of said land which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of contemplated irrigation, and which plan shall be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim said land, and prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops, and shall also show the source of the water to be used for irrigation and reclamation. Persons entering or proposing to enter separate sections or fractional parts of sections of desert lands may associate together in the construction of canals and ditches for irrigating and reclaiming all of said tracts, and may file a joint map or maps showing their plan of internal improvements. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Expenditures—Proofs.—That no land shall be patented to any person under this act unless he or his assignors shall have expended in the necessary irrigation, reclamation, and cultivation thereof, by means of main canals and branch ditches, and in permanent improvements upon the land, and in the purchase of water rights for the irrigation of the same, at least three dollars per acre of whole tract reclaimed and patented in the manner following: Within one year after making entry for such tract of desert land as aforesaid, the party so entering shall expend not less than one dollar per acre for the purposes aforesaid; and he shall in like manner expend the sum of one dollar per acre during the second and also during the third year thereafter, until the full sum of three dollars per acre is so expended. Said party shall file during each year with the register, proof, by the affidavits of two or more credible witnesses, that the full sum of one dollar per acre has been expended in such necessary improvements during such year, and the manner in which expended, and at the expiration of the third year a map or plan showing the character and extent of such improvements. If any party who has made such application shall fail during any year to file the testimony aforesaid, the lands shall revert to the United States, and the twenty-five cents advanced payment shall be forfeited to the United States, and the entry shall be canceled. Nothing herein contained shall prevent a claimant from making his final entry and receiving his patent at an earlier date than hereinbefore prescribed, provided that he then makes the required proof of reclamation to the aggregate extent of three dollars per acre: Provided, That proof be further required of the cultivation of one-eighth of the land. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Rights Heretofore Accrued.—That this act shall not affect any valid rights heretofore accrued under said act of March 3, 1877, but all bona fide claims heretofore lawfully initiated may be perfected, upon due compliance with the provisions of said act, in the same manner, upon the same terms and conditions, and subject to the same limitations, forfeitures, and contests as if this act had not been passed; or said claims, at the option of the claimant, may be perfected and patented under the provisions of said act, as amended by this act, so far as applicable; and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Patent.—That at any time after filing the declaration, and within the period of four years thereafter, upon making satisfactory proof to the register and the receiver of the reclamation and cultivation of said land to the extent and cost and in the manner aforesaid, and substantially in accordance with the plans herein provided for, and that he or she is a citizen of the United States, and upon payment to the receiver of the additional sum of one dollar per acre for said land, a patent shall issue therefor to the applicant or his assigns; but no person or association of persons shall hold, by assignment or otherwise prior to the issue of patent, more than three hundred and twenty acres of such arid or desert lands; but this section shall not apply to entries made or initiated prior to the approval of this act: Provided, however, That additional proofs may be required at any time within the period prescribed by law, and that the claims or entries made under this or any preceding act shall be subject to contest, as provided by the law relating to homestead cases, for illegal inception, abandonment, or failure to comply with the requirements of law, and upon satisfactory proof thereof shall be canceled, and the lands and moneys paid therefor shall be forfeited to the United States. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Entryman must be Resident Citizen.—That the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment, and the amendments thereto, shall apply to and be in force in the State of Colorado, as well as the States named in the original act; and no person shall be entitled to make entry of desert land except he be a resident citizen of the State or Territory in which the land sought to be entered is located. (26 Stat. L. 1095.)

Entryman Hindered by Withdrawal or Irrigation Project.—Where any bona fide desert-land entry has been or may be embraced within the exterior limits of any land withdrawal or irrigation project under the act entitled "An act appropriating the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands in certain States and Territories to the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands," approved June 17, 1902, and the desert-land entryman has been or may be directly or indirectly hindered, delayed, or prevented from making improvements or from reclaiming the land embraced in any such entry by reason of such land withdrawal or irrigation project, the time during which the desert-land entryman has been or may be so hindered, delayed, or prevented from complying with the desert-land law shall not be computed in determining the time within which such entryman has been or may be required to make improvements or reclaim the land embraced within any such desert-land entry. (34 Stat. L. 520.)

Abandonment of Project.—Provided, That if after investigation the irrigation project has been or may be abandoned by the government, time for compliance with the desert-land law by any such entryman shall begin to run from the date of notice of such abandonment of the project and the restoration to the public domain of the lands withdrawn in connection therewith, and credit shall be allowed for all expenditures and improvements heretofore made on any such desert-land entry of which proof has been filed; but if the reclamation project is carried to completion so as to make available a water supply for the land embraced in any such desert-land entry, the entryman shall thereupon comply with all the provisions of the aforesaid act of June 17, 1902, and shall relinquish all land embraced within his desert-land entry in excess of one hundred and sixty acres, and as to such one hundred and sixty acres retained, he shall be entitled to make final proof and obtain patent upon compliance with the terms of payment prescribed in said act of June 17, 1902, and not otherwise. But nothing herein contained shall be held to require a desert-land entryman who owns a water right and reclaims the land embraced in his entry to accept the conditions of said reclamation act. (34 Stat. L. 520.)

Second Desert-land Entry.—Any person who prior to the passage of this act has made entry under the desert-land laws, but from any cause has lost, forfeited, or abandoned the same, shall be entitled to the benefits of the desert-land law as though such former entry had not been made, and any person applying for a second desert-land entry under this act shall furnish the description and date of his former entry: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to any person whose former entry was assigned in whole or in part or canceled for fraud, or who relinquished the former entry for a valuable consideration. (35 Stat. L. 48.)

Entry of Desert Lands Restricted to Surveyed Public Lands.—From and after the passage of this act the right to make entry of desert lands under the provisions of the act approved March 3, 1877, entitled, "An act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain States and Territories," as amended by the act approved March 3, 1891, entitled "An act to repeal timber culture laws, and for other purposes," shall be restricted to surveyed public lands of the character contemplated by said acts, and no such entries of unsurveyed lands shall be allowed or made of record. (35 Stat. L. 52.)

Preference Right.—Provided, however, That any individual qualified to make entry of desert lands under said acts who has, prior to survey, taken possession of a tract of unsurveyed desert land not exceeding in area three hundred and twenty acres in compact form, and has reclaimed or has in good faith commenced the work of reclaiming the same, shall have the preference right to make entry of such tract under said acts, in conformity with the public land surveys, within ninety days after the filing of the approved plat of survey in the district land office. (35 Stat. L. 52.)

Assignment of Entry.—That from and after the date of the passage of this act no assignment of an entry made under said acts shall be allowed or recognized, except it be to an individual who is shown to be qualified to make entry under said acts of the land covered by the assigned entry, and such assignments may include all or part of an entry; but no assignment to or for the benefit of any corporation or association shall be authorized or recognized. (35 Stat. L. 52.)

Extension of Time.—That any entryman under the above acts who shall show to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of the General Land Office that he has in good faith complied with the terms, requirements, and provisions of said acts, but that because of some unavoidable delay in the construction of the irrigating works, intended to convey water to the said lands, he is, without fault on his part, unable to make proof of the reclamation and cultivation of said land, as required by said acts, shall, upon filing his corroborated affidavit with the land office in which said land is located, setting forth said facts, be allowed an additional period of not to exceed three years, within the discretion of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, within which to furnish proof, as required by said acts, of the completion of said work. (35 Stat. L. 52.)

RELIEF OF ASSIGNEES IN IMPERIAL COUNTY.

Assignment Recognized.—Any person, other than a corporation, who has in good faith heretofore acquired by assignment a desert-land entry, which entry is regular upon its face, in the belief that he was obtaining a valid title thereto, which assignment was accepted when filed at the local land office of the United States and recognized at the General Land Office as a proper transfer of such entry, shall be entitled to complete the entry so acquired, notwithstanding any contest that has been or may be filed against such entry, based upon a charge of fraud of which the assignee had no knowledge.

Notice of Fraud.—Provided, however, That this act shall only apply to any person who at the time of receiving such assignment was without notice of any fraud in the entry assigned or in any annual proof made concerning the same.

Patent to Assignee.—Provided, further, That patent shall not issue to any such assignee unless he shall affirmatively establish, by his evidence, under oath, good faith and lack of notice of fraud, and by the testimony, under oath, of himself and at least two witnesses that expenditure in the total amount and cultivation and reclamation to the full extent required by law have been actually made and accomplished: And provided, further, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to waive or avoid liability for any fraud or violation of the law on the part of the person committing the same.

Persons Permitted to Complete Title Notwithstanding Contest.—That where a person having made entry under the desert-land law was thereafter permitted by the Land Department to hold another entry or entries by assignment, or where a person having previously perfected title under assignment of a desert-land entry, or having held land under assignment to the amount of three hundred and twenty acres or more at different times, was thereafter permitted by the Land Department to make an entry in his own right, or to hold other lands under assignment, such persons, or their lawful assignees, shall be, upon showing full compliance with all requirements of existing law as to expenditure, reclamation, and cultivation, permitted to complete title to the land now held by them, notwithstanding any contest that may have been or may hereafter be filed against the entry based upon the charge that the present claimant has exhausted his right under the desert-land law by reason of having previously made an entry or held land under an assignment as above detailed; Provided, however, That this section shall not be applicable to entries made or taken by assignment subsequently to November 30, 1908; Provided, further, That no person shall be entitled to the benefits of either the first or second section of this act who has heretofore acquired title to three hundred and twenty acres of land under the desert-land laws; nor shall this act be construed to modify in any manner the provisions of the act of August 30, 1890 (Twenty-sixth Statutes, 391), and the seventeenth section of the act of March 3, 1891 (Twenty-sixth Statutes, 1095), restricting the quantity of lands that may be acquired under the agricultural land laws.

The provisions of this act shall apply to Imperial County, California, only. (Act of June 25, 1910.)

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE—RULES OF PRACTICE.

I.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE REGISTERS AND RECEIVERS.

Rule 1. Initiation of Contests.—Contests may be initiated by any person seeking to acquire title to, or claiming an interest in, the land involved, against a party to any entry, filing, or other claim under laws of Congress relating to the public lands, because of priority of claim, or for any sufficient cause affecting the legality or validity of the claim, not shown by the records of the Land Department.

Reference and Investigation.—Any protest or application to contest filed by any other person shall be forthwith referred to the Chief of Field Division, who will promptly investigate the same and recommend appropriate action.

APPLICATION TO CONTEST.

Rule 2. Contents of Application.—Any person desiring to institute contest must file, in duplicate, with the register and receiver, application in that behalf, together with statement under oath containing:

(a) Name—Residence of Party.—Name and residence of each party adversely interested, including the age of each heir of any deceased entryman.

(b) Description—Character of Land.—Description and character of the land involved.

(c) Proceedings Pending.—Reference, so far as known to the applicant, to any proceedings pending for the acquisition of title to or the use of such lands.

(d) Grounds of Contest.—Statement, in ordinary and concise language, of the facts constituting the grounds of contest.

(e) Statement of Law and Facts.—Statement of the law under which applicant intends to acquire title and facts showing that he is qualified to do so.

(f) Good Faith.—That the proceeding is not collusive or speculative, but is instituted and will be diligently pursued in good faith.

(g) Application to Prove.—Application that affiant be allowed to prove said allegations and that the entry, filing, or other claim be canceled.

(h) Address.—Address to which papers shall be sent for service on such applicant.

Rule 3. One Witness.—The statements in the application must be corroborated by the affidavit of at least one witness.

Rule 4. Contest Without Reference.—The register and receiver may allow any application to contest without reference thereof to the commissioner; but they must immediately forward copy thereof to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, who will promptly cause proper notations to be made upon the records, and no patent or other evidence of title shall issue until and unless the case is closed in favor of the contestee.

CONTEST NOTICE.

Rule 5. Contest Notice.—The register and receiver shall act promptly upon all applications to contest and upon the allowance of any such application shall issue notice, directed to the persons adversely interested, containing:

(a) Contents.—The names of the parties, description of the land involved, and identification, by appropriate reference, of the proceeding against which the contest is directed.

(b) Direction to Answer.—Notice that unless the adverse party appears and answers the allegation of said contest within thirty days after service of notice the allegations of the contest will be taken as confessed.

SERVICE OF NOTICE.

Rule 6. How Served.—Notice of contest may be served on the adverse party personally or by publication.

Rule 7. Personal Service.—Personal service of notice of contest may be made by any person over the age of eighteen years, or by registered mail; when served by registered mail, proof hereof must be accompanied by postoffice registry return receipt, showing personal delivery to the party to whom the same is directed; when service is made personally, proof thereof shall be by written acknowledgment of the person served, or by affidavit of the person serving the same, showing personal delivery to the party served; except when service is made by publication, copy of the affidavit of contest must be served with such notice.

Rule 8. Abatement of Contest.—Unless notice of contest is personally served within thirty days after issuance of such notice and proof thereof made not later than thirty days after such service, or if service by publication is ordered, unless publication is commenced within ten days after such order and proof of publication is made not later than twenty days after the fourth publication, as specified in Rule 10, the contest shall abate: Provided, That if the defendant makes answer without questioning the service or the proof of service of said notice, the contest will proceed without further requirement in those particulars.

SERVING NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

Rule 9. Notice by Publication.—Notice of contest may be given by publication only when it appears, by affidavit, by or on behalf of the contestant, filed within thirty days after the allowance of application to contest and within ten days after its execution, that the adverse party cannot be found, after due diligence and inquiry, made for the purpose of obtaining service of notice of contest within fifteen days prior to the presentation of such affidavit, of the postmaster at the place of address of such adverse party appearing on the records of the Land Office, and of the postmaster nearest the land in controversy and also of named persons residing in the vicinity of the land.

Address of the Adverse Party.—Such affidavit must state the last address of the adverse party as ascertained by the person executing the same.

Published Notice.—The published notice of contest must give the names of the parties thereto, description of the land involved, identification, by appropriate reference, of the proceeding against which the contest is directed, the substance of the charges contained in the affidavit of contest, and a statement that, upon failure to answer within twenty days after the completion of publication of such notice, the allegations of said affidavit of contest will be taken as confessed.

Affidavit of Contest.—The affidavit of contest need not be published.

Statement of Dates.—There shall be published with the notice a statement of the dates of publication.

Rule 10. Service of Notice—Newspaper.—Service of notice by publication shall be made by publishing notice at least once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein the land in contest lies; and if no newspaper be printed in such county, then in a newspaper printed in the county nearest to such land.

Copy by Registered Mail.—Copy of the notice, as published, together with copy of the affidavit of contest, shall be sent by the contestant, within ten days after the first publication of such notice, by registered mail, directed to the party for service upon whom such publication is being made, at the last address of such party as shown by the records of the Land Office, and also at the address named in the affidavit for publication, and also at the postoffice nearest the land.

Copy Posted.—Copy of the notice, as published, shall be posted in the office of the register, and also in a conspicuous place, upon the land involved, such posting to be made within ten days after the first publication of notice as hereinabove provided.

Rule 11. Proof of Publication.—Proof of publication of notice shall be by copy of the notice as published, attached to and made a part of the affidavit of the publisher, or foreman, of the newspaper publishing the same, showing the publication thereof in accordance with these rules.

Proof of Posting.—Proof of posting shall be by affidavit of the person who posted notice on the land, and the certificate of the register as to posting in the local land office.

DEFECTIVE SERVICE OF NOTICE.

Rule 12. Contest not to Abate.—No contest proceeding shall abate because of any defect in the manner of service of notice in any case where copy of the notice or affidavit of contest is shown to have been received by the person to be served; but in such case the time to answer may be extended in the discretion of the register and receiver.

ANSWER BY CONTESTEE.

Rule 13. Time and Manner of Answering.—Within thirty days after personal service of notice and affidavit of contest as above provided, or, if service is made by publication, within twenty days after the fourth publication, as prescribed by these rules, the party served must file with the register and receiver answer, under oath, specifically meeting and responding to the allegations of the contest, together with proof of service of a copy thereof upon the contestant by delivery of such copy at the address designated in the application to contest, or personally in the manner provided for the personal service of notice of contest.

Address for Service upon Party Answering.—Such answer shall contain or be accompanied by the address at which all notices or other papers shall be sent for service upon the party answering.

FAILURE TO ANSWER.

Rule 14. Affidavit Taken as Confessed.—Upon the failure to serve and file answer as provided by Rule 13, the allegations of the contest affidavit will, on motion of contestant made within twenty days after the date the answer is required to be filed and before any answer is filed, be taken as confessed, or in case of failure of contestee to file answer and of contestant to file motion within the time prescribed, the allegation of the contest affidavit may be taken as confessed and judgment entered by the Commissioner of the General Land Office without the award of preference right to contestant. Due service of notice, either personally or by publication, as provided by Rule 8, must appear in all such cases. At the end of the period herein prescribed the register and receiver will forthwith forward the case, with recommendation thereon, to the General Land Office and notify the parties by registered mail of the action taken.

DATE AND NOTICE OF TRIAL.

Rule 15. By Registered Letter.—Upon the filing of answer and proof of service thereof the register and receiver will forthwith fix time and place for taking testimony and notify all parties thereof by registered letter mail not less than twenty days in advance of the date fixed.

PLACE OF SERVICE OF PAPERS.

Rule 16. Proof of delivery of papers required to be served upon the contestant at the place designated under clause (h) of Rule 2, in the application to contest, and upon any adverse party at the place designated in the answer, or at such other place as may be designated in writing by the person to be served, shall be sufficient for all purposes; and, where notice of contest has been given by registered mail, and the registry return receipt shows the same to have been received by the adverse party, proof of delivery at the address at which such notice was so received, shall, in the absence of other direction by such adverse party, be sufficient.

Where a party has appeared and is represented by counsel, service of papers upon such counsel shall be sufficient.

CONTINUANCE.

Rule 17. When Granted.—Hearing may be postponed because of absence of a material witness when the party applying for continuance makes affidavit, and it appears to the satisfaction of the officer presiding at such hearing, that—

(a) Matter Material.—The matter to which such witness would testify if present is material.

(b) Diligence.—That proper diligence has been exercised to procure his attendance, and that his absence is without procurement or consent of the party on whose behalf continuance is sought.

(c) Attendance can be had.—That affiant believes the attendance of said witness can be had at the time to which continuance is sought.

(d) Delay.—That the continuance is not sought for mere purposes of delay.

Rule 18. One Continuance Only.—One continuance only shall be allowed to either party on account of absence of witnesses, unless the party applying for further continuance shall, at the same time, apply for order to take the testimony of the alleged absent witnesses by deposition.

Rule 19. When Refused.—No continuance shall be granted if the opposite party shall admit that the witness, on account of whose absence continuance is desired, would, if present, testify as stated in the application for continuance.

Continuances on Behalf of the United States.—Continuances will be granted on behalf of the United States when the public interest requires the same, without affidavit on the part of the Government.

DEPOSITIONS AND INTERROGATORIES.

Rule 20. When Taken.—Testimony may be taken by deposition when it appears by affidavit that—

(a) Witness Resides More Than 50 Miles.—The witness resides more than 50 miles, by the usual traveled route, from the place of trial.

(b) Witness Without or About to Leave State.—The witness resides without, or is about to leave, the State or Territory, or is absent therefrom.

(c) Witness Unable, or will Refuse to Attend the Hearing.—From any cause it is apprehended that the witness may be unable to, or will refuse to, attend the hearing, in which case the deposition will be used only in the event personal attendance of the witness cannot be obtained.

Rule 21. Affidavit for Taking Deposition—Interrogatories.—The party desiring to take deposition must serve upon the adverse party and file with the register and receiver, affidavit setting forth the name and address of the witness and one or more of the above-named grounds for taking such deposition, and that the testimony sought is material; which affidavit must be accompanied by proposed interrogatories to be propounded to the witness.

Rule 22. Cross-interrogatories.—The adverse party will, within ten days after service of affidavit and interrogatories, as provided in the preceding rule, serve and file cross-interrogatories.

Rule 23. Commission.—After the expiration of ten days from the service of affidavit for the taking of deposition and direct interrogatories, commission to take the deposition shall be issued by the register and receiver directed to any officer authorized to administer oaths within the county where such deposition is to be taken, which commission shall be accompanied by a copy of all interrogatories filed.

Notice of Taking Deposition.—Ten days' notice of the time and place of taking such deposition shall be given, by the party in whose behalf such deposition is to be taken, to the adverse party.

Rule 24. Manner of Taking Deposition.—The officer before whom such deposition is taken shall cause each interrogatory to be written out, and the answer thereto inserted immediately thereafter, and said deposition, when completed, shall be read over to the witness and by him subscribed and sworn to in the usual manner before the witness is discharged, and said officer will thereupon attach his certificate to said deposition, stating that the same was subscribed and sworn to at the time and place therein mentioned.

Rule 25. Return of Deposition.—The deposition, when completed and certified as aforesaid, together with the commission and interrogatories, must be inclosed in a sealed package, indorsed with the title of the proceeding in which the same is taken, and returned by mail or express to the register and receiver, who will indorse thereon the date of reception thereof, and the time of opening said deposition.

Rule 26. Certificate of Official Character.—If the officer designated to take the deposition has no official seal, certificate of his official character under seal must accompany the return of the deposition.

Rule 27. Deposition by Stipulation.—Deposition may, by stipulation filed with the register and receiver, be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and either by oral examination or upon written interrogatories.

Rule 28. Testimony Before Commissioner.—Testimony may, by order of the register and receiver and after such notice as they may direct, be taken by deposition before a United States commissioner, or other officer authorized to administer oaths near the land in controversy, at a time and place to be designated in a notice of such taking of testimony. The officer before whom such testimony is taken will, at the completion of the taking thereof, cause the same to be certified to, sealed, and transmitted to the register and receiver in the like manner as is provided with reference to depositions.

Rule 29. Charge for Examining Testimony.—No charge will be made by the register and receiver for examining testimony taken by deposition.

Rule 30. Fees for Taking Testimony.—Officers designated to take testimony will be allowed to charge such fees as are chargeable for similar services in the local courts, the same to be taxed in the same manner as costs are taxed by registers and receivers.

Rule 31. When Officer Designated cannot Act.—When the officer designated to take deposition cannot act at the time fixed for taking the same, such deposition may be taken at the same time and place before any other qualified officer designated for that purpose by the officer named in the commission or by agreement of the parties.

Rule 32. Order for Taking Testimony.—No order for the taking of testimony shall be issued until after the expiration of time allowed for the filing of answer.

TRIALS.

Rule 33. Excluding Witnesses.—The register and receiver and other officers taking testimony may exclude from the trial all witnesses except the one testifying and the parties to the proceeding.

Rule 34. Register and Receiver to Personally Direct Examination. The register and receiver will be careful to reach, if possible, the exact condition and status of the land involved in any contest, and will ascertain all the facts having any bearing upon the rights of parties in interest; to this end said officers should, whenever necessary, personally interrogate and direct the examination of a witness.

Rule 35. Pre-emption Cases.—In pre-emption cases the register and receiver will particularly ascertain the nature, extent, and value of alleged improvements; by whom made, and when; the true date of the settlement of persons claiming; the steps taken to mark and secure the claim; and the exact status of the land at that date as shown upon the records of their office.

Rule 36. Under Homestead and Other Laws.—In like manner, under the homestead and other laws, the conditions affecting the inception of the alleged right, as well as the subsequent acts of the respective claimants, must be fully and specifically examined.

Rule 37. Cross-examination.—Due opportunity will be allowed opposing claimants to cross-examine witnesses.

Rule 38. Objections to Evidence.—Objections to evidence will be duly noted, but not ruled upon, by the register and receiver, and such objections will be considered by the commissioner. Officers before whom testimony is taken will summarily stop examination which is obviously irrelevant.

Rule 39. Testimony to be Reduced to Writing.—At the time set for hearing, or at any time to which the trial may be continued, the testimony of all the witnesses present shall be taken and reduced to writing.

Shorthand.—When testimony is taken in shorthand the stenographic notes must be transcribed, and the transcription subscribed by the witness and attested by the officer before whom the testimony was taken: Provided, however, That when the parties shall, by stipulation, filed with the record, so agree, or when the defendant has failed to appear, or fails to participate in the trial, and the contestant shall in writing so request, such subscription may be dispensed with.

Certificate.—The transcript of testimony shall, in all cases, be accompanied by certificate of the officer or officers before whom the same was taken showing that each witness was duly sworn before testifying, and, by affidavit of the stenographer who took the testimony, that the transcription thereof is correct.

Rule 40. Demurrer to Evidence.—If a defendant demurs to the sufficiency of the evidence, the register and receiver will forthwith rule thereon. If such demurrer is overruled, and the defendant elects to introduce no evidence, no further opportunity will be afforded him to submit proofs.

Ruling Thereon.—When testimony is taken before an officer other than the register and receiver, demurrer to the evidence will be received and noted, but no ruling made thereon, and the taking of evidence on behalf of the defendant will be proceeded with; the register and receiver will rule upon such demurrer when the record is submitted for their consideration.

Effect of Ruling.—If said demurrer is sustained, the register and receiver will not be required to examine the defendant's testimony. If, however, the demurrer be overruled, all the evidence will be considered and decision rendered thereon.

Joint Report.—Upon the completion of the evidence in a contest proceeding, the register and receiver will render joint report and opinion thereon, making full and specific reference to the posting and annotations upon their records.

Rule 41. New Trial.—The register and receiver will, in writing, notify the parties to any proceeding of the conclusion therein, and that fifteen days will be allowed from the receipt of such notice to move for new trial upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, and that if no motion for new trial is made, thirty days will be allowed from the receipt of such notice within which to appeal to the commissioner.

NEW TRIAL.

Rule 42. Newly Discovered Evidence.—The decision of the register and receiver will be vacated and new trial granted only upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, in accordance with the practice applicable to new trials in courts of justice: Provided, however, That no such application shall be granted except upon showing that the substantial rights of the applicant have been injuriously affected.

No Appeal from Order Granting New Trial.—No appeal will be allowed from an order granting new trial, but the register and receiver will proceed at the earliest practicable time to retry the case, and will, so far as possible, use the testimony theretofore taken without re-examination of same witnesses, confining the taking of testimony to the newly discovered evidence.

Rule 43. Notice of Motion for New Trial.—Notice of motion for new trial, setting forth the grounds thereof, and accompanied by copies of all papers not already on file to be used in support of such motion, shall be served upon the adverse party, and, together with proof of service, filed with the register and receiver not more than fifteen days after notice of decision; the adverse party shall, within ten days after such notice, serve and file affidavits or other papers to be used by him in opposition to such motion.

Rule 44. Review of Decision Thereof.—Motions for new trial will not be considered or decided in the first instance by the commissioner or the Secretary of the Interior, or otherwise than on review of the decision thereof by the register and receiver.

Rule 45. Letter of Transmittal.—If motion for new trial is not made, or if made and not allowed, the register and receiver will, at the expiration of the time for appeal, promptly forward the same, with the testimony and all papers in the case, to the commissioner, with letter of transmittal, describing the case by its title, nature of the contest, and the land involved.

The local officers will not, after forwarding of decision, as above provided, take further action in the case unless so instructed by the commissioner.

FINAL PROOF PENDING CONTEST.

Rule 46. Where Trial has Taken Place.—Where trial of a contest brought against any entry or filing has taken place, the entryman may submit final proof and complete the same, with the exception of payment of the purchase money or commission, as the case may be; such final proof will be retained in the local office, and, should the entry be adjudged valid, will, if satisfactory, be accepted upon payment of the purchase money or commissions, and final certificate will issue without further action on the part of the entryman, except the furnishing by him, or in case of his death by his legal representatives, of nonalienation affidavit.

Fees for Reducing Testimony to Writing.—In such cases the party making the proof will at the time of submitting same be required to pay the fees for reducing the testimony to writing.

APPEALS TO COMMISSIONER.

Rule 47. Notice Thereof.—No appeal from the action or decision of the register and receiver will be considered unless notice thereof is served and filed with the local officers in the manner and within the time specified in these rules.

Rule 48. How Served and Filed.—Notice of appeal from the decision of the register and receiver shall be served and filed with such register and receiver within thirty days after receipt of notice of decision: Provided, however, That when motion for new trial is presented and denied, notice of such appeal shall be served within fifteen days after receipt of notice of the denial of said motion.

Rule 49. Who may not Appeal.—No person who has failed to answer the contest affidavit, or, having answered, has failed to appear at the hearing, shall be allowed an appeal from the final action or decision of the register and receiver.

Rule 50. Contents of Notice.—Such notice of appeal must be in writing, and set forth in clear, concise language the grounds of the appeal; if such appeal be taken upon the ground of insufficiency of the evidence to justify the decision, the particulars of such insufficiency must be specifically set forth in the notice, and, if error of law is urged as a ground for such appeal, the alleged error must be likewise specified.

Failure to Serve and File Notice of Appeal.—Upon failure to serve and file notice of appeal as herein provided the case will be closed.

Rule 51. Failure to Move or Appeal in Time.—When any party fails to move for a new trial or to appeal from the decision of the register and receiver within the time specified, such decision shall, as to such party, be final and will not be disturbed except in case of—

(a) Fraud or gross irregularity.

(b) Disagreement in the decision between the register and receiver.

No case will be remanded for any defect which does not materially affect the aggrieved party.

Rule 52. Custody of Papers.—All documents received by the local officers must be kept on file and the date of filing noted thereon; no papers will, under any circumstances, be removed from the files or from the custody of the register and receiver, but access to the same, under proper regulations, and so as not to interfere with transaction of public business, will be permitted to the parties or their attorneys.

COSTS AND APPORTIONMENT THEREOF.

Rule 53. Who must Pay.—A contestant claiming preference right of entry under the second section of the act of May, 14, 1880 (21 Stat. 140), must pay the costs of contest; in other cases each party must pay the cost of taking the direct examination of his own witnesses and the cross-examination on his behalf of other witnesses. The cost of noting motions, objections, and exceptions must be paid by the party on whose behalf the same are made.

Rule 54. Accumulation of Costs.—Accumulation of excessive costs will not be permitted. When the officer before whom testimony is being taken shall rule that a course of examination is irrelevant, the same will not proceed except at the sole cost of the party insisting thereon and upon his depositing the amount reasonably sufficient to pay therefor.

Rule 55. Where Party Contesting Establishes Right of Entry Without Reference to Act of May, 1880.—Where a party contesting a claim shall by virtue of actual settlement and improvement establish his right of entry of the land in contest under the pre-emption, homestead, or desert-land laws by virtue of settlement and improvement without reference to the act of May 14, 1880, the costs of contest will be imposed as prescribed in the second clause of Rule 53.

Rule 56. Contest Fees or Costs Allowed.—The only costs of contest chargeable by registers and receivers are the legal fees for reducing testimony to writing. No other contest fees or costs will be allowed to or charged by those officers, directly or indirectly.

Rule 57. Security for Costs.—Registers and receivers may at any time require either party to give security for costs, including expense of taking and transcribing testimony.

Rule 58. Excess.—Upon the filing of the transcript of the testimony in the local office, any excess in the sum deposited as security for costs of transcribing testimony will be returned to the parties depositing the same.

Rule 59. Hearings on Behalf of Government.—When hearings are ordered on behalf of the Government, all costs incurred on its behalf will be paid from the proper appropriation, and when, upon the discovery of reason for suspension in the usual course of examination of entries and contest, hearings are ordered between contending parties, the costs will be paid as required by Rule 53.

Rule 60. When Collected.—The costs provided for by the preceding rules will be collected by the receiver when the parties are brought before him in obedience to the order for hearing.

Rule 61. Statement of Costs.—The receiver will append to the report in each case a statement of costs, the amount actually paid by each of the parties, and the disposition thereof.

Rule 62. Papers by Whom Prepared.—All notices and other papers not required to be served by the register and receiver must be prepared and served by the respective parties.

Rule 63.—Provision for Notices.—The register and receiver will require proper provision to be made for such notices not specifically provided for in these rules as may become necessary in the usual progress of the case to final decision.

APPEAL FROM DECISION REJECTING APPLICATION TO ENTER PUBLIC LANDS.

Rule 64. Duties of Local Officers.—To facilitate appeals from the action of local officers relative to applications to file, enter, or locate upon the public lands, the register and receiver will—

(a) Indorse upon every rejected application the date of presentation and reasons for rejection.

(b) Promptly advise the party in interest of their action and of his right of appeal.

(c) Note upon their records a memorandum of the transaction.

Rule 65. Notice of Appeal.—The party agrieved will be allowed thirty days from receipt of notice in which to file notice of appeal in the local land office. The notice of appeal, when filed, will be forwarded to the General Land Office with full report upon the case, which should recite all the facts and proceedings had, and must embrace the following particulars:

(a) The original application, with reasons for the rejection thereof.

(b) Description of the tract involved and statement of its status, as shown by the records of the local office.

(c) Reference to all entries, filings, annotations, memorandum, and correspondence shown by the record relating to said tract and to the proceedings had.

II.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE SURVEYORS GENERAL.

Rule 66. Notices, Depositions, and Other Matters.—The proceedings in hearings and contests before surveyors general shall, as to notices, depositions, and other matters, be governed as nearly as may be by the rules prescribed for proceedings before registers and receivers, unless otherwise provided by law.

III.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE AND SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

EXAMINATION AND ARGUMENT.

Rule 67. Notice of Order or Decision.—The commissioner will cause notice to be given to each party in interest whose address is known of any order or decision affecting the merits of the case or the regular order of proceedings therein.

Rule 68. Additional Evidence.—No additional evidence will be admitted or considered by the commissioner unless offered under stipulations of the parties or in support of a mineral application or protest; provided, however, that the commissioner may order further investigation made or evidence submitted upon particular matters to be by him specifically designated.

Ex Parte Statements.—Affidavits or other ex parte statements filed in the office of the commissioner will not be considered in finally determining any controversy upon the merits.

Rule 69. Summary Action.—After receipt of the record by the commissioner thirty days will be allowed to expire before any action is taken thereon, unless, in the judgment of the commissioner, public policy or private necessity shall require summary action, in which event he will proceed at his discretion, first notifying the attorneys of record of his intention so to do; provided, that where no appeal has been filed the case may be immediately considered and disposed of.

Rule 70. Argument.—If brief is not filed before a case is reached in its order for examination, the argument will be considered closed, and no further argument or motion of any kind will be entertained, except upon application and upon good cause appearing to the commissioner therefor.

Rule 71. Oral Argument.—In the discretion of the commissioner, oral argument may be presented, at a time to be fixed by him and upon notice to opposing counsel, which notice shall specify the time for such argument and the specific matter to be discussed. Except as herein provided, oral hearings or suggestions will not be allowed.

REHEARINGS.

Rule 72. Motion for Rehearing.—No motion for rehearing of any decision rendered by the Commissioner of the General Land Office will be allowed.

MOTIONS.

Rule 73. No Motion Entertained After Record Transmitted.—No motion shall be entertained or considered in any case after the record has been transmitted to a reviewing officer.

Appeal in Ex Parte Cases.—In ex parte cases, where the entryman has been allowed by the commissioner to furnish additional evidence or to show cause, or, in the alternative, to appeal, both the evidence or showing and the appeal are filed, the commissioner shall pass upon the evidence or showing submitted, and, if found sufficient, note the appeal as closed. If such evidence or showing be found insufficient, the appeal will be forwarded to the Secretary as in other cases.

APPEAL FROM THE COMMISSIONER TO THE SECRETARY.

Rule 74. Appeal to Secretary of the Interior.—Except as herein otherwise provided, an appeal may be taken to the Secretary of the Interior from the final decision of the commissioner in any proceeding relating to the disposal of the public lands and private claims.

Rule 75. Where Party Affected Failed to Appeal from Decision of Local Officers.—No appeal shall be had from the action of the commissioner affirming the decision of the local officers in any case where the party adversely affected shall have failed to appeal from the decision of said local officers.

Rule 76. Notice of Appeal from Commissioner's Decision.—Notice of appeal from the commissioner's decision must be served upon the adverse party and filed in the office of the register and receiver or in the General Land Office within thirty days from the date of service of notice of such decision.

Rule 77. Defective Appeal.—When the commissioner considers an appeal defective he will notify the party thereof; and if the defect be not cured within fifteen days from the date of receipt of such notice, the appeal may be dismissed and the case closed.

Rule 78. Order Directing Commissioner to Certify Proceedings.—In proceedings before the commissioner in which he shall decide that a party has no right to appeal to the Secretary, such party may apply to the secretary for an order directing the commissioner to certify said proceedings to the Secretary and suspend action until the Secretary shall pass upon the same; such application shall be in writing, under oath, and fully and specifically set forth the grounds upon which the same is made.

Rule 79. Suspense of Action After Decision.—When the commissioner shall decide against the right of appeal he will suspend action on the case for twenty days from service of notice of such decision to enable the party against whom the decision is rendered to apply to the Secretary for an order certifying the record as hereinabove provided.

Rule 80. Briefs.—The appellant will be allowed twenty days after service of notice of appeal within which to serve and file brief and specification of error, as provided by rule 50, the adverse party twenty days after service of such within which to serve and file reply thereto; appellant will be allowed ten days after service of such reply within which to serve and file response: Provided, however, That if either party is not represented by counsel having offices in the city of Washington, ten days in addition to each period above specified will be allowed within which to serve and file the respective briefs.

No arguments otherwise than above provided shall be made or filed without permission of the Secretary or commissioner granted upon notice to the adverse party.

Rule 81. Printed Arguments Preferred.—Examination of cases will be facilitated by filing arguments in printed form.

ORAL ARGUMENTS BEFORE THE SECRETARY.

Rule 82. Oral Argument.—Oral argument in any case pending before the Secretary of the Interior will be allowed, on motion, in the discretion of the Secretary, at a time to be fixed by him, after notice to the parties. The counsel for each party will be allowed only one-half an hour, unless an extension of time is ordered before the argument begins.

REHEARING OF SECRETARY'S DECISION.

Rule 83. Motion for Rehearing.—A motion for rehearing of a cause by the Secretary of the Interior, together with all papers used in connection therewith, must be in writing, and must, together with evidence of service thereof on the adverse party, be filed with the Secretary of the Interior within thirty days after service of notice of the decision in said cause.

Argument in Support.—Said motion must state concisely and specifically the grounds upon which such rehearing is asked and may be accompanied by written argument in support thereof. No matters other than those specified will be considered.

Reply to Motion.—The adverse party will be allowed fifteen days after the service of the motion upon him in which to serve and file with the Secretary of the Interior a reply to the motion.

Transmission of Record.—In case no such motion be filed within the period above prescribed, the record will at once be transmitted to the Commissioner of the General Land Office for execution of the judgment of the Secretary. Like action will be taken immediately after the judgment of the Secretary on any motion for rehearing.

Argument.—No oral argument will be allowed on any such motion, and this rule will be strictly adhered to. If the motion be granted, the Secretary will at once proceed to dispose of the case, or, in his discretion, if the motion, or the reply thereto, has been accompanied by a request for oral argument in the event of its being granted, will set the cause down for oral argument. In any case, however, if the motion be granted, the Secretary may set the cause down for oral argument.

Judgment When Effective.—Nothing in this rule, however, shall prevent any judgment or order of the Secretary on appeal from becoming effective, in whole or in part, immediately or at any other time when and as directed in the judgment or order.

MOTIONS FOR REVIEW AND REREVIEW.

Rule 84. Abolished.—Motions for review and rereview are hereby abolished.

SUPERVISORY POWER OF SECRETARY.

Rule 85. Motion for Exercise of Supervisory Power.—Motion for the exercise of supervisory power will be considered only when accompanied by positive showing of extraordinary emergency or exigency demanding the exercise of such authority.

Rules.—In proceedings before the Secretary of the Interior the same rules shall govern, in so far as applicable, as are provided for proceedings before the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Rule 86. Construction of Rules.—No rule here prescribed shall be construed to deprive the Secretary of the Interior of any direct or supervisory power conferred upon him by law.

ATTORNEYS.

Rule 87. Oath.—Every attorney before practicing before the Department of the Interior must first file the oath prescribed by section 3478 of the Revised Statutes.

Rule 88. Authority of Attorney.—In all cases where any party is represented by attorney such attorney will be recognized as fully controlling the same on behalf of his client, and service of any notice or other paper relating to such proceedings upon such attorney will be deemed notice to the party in interest.

Where Party Represented by More Than One Attorney.—Where a party is represented by more than one attorney service of notice or other papers upon one of said attorneys shall be sufficient.

Rule 89. Name and Postoffice Address.—No person hereafter appearing as a party or attorney in any case shall be entitled to notice of any proceeding therein who does not, at the time of appearance, file in the office in which the case is pending a statement showing his name and postoffice address and the name and postoffice address of the party whom he represents.

Rule 90. Attorney Allowed to Consult Records.—Any attorney in good standing employed, and whose appearance is regularly entered in any case pending before the department, will be allowed full opportunity to consult the records therein, together with abstracts, field-notes, tract-books, and correspondence which is not deemed privileged and confidential.

Rule 91. Inquiries Directed to Employee.—Verbal or other inquiries by parties or counsel directed to any employee of the department, except the commissioner, assistant commissioner, or chief of division of the General Land Office, or the Secretary and Assistant Secretary, the Assistant Attorney General, or the first assistant attorney in the offices of the Secretary of the Interior, or with the consent of one or more of said officers, is expressly forbidden.

Rule 92. Abuse of Privilege.—Abuse of the privilege of examining records of the department or violation of the foregoing rule by any attorney will be treated as sufficient cause for institution of disbarment proceedings.

SERVICE OF NOTICES.

Rule 94. Time.—Fifteen days, exclusive of the day of mailing, will be allowed for the transmission of notice or other papers by mail from the General Land Office, except in case of notice of resident attorneys, in which case one day will be allowed.

How Computed.—In computing time for service of papers under these rules of practice the first day shall be excluded and the last day included; provided, however, that where the last day falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, such time shall include the next following business day.

Rule 95. Proof of Service of Notice.—Notice of all motions and proceedings before the commissioner or Secretary shall be served upon parties or counsel personally or by registered mail, and no motion will be entertained except on proof of service of notice thereof.

Rule 96. Ex parte Proceedings.—Ex parte proceedings and proceedings in which the adverse party does not appear will, as to notice of decision, time for appeal, and filing of exceptions and arguments, be governed by the rules prescribed in other cases, so far as the same are applicable. In such cases the commissioner or Secretary may, pursuant to application and upon good cause being shown therefor, permit additional evidence to be presented for the purpose of curing defects in the proofs of record.

INTERVENTION.

Rule 97. Application.—No person shall be allowed to intervene in any case except upon application therefor, under oath, showing his interest therein.

These Rules of Practice will be effective on and after February 1, 1911.

PUBLIC UTILITIES LAW—CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS.

(Constitution, Art. XII.)

§ 17. Common Carriers.—All railroad, canal, and other transportation companies are declared to be common carriers, and subject to legislative control. Any association or corporation, organized for the purpose, under the laws of this State, shall have the right to connect at the State line with railroads of other States. Every railroad company shall have the right with its roads to intersect, connect with, or cross any other railroad, and shall receive and transport each the other's passengers, tonnage, and cars, without delay or discrimination.

§ 18. Limit on Interest of an Officer or Agent.—No president, director, officer, agent or employee of any railroad or canal company shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in the furnishing of material or supplies to such company, nor in the business of transportation as a common carrier of freight or passengers over the works owned, leased, controlled, or worked by such company, except such interest in the business of transportation as lawfully flows from the ownership of stock therein.

§ 19. Public Officers not to Receive Passes.—No railroad or other transportation company shall grant free passes, or passes or tickets at a discount, to any person holding any office of honor, trust, or profit in this State; and the acceptance of any such pass or ticket, by a member of the legislature or any public officer, other than Railroad Commissioner, shall work a forfeiture of his office.

§ 20. Railroads or Other Common Carriers—Increase of Rates by. No railroad or other transportation company shall raise any rate of charge for the transportation of freight or passengers or any charge connected therewith or incidental thereto, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon a showing before the railroad commission provided for in this Constitution, that such increase is justified, and the decision of the said commission upon the showing so made shall not be subject to review by any court except upon the question whether such decision of the commission will result in confiscation of property. (Amendment adopted October 19, 1911.)

§ 21. Railroads and Other Transportation Companies—Discrimination Forbidden.—No discrimination in charges or facilities for transportation shall be made by any railroad or other transportation company between places or persons, or in the facilities for the transportation of the same classes of freight or passengers within this State. It shall be unlawful for any railroad or other transportation company to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of passengers or of like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or to charge any greater compensation as a through rate than the aggregate of the intermediate rates. Provided, however, that upon application to the Railroad Commission provided for in this Constitution such company may, in special cases, after investigation, be authorized by such commission to charge less for longer than for shorter distances for the transportation of persons or property and the Railroad Commission may from time to time prescribe the extent to which such company may be relieved from the prohibition to charge less for the longer than for the shorter haul. The Railroad Commission shall have power to authorize the issuance of excursion and commutation tickets at special rates. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the Railroad Commission from ordering and compelling any railroad or other transportation company to make reparation to any shipper on account of the rates charged to said shipper being excessive or discriminatory, provided no discrimination will result from such reparation. (Amendment adopted October 10, 1911.)

§ 22. Railroad Commission, Powers and Duties.—There is hereby created a Railroad Commission which shall consist of five members and which shall be known as the Railroad Commission of the State of California. The commission shall be appointed by the governor from the State at large; provided, that the legislature, in its discretion, may divide the State into districts for the purpose of such appointments, said districts to be as nearly equal in population as practicable; and provided further that the three commissioners in office at the time this section takes effect shall serve out the term for which they were elected, and that two additional commissioners shall be appointed by the governor immediately after the adoption of this section, to hold office during the same term. Upon the expiration of said term, the term of office of each commissioner thereafter shall be six years, except the commissioners first appointed hereunder after such expiration, one of whom shall be appointed to hold office until January 1, 1917, two until January 1, 1919, and two until January 1, 1921. Whenever a vacancy in the office of commissioner shall occur, the governor shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the same for the unexpired term. Commissioners appointed for regular terms shall, at the beginning of the term for which they are appointed, and those appointed to fill vacancies, shall, immediately upon their appointment, enter upon the duties of their offices. The legislature shall fix the salaries of the commissioners, but pending such action the salaries of the commissioners, their officers and employees shall remain as now fixed by law. The legislature shall have the power, by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house, to remove any one or more of said commissioners from office for dereliction of duty or corruption or incompetency. All of said commissioners shall be qualified electors of this State, and no person in the employ of or holding any official relation to any person, firm or corporation, which said person, firm or corporation is subject to regulation by said Railroad Commission and no person owning stock or bonds of any such corporation or who is in any manner pecuniarily interested therein, shall be appointed to or hold the office of railroad commissioner. No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. The act of a majority of the commissioners when in session as a board shall be deemed to be the act of the commission; but any investigation, inquiry or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or to hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioner designated for the purpose by the commission, and every order made by a commissioner so designated, pursuant to such inquiry, investigation or hearing, when approved or confirmed by the commission ordered filed in its office, shall be deemed to be the order of the commission.

Said commission shall have the power to establish rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroads and other transportation companies, and no railroad or other transportation company shall charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for such transportation of passengers or freight, or for any service in connection therewith, between the points named in any tariff of rates, established by said commission than the rates, fares and charges which are specified in such tariff. The commission shall have the further power to examine books, records and papers of all railroad and other transportation companies; to hear and determine complaints against railroad and other transportation companies; to issue subpoenas and all necessary process and send for persons and papers; and the commission and each of the commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths, take testimony and punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record; the commission may prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be kept by all railroad and other transportation companies.

No provision of this Constitution shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the legislature to confer upon the Railroad Commission additional powers of the same kind or different from those conferred herein which are not inconsistent with the powers conferred upon the Railroad Commission in this Constitution, and the authority of the legislature to confer such additional powers is expressly declared to be plenary and unlimited by any provision of this Constitution.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to repeal in whole or in part any existing law not inconsistent herewith, and the "Railroad Commission Act" of this State approved February 10, 1911, shall be construed with reference to this constitutional provision and any other constitutional provision becoming operative concurrently herewith. And the said act shall have the same force and effect as if the same had been passed after the adoption of this provision of the Constitution and of all other provisions adopted concurrently herewith, except that the three commissioners referred to in said act shall be held and construed to be the five commissioners provided for herein. (Amendment adopted October 10, 1911.)

§ 23. Public Utilities—Supervision and Regulation of.—Every private corporation, and every individual or association of individuals, owning, operating, managing, or controlling any commercial railroad, interurban railroad, street railroad, canal, pipe-line, plant, or equipment, or any part of such railroad, canal, pipe-line, plant or equipment within this State, for the transportation or conveyance of passengers, or express matter, or freight of any kind, including crude oil, or for the transmission of telephone or telegraph messages, or for the production, generation, transmission, delivery or furnishing of heat, light, water or power or for the furnishing of storage or wharfage facilities, either directly or indirectly, to or for the public, and every common carrier is hereby declared to be a public utility subject to such control and regulation by the Railroad Commission as may be provided by the legislature, and every class of private corporations, individuals, or associations of individuals hereafter declared by the legislature to be public utilities shall likewise be subject to such control and regulation. The Railroad Commission shall have and exercise such power and jurisdiction to supervise and regulate public utilities, in the State of California, and to fix the rates to be charged for commodities furnished, or services rendered by public utilities as shall be conferred upon it by the legislature, and the right of the legislature to confer powers upon the Railroad Commission respecting public utilities is hereby declared to be plenary and to be unlimited by any provision of this Constitution.

From and after the passage by the legislature of laws conferring powers upon the Railroad Commission respecting public utilities, all powers respecting such public utilities vested in boards of supervisors, or municipal councils, or other governing bodies of the several counties, cities and counties, cities and towns, in this State, or in any commission created by law and existing at the time of the passage of such laws, shall cease so far as such powers shall conflict with the powers so conferred upon the Railroad Commission; provided, however, that this section shall not affect such powers of control over any public utility vested in any city and county, or incorporated city or town as, at an election to be held pursuant to laws to be passed hereafter by the legislature, a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon of such city and county, or incorporated city or town, shall vote to retain, and until such election such powers shall continue unimpaired; but if the vote so taken shall not favor the continuation of such powers they shall thereafter vest in the Railroad Commission as provided by law; and provided, further that where any such city and county or incorporated city or town shall have elected to continue any powers respecting public utilities, it may, by vote of a majority of its qualified electors voting thereon, thereafter surrender such powers to the Railroad Commission in the manner to be prescribed by the legislature; or if such municipal corporation shall have surrendered any powers to the Railroad Commission, it may, by like vote, thereafter reinvest itself with such power. Nothing in this section shall be construed as a limitation upon any power conferred upon the Railroad Commission by any provision of this Constitution now existing or adopted concurrently herewith. (Amendment adopted October 10, 1911.)

§ 1. Short Title.—This act shall be known as the “Public Utilities Act” and shall apply to the public utilities and public services herein described and to the commission herein referred to.

§ 2. Definitions—Commission.—(a) The term “commission,” when used in this act, means the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

(b) Commissioner.—The term “commissioner,” when used in this act, means one of the members of the commission.

(c) Corporation.—The term “corporation,” when used in this act, includes a corporation, a company, an association and a joint-stock association.

(d) Person.—The term “person,” when used in this act, includes an individual, a firm and a copartnership.

(e) Transportation of Persons.—The term “transportation of persons,” when used in this act, includes every service in connection with or incidental to the safety, comfort or convenience of the person transported and the receipt, carriage and delivery of such person and his baggage.

(f) Transportation of Property.—The term “transportation of property,” when used in this act, includes every service in connection with or incidental to the transportation of property, including in particular its receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer, switching, carriage, ventilation, refrigeration, icing, dunnage, storage and handling, and the transmission of credit by express corporations.

(g) Street Railroad.—The term “street railroad,” when used in this act, includes every railway, and each and every branch or extension thereof, by whatsoever power operated, being mainly upon, along, above or below any street, avenue, road, highway, bridge or public place within any city and county, or city or town, together with all real estate, fixtures and personal property of every kind used in connection therewith, owned, controlled, operated or managed for public use in the transportation of persons or property; but the term “street railroad,” when used in this act, shall not include a railway constituting or used as a part of a commercial or interurban railway.

(h) Street Railroad Corporation.—The term “street railroad corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any street railroad for compensation within this state.

(i) Railroad.—The term “railroad,” when used in this act, includes every commercial, interurban and other railway other than a street railroad, and each and every branch or extension thereof, by whatsoever power operated, together with all tracks, bridges, trestles, rights of way, subways, tunnels, stations, depots, union depots, ferries, yards, grounds, terminals, terminal facilities, structures and equipment, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property of every kind used in connection therewith, owned, controlled, operated or managed for public use in the transportation of persons or property.

(j) Railroad Corporation.—The term “railroad corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any railroad for compensation within this state.

(k) Express Corporation.—The term “express corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, engaged in or transacting the business of transporting any freight, merchandise or other property for compensation on the line of any common carrier or stage or auto stage line within this state.

(l) Common Carrier.—The term “common carrier,” when used in this act, includes every railroad corporation; street railroad corporation; express corporation; dispatch, sleeping-car, dining-car, drawing-room car, freight, freight line, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, car-loaning, car-renting, car-loading and every other car corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, operating for compensation within this state; and every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any vessel regularly engaged in the transportation of persons or property for compensation upon the waters of this state or upon the high seas, over regular routes between points within this state.

(m) Pipe-line.—The term “pipe-line,” when used in this act, includes all real estate, fixtures and personal property, owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the transmission, storage, distribution or delivery of crude oil or other fluid substances except water through pipe lines.

(n) Pipe-line Corporation.—The term “pipe-line corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any pipe-line for compensation within this state.

(o) Gas Plant.—The term “gas plant,” when used in this act, includes all real estate, fixtures and personal property, owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the production, generation, transmission, delivery or furnishing of gas (natural or manufactured) for light, heat or power.

(p) Gas Corporation.—The term “gas corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any gas plant for compensation within this state, except where gas is made or produced on and distributed by the maker or producer through private property alone solely for his own use or the use of his tenants and not for sale to others.

(q) Electric Plant.—The term “electric plant,” when used in this act, includes all real estate, fixtures and personal property owned.

controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the production, generation, transmission, delivery or furnishing of electricity for light, heat or power, and all conduits, ducts or other devices, materials, apparatus or property for containing, holding or carrying conductors used or to be used for the transmission of electricity for light, heat or power.

(r) Electrical Corporation.—The term “electrical corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any electric plant for compensation within this state, except where electricity is generated on or distributed by the producer through private property alone solely for his own use or the use of his tenants and not for sale to others.

(s) Telephone Line.—The term “telephone line,” when used in this act, includes all conduits, ducts, poles, wires, cables, instruments and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate communication by telephone, whether such communication is had with or without the use of transmission wires.

(t) Telephone Corporation.—The term “telephone corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any telephone line for compensation within this state.

(u) Telegraph Line.—The term “telegraph line,” when used in this act, includes all conduits, ducts, poles, wires, cables, instruments and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate communication by telegraph, whether such communication is had with or without the use of transmission wires.

(v) Telegraph Corporation.—The term “telegraph corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any telegraph line for compensation within this state.

(w) Water System.—The term “water system,” when used in this act, includes all reservoirs, tunnels, shafts, dams, dikes, headgates, pipes, flumes, canals, structures and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property, owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the diversion, development, storage, supply, distribution, sale, furnishing, carriage, apportionment or measurement of water for power, irrigation, reclamation or manufacturing, or for municipal, domestic or other beneficial use.

(x) Water Corporation.—The term “water corporation,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any water system for compensation within this state.

(y) Vessel.—The term “vessel,” when used in this act, includes every species of water craft, by whatsoever power operated, which is owned, controlled, operated or managed for public use in the transportation of persons or property.

(z) Wharfinger.—The term “wharfinger,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees, appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any dock, wharf or structure used by vessels in connection with or to facilitate the receipt or discharge of freight or passengers for compensation within this state.

(aa) Warehouseman.—The term “warehouseman,” when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any building or structure in which property is regularly stored for compensation within this state, in connection with or to facilitate the transportation of property by a common carrier or vessel, or the loading or unloading of the same, other than a dock, wharf or structure, owned, operated, controlled or managed by a wharfinger.

(bb) Public Utility.—The term “public utility,” when used in this act, includes every common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger and warehouseman, where the service is performed for or the commodity delivered to the public or any portion thereof. The term “public or any portion thereof” as herein used means the public generally, or any limited portion of the public including a person, private corporation, municipality or other political subdivision of the State, for which the service is performed or to which the commodity is delivered, and whenever any common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger or warehouseman performs a service or delivers a commodity to the public or any portion thereof for which any compensation or payment whatsoever is received, such common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger or warehouseman is hereby declared to be a public utility subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and the provisions of this act. Furthermore, when any person or corporation performs any service or delivers any commodity to any person or persons, private corporation or corporations, municipality or other political subdivisions of the State, which in turn either directly or indirectly, mediately or immediately, perform such service or deliver such commodity to or for the public or some portion thereof, such person or persons, private corporation or corporations and each thereof is hereby declared to be a public utility and to be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and to the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Railroad Commission — Appointment — Term — Vacancies — Removal.—(a) The Railroad Commission shall consist of five members, who shall be appointed by the governor from the State at large; provided, that the three commissioners in office on the 10th day of October, 1911, shall serve out the term for which they were elected, and that two additional commissioners shall be appointed by the governor to hold office during the same term. Upon the expiration of said term, the term of office of each commissioner thereafter shall be six years, excepting that of the commissioners first appointed after the expiration of said term one shall be appointed to hold office until the first day of January, 1917, two until the 1st day of January, 1919, and two until the 1st day of January, 1921. The commissioners shall elect one of their number president of the commission.

(b) Vacancy.—Whenever a vacancy in the office of commissioner shall occur, the governor shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the same for the unexpired term. The legislature, by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house, may remove any one or more of said commissioners from office for dereliction of duty or corruption or incompetency.

§ 4. Attorney.—The commission shall have power to appoint as attorney to the commission an attorney at law of this State, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission. It shall be the right and the duty of the attorney to represent and appear for the people of the State of California and the commission in all actions and proceedings involving any question under this act or under any order or act of the commission, and, if directed to do so by the commission, to intervene, if possible, in any action or proceeding in which any such question is involved; to commence, prosecute and expedite the final determination of all actions and proceedings directed or authorized by the commission; to advise the commission and each commissioner, when so requested, in regard to all matters in connection with the powers and duties of the commission and the members thereof; and generally to perform all duties and services as attorney to the commission which the commission may require of him.

§ 5. Secretary—Assistant Secretary.—The commission shall appoint a secretary, who shall hold office during its pleasure. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep a full and true record of all proceedings of the commission, to issue all necessary process, writs, warrants and notices, and to perform such other duties as the commission may prescribe. The commission may appoint an assistant secretary, who shall have all the powers conferred by law upon peace officers to carry weapons, make arrests and serve warrants and other process in any county or city and county of this State. The secretary and the assistant secretary shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, waybills, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the State.

§ 6. Additional Officers and Employees.—The commission shall have power to employ, during its pleasure, such officers, experts, engineers, statisticians, accountants, inspectors, clerks and employees as it may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act or to perform the duties and exercise the powers conferred by law upon the commission.

§ 7. Oath of Office—Eligibility of Commissioners and Employees.—Each commissioner and each person appointed to a civil executive office by the commission shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office. Each commissioner shall be a qualified elector of this state, and no person in the employ of or holding any official relation to any corporation or person, which said corporation or person is subject in whole or in part to regulation by the commission, and no person owning stocks or bonds of any such corporation or who is in any manner pecuniarily interested therein shall be appointed to or hold the office of commissioner or be appointed or employed by the commission; provided, that if any such person shall become the owner of such stocks or bonds or become pecuniarily interested in such corporation otherwise than voluntarily, he shall within a reasonable time divest himself of such ownership or interest; failing to do so, his office or employment shall become vacant.

§ 8. Office of Commission—Meetings—Official Seal—Supplies and Equipment.—(a) The office of the commission shall be in the city and county of San Francisco. The office shall always be open, legal holidays and nonjudicial days excepted. The commission shall hold its sessions at least once in each calendar month in said city and county of San Francisco, and may also meet at such other times and in such other places as may be expedient and necessary for the proper performance of its duties. For the purpose of holding sessions in places other than the city and county of San Francisco, the commission shall have power to rent quarters or offices, and the expense thereof and in connection therewith shall be paid in the same manner as other expenses authorized by this act. The sessions of the commission shall be public.

(b) The commission shall have a seal, bearing the following inscription: "Railroad Commission State of California." The seal shall be affixed to all writs and authentications of copies of records and to such other instruments as the commission shall direct. All courts shall take judicial notice of said seal.

(c) The commission is authorized to procure all necessary books, maps, charts, stationery, instruments, office furniture, apparatus and appliances, and the same shall be paid for in the same manner as other expenses authorized by this act.

§ 9. Quorum.—A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty or for the exercise of any power of the commission. No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. The act of a majority of the commissioners when in session as a board shall be deemed to be the act of the commission; but any investigation, inquiry or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or to hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioner designated for the purpose by the commission, and every finding, order or decision made by a commissioner so designated, pursuant to such investigation, inquiry or hearing, when approved and confirmed by the commission and ordered filed in its office, shall be and be deemed to be the finding, order or decision of the commission.

§ 10. Salaries and Expenses.—(a) The annual salary of each commissioner shall be eight thousand (8,000) dollars. All officers, experts, engineers, statisticians, accountants, inspectors, clerks and employees of the commission shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the commission. The commissioners, attorney, secretary, rate expert and assistant secretary shall be civil executive officers and their salaries as fixed by law or the commission shall be paid in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. The salary or compensation of every other person holding office or employment under the commission shall be paid monthly from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission, after being approved by the commission, upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of control.

(b) All expenses incurred by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses and disbursements of the commissioners, their officers and employees, incurred while on business of the commission, shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission, after being approved by the commission, upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of control.

§ 11. Transportation for Commissioners, Officers and Employees.—The commissioners and the officers and employees of the commission, shall, when in the performance of their official duties, have the right to pass, free of charge, on all railroads, cars, vessels and other vehicles of every common carrier, as said term is defined in this act, subject in whole or in part to control or regulation by the commission, between points within this state, and such persons shall not be denied the right to travel upon any railroad, car, vessel or other vehicle of such common carrier, whether such railroad, car, vessel or other vehicle be used for the transportation of passengers or freight, and regardless of its class.

§ 12. Annual Report.—The commission shall make and submit to the governor on or before the first day of December of each year subsequent to the year 1912, a report containing a full and complete account of its transactions and proceedings for the preceding fiscal year, together with such other facts, suggestions, and recommendations as it may deem of value to the people of the state.

§ 13. Charges—Service and Facilities—Rules and Regulations.—

(a) All charges made, demanded or received by any public utility, or by any two or more public utilities, for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished or any service rendered or to be rendered shall be just and reasonable. Every unjust or unreasonable charge made, demanded or received for such product or commodity or service is hereby prohibited and declared unlawful.

(b) Every public utility shall furnish, provide and maintain such service, instrumentalities, equipment and facilities as shall promote the safety, health, comfort and convenience of its patrons, employees and the public, and as shall be in all respects adequate, efficient, just and reasonable.

(c) All rules and regulations made by a public utility affecting or pertaining to its charges or service to the public shall be just and reasonable.

§ 14. Tariff Schedules—Publication.—(a) Every common carrier shall file with the commission and shall print and keep open to the public inspection schedules showing the rates, fares, charges and classifications for the transportation between termini within this state of persons and property from each point upon its route to all other points thereon; and from each point upon its route to all points upon every other route leased, operated or controlled by it; and from each point on its route or upon any route leased, operated or controlled by it to all points upon the route of any other common carrier, whenever a through route and a joint rate shall have been established or ordered between any two such points. If no joint rate over a through route has been established, the schedules of the several carriers in such through route shall show the separately established rates, fares, charges and classifications applicable to the through transportation. The schedules printed as aforesaid shall plainly state the places between which property and persons will be carried, and shall also contain the classification of passengers or property in force, and shall also state separately all terminal charges, storage charges, icing charges and all other charges which the commission may require to be stated, all privileges or facilities granted or allowed, and all rules or regulations which may in any wise change, affect or determine any part, or the aggregate of, such rates, fares, charges and classifications, or the value of the service rendered to the passenger, shipper or consignee. Subject to such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, such schedules shall be plainly printed in large type, and a copy thereof shall be kept by every such carrier readily accessible to and for inspection by the public in every station or office of such carrier where passengers or property are respectively received for transportation, when such station or office is in charge of an agent, and in every station or office of such carrier where passenger tickets or tickets for sleeping, parlor car or other train accommodations are sold or bills of lading or waybills or receipts for property are issued. Any or all of such schedules kept as aforesaid shall be immediately produced by such carrier for inspection upon the demand of any person. A notice printed in bold type and stating that such schedules are on file with the agent and open to inspection by any person, and that the agent will assist any person to determine from such schedules any rates, fares, rules or regulations in force, shall be kept posted by the carrier in two public and conspicuous places in every such station or office. The form of every such schedule shall be prescribed by the commission and shall conform in the case of common carriers subject to the act of Congress entitled "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, as nearly as may be to the form of schedules prescribed by the interstate commerce commission under said act.

(b) Under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, every public utility other than a common carrier shall file with the commission within such time and in such form as the commission may designate, and shall print and keep open to public inspection schedules showing all rates, tolls, rentals, charges and classifications collected or enforced, or to be collected or enforced, together with all rules, regulations, contracts, privileges and facilities which in any manner affect or relate to rates, tolls, rentals, classifications, or service. The rates, tolls, rentals and charges shown on such schedules when filed by a public utility as to which the commission by this act acquires the power to fix any rates, tolls, rentals or charges, shall not, within any portion of the territory as to which the commission acquires as to such public utility such power, exceed the rates, tolls, rentals or charges in effect on the 10th day of October, 1911; the rates, tolls, rentals and charges shown on such schedules, when filed by any public utility as to any territory as to which the commission does not by this act acquire as to such public utility such power, shall not exceed the rates, tolls, rentals and charges in effect at the time the commission acquires as to such territory and as to such public utility the power to fix rates, tolls, rentals or charges. Nothing in this section contained shall prevent the commission from approving or fixing rates, tolls, rentals or charges, from time to time, in excess of or less than those shown by said schedules.

(c) The commission shall have power, from time to time, in its discretion, to determine and prescribe by order such changes in the form of the schedules referred to in this section as it may find expedient, and to modify the requirements of any of its orders, rules or regulations in respect to any matter in this section referred to.

§ 15. Changes in Schedules—Notice Required.—Unless the commission otherwise orders, no change shall be made by any public utility in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, or in any rule, regulation or contract relating to or affecting any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification or service, or in any privilege or facility, except after thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public as herein provided. Such notice shall be given by filing with the commission and keeping open for public inspection new schedules stating plainly the change or changes to be made in the schedule or schedules then in force, and the time when the change or changes will go into effect. The commission, for good cause shown, may allow changes without requiring the thirty days' notice herein provided for, by an order specifying the changes so to be made and the time when they shall take effect, and the manner in which they shall be filed and published. When any change is proposed in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, or in any form of contract or agreement or in any rule, regulation or contract relating to or affecting any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification or service, or in any privilege or facility, attention shall be directed to such change on the schedule filed with the commission, by some character to be designated by the commission, immediately preceding or following the item.

§ 16. Concurrence in Joint Tariffs.—The names of the several public utilities which are parties to any joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, contract, classification or charge shall be specified in the schedule or schedules showing the same. Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, a schedule showing such joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, contract, classification or charge need be filed with the commission by only one of the parties to it; provided, that there is also filed with the commission in such form as the commission may require a concurrence in such joint tariff, rate, fare, toll, contract, classification or charge by each of the other parties thereto.

§ 17. Rates and Fares as Published to be Charged.—(a) 1. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall engage or participate in the transportation of persons or property, between points within this state, until its schedules of rates, fares, charges and classifications shall have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this act.

2. Charges to be Uniform.—No common carrier shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for the transportation of persons or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares and charges applicable to such transportation as specified in its schedules filed and in effect at the time: nor shall any such carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares or charges so specified, except upon order of the commission as hereinafter provided, nor extend to any corporation or person any privilege or facility in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons.

3. Exceptions.—No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give or tender any free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers between points within this state, except to its officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; to ministers of religion, traveling secretaries of railroad men's religious associations, or executive officers, organizers or agents of railroad employees' mutual benefit associations giving the greater portion of their time to the work of any such association; inmates of hospitals or charitable or eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable or eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work or scientific research or in patriotic work when permitted by the commission; to the executive officers of mercantile or promotion boards or bodies within this state when traveling in the performance of duties affecting the advancement of the business of such boards or bodies, or the development of trade or industry within or without this state, when authorized by the commission; to hotel employees of season resort hotels, when authorized by the commission; to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary caretakers, going and returning, of livestock, poultry, milk, fruit and other freight, under uniform and nondiscriminatory regulations; to employees of sleeping-car corporations, express corporations and telegraph and telephone corporations; to railway mail service employees, United States internal revenue officers, postoffice inspectors, customs officers and inspectors and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the carrier is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such persons; provided, that the term "employees," as used in this section, shall include furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such carrier, ex-employees traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such carrier, and the remains of persons dying while in the employment of any such carrier; and the term "families," as used in this section, shall include the families of those persons heretofore named in this proviso, and the families of persons killed, and the widows during widowhood and minor children during minority of persons who died while in the service of any such carrier; and provided, further, that no free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation shall be issued, given or tendered to any officer, agent or employee of a common carrier, who is at the same time a shipper or receiver of freight, or an officer, agent or employee of a shipper or receiver of freight, unless such officer, agent or employee devotes substantially his entire time to the service of such carrier; and provided, further, that the members of the railroad commission, their officers and employees, shall be entitled, when in the performance of their official duties, to free transportation over the lines of all common carriers within this state; and provided, further, that passenger transportation may issue to the proprietors and employees of newspapers and magazines and the members of their immediate families, in exchange for advertising space in such newspapers or magazines at full rates, subject however to such reasonable restrictions as the commission may impose.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the issue by express corporations of free or reduced-rate transportation for express matter to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the interchange of free or reduced-rate transportation for passengers or express matter between common carriers, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons and members of their families, where such common carriers are subject in whole or in part to the jurisdiction of the commission or of the interstate commerce commission; provided, that such express matter be for the personal use of the person to or for whom such free or reduced-rate transportation is granted, or of his family: nor to prohibit the issue of passes or franks by telegraph or telephone corporations to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the exchange of passes or franks between such telegraph and telephone corporations or between such corporations and such common carriers, for their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families: nor to prevent the carrying out of contracts for free or reduced-rate passenger transportation heretofore made, founded upon adequate consideration and lawful when made: nor to prevent a common carrier from transporting, storing or handling, free or at reduced rates, the household goods and personal effects of its employees, of persons entering or leaving its service, and of persons killed or dying while in its service.

4. Other Exceptions.—Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act may transport, free or at reduced rates, persons or property for the United States, state, county or municipal governments, or for charitable purposes, or for patriotic purposes, or to provide relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitation, and property to or from fairs or expositions for exhibit thereat; also contractors and their employees, material or supplies for use or engaged in carrying out their contracts with said carriers, for construction, operation or maintenance work or work incidental thereto on the line of the issuing carrier, to the extent only that such free or reduced-rate transportation is provided for in the specifications upon which the contract is based and in the contract itself. Common carriers may also enter into contracts with telegraph and telephone corporations for an exchange of service.

(b) Commission may Establish Exceptions.—Except as in this section otherwise provided, no public utility shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished, or for any service rendered or to be rendered, than the rates, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to such product or commodity or service as specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, nor shall any such public utility refund or remit, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates, tolls, rentals and charges so specified, nor extend to any corporation or person any form of contract or agreement or any rule or regulation or any facility or privilege except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons; provided, that the commission may by rule or order establish such exceptions from the operation of this prohibition as it may consider just and reasonable as to each public utility.

§ 18. Filing of Interstate Tariffs.—Every common carrier and every telegraph and telephone corporation shall print and file or cause to be filed with the commission schedules showing all the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges and classifications for the transportation of persons or property or the transmission of messages or conversations between all points within this State and all points without the State upon its route, and between all points within this State and all points without the State upon every route leased, operated or controlled by it, and between all points on its route or upon any route, leased, operated or controlled by it within this State and all points without the State upon the route of any other common carrier or telegraph or telephone corporation, whenever a through route and joint rate shall have been established between any two such points.

§ 19. Preferences.—No public utility shall, as to rates, charges, service, facilities or in any other respect, make or grant any preference or advantage to any corporation or person or subject any corporation or person to any prejudice or disadvantage. No public utility shall establish or maintain any unreasonable difference as to rates, charges, service, facilities or in any other respect, either as between localities or as between classes of service. The commission shall have the power to determine any question of fact arising under this section.

§ 20. Economies—Profit from to Inure to Public Utility.—Nothing in this act shall be taken to prohibit any public utility from itself profiting, to the extent permitted by the commission, from any economies, efficiencies or improvements which it may make, and from distributing by way of dividends, or otherwise disposing of, the profits to which it may be so entitled, and the commission is authorized to make or permit such arrangement or arrangements with any public utility as it may deem wise for the purpose of encouraging economies, efficiencies or improvements and securing to the public utility making the same such portion, if any, of the profits thereof as the commission may determine.

§ 21. Sliding Scale of Charges—Profit-sharing.—Nothing in this act shall be taken to prohibit a corporation or person engaged in the production, generation, transmission or furnishing of heat, light, water or power, or telegraph or telephone service, from establishing a sliding scale of charges; provided, that a schedule showing such scale of charges shall first have been filed with the commission and such schedule and each rate set out therein approved by it. Nothing in this act shall be taken to prohibit any such corporation or person from entering into an agreement for a fixed period for the automatic adjustment of charges for heat, light, water or power, or telegraph or telephone service, in relation to the dividends to be paid to stockholders of such corporation, or the profit to be realized by such person; provided, that a schedule showing the scale of charges under such arrangement shall first have been filed with the commission and such schedule and each rate set out therein approved by it. Nothing in this section shall prevent the commission from revoking its approval at any time and fixing other rates and charges for the product or commodity or service, as authorized by this act.

§ 22. Discrimination Between Utilities Inter Se Prohibited—Connecting Lines.—(a) Every common carrier shall afford all reasonable, proper and equal facilities for the prompt and efficient interchange and transfer of passengers, tonnage and cars, loaded or empty, between the lines owned, operated, controlled or leased by it and the lines of every other common carrier, and shall make such interchange and transfer promptly without discrimination between shippers, passengers or carriers either as to compensation charged, service rendered or facilities afforded. Every railroad corporation shall receive from every other railroad corporation, at any point of connection, freight-cars of proper standard and in proper condition, and shall haul the same either to destination, if the destination be upon a line owned, operated or controlled by such railroad corporation, or to point of transfer according to route billed, if the destination be upon the line of some other railroad corporation.

Joint Rates.—Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as in anywise limiting or modifying the duty of a common carrier to establish joint rates, fares and charges for the transportation of passengers and property over the lines owned, operated, controlled or leased by it and the lines of other common carriers, nor as in any manner limiting or modifying the power of the commission to require the establishment of such joint rates, fares and charges.

(b) Connecting Telephone and Telegraph Companies.—Every telephone corporation and telegraph corporation operating in this state shall receive, transmit and deliver, without discrimination or delay, the conversations and messages of every other telephone or telegraph corporation with whose line a physical connection may have been made.

§ 23. False Billing, etc., by Carrier or Shipper.—(a) No common carrier, or any officer or agent thereof, or any person acting for or employed by it, shall, by means of known false billing, classification, weight, weighing, or report of weight, or by any other device or means, assist, suffer or permit any corporation or person to obtain transportation for any person or property between points within this State at less than the rates and fares then established and in force as shown by the schedules filed and in effect at the time. No person, corporation, or any officer, agent or employee of a corporation shall, by means of false billing, false or incorrect classification, false weight or weighing, false representation as to contents or substance of a package, or false report or statement of weight, or by any other device or means, whether with or without the consent or connivance of a common carrier or any of its officers, agents or employees, seek to obtain or obtain such transportation for such property at less than the rates then established and in force therefor.

(b) False Claims for Damages.—No person or corporation, or any officer, agent or employee of a corporation, shall knowingly, directly or indirectly, by any false statement or representation as to cost or value, or the nature or extent of an injury, or by the use of any false billing, bill of lading, receipt, voucher, roll, account, claim, certificate, affidavit or deposition, or upon any false, fictitious or fraudulent statement or entry, obtain or attempt to obtain any allowance, rebate or payment for damage, in connection with or growing out of the transportation of persons or property, or an agreement to transport such persons or property, whether with or without the consent or connivance of a common carrier or any of its officers, agents or employees; nor shall any common carrier, or any officer, agent or employee thereof, knowingly pay or offer to pay any such allowance, rebate or claim for damage.

§ 24. Long and Short Haul and Service.—(a) No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of persons or of a like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, within this State, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or charge any greater compensation as a through rate than the aggregate of the intermediate rates; but this shall not be construed as authorizing any such common carrier to charge or receive as great a compensation for a shorter as for a longer distance or haul. Upon application to the commission, such common carrier may, in special cases, after investigation, be authorized by the commission to charge less for a longer than for a shorter distance for the transportation of persons or property, and the commission may from time to time prescribe the extent to which such carrier may be relieved from the operation and requirements of this section.

(b) Long and Short Distance Messages.—No telephone or telegraph corporation subject to the provisions of this act shall charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transmission of any long distance message or conversation for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, within this State, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or charge any greater compensation for a through service than the aggregate of the intermediate rates or tolls subject to the provisions of this act; but this shall not be construed as authorizing any such telephone or telegraph corporation to charge and receive as great a compensation for a shorter as for a longer distance. Upon application to the commission, a telephone or telegraph corporation may, in special cases, after investigation, be authorized by the commission to charge less for a longer than for a shorter distance service for the transmission of messages or conversations, and the commission may from time to time prescribe the extent to which such telephone or telegraph corporation may be relieved from the operation and requirements of this section.

§ 25. Switch and Spur Connections.—(a) Every railroad corporation, upon the application of any corporation or person, being a shipper or receiver or contemplated shipper or receiver of freight, for a connection between the railroad of such railroad corporation and any existing or contemplated private track, tracks or railroad of such corporation or person, shall make such connection and provide such switches and tracks as may be necessary for that purpose and deliver and receive cars thereover; provided, that such connection is reasonably practicable and can be installed and used without materially increasing the hazard of the operation of the railroad with which such connection is sought, and that the business which may reasonably be expected to be received by such railroad corporation over such connection is sufficient to justify the expense of such connection to such railroad corporation.

(b) Shippers to Construct Spurs.—Under the conditions specified in the proviso in subsection (a) hereof, every railroad corporation, upon the application of any corporation or person, being a shipper or receiver or contemplated shipper or receiver of freight, shall construct upon its right of way a spur or spurs for the purpose of receiving and delivering freight thereby, and shall receive and deliver freight thereby.

§ 26. Foreign Public Utilities Excluded.—No foreign corporation, other than those which by a compliance with the laws of this State are entitled to transact a public utility business within this State, shall henceforth transact within this State any public utility business, nor shall any foreign corporation which is at present lawfully transacting business within this state henceforth transact within this State any public utility business of a character different from that which it is at present authorized by its charter or articles of incorporation to transact, nor shall any license, permit or franchise to own, control, operate or manage any public utility business or any part or incident thereof be henceforth granted or transferred, directly or indirectly, to any foreign corporation which is not at present lawfully transacting within this State a public utility business of like character; provided, that foreign corporations engaging in commerce with foreign nations or commerce among the several states of this Union may transact within this State such commerce and intrastate commerce of a like character.

§ 27. Fares and Transfers on Street Railroads.—No street or inter-urban railroad corporation shall charge, demand, collect or receive more than five cents for one continuous ride in the same general direction within the corporate limits of any city and county, or city or town, except upon a showing before the commission that such greater charge is justified; provided, that until the decision of the commission upon such showing, a street or interurban railroad corporation may continue to demand, collect and receive the fare in effect on October 10, 1911, or at the time the commission acquires as to such corporation the power to fix fares within such city and county, or city or town. Every street or interurban railroad corporation shall upon such terms as the commission shall find to be just and reasonable furnish to its passengers transfers entitling them to one continuous trip in the same general direction over and upon the portions of its lines within the same city and county, or city or town, not reached by the originating car.

§ 28. Requests for Information.—(a) Every public utility shall furnish to the commission in such form and such detail as the commission shall prescribe all tabulations, computations and all other information required by it to carry into effect any of the provisions of this act, and shall make specific answers to all questions submitted by the commission.

(b) Blanks.—Every public utility receiving from the commission any blanks with directions to fill the same shall cause the same to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question propounded therein; in case it is unable to answer any question, it shall give a good and sufficient reason for such failure.

(c) Copies of Records.—Whenever required by the commission, every public utility shall deliver to the commission copies of any or all maps, profiles, contracts, agreements, franchises, reports, books, accounts, papers and records in its possession or in any way relating to its property or affecting its business and also a complete inventory of all its property in such form as the commission may direct.

(d) Divulging Information.—No information furnished to the commission by a public utility, except such matters as are specifically required to be open to public inspection by the provisions of this act, shall be open to public inspection or made public except on order of the commission, or by the commission or a commissioner in the course of a hearing or proceeding. Any officer or employee of the commission who, in violation of the provisions of this subsection, divulges any such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 29. Reports.—Every public utility shall annually furnish to the commission at such time and in such form as the commission may require a report in which the utility shall specifically answer all questions propounded by the commission upon or concerning which the commission may desire information. The commission shall have authority to require any public utility to file monthly reports of earnings and expenses, and to file periodical or special, or both periodical and special reports concerning any matter about which the commission is authorized by this or any other act to inquire or to keep itself informed, or which it is required to enforce. All reports shall be under oath when required by the commission.

§ 30. Compliance With Commission's Orders.—Every public utility shall obey and comply with each and every requirement of every order, decision, direction, rule or regulation made or prescribed by the commission in the matters herein specified, or any other matter in any way relating to or affecting its business as a public utility, and shall do everything necessary or proper in order to secure compliance with and observance of every such order, decision, direction, rule or regulation by all of its officers, agents and employees.

§ 31. Powers of Commission.—The railroad commission is hereby vested with power and jurisdiction to supervise and regulate every public utility in the State and to do all things, whether herein specifically designated or in addition thereto, which are necessary and convenient in the exercise of such power and jurisdiction.

§ 32. Charges to be Fixed by Commission.—(a) Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or classifications, or any of them, demanded, observed, charged or collected by any public utility for any service or product or commodity, or in connection therewith, including the rates or fares for excursion or commutation tickets, or that the rules, regulations, practices or contracts, or any of them, affecting such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or classifications, or any of them, are unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory or preferential, or in anywise in violation of any provision of law, or that such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or classifications are insufficient, the commission shall determine the just, reasonable or sufficient rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, rules, regulations, practices or contracts to be thereafter observed and in force, and shall fix the same by order as hereinafter provided.

(b) Powers of Commission in Investigations.—The commission shall have power, upon a hearing, had upon its own motion or upon complaint, to investigate a single rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, rule, regulation, contract or practice, or any number thereof, or the entire schedule or schedules of rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, rules, regulations, contracts and practices, or any thereof, of any public utility, and to establish new rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, rules, regulations, contracts or practices, or schedule or schedules, in lieu thereof.

§ 33. Joint Rates and Through Routes on Common Carriers.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that the rates, fares or charges in force over two or more common carriers, between any two points in this State, are unjust, unreasonable or excessive, or that no satisfactory through route or joint rate, fare or charge exists between such points, and that the public convenience and necessity demand the establishment of a through route and joint rate, fare or charge between such points, the commission may order such common carriers to establish such through route and may establish and fix a joint rate, fare or charge which will be fair, just, reasonable and sufficient, to be followed, charged, enforced, demanded and collected in the future, and the terms and conditions under which such through route shall be operated. The commission may order that freight moving between such points shall be carried by the different common carriers, parties to such through route and joint rate, without being transferred from the originating cars. In case the common carriers do not agree upon the division between them of the joint rates, fares or charges established by the commissioner over such through routes, the commission shall, after hearing, by supplemental order, establish such division; provided, that where any railroad which is made a party to a through route has itself over its own line an equally satisfactory through route between the termini of the through route established, such railroad shall have the right to require as its division of the joint rate, fare or charge its local rate, fare or charge over the portion of its line comprised in such through route, and the commission may, in its discretion, allow to such railroad more than its local rate, fare or charge whenever it will be equitable so to do. The commission shall have the power to establish and fix through routes and joint rates, fares or charges over common carriers and stage or auto stage lines and to fix the division of such joint rates, fares or charges.

§ 34. Interstate Rates.—The commission shall have the power to investigate all existing or proposed interstate rates, fares, tolls, charges and classifications, and all rules and practices in relation thereto, for or in relation to the transportation of persons or property or the transmission of messages or conversations, where any act in relation thereto shall take place within this State; and when the same are, in the opinion of the commission, excessive or discriminatory or in violation of the act of Congress entitled "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4th, 1887, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, or of any other act of Congress, or in conflict with the rulings, orders or regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the commission may apply by petition or otherwise to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to any court of competent jurisdiction for relief.

§ 35. Service, Equipment, Facilities to be Fixed by the Commission. Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or, upon complaint, shall find that the rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities or service of any public utility, or the methods of manufacture, distribution, transmission, storage or supply employed by it, are unjust, unreasonable, unsafe, improper, inadequate or insufficient, the commission shall determine the just, reasonable, safe, proper, adequate or sufficient rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, service or methods to be observed, furnished, constructed, enforced or employed, and shall fix the same by its order, rule or regulation. The commission shall prescribe rules and regulations for the performance of any service or the furnishing of any commodity of the character furnished or supplied by any public utility, and, on proper demand and tender of rates, such public utility shall furnish such commodity or render such service within the time and upon the conditions provided in such rules.

§ 36. Power of Commission to Order Additions, Improvements, Changes.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that additions, extensions, repairs or improvements to, or changes in, the existing plant, equipment, apparatus, facilities or other physical property of any public utility or of any two or more public utilities ought reasonably to be made, or that a new structure or structures should be erected, to promote the security or convenience of its employees or the public, or in any other way to secure adequate service or facilities, the commission shall make and serve an order directing that such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or changes be made or such structure or structures be erected in the manner and within the time specified in said order. If the commission orders the erection of a new structure, it may also fix the site thereof. If any additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or changes, or any new structure or structures which the commission has ordered to be erected, require joint action by two or more public utilities, the commission shall notify the said public utilities that such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or changes or new structure or structures have been ordered and that the same shall be made at their joint cost, whereupon the said public utilities shall have such reasonable time as the commission may grant within which to agree upon the portion or division of cost of such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or changes or new structure or structures, which each shall bear. If at the expiration of such time such public utilities shall fail to file with the commission a statement that an agreement has been made for a division or apportionment of the cost or expense of such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or changes, or new structure or structures, the commission shall have authority, after further hearing, to make an order fixing the proportion of such cost or expense to be borne by each public utility and the manner in which the same shall be paid or secured.

§ 37. Power of Commission to Order Changes in Time Schedules and Running of Additional Cars and Trains.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that any railroad corporation or street railroad corporation does not run a sufficient number of trains or cars, or possess or operate sufficient motive power, reasonably to accommodate the traffic, passenger or freight, transported by or offered for transportation to it, or does not run its trains or cars with sufficient frequency or at a reasonable or proper time having regard to safety, or does not stop the same at proper places, or does not run any train or trains, car or cars, upon a reasonable time schedule for the run, the commission shall have power to make an order directing any such railroad corporation or street railroad corporation to increase the number of its trains or of its cars or its motive power or to change the time for starting its trains or cars or to change the time schedule for the run of any train or car, or to change the stopping place or places thereof, or to make any other order that the commission may determine to be reasonably necessary to accommodate and transport the traffic, passenger or freight, transported or offered for transportation.

§ 38. Track Connections.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that the public convenience and necessity would be subserved by having connections made between the tracks of any two or more railroad or street railroad corporations, so that cars may readily be transferred from one to the other, at any of the points hereinafter in this section specified, the commission may order any two or more such corporations owning, controlling, operating or managing tracks of the same gauge to make physical connections at any and all crossings, and at all points where a railroad or street railroad shall begin or terminate or run near to any other railroad or street railroad. After the necessary franchise or permit has been secured from the city and county, or city or town, the commission may likewise order such physical connection, within such city and county, or city or town, between two or more railroads which enter the limits of the same. The commission shall by order direct whether the expense of the connections referred to in this section shall be borne jointly or otherwise.

§ 39. Switch and Spur Connections—Interchange Switching to Industrial Tracks.—(a) Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that application has been made by any corporation or person to a railroad corporation for a connection or spur as provided in section 25 of this act, and that the railroad corporation has refused to provide such connection or spur and that the applicant is entitled to have the same provided for him under said section 25, the commission shall make an order requiring the providing of such connection or spur and the maintenance and use of the same upon reasonable terms which the commission shall have the power to prescribe. Whenever any such connection or spur has been so provided, any corporation or person shall be entitled to connect with the private track, tracks or railroad thereby connected with the railroad of the railroad corporation and to use the same or to use the spur so provided upon payment to the party or parties incurring the primary expense of such private track, tracks or railroad, or the connection therewith or of such spur, of a reasonable proportion of the cost thereof to be determined by the commission after notice to the interested parties and a hearing thereon; provided, that such connection and use can be made without unreasonable interference with the rights of the party or parties incurring such primary expense.

(b) Power to Require Switching of Cars of Connecting Railroad.—The commission shall likewise have the power to require one railroad corporation to switch to private spurs and industrial tracks upon its own railroad the cars of a connecting railroad corporation and to prescribe the terms and compensation for such service.

§ 40. Physical Connections and Joint Rates—Telephone and Telegraph Corporations.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that a physical connection can reasonably be made between the lines of two or more telephone corporations or two or more telegraph corporations whose lines can be made to form a continuous line of communication, by the construction and maintenance of suitable connections for the transfer of messages or conversations, and that public convenience and necessity will be subserved thereby, or shall find that two or more telegraph or telephone corporations have failed to establish joint rates, tolls or charges for service by or over their said lines, and that joint rates, tolls or charges ought to be established, the commission may, by its order, require that such connection be made, except where the purpose of such connection is primarily to secure the transmission of local messages or conversations between points within the same city and county, or city or town, and that conversations be transmitted and messages transferred over such connection under such rules and regulations as the commission may establish, and prescribe through lines and joint rates, tolls and charges to be made, and to be used, observed and in force in the future. If such telephone or telegraph corporations do not agree upon the division between them of the cost of such physical connection or connections or the division of the joint rates, tolls, or charges established by the commission over such through lines, the commission shall have authority, after further hearing, to establish such division by supplemental order.

§ 41. Use of Joint Facilities.—Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint of a public utility affected, shall find that public convenience and necessity require the use by one public utility of the conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes or other equipment, or any part thereof, on, over, or under any street or highway, and belonging to another public utility, and that such use will not result in irreparable injury to the owner or other users of such conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes, or other equipment or in any substantial detriment to the service, and that such public utilities have failed to agree upon such use or the terms and conditions or compensation for the same, the commission may by order direct that such use be permitted, and prescribe a reasonable compensation and reasonable terms and conditions for the joint use. If such use be directed, the public utility to whom the use is permitted shall be liable to the owner or other users of such conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes or other equipment for such damage as may result therefrom to the property of such owner or other users thereof.

§ 42. Health and Safety—Safety Devices.—The commission shall have power, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, by general or special orders, rules or regulations, or otherwise, to require every public utility to construct, maintain and operate its line, plant, system, equipment, apparatus, tracks and premises in such manner as to promote and safeguard the health and safety of its employees, passengers, customers, and the public, and to this end to prescribe, among other things, the installation, use, maintenance and operation of appropriate safety or other devices or appliances, including interlocking and other protective devices at grade crossings or junctions and block or other systems of signaling, to establish uniform or other standards of construction and equipment, and to require the performance of any other act which the health or safety of its employees, passengers, customers or the public may demand.

§ 43. Grade Crossings.—(a) No public road, highway or street shall hereafter be constructed across the track of any railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track or any railroad corporation be constructed across a public road, highway or street at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across the track of any other railroad or street railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of a street railroad corporation be constructed across the track of a railroad corporation at grade, without having first secured the permission of the commission; provided, that this subsection shall not apply to the replacement of lawfully existing tracks. The commission shall have the right to refuse its permission or to grant it upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe.

(b) Powers of Commission in Presenting Crossings.—The commission shall have the exclusive power to determine and prescribe the manner, including the particular point of crossing, and the terms of installation, operation, maintenance, use and protection of each crossing of one railroad by another railroad or street railroad, and of a street railroad by a railroad, and of each crossing of a public road or highway by a railroad or street railroad and of a street by a railroad or vice versa, subject to the provisions of section 2694 of the Political Code, so far as applicable, and to alter or abolish any such crossing, and to require where, in its judgment, it would be practicable, a separation of grades at any such crossing heretofore or hereafter established and to prescribe the terms upon which such separation shall be made and the proportions in which the expense of the alteration or abolition of such crossings or the separation of such grades shall be divided between the railroad or street railroad corporations affected or between such corporations and the state, county, municipality or other public authority in interest.

§ 44. Investigation of Accidents—Reports to Commission.—The commission shall investigate the cause of all accidents occurring within this State upon the property of any public utility or directly or indirectly arising from or connected with its maintenance or operation, resulting in loss of life or injury to person or property and requiring, in the judgment of the commission, investigation by it, and shall have the power to make such order or recommendation with respect thereto as in its judgment may seem just and reasonable; provided, that neither the order or recommendation of the commission nor any accident report filed with the commission shall be admitted as evidence in any action for damages based on or arising out of the loss of life, or injury to person or property, in this section referred to. Every public utility is hereby required to file with the commission, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, a report of each accident so occurring of such kinds or classes as the commission may from time to time designate.

§ 45. Power of Commission to Provide Rules for Expediting Traffic.

(a) The commission shall have power to provide by proper rules and regulations the time within which all railroad corporations shall furnish, after demand therefor, all cars, equipment and facilities necessary for the handling of freight in carload and less than carload lots, the time within which consignors or persons ordering cars shall load the same, and the time within which consignees or persons to whom freight may be consigned shall unload and discharge the same and receive freight from the freight-rooms, and to provide penalties to be paid for failure on the part of the railroad corporations, consignors and consignees to conform to such rules. Charges for demurrage shall be uniform so that the same penalty shall be paid by both shipper or consignee and railroad corporation for an equal number of cars for each day for which demurrage is charged.

(b) Express and Telegraph Rules and Regulations.—The commission shall also have power to provide the time within which express packages shall be received, gathered, transported and delivered at destination, and the limits within which express packages shall be gathered and distributed and telegraph and telephone messages delivered without extra charge.

§ 46. Power of Commission as to Service, etc., of Public Utilities.—

(a) The commission shall have power, after hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, to ascertain and fix just and reasonable standards, classifications, regulations, practices, measurements or service to be furnished, imposed, observed and followed by all electrical, gas and water corporations; to ascertain and fix adequate and serviceable standards for the measurement of quantity, quality, pressure, initial voltage or other condition pertaining to the supply of the product, commodity or service furnished or rendered by any such public utility; to prescribe reasonable regulations for the examination and testing of such product, commodity or service and for the measurement thereof; to establish reasonable rules, regulations, specifications and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters and appliances for measurements; and to provide for the examination and testing of any and all appliances used for the measurement of any product, commodity or service of any such public utility.

(b) Right of Entry.—The commissioners and their officers and employees shall have power to enter upon any premises occupied by any public utility, for the purpose of making the examinations and tests and exercising any of the other powers provided for in this act, and to set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances necessary therefor. The agents and employees of such public utility shall have the right to be present at the making of such examinations and tests.

(c) Testing Measurements—Fees.—Any consumer or user of any product, commodity or service of a public utility may have any appliance used in the measurement thereof tested upon paying the fees fixed by the commission. The commission shall establish and fix reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the consumer or user, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request, but to be paid by the public utility and repaid to the consumer or user if the appliance is found defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the consumer or user, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission.

§ 47. Valuation of Property.—The commission shall have power to ascertain the value of the property of every public utility in this State and every fact which in its judgment may or does have any bearing on such value. The commission shall have power to make revaluations from time to time and to ascertain all new construction, extensions and additions to the property of every public utility.

Acquisition of Public Utility by Municipality.—Any county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district may at any time file with the commission a petition setting forth the intention of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, any existing public utility, and the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever connected with such existing public utility, or any part or portion thereof. Said petition shall give a full and complete description of said public utility, lands, property and rights, or the parts or portions thereof it is so intended to acquire, and may pray that the commission fix and determine the just compensation which shall be paid by such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, under the law, for said public utility and said lands, property and rights thereof, or the parts or portions thereof sought to be acquired. Or the legislative or other governing body of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district may file with the commission a petition setting forth its intention to initiate such proceedings as may be required under the law governing such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, for the purpose of submitting to the voters of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, any existing public utility and the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever connected with such existing public utility, or any parts or portions thereof. Such petition shall give a full and complete description of the said public utility, lands, property, rights, or the parts or portions thereof concerning which it is so intended to initiate said proceedings as above described. Upon either of such petitions being filed, the commission shall proceed to fix and determine the just compensation that should be paid to the owner of such public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, in the manner and in accordance with the provisions of section 70 of this act. In the case of the petition first above described, within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction and in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain. In the case of a petition of said legislative, or other governing body of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, filed as above described, setting forth its intention to so initiate such proceedings for the purpose of so submitting a proposition to the voters of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, then within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, the said legislative or other governing body must so initiate such proceedings, unless there be obtained a writ of review from the supreme court of the State of California, in accordance with the provisions of section 70 hereof, and if said writ of review be so obtained the time for the initiation of such proceedings shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon such writ of review. If the people of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall thereafter, as required by the law governing such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, vote in favor of any proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings or otherwise, said public utility, or the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, then the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall, within sixty days after the people have so declared in favor of such acquisition, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, and in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings, in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain; provided, however, that in any case where the law governing any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district permits such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district to commence and prosecute such proceedings in eminent domain prior to any such vote being had by the people, then the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district whose legislative or other governing body has so filed such a petition with the commission, as above described, may, within sixty days after the commission shall have certified, in accordance with section 70, its findings as to the just compensation that should be so paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction and in a manner and in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the value of which has been so fixed and determined as herein provided, unless the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the compensation so fixed by the commission to be paid by said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district for the taking of said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof.

Said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, shall not be required to delay for more than twenty days after the said commission shall have so certified its findings in accordance with said section 70, before commencing such proceedings in eminent domain.

Completion of Purchase.—Whenever the owner of such existing public utility and such lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall file such a stipulation, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must proceed with all due diligence to provide the necessary funds under the laws governing the providing of such funds, for paying to the owner of such existing public utility and such lands, property and rights thereof or any such parts or portions thereof, the amount fixed by the commission as the just compensation to be paid. Upon such compensation being paid to the owner of said existing public utility or the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, the owner thereof shall make and execute to the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district a deed of grant, bargain and sale conveying all of the right, title and interest such owner has in the existing public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof whose value has been so fixed as herein provided. And in default of such deed the commission is hereby empowered to execute such deed, as the trustee of said public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof. Should the owner of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or such parts or portions thereof, fail to file such a written stipulation as above, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district must commence the action herein provided for within the time herein provided for. In such action the compensation fixed by the commission to be paid for such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such parts or portions thereof, shall be deemed final and conclusive between the parties; and the court in which the action is pending, if it shall first decide that such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district has the right and power under the law to take the said existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or such parts or portions thereof, whose value has been so fixed as herein provided for, shall enter a decree in favor of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, as provided by law, fixing the amount that shall be paid as the just compensation for the taking of such existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any parts or portions thereof, as the amount fixed and determined by the commission. The judgment shall include a provision, in substance, that said judgment is subject to modification on account of any unreasonable depreciation or deterioration in value of the property taken, or on account of any loss which might be suffered by the owner of said public utility through his being required to properly take care of said property, as is hereinafter more fully provided for. If between the date of the filing of any such petition and the payment of the compensation to the owner of the public utility, the owner of the public utility shall permit the property taken to unreasonably depreciate or deteriorate in value, the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district may file with the commission a petition setting forth that fact, and praying that the commission determine and fix the amount of said unreasonable depreciation or deterioration. The commission shall thereupon order a copy of said petition to be served upon the owner of said public utility with an order to within ten days appear before said commission and show cause why there should not be deducted from the amount of compensation to be paid an amount sufficient to cover said depreciation or deterioration. The commission shall on the day so fixed, unless for good cause the hearing is continued, proceed to ascertain whether there has been any such depreciation or deterioration, and if so, what amount should be deducted therefor from the compensation to be paid. Hearings shall be had in the same manner as provided in section 70 of this act. The commission shall thereupon certify to the court any amount which may be determined upon that should be so deducted from the compensation, and the court shall thereupon modify its judgment in order to conform with said ascertainment by said commission. If between the time when the judgment in condemnation has become final and the time of the payment of the compensation the owner of the public utility shall, in order to preserve the property, be required to suffer a loss, the said owner may file a petition with the commission setting forth this fact, and praying that the commission determine and fix the amount of the loss which the owner has so suffered. The commission shall thereupon order a copy of said petition to be served upon the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, with an order to within ten days appear before said commission to show cause why there should not be paid, in addition to the amount of the judgment, an amount sufficient to compensate for the said loss. The commission shall on the day so fixed, unless for good cause the hearing is continued, proceed to ascertain whether there has been any such loss, and if so, how much. The hearing shall be conducted as provided in section 70 of this act. The commission shall thereupon certify to the court any amount of loss so determined upon, and the court shall thereupon modify its judgment in order to conform with said ascertainment by the commission. Said amount of loss which may be so required to be paid to the owner of said utility shall not be considered as compensation for the property taken, but shall be considered as damages awarded for the loss so sustained by the owner of the utility. And the filing of any such petition by the owner of the utility shall not act as a stay of the decree in condemnation, but upon the payment of the amount fixed in the original decree in condemnation, the plaintiff shall be entitled to immediate possession of the property taken. The findings of the commission fixing the just compensation to be paid or the amount that should thus be deducted from the judgment on account of such unreasonable depreciation or deterioration, or that should thus be added to the judgment on account of said loss suffered, shall be subject to review by the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. Said writ of review may be issued at the instance of either the owner of the public utility or of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district.

Review.—Should a writ of review be obtained from the supreme court of the State of California in accordance with the provisions of section 70 hereof, the time for the filing of such suit in eminent domain by the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon such writ of review; or, should said writ of review be obtained prior to the vote by the people of said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district upon any such proposition, then said sixty days period to be extended to not longer than sixty days after such vote is had. If the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or the legislative or other governing body thereof shall fail to file such suit or proceed diligently to enforce the rights herein conferred and in the manner herein set forth, then upon written petition from the owner of such existing public utility setting forth said fact, the commission shall cause a notice of not less than ten days to be given to said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district to appear before said commission and show cause why an order should not be made by said commission, finding that the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district has failed to diligently pursue its rights hereby conferred, and determining that the findings of the said commission theretofore made as to the just compensation that should be paid for the existing public utility and the lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, shall no longer be of any force or effect. And said notice shall include a copy of said written petition so filed by said owner of such existing public utility. If the commission shall determine that said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or the legislative or other governing body thereof, has so failed to either file such suit or to proceed diligently to enforce the rights herein conferred and in the manner herein set forth, the commission shall make and enter such an order as so petitioned for by the owner of such existing public utility. Should the supreme court, upon a writ of review being obtained, decide that in any manner the commission has not lawfully pursued its power hereby conferred or conferred in this act, the supreme court shall make its findings and refer the matter back to the commission for correction or further action. Upon such writ coming down to the commission it shall proceed, as in the first instance, to correct its findings in the manner specified in the writ of review. Any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district must pay at such times in such amounts as may be directed by said railroad commission any extra costs which it might be necessary for said railroad commission to incur in order to comply with the requirements of this section. And the court, upon rendering any judgment in eminent domain, as herein provided for, may include therein the allowance of such costs as between the parties as is provided for in the law of eminent domain of this State. The rights herein conferred upon any county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or upon the legislative, or other governing body thereof, to so file with the commission a petition for the ascertainment of the just compensation that should be so paid for any such existing public utility and lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, shall not be considered as an exclusive mode of procedure, but shall be considered as an alternative and cumulative procedure which may be followed by such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or the legislative or other governing body thereof, in addition to any other method of procedure provided for in law for the taking by said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, of any such public utility or lands, property and rights thereof, or any such part or portion thereof, under eminent domain proceedings, in accordance with the law of this state; and this act shall not be construed as repealing any law of this state providing for such eminent domain proceedings.

§ 48. Uniform System of Accounts—Access to Accounts, etc.—The commission shall have power to establish a system of accounts to be kept by the public utilities subject to its jurisdiction, or to classify said public utilities and to establish a system of accounts for each class, and to prescribe the manner in which such accounts shall be kept. It may also in its discretion prescribe the forms of accounts, records and memoranda to be kept by such public utilities, including the accounts, records and memoranda of the movement of traffic as well as the receipts and expenditures of moneys, and any other forms, records and memoranda which in the judgment of the commission may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of this act. The system of accounts established by the commission and the forms of accounts, records and memoranda prescribed by it shall not be inconsistent, in the case of corporations subject to the provisions of the act of Congress entitled "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4th, 1887, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, with the systems and forms from time to time established for such corporations by the interstate commerce commission, but nothing herein contained shall affect the power of the commission to prescribe forms of accounts, records and memoranda covering information in addition to that required by the interstate commerce commission. The commission may, after hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, prescribe by order the accounts in which particular outlays and receipts shall be entered, charged or credited. Where the commission has prescribed the forms of accounts, records or memoranda to be kept by any public utility for any of its business, it shall thereafter be unlawful for such public utility to keep any accounts, records or memoranda for such business other than those so prescribed, or those prescribed by or under the authority of any other State or of the United States, excepting such accounts, records or memoranda as shall be explanatory of and supplemental to the accounts, records or memoranda prescribed by the commission.

§ 49. Depreciation Accounts.—The commission shall have power, after hearing, to require any or all public utilities to carry a proper and adequate depreciation account in accordance with such rules, regulations and forms of account as the commission may prescribe. The commission may, from time to time, ascertain and determine and by order fix the proper and adequate rates of depreciation of the several classes of property of each public utility. Each public utility shall conform its depreciation accounts to the rates so ascertained, determined and fixed, and shall set aside the moneys so provided for out of earnings and carry the same in a depreciation fund and expend such fund only for such purposes and under such rules and regulations, both as to original expenditure and subsequent replacement as the commission may prescribe. The income from investments of moneys in such fund shall likewise be carried in such fund.

§ 50. New Construction.—(a) No street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation or water corporation shall henceforth begin the construction of a street railroad, or of a line, plant or system, or of any extension of such street railroad, or line, plant, or system, without having first obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require such construction; provided, that this section shall not be construed to require any such corporation to secure such certificate for an extension within any city and county or city or town within which it shall have theretofore lawfully commenced operations, or for an extension into territory either within or without a city and county or city or town, contiguous to its street railroad, or line, plant or system, and not theretofore served by a public utility of like character, or for an extension within or to territory already served by it, necessary in the ordinary course of its business; and provided, further, that if any public utility, in constructing or extending its line, plant, or system, shall interfere or be about to interfere with the operation of the line, plant or system of any other public utility, already constructed, the commission, on complaint of the public utility claiming to be injuriously affected, may, after hearing, make such order and prescribe such terms and conditions for the location of the lines, plants or systems affected as to it may seem just and reasonable.

(b) Franchises and Privileges—Certificate of Public Convenience.—No public utility of a class specified in subsection (a) hereof shall henceforth exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or permit hereafter granted, or under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, or the exercise of which has been suspended for more than one year, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege; provided, that when the commission shall find, after hearing, that a public utility has heretofore begun actual construction work and is prosecuting such work, in good faith, uninterruptedly and with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, such public utility may proceed, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, to the completion of such work, and may, after such completion, exercise such right or privilege; and provided, further, that this section shall not be construed to validate any right or privilege now invalid or hereafter becoming invalid under any law of this State.

(c) Proceedings on Application for Certificate.—Before any certificate may issue, under this section, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation or charter, if the applicant be a corporation, shall be filed in the office of the commission. Every applicant for a certificate shall file in the office of the commission such evidence as shall be required by the commission to show that such applicant has received the required consent, franchise or permit of the proper county, city and county, municipal or other public authority. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate, as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated street railroad, line, plant or system, or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of said right or privilege, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issue of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter, upon application, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, issue the desired certificate, upon such terms and conditions as it may designate, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. Upon the presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise or permit has been secured by such public utility, the commission shall thereupon issue such certificate.

§ 51. Transfer of Property, Franchises, etc.—(a) No railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation or water corporation shall henceforth sell, lease, assign, mortgage or otherwise dispose of or encumber the whole or any part of its railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, or any franchise or permit or any right thereunder, nor by any means whatsoever, direct or indirect, merge or consolidate its railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, or franchises or permits or any part thereof, with any other public utility, without having first secured from the commission an order authorizing it so to do. Every such sale, lease, assignment, mortgage, disposition, encumbrance, merger or consolidation made other than in accordance with the order of the commission authorizing the same shall be void. The permission and approval of the commission to the exercise of a franchise or permit under section 50 of this act, or the sale, lease, assignment, mortgage or other disposition or encumbrance of a franchise or permit under this section shall not be construed to revive or validate any lapsed or invalid franchise or permit, or to enlarge or add to the powers or privileges contained in the grant of any franchise or permit, or to waive any forfeiture. Nothing in this subsection contained shall be construed to prevent the sale, lease or other disposition by any public utility of a class designated in this subsection of property which is not necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, and any sale of its property by such public utility shall be conclusively presumed to have been of property which is not useful or necessary in the performance of its duties to the public, as to any purchaser of such property in good faith for value.

(b) Acquisition and Transfer of Stock.—No public utility shall hereafter purchase or acquire, take or hold, any part of the capital stock of any other public utility, organized or existing under or by virtue of the laws of this State, without having been first authorized to do so by the commission. Every assignment, transfer, contract or agreement for assignment or transfer of any stock by or through any person or corporation to any corporation or otherwise in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be void and of no effect, and no such transfer shall be made on the books of any public utility. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the holding of stock heretofore lawfully acquired.

§ 52. Approval of Stocks and Stock Certificates, and Bonds, Notes and Other Evidence of Indebtedness.—(a) The power of public utilities to issue stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness and to create liens on their property situated within this State is a special privilege, the right of supervision, regulation, restriction and control of which is and shall continue to be vested in the State, and such power shall be exercised as provided by law and under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe.

(b) Conditions of Issue of Stock, Bonds and Notes.—A public utility may issue stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness payable at periods of more than twelve months after the date thereof, for the following purposes and no others, namely, for the acquisition of property, or for the construction, completion, extension or improvement of its facilities, or for the improvement or maintenance of its service, or for the discharge or lawful refunding of its obligations, or for the reimbursement of moneys actually expended from income or from any other moneys in the treasury of the public utility not secured by or obtained from the issue of stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of such public utility, within five years next prior to the filing of an application with the commission for the required authorization, for any of the aforesaid purposes except maintenance of service and replacements, in cases where the applicant shall have kept its accounts and vouchers for such expenditures in such manner as to enable the commission to ascertain the amount of moneys so expended and the purposes for which such expenditure was made; provided, that such public utility, in addition to the other requirements of law, shall first have secured from the commission an order authorizing such issue and stating the amount thereof and the purpose or purposes to which the issue or the proceeds thereof are to be applied, and that, in the opinion of the commission, the money, property or labor to be procured or paid for by such issue is reasonably required for the purpose or purposes specified in the order, and that, except as otherwise permitted in the order in the case of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, such purpose or purposes are not, in whole or in part, reasonably chargeable to operating expenses or to income. To enable it to determine whether it will issue such order, the commission shall hold a hearing and may make such additional inquiry or investigation, and examine such witnesses, books, papers, documents and contracts and require the filing of such data as it may deem of assistance. The commission may by its order grant permission for the issue of such stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness in the amount applied for, or in a lesser amount, or not at all, and may attach to the exercise of its permission such condition or conditions as it may deem reasonable and necessary. The commission may authorize issues of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, less than, equivalent to or greater than the authorized or subscribed capital stock of a public utility corporation, and the provisions of sections 309 and 456 of the Civil Code of this State, in so far as they contain inhibitions against the creation by corporations of indebtedness, evidenced by bonds, notes or otherwise, in excess of their total authorized or subscribed capital stock shall have no application to public utility corporations. No public utility shall, without the consent of the commission, apply the issue of any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or any part thereof, or any proceeds thereof, to any purpose not specified in the commission's order, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount authorized for such purpose, or issue or dispose of the same on any terms less favorable than those specified in such order, or a modification thereof. A public utility may issue notes, for proper purposes and not in violation of any provision of this act or any other act, payable at periods of not more than twelve months after the date of issuance of the same, without the consent of the commission, but no such note shall, in whole or in part, be refunded by any issue of stocks or stock certificates, or of bonds, notes of any term or character or any other evidence of indebtedness, without the consent of the commission. The commission shall have no power to authorize the capitalization of the right to be a corporation, or to authorize the capitalization of any franchise or permit whatsoever or the right to own, operate or enjoy any such franchise or permit, in excess of the amount (exclusive of any tax or annual charge) actually paid to the State or to a political subdivision thereof as the consideration for the grant of such franchise, permit or right; nor shall any contract for consolidation or lease be capitalized, nor shall any public utility hereafter issue any bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness against or as a lien upon any contract for consolidation or merger.

(c) Accounting for Proceeds.—The commission shall have the power to require public utilities to account for the disposition of the proceeds of all sales of stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, in such form and detail as it may deem advisable, and to establish such rules and regulations as it may deem reasonable and necessary to insure the disposition of such proceeds for the purpose or purposes specified in its order.

(d) Unauthorized Issues.—All stock and every stock certificate, and every bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, of a public utility, issued without an order of the commission authorizing the same then in effect shall be void, and likewise all stock and every stock certificate, and every bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, of a public utility, issued with the authorization of the commission, but not conforming in its provisions to the provisions, if any, which it is required by the order of authorization of the commission to contain, shall be void; but no failure in any other respect to comply with the terms or conditions of the order of authorization of the commission shall render void any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, except as to a corporation or person taking the same otherwise than in good faith and for value and without actual notice.

(e) Penalty.—Every public utility which, directly or indirectly, issues or causes to be issued, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, in nonconformity with the order of the commission authorizing the same, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the Constitution of this state, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes specified in the commission's order, as herein provided, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount in said order authorized for such purpose, is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars for each offense.

(f) Penalty.—Every officer, agent or employee of a public utility, and every other person who knowingly authorizes, directs, aids in, issues or executes, or causes to be issued or executed, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, in nonconformity with the order of the commission authorizing the same, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the Constitution of this state, or who, in any proceeding before the commission, knowingly makes any false statement or representation or with knowledge of its falsity files or causes to be filed with the commission any false statement or representation, which said statement or representation so made, filed or caused to be filed may tend in any way to influence the commission to make an order authorizing the issue of any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or which results in procuring from the commission the making of any such order, or who, with knowledge that any false statement or representation was made to the commission, in any proceeding, tending in any way to influence the commission to make such order, issues or executes or negotiates, or causes to be issued, executed or negotiated any such stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly applies or causes or assists to be applied the proceeds or any part thereof, from the sale of any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, to any purpose not specified in the commission's order, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount authorized for such purpose, or who, with knowledge that any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, negotiates, or causes the same to be negotiated, shall be guilty of a felony.

(g) No Guaranty by State.—No provision of this act, and no deed or act done or performed under or in connection therewith, shall be held or construed to obligate the State of California to pay or guarantee, in any manner whatsoever, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, authorized, issued or executed under the provisions of this act.

(h) Unauthorized Issues Void.—All stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued by any public utility after this act takes effect, upon the authority of any articles of incorporation or amendments thereto or vote of the stockholders or directors filed, taken or had, or other proceedings taken or had, previous to the taking effect of this act, shall be void, unless an order of the commission authorizing the issue of such stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness shall have been obtained from the commission prior to such issue. The commission may by its order impose such condition or conditions as it may deem reasonable and necessary.

§ 53. Rules for Hearing—Informalities.—All hearings and investigations before the commission or any commissioner shall be governed by this act and by rules of practice and procedure to be adopted by the commission, and in the conduct thereof neither the commission nor any commissioner shall be bound by the technical rules of evidence. No informality in any proceeding or in the manner of taking testimony before the commission or any commissioner shall invalidate any order, decision, rule or regulation made, approved or confirmed by the commission.

§ 54. Powers of Commission as to Process—Service.—The commission and each commissioner shall have power to issue writs of summons, subpoenas, warrants of attachment, warrants of commitment and all necessary process in proceedings for contempt, in the like manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The process issued by the commission, or any commissioner, shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any person authorized to serve process of courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the commission or a commissioner. The person executing any such process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commission, not to exceed the fees now prescribed by law for similar services, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for payment of the fees of witnesses.

§ 55. Witnesses—Attendance and Fees.—(a) The commission and each commissioner shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, waybills, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the State. Each witness who shall appear, by order of the commission or a commissioner, shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpoenaed by the commission, his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear, and one day's attendance. If such witness demands such fees at the time of service, and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission or commissioner, as directed in the subpoena. All fees or mileage to which any witness is entitled under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable. No witness furnished with free transportation shall receive mileage for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation.

(b) Refusal to Testify.—The Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held by the commission or any commissioner shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including waybills, books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the commission or any commissioner. The commission or the commissioner before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, before the commission or commissioner, in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission. The court, upon the petition of the commission or such commissioner, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or a commissioner, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or said commissioner at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided in this subsection is cumulative, and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission or a commissioner to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record.

(c) Depositions.—The commission or any commissioner or any party may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the Superior Courts of this State and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, waybills, documents, papers and accounts.

(d) Incrimination.—No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, waybill, document, paper or account in any investigation or inquiry by or hearing before the commission or any commissioner, when ordered to do so, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, waybill, document, paper or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any fact, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall, under oath have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment from any perjury committed by him in his testimony. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner giving to any public utility immunity of any kind.

§ 56. Certified Copies of Papers Filed to be Evidence.—(a) Copies of all official documents and orders filed or deposited according to law in the office of the commission, certified by a commissioner or by the secretary or the assistant secretary under the official seal of the commission to be true copies of the originals, shall be evidence in like manner as the originals.

(b) Recording Copies.—Every order, authorization or certificate issued or approved by the commission under any provision of sections 38, 39, 40, 41, 43, 50, 51, or 52 of this act shall be in writing and entered on the records of the commission. Any such order, authorization or certificate, or a copy thereof, or a copy of the record of any such order, authorization or certificate, certified by a commissioner or by the secretary or the assistant secretary under the official seal of the commission to be a true copy of the original order, authorization, certificate or entry, may be recorded in the office of the recorder of any county, or city and county, in which is located the principal place of business of any public utility affected thereby, or in which is situated any property of any such public utility, and such record shall impart notice of its provisions to all persons. A certificate under the seal of the commission that any such order, authorization or certificate has not been modified, stayed, suspended or revoked may also be recorded in the same offices in the same manner and with like effect.

§ 57. Fees.—The commission shall charge and collect the following fees: for copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commission, ten cents for each folio; for certified copies of official documents and orders filed in its office, fifteen cents for each folio and one dollar for every certificate under seal affixed thereto; for certifying a copy of any report made by a public utility, two dollars; for each certified copy of the annual report of the commission, one dollar and fifty cents; for certified copies of evidence and proceedings before the commission, fifteen cents for each folio; for certificate authorizing an issue of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, one dollar for each thousand dollars of the face value of the authorized issue or fraction thereof up to one million dollars, and fifty cents for each one thousand dollars over one million dollars and up to ten million dollars, and twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars over ten million dollars, with a minimum fee in any case of twenty-five dollars; provided, that no fee need be paid on such portion of any such issue as may be used to guarantee, take over, refund, discharge or retire any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness on which a fee has theretofore been paid to the commission; and provided, further, that if the commission modifies the amount of the issue requested in any case and the applicant thereupon elects not to avail itself of the commission's authorization, no fee need be paid. No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records or official documents, furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity, or for the annual reports of the commission in the ordinary course of distribution, but the commission may fix reasonable charges for publications issued under its authority. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the State to the credit of a fund to be known as the "Railroad Commission Fund," which fund is hereby created.

§ 58. Inspection of Books, Papers and Documents.—The commission, each commissioner and each officer and person employed by the commission shall have the right, at any and all times, to inspect the accounts, books, papers and documents of any public utility, and the commission, each commissioner and any officer of the commission or any employee authorized to administer oaths shall have power to examine under oath any officer, agent or employee of such public utility in relation to the business and affairs of said public utility; provided, that any person other than a commissioner or an officer of the commission demanding such inspection shall produce under the hand and seal of the commission his authority to make such inspection; and provided, further, that written record of the testimony or statement so given under oath shall be made and filed with the commission.

§ 59. Office, Books and Records Within the State.—(a) Each public utility shall have an office in a county of this State in which its property or some portion thereof is located and shall keep in said office all such books, accounts, papers and records as shall be required by the commission to be kept within this State. No books, accounts, papers or records required by the commission to be kept within this State shall be at any time removed from the State except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the commission.

(b) Production of Books and Records Kept Outside the State.—The commission may require, by order served on any public utility in the manner provided herein for the service of orders, the production within this State at such time and place as it may designate, of any books, accounts, papers or records kept by said public utility in any office or place without this State, or, at its option, verified copies in lieu thereof, so that an examination thereof may be made by the commission or under its direction.

§ 60. Complaints.—Complaint may be made by the commission of its own motion or by any corporation or person, chamber of commerce, board of trade, or any civic, commercial, mercantile, traffic, agricultural or manufacturing association or organization or any body politic or municipal corporation, by petition or complaint in writing, setting forth any act or thing done or omitted to be done by any public utility including any rule, regulation or charge heretofore established or fixed by or for any public utility, in violation, or claimed to be in violation, of any provision of law or of any order or rule of the commission; provided, that no complaint shall be entertained by the commission, except upon its own motion, as to the reasonableness of any rates or charges of any gas, electrical, water or telephone corporation, unless the same be signed by the mayor or the president or chairman of the board of trustees or a majority of the council, commission, or other legislative body of the city and county, or city or town, if any, within which the alleged violation occurred, or not less than twenty-five consumers or purchasers or prospective consumers or purchasers, of such gas, electricity, water or telephone service. All matters upon which complaint may be founded may be joined in one hearing, and no motion shall be entertained against a complaint for misjoinder of causes of action or grievances or misjoinder or nonjoinder of parties; and in any review by the courts of orders or decisions of the commission the same rule shall apply with regard to the joinder of causes and parties as herein provided. The commission shall not be required to dismiss any complaint because of the absence of direct damage to the complainant. Upon the filing of a complaint, the commission shall cause a copy thereof to be served upon the corporation or person complained of. Service in all hearings, investigations and proceedings pending before the commission may be made upon any person upon whom a summons may be served in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State, and may be made personally or by mailing in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid. The commission shall fix the time when and place where a hearing will be had upon the complaint and shall serve notice thereof, not less than ten days before the time set for such hearing, unless the commission shall find that public necessity requires that such hearing be held at an earlier date.

§ 61. Hearings, Orders and Record—Recovery on Decision.—(a) At the time fixed for any hearing before the commission or a commissioner, or the time to which the same may have been continued, the complainant and the corporation or person complained of, and such corporations or persons as the commission may allow to intervene, shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence. The commission shall issue process to enforce the attendance of all necessary witnesses. After the conclusion of the hearing, the commission shall make and file its order, containing its decision. A copy of such order, certified under the seal of the commission, shall be served upon the corporation or person complained of, or his or its attorney. Said order shall, of its own force, take effect and become operative twenty days after the service thereof, except as otherwise provided, and shall continue in force either for a period which may be designated therein or until changed or abrogated by the commission. If an order cannot, in the judgment of the commission, be complied with within twenty days, the commission may grant and prescribe such additional time as in its judgment is reasonably necessary to comply with the order, and may on application and for good cause shown, extend the time for compliance fixed in its order. A full and complete record of all proceedings had before the commission or any commissioner on any formal hearing had, and all testimony shall be taken down by a reporter appointed by the commission, and the parties shall be entitled to be heard in person or by attorney. In case of an action to review any order or decision of the commission, a transcript of such testimony, together with all exhibits or copies thereof introduced and all information secured by the commission on its own initiative and considered by it in rendering its order or decision, and of the pleadings, record and proceedings in the cause, shall constitute the record of the commission; provided, that on review of an order or decision of the commission, the petitioner and the commission may stipulate that a certain question or questions alone and a specified portion only of the evidence shall be certified to the supreme court for its judgment, whereupon such stipulation and the question or questions and the evidence therein specified shall constitute the record on review.

§ 62. Public Utility may Complain.—Any public utility shall have a right to complain on any of the grounds upon which complaints are allowed to be filed by other parties, and the same procedure shall be adopted and followed as in other cases, except that the complaint may be heard ex parte by the commission or may be served upon any parties designated by the commission.

§ 63. Increases in Rates.—(a) No public utility shall raise any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge or so alter any classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation as to result in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon a showing before the commission and a finding by the commission that such increase is justified.

(b) Hearing and Suspension of Rates.—Whenever there shall be filed with the commission any schedule stating an individual or joint rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, not increasing or resulting in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge, the commission shall have power, and it is hereby given authority, either upon complaint or upon its own initiative without complaint, at once, and if it so orders, without answer or other formal pleadings by the interested public utility or utilities, but upon reasonable notice, to enter upon a hearing concerning the propriety of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, and pending the hearing and the decision thereon such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation shall not go into effect; provided, that the period of suspension of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation shall not extend beyond one hundred and twenty days beyond the time when such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation would otherwise go into effect unless the commission, in its discretion, extends the period of suspension for a further period not exceeding six months. On such hearing the commission shall establish the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules or regulations proposed, in whole or in part, or others in lieu thereof, which it shall find to be just and reasonable. All such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules and regulations not so suspended shall, on the expiration of thirty days from the time of filing the same with the commission, or of such lesser time as the commission may grant, go into effect and be the established and effective rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules and regulations, subject to the power of the commission, after a hearing had on its own motion or upon complaint, as herein provided, to alter or modify the same.

§ 64. Commission may Change Orders and Decisions.—The commission may at any time, upon notice to the public utility affected, and after opportunity to be heard as provided in the case of complaints, rescind, alter or amend any order or decision made by it. Any order rescinding, altering or amending a prior order or decision shall, when served upon the public utility affected, have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders or decisions.

§ 65. Orders and Decisions Conclusive in Collateral Proceedings.—In all collateral actions or proceedings, the orders and decisions of the commission which have become final shall be conclusive.

§ 66. Rehearings.—After any order or decision has been made by the commission, any party to the action or proceeding, or any stockholder or bondholder or other party pecuniarily interested in the public utility affected, may apply for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined in said action or proceeding and specified in the application for rehearing, and the commission may grant and hold such rehearing on said matters, if in its judgment sufficient reason therefor be made to appear. No cause of action arising out of any order or decision of the commission shall accrue in any court to any corporation or person unless such corporation or person shall have made, before the effective date of said order or decision, application to the commission for a rehearing. Such application shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the applicant considers said decision or order to be unlawful. No corporation or person shall in any court urge or rely on any ground not so set forth in said application. Any application for a rehearing made ten days or more before the effective date of the order as to which a rehearing is sought, shall be either granted or denied before such effective date, or the order shall stand suspended until such application is granted or denied. Any application for a rehearing made within less than ten days before the effective date of the order as to which a rehearing is sought, and not granted within twenty days, may be taken by the party making the application to be denied, unless the effective date of the order is extended for the period of the pendency of the application. If any application for a rehearing be granted without a suspension of the order involved, the commission shall forthwith proceed to hear the matter with all dispatch and shall determine the same within twenty days after final submission, and if such determination is not made within said time, it may be taken by any party to the rehearing that the order involved is affirmed. An application for rehearing shall not excuse any corporation or person from complying with and obeying any order or decision, or any requirement of any order or decision of the commission theretofore made, or operate in any manner to stay or postpone the enforcement thereof, except in such cases and upon such terms as the commission may by order direct. If, after such rehearing and a consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order or decision, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order or decision or any part thereof is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order or decision made after such rehearing abrogating, changing or modifying the original order or decision shall have the same force and effect as an original order or decision, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order or decision unless so ordered by the commission.

§ 67. Review.—Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, then within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on rehearing, the applicant may apply to the Supreme Court of this State for a writ of certiorari or review (hereinafter referred to as a writ of review) for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order or decision or the order or decision on rehearing inquired into and determined. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day, the cause shall be heard by the Supreme Court, unless for a good reason shown the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in the Supreme Court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether the commission has regularly pursued its authority, including a determination of whether the order or decision under review violates any right of the petitioner under the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be final and shall not be subject to review; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission on reasonableness and discrimination. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the Supreme Court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order or decision of the commission. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with the provisions of this act, apply to proceedings instituted in the Supreme Court under the provisions of this section. No court of this State (except the Supreme Court to the extent herein specified) shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order or decision of the commission or to suspend or delay the execution or operation thereof, or to enjoin, restrain or interfere with the commission in the performance of its official duties; provided, that the writ of mandamus shall lie from the Supreme Court to the commission in all proper cases.

§ 68. Suspension of Commission's Orders.—(a) The pendency of a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order or decision of the commission, but during the pendency of such writ, the Supreme Court in its discretion may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order or decision.

(b) Notice and Hearing.—No order so staying or suspending an order or decision of the commission shall be made by the Supreme Court otherwise than upon three days' notice and after hearing, and if the order or decision of the commission is suspended, the order suspending the same shall contain a specific finding based upon evidence submitted to the court and identified by reference thereto, that great or irreparable damage would otherwise result to the petitioner and specifying the nature of the damage.

(c) Suspending Bond.—In case the order or decision of the commission is stayed or suspended, the order of the court shall not become effective until a suspending bond shall first have been executed and filed with, and approved by the commission (or approved, on review, by the Supreme Court), payable to the people of the State of California, and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment, by the party petitioning for the review, of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order or decision of the commission, and of all moneys which any person or corporation may be compelled to pay, pending the review proceedings, for transportation, transmission, product, commodity or service in excess of the charges fixed by the order or decision of the commission, in case said order or decision is sustained. The Supreme Court, in case it stays or suspends the order or decision of the commission in any matter affecting rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or classifications, shall also by order direct the public utility affected to pay into court, from time to time, there to be impounded until the final decision of the case, or into some bank or trust company paying interest on deposits, under such conditions as the court may prescribe, all sums of money which it may collect from any corporation or person in excess of the sum such corporation or person would have been compelled to pay if the order or decision of the commission had not been stayed or suspended.

(d) Accounting for Overcharges Pending Review.—In case the Supreme Court stays or suspends any order or decision lowering any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, the commission, upon the execution and approval of said suspending bond, shall forthwith require the public utility affected, under penalty of the immediate enforcement of the order or decision of the commission (pending the review and notwithstanding the suspending order), to keep such accounts, verified by oath, as may, in the judgment of the commission, suffice to show the amounts being charged or received by such public utility, pending the review, in excess of the charges allowed by the order or decision of the commission, together with the names and addresses of the corporations or persons to whom overcharges will be refundable in case the charges made by the public utility, pending the review, be not sustained by the Supreme Court. The court may, from time to time, require said party petitioning for a review to give additional security on, or to increase the said suspending bond, whenever in the opinion of the court the same may be necessary to insure the prompt payment of said damages and said overcharges. Upon the final decision by the Supreme Court, all moneys which the public utility may have collected, pending the appeal in excess of those authorized by such final decision, together with interest, in case the court ordered the deposit of such moneys in a bank or trust company, shall be promptly paid to the corporations or persons entitled thereto, in such manner and through such methods of distribution as may be prescribed by the commission. If any such moneys shall not have been claimed by the corporations or persons entitled thereto within one year from the final decision of the Supreme Court, the commission shall cause notice to such corporations or persons to be given by publication, once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the city and county of San Francisco, and such other newspaper or newspapers as may be designated by the commission, said notice to state the names of the corporations or persons entitled to such moneys and the amount due each corporation or person. All moneys not claimed within three months after the publication of said notice shall be paid by the public utility, under the direction of the commission, into the State treasury for the benefit of the general fund.

§ 69. Court Proceedings—Preference.—All actions and proceedings under this act, and all actions or proceedings to which the commission or the people of the State of California may be parties, and in which any question arises under this act, or under or concerning any order or decision of the commission, shall be preferred over all other civil causes except election causes and shall be heard and determined in preference to all other civil business except election causes, irrespective of position on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application of the attorney of the commission in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

§ 70. Physical Valuation—Procedure.—For the purpose of ascertaining the matters and things specified in section 47 of this act, concerning the value of the property of public utilities, the commission may cause a hearing or hearings to be held at such time or times and place or places as the commission may designate. Before any hearing is had, the commission shall give the public utility affected thereby at least thirty days' written notice, specifying the time and place of such hearing, and such notice shall be sufficient to authorize the commission to inquire into the matters designated in this section and in said section 47 of this act, but this provision shall not prevent the commission from making any preliminary examination or investigation into the matters herein referred to, or from inquiring into such matters in any other investigation or hearing. All public utilities affected shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence at such hearing or hearings. The commission is empowered to resort to any other source of information available. The evidence introduced at such hearing shall be reduced to writing and certified under the seal of the commission. The commission shall make and file its findings of fact in writing upon all matters concerning which evidence shall have been introduced before it which in its judgment have bearing on the value of the property of the public utility affected. Such findings shall be subject to review by the Supreme Court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. The findings of the commission so made and filed, when properly certified under the seal of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any action, proceeding or hearing before the commission or any court, in which the commission, the State or any officer, department or institution thereof, or any county, city and county, municipality or other body politic and the public utility affected may be interested whether arising under the provisions of this act, or otherwise, and such findings, when so introduced, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as of the date therein stated under conditions then existing, and such facts can only be controverted by showing a subsequent change in conditions bearing upon the facts therein determined. The commission may from time to time cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making revaluations or ascertaining the value of any betterments, improvements, additions or extensions made by any public utility subsequent to any prior hearing or investigation, and may examine into all matters which may change, modify or affect any finding of fact previously made, and may at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearings shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner, and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as is provided herein for such original notice, hearing and findings; provided, that such findings made at such supplemental hearings or investigations shall be considered in connection with and as a part of the original findings except in so far as such supplemental findings shall change or modify the findings made at the original hearing or investigation.

§ 71. Excessive or Discriminatory Charges — Reparation.—(a) When complaint has been made to the commission concerning any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge for any product or commodity furnished or service performed by any public utility, and the commission has found, after investigation, that the public utility has charged an excessive or discriminatory amount for such product, commodity or service, the commission may order that the public utility make due reparation to the complainant therefor, with interest from the date of collection; provided, no discrimination will result from such reparation.

(b) Compliance With Reparation Order.—If the public utility does not comply with the order for the payment of reparation within the time specified in such order, suit may be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the same. All complaints concerning excessive or discriminatory charges shall be filed with the commission within two years from the time the cause of action accrues, and the petition for the enforcement of the order shall be filed in the court within one year from the date of the order of the commission. The remedy in this section provided shall be cumulative and in addition to any other remedy or remedies in this act provided in case of failure of a public utility to obey an order or decision of the commission.

§ 72. Commission shall Enforce Laws.—It is hereby made the duty of the commission to see that the provisions of the Constitution and statutes of this State affecting public utilities, the enforcement of which is not specifically vested in some other officer or tribunal, are enforced and obeyed, and that violations thereof are promptly prosecuted and penalties due the State therefor recovered and collected, and to this end it may sue in the name of the people of the State of California. Upon the request of the commission, it shall be the duty of the attorney general or the district attorney of the proper county or city and county to aid in any investigation, hearing or trial had under the provisions of this act, and to institute and prosecute actions or proceedings for the enforcement of the provisions of the Constitution and statutes of this State affecting public utilities and for the punishment of all violations thereof.

§ 73. Public Utilities Liable for Damages.—(a) In case any public utility shall do, cause to be done or permit to be done any act, matter or thing prohibited, forbidden or declared to be unlawful, or shall omit to do any act, matter or thing required to be done, either by the Constitution, any law of this State or any order or decision of the commission, such public utility shall be liable to the persons or corporations affected thereby for all loss, damages or injury caused thereby or resulting therefrom, and if the court shall find that the act or omission was willful, the court may in addition to the actual damages award damages for the sake of example and by way of punishment. An action to recover for such loss, damage or injury may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction by any corporation or person.

(b) No recovery as in this section provided shall in any manner effect a recovery by the State of the penalties in this act provided or the exercise by the commission of its power to punish for contempt.

§ 74. Effect of Act on Release of Damages.—(a) This act shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the State, the commission, or any person or corporation for any right, penalty or forfeiture which may have arisen or accrued or may hereafter arise or accrue under any law of this State.

(b) Penalties Cumulative.—All penalties accruing under this act shall be cumulative of each other, and a suit for the recovery of one penalty shall not be a bar to or affect the recovery of any other penalty or forfeiture or be a bar to any criminal prosecution against any public utility, or any officer, director, agent or employee thereof, or any other corporation or person, or be a bar to the exercise by the commission of its power to punish for contempt.

§ 75. Summary Proceedings.—Whenever the commission shall be of the opinion that any public utility is failing or omitting or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law, or by any order, decision, rule, direction or requirement of the commission, or is doing anything or about to do anything, or permitting anything or about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of law or of any order, decision, rule, direction or requirement of the commission, it shall direct the attorney of the commission to commence an action or proceeding in the Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the cause or some part thereof arose, or in which the corporation complained of, if any, has its principal place of business, or in which the person, if any, complained of, resides, in the name of the people of the State of California, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney of the commission shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such Superior Court, alleging the violation or threatened violation complained of, and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public utility complained of must answer the petition, and in the meantime said public utility may be restrained. In case of default in answer, or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances of the case. Such corporations or persons as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction issue or be made permanent as prayed for in the petition, or in such modified or other form as will afford appropriate relief. An appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court from such final judgment in the same manner and with the same effect, subject to the provisions of this act, as appeals are taken from judgments of the Superior Court in other actions for mandamus or injunction.

§ 76. Penalties, Violations by Public Utilities.—(a) Any public utility which violates or fails to comply with any provision of the Constitution of this State or of this act, or which fails, omits or neglects to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, decree, rule, direction, demand or requirement or any part or provision thereof, of the commission, in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such public utility, is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars for each and every offense.

(b) Each Day a Separate Offense.—Every violation of the provisions of this act or of any order, decision, decree, rule, direction, demand or requirement of the commission, or any part or portion thereof by any corporation or person is a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation each day's continuance thereof shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense.

(c) Act of Officer is Act of the Public Utility.—In construing and enforcing the provisions of this act relating to penalties, the act, omission or failure of any officer, agent or employee of any public utility, acting within the scope of his official duties or employment, shall in every case be and be deemed to be the act, omission or failure of such public utility.

§ 77. Penalties, Violations by Officers, Agents or Employees of Public Utilities.—Every officer, agent or employee of any public utility, who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets any violation of any public utility of any provision of the Constitution of this State or of this act, or who fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement or any part or provision thereof, of the commission, or who procures, aids or abets any public utility in its failure to obey, observe and comply with any such order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such officer, agent or employee, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 78. Penalties, Violations by Corporations Other Than Public Utilities.—Every corporation, other than a public utility, which violates any provision of this act, or which fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commission, in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such corporation, is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars for each and every offense.

§ 79. Penalties, Violations by Persons Other Than Officers, etc., of Public Utilities.—Every person who, either individually, or acting as an officer, agent or employee of a corporation other than a public utility, violates any provision of this act, or fails to obey, obey or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or portion thereof, of the commission, or who procures, aids or abets any such public utility in its violation of this act, or in its failure to obey, observe or comply with any such order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or portion thereof, in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such person, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 80. Suits for Penalties.—Actions to recover penalties under this act shall be brought in the name of the people of the State of California, in the Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the cause or some part thereof arose, or in which the corporation complained of, if any, has its principal place of business, or in which the person, if any, complained of, resides. Such action shall be commenced and prosecuted to final judgment by the attorney of the commission. In any such action, all penalties incurred up to the time of commencing the same may be sued for and recovered. In all such actions, the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as in ordinary civil actions, except as otherwise herein provided. All fines and penalties recovered by the State in any such action, together with the costs thereof, shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of the general fund. Any such action may be compromised or discontinued on application of the commission upon such terms as the court shall approve and order.

§ 81. Contempt Proceedings.—Every public utility, corporation or person which shall fail to observe, obey or comply with any order, decision, rule, regulation, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or portion thereof, of the commission or any commissioner shall be in contempt of the commission, and shall be punishable by the commission for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as contempt is punished by courts of record. The remedy prescribed in this section shall not be a bar to or affect any other remedy prescribed in this act, but shall be cumulative and in addition to such other remedy or remedies.

§ 82. Effect of Act on Existing Powers of Any City and County, or Incorporated City or Town.—This act shall not affect such powers of control over any public utility vested in any city and county or incorporated city or town as, at an election to be held pursuant to laws to be hereafter passed by the legislature, a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon of such city and county, or incorporated city or town, shall vote to retain, and until such election such powers shall continue unimpaired in such city and county or incorporated city or town; but if the vote so taken shall not favor the continuation of such powers, they shall thereafter vest in the commission; provided, that where any such city and county or incorporated city or town shall have elected to continue any powers respecting public utilities, it may, by a vote of a majority of its qualified electors voting thereon, thereafter surrender such powers to the commission in the manner to be prescribed by the legislature; or if such municipal corporation shall have surrendered any powers to the commission, it may, by like vote, thereafter reinvest itself with such power.

§ 83. Effect of Act on Pending Actions and Proceedings.—(a) This act shall not affect pending actions or proceedings brought by or against the people of the State of California or the commission, or by any other person or corporation under the provisions of chapters 20 or 386 of the Laws of 1911, but the same may be prosecuted and defended with the same effect as though this act had not been passed. Any investigation, hearing, or examination undertaken, commenced, instituted or prosecuted prior to the taking effect of this act may be conducted and continued to a final determination in the same manner and with the same effect as if it had been undertaken, commenced, instituted or prosecuted in accordance with the provisions of this act. All proceedings hitherto taken by the commission in any such investigation, hearing or examination are hereby ratified, approved, validated and confirmed and all such proceedings shall have the same force and effect as if they had been undertaken, commenced, instituted, and prosecuted under the provisions of this act and in the manner herein prescribed.

(b) No Cause of Action to Abate.—No cause of action arising under the provisions of chapters 20 or 386 of the Laws of 1911 shall abate by reason of the passage of this act, whether a suit or action has been instituted thereon at the time of the taking effect of this act or not, but actions may be brought upon such causes in the same manner, under the same terms and conditions, and with the same effect as though said chapters had not been repealed.

(c) Rules Continued in Force.—All orders, decisions, rules or regulations heretofore made, issued or promulgated by the commission shall continue in force and have the same effect as though they had been lawfully made, issued or promulgated under the provisions of this act.

(d) Construction.—This act, in so far as it embraces the same subject matter, shall be construed as a continuation of chapter 20 of the Laws of 1911, approved February 10, 1911, and chapter 386 of the Laws of 1911, approved April 6, 1911.

§ 84. Constitutionality.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 85. Interstate Commerce.—Neither this act nor any provision thereof, except when specifically so stated, shall apply or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations or commerce among the several States of this Union, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress.

§ 86. Appropriation.—All moneys which are paid into the State treasury by the commission under the provisions of section 57 of this act, and credited to the railroad commission fund, are hereby appropriated, to be used by the commission in carrying out the provisions of this act, and the controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commission for the amounts expended under its direction, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

§ 87. Repeal.—The railroad commission act, approved February 10, 1911, and the act entitled "An act to amend the railroad commission act by amending section fifteen thereof relating to powers and duties of the railroad commission of the State of California, and to amend section thirty-seven thereof relating to free and reduced-rate transportation for freight and passengers," approved April 6, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 88. Time of Effect.—This act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature.

WATER COMPANIES ACT.

(Approved April 30, 1913.)

- § 1. A public utility subject to control by railroad commission.
- § 2. Mutual company not a public utility.
- § 3. When a mutual company becomes a public utility.
- § 4. Regulation of utility.
- § 5. Limiting sale of water.
- § 6. Powers of railroad commission.
- § 7. Defining language of section 1.

§ 1. A Public Utility Subject to Control by Railroad Commission.—Whenever any person, firm or private corporation, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any water system within this State, sells, leases, rents or delivers water to any person, firm, private corporation, municipality or any other political subdivision of the State whatsoever, except as limited by section 2 hereof, whether under contract or otherwise, such person, firm or private corporation is a public utility, and subject to the provisions of the public utilities act of this State and the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the State of California.

§ 2. Mutual Company not a Public Utility.—Whenever any private corporation or association is organized for the purpose solely of delivering water to its stockholders or members at cost, and delivers water to no one except its stockholders or members at cost, such private corporation or association is not a public utility, and is not subject to the jurisdiction, control or regulation of the railroad commission of the State of California.

§ 3. When a Mutual Company Becomes a Public Utility.—Whenever any private corporation or association organized for the purpose of delivering water solely to its stockholders or members at cost does deliver water to others than its stockholders or members for compensation, such private corporation or association becomes a public utility and subject to the terms of the public utilities act and the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the State of California.

§ 4. Regulation of Utility.—Whenever any private corporation or association is organized both for the purpose of delivering water to its stockholders or members at cost and to persons, firms, corporations, municipalities or other political subdivisions of the State in addition thereto, such private corporation or association is a public utility and subject to the provisions of the public utilities act and to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the State of California.

§ 5. Limiting Sale of Water.—Whenever the railroad commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that any water company which is a public utility operating within this State has reached the limit of its capacity to supply water and that no further consumers of water can be supplied from the system of such utility without injuriously withdrawing the supply wholly or in part from those who have theretofore been supplied by such corporation, the railroad commission may order and require that no such corporation shall furnish water to any new or additional consumers until such order is vacated or modified by the said commission. The commission shall likewise have the power after hearing upon its own motion or upon complaint, to require any such water company to allow additional consumers to be served when it shall appear that to supply such additional consumers will not injuriously withdraw the supply wholly or in part from those who theretofore had been supplied by such public utility.

§ 6. Powers of Railroad Commission.—The railroad commission shall have the power to require any and all water corporations to file with the commission a statement in writing defining and describing the lands and territory to be supplied by such corporation with water, and when such territory is described and defined in the articles of incorporation of any such corporation or in the places of designated use in the notices of appropriation under which the rights of such corporation to appropriated water are initiated in accordance with section 1415 of the Civil Code, and it shall appear either from said statement filed by such water corporation or from said articles of incorporation or said notices of appropriation that such water corporation has undertaken to supply more consumers or a greater number of acres than it can adequately supply, the commission may require such corporation to limit the number of consumers or acres of land which it has undertaken to supply or which is set out in its articles of incorporation or notices of appropriation to such a limited number of consumers or acres of land as the commission shall find, after hearing, such water corporation may adequately supply. This provision does not apply to territory or consumers which have once been served by said corporation, and as between consumers who have been voluntarily admitted to participate by the corporation in its supply of water or been required to be supplied by an order of the railroad commission, in times of shortage there shall be no priority or preference, and such corporation in times of shortage shall be required to apportion such supply ratably among its consumers.

§ 7. Defining Language of Section 1.—The language in section 1 of this act “whether under contract or otherwise” shall not be construed as authorizing a contract by a person or corporation defined herein as a public utility which shall in anywise deprive the State or the railroad commission or other competent authority of power to regulate the rates and service of any such public utility.

FULL CREW ACT.

(Approved May 27, 1913.)

- § 1. Title of act, full crew on all trains—Passenger trains.
- § 2. Main crew—Freight trains.
- § 3. Wrecking train crew.
- § 4. Previous service of employees.

- § 7. Gasoline and electric train crews.

§ 1. Title of Act, Full Crew on All Trains—Passenger Trains.—It shall be unlawful for any common carrier by railroad in the State of California operating more than four trains each way per day of twenty-four hours on any main track or branch line of railroad within this State to run or permit to be run, any passenger, mail or express train propelled or drawn by steam, electricity or other motive power that has not at least the following named employees thereon: one engineer, and one fireman for each steam locomotive where such train is propelled or drawn by steam, one electric motorman for each train where such train is propelled or run by electricity, and one motor or power control man for every train where said train is propelled by other motive power than steam or electricity, one conductor, one brakeman, one baggageman; provided, that upon any such train upon which baggage is not hauled and on gasoline motor cars, a baggageman need not be employed; provided, further, that on any such train where four cars exclusive of railroad officers' private cars, or more than four cars are hauled, exclusive of railroad officers' private cars, two brakemen instead of one shall be employed.

§ 2. Main Crew—Freight Trains.—It shall be unlawful for any common carrier by railroad in the State of California operating more than four trains each way per day of twenty-four hours on any main track or branch line of railroad within this state to run or permit to be run on any main track or branch line operating by it any freight or work train propelled by steam, electricity, or other motive power that has not at least the following employees thereon: one engineer and one fireman for each steam locomotive where such train is propelled or drawn by steam, one motorman for each train where such train is propelled or run by electricity, and one motor or power control man for every train where such train is propelled by motive power other than steam or electricity, one conductor and two brakemen; provided, that on any such train running on any track which attains a grade of one per cent or less than one per cent, for a distance of more than one-half mile, there shall be three brakemen for fifty cars, four brakemen for seventy-six cars and an additional brakeman for every additional twenty-five cars; provided, further, that on any such train running on any track which attains a grade of more than one per cent and less than one and one-half per cent, for a distance of more than one-half mile, there shall be three brakemen for fifty cars, and an additional brakeman for every twenty-five cars or fraction of twenty-five greater than twelve cars; provided, further, that any such train running on a track which attains a grade of more than one and one-half per cent, for a distance of more than one-half mile, there shall be three brakemen for fifty cars and an additional brakeman for every fifteen cars or fraction of fifteen greater than seven cars.

§ 3. Wrecking Train Crew.—It shall be unlawful for any common carrier by railroad in the State of California operating more than four trains each way per day of twenty-four hours on any main track or branch line of railroad within this State, to run or permit to be run any train propelled or drawn by steam, electricity or other motive power other than those trains described in sections 1 and 2 of this act that have not at least the following named employees thereon: one engineer and one fireman for each steam locomotive where such train is propelled by steam, one motorman for every train where such train is propelled or drawn by electricity and one motor or power control man for each train propelled by other motive power than steam or electricity, one conductor and one brakeman; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall apply to a locomotive or locomotives without cars; nor to any relief or wrecking train in any case where a sufficient number of employees to comply with this section are not available for service on such relief or wrecking train.

§ 4. Previous Service of Employees.—It shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to employ any person as a steam locomotive engineer who shall not have had at least three years' actual service as a steam locomotive fireman or one year's actual service as a steam locomotive engineer, or to employ any person as a conductor who shall not have had at least two years' actual service as a railroad brakeman on steam or electric railroad other than street railway, or one year's actual service as a railroad conductor, or to employ any person as a brakeman who shall not have passed the regular examination required by transcontinental railroads; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall apply to the running or operating of locomotives or motor power cars to and from trains at terminals by hostlers or to the running or operating of steam locomotives or motive power cars to and from engine-houses or to the doing of work on steam locomotives or motive power cars at shops or engine-houses.

§ 5. Violations—Misdemeanor.—Any violation of this act shall be a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 6. Train Crews During Strikes or Walkouts.—Nothing in this act contained shall apply to the operation of any train by said common carrier during times of strikes or walkouts, participated in by any of the hereinbefore mentioned employees of such common carriers.

§ 7. Gasoline and Electric Train Crews.—Nothing contained in this act shall be construed or be held to apply to gasoline motor cars operated exclusively on branch lines nor to trains of less than three cars propelled by electricity.

HEADLIGHT ACT.

(Approved June 4, 1913.)

- § 1. Time in which headlights must be installed.
- § 2. Penalty for violation of act.
- § 3. Repeal.

§ 1. Time in Which Headlights must be Installed.—It shall be the duty of every railroad corporation, or receiver or lessee thereof, operating any line of railroad in this state, within six months after the passing of this act, or within such additional time as may be prescribed by order of the railroad commission of California, after such railroad has made a proper showing of its inability to comply therewith, to equip all locomotive engines, used in the transportation of trains over said railroad, with electric or other headlights which will project sufficient light to enable the locomotive engineer to observe clearly a dark object the size of an average man, at a distance of not less than eight hundred feet on a dark, clear night while his train is running at a rate of speed not less than thirty miles per hour; provided, that this act shall not apply to locomotive engines regularly used in the switching of cars or trains; provided, further, that this act shall not apply to locomotive engines used exclusively between sunup and sundown, nor going to or from repair shops when ordered in for repairs, nor to locomotive engines used on short lines or local lines where in the judgment of the railroad commission, the headlight herein provided for is not necessary for the preservation of public safety.

§ 2. Penalty for Violation of Act.—Any railroad company, or receiver or lessee thereof, doing business in the State of California, who shall violate the provisions of this act, shall be liable to the State of California for a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, for each offense; and suit shall be brought to recover such penalty in a court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the people of the State of California, by the Attorney General or by the district attorney of any county in or through which said railroad may be operated.

§ 3. Repeal.—All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 1. Defining Pipe-lines.—Any and every contract, combination in form of trust or otherwise, or arrangement of any kind, implied, tacit or otherwise, or conspiracy between a common carrier railroad which is equipped for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, or which has filed, or may lawfully be required to file, a schedule of rates with the railroad commission of California for such transportation, and which operates from or through any crude oil or petroleum producing field or fields or shipping points in the vicinity of any thereof, in the State of California, for a distance of thirty-five miles or more in the aggregate, either continuously or otherwise, to any refinery or refineries of crude oil or petroleum or any of the products thereof, or to or through any selling, marketing, consuming or shipping points or the vicinity of any thereof, for such crude oil or petroleum or any of the products thereof, and any oil pipe-line which is used or operated for the transportation of crude oil or petroleum or any of the products thereof, otherwise than as a common carrier, from or through the same, or any of the same oil or petroleum producing fields or shipping points or from the vicinity of any thereof, for a distance of thirty-five miles or more in the aggregate, either continuously or otherwise, and to or through the same, or any of the same refining, selling, marketing or reshipping points or the vicinity of any thereof, and which last-mentioned transportation is accomplished in whole or in part by such oil pipe-line, and whereby such oil pipe-line secures, or is enabled to secure, or attempts to secure, or tends to secure any unreasonable control or monopoly of the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, or is enabled to secure, or attempts to secure any unreasonable restraint on or over competition or trade in the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or of any of the products thereof, is hereby declared to be illegal.

§ 2. Defining Unfair Practice.—In any and every action or proceeding under this act, whenever it shall appear to the court that any contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy such as is described in section 1 hereof, exists, or that at the time of the commencement of such action or proceeding it did exist; and it further appears to such court that such oil pipe-line is constructed, in whole or in part, upon, over, under or along the right of way of such common carrier railroad, continuously or otherwise, for a distance of five or more miles in the aggregate, with the permission, allowance or consent, actual, implied or otherwise, of such common carrier railroad, and that said oil pipe-line is owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by said common carrier railroad, or that such oil pipe-line and such common carrier railroad have any common or interlocking owner or owners, or director or directors; and it further appears that said oil pipe-line is engaged in the business of purchasing, transporting and reselling such crude oil, petroleum or any thereof, or any of the products thereof, or of purchasing and transporting the same, or any thereof, or of purchasing, transporting and refining the same, or any thereof, for sale, or of producing, transporting and reselling the same, or any thereof, or of producing, transporting and refining the same for sale from its own or leased ground, or otherwise, or of producing and transporting the same, or any thereof; and it further appears that the schedule of rates, or any of them, for the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, filed by said common carrier railroad with the railroad commission of California, or that the rates, or any of them, published, fixed or charged by such common carrier railroad for such transportation of the same, or any of the same, are sufficiently high as compared with the actual cost of transportation between the same, or approximately or practically the same initial shipping, and the refining, selling, marketing, reshipping or terminal points, by such oil pipe-line, as to tend to prevent the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, over or upon such common carrier railroad, or to tend to prevent competition in such transportation between such common carrier railroad and such oil pipe-line, or to restrain such competition, or to tend to restrain competition among the producers of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof in the sale thereof, or of any of the same, or to tend to enable such oil pipe-line, either alone or in conjunction with other oil pipe-lines, to restrain competition in the sale or the purchase of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, either among the producers or the consumers thereof, or to tend to enable such oil pipe-line, either alone or in conjunction with other pipe-lines, to secure the control or the monopoly of the purchase of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, or to fix the selling price of any thereof at the oil fields or points of production of the same, or at the shipping points or at the vicinity of any thereof, or to secure the control or the monopoly of the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof from such oil fields or points of production, or from the shipping points or from the vicinity of any thereof, to such refining, selling or marketing points, or any thereof, then such contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy is hereby declared to be an unfair practice, contrary to the public policy of the State of California, and the same shall and must be deemed by such court in all such actions or proceedings to be an unreasonable contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy, in restraint of trade, and an unreasonable control or monopoly of the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or some of the products thereof, and an unreasonable restraint on or over competition and trade in the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or some of the products thereof, and the same shall and must be deemed illegal.

§ 3. Defining Unreasonable Contracts, etc.—In any and every action or proceeding under this act, whenever it shall appear to the court that any contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy such as is described in section 1 hereof, exists, or that at the time of the commencement of such action or proceeding it did exist, and it further appears to such court that such oil pipe-line is constructed, in whole or in part, upon, over, under or along the right of way of such common carrier railroad, continuously or otherwise, for a distance of five or more miles in the aggregate, with the permission, allowance or consent, actual, implied or otherwise, of such common carrier railroad, and it appears that said oil pipe-line is engaged in the business of purchasing, transporting and reselling such crude oil, petroleum or any thereof, or any of the products thereof, or of purchasing and transporting the same, or any thereof, or of purchasing, transporting and refining the same, or any thereof, for sale, or of producing, transporting and reselling the same or any thereof, or of producing, transporting and refining the same for sale from its own or leased ground, or otherwise, or of producing and transporting the same, or any thereof; and it further appears that the schedule of rates, or any of them, for the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, filed by said common carrier railroad with the railroad commission of California, or that the rates, or any of them, published, fixed or charged by such common carrier railroad for such transportation of the same, or any of the same, are sufficiently high as compared with the actual cost of transportation between the same, or approximately or practically the same initial shipping, and the refining, selling, marketing, reshipping or terminal points, by such oil pipe-line, as to tend to prevent the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, over or upon such common carrier railroad, or to tend to prevent competition in such transportation between such common carrier railroad and such oil pipe-line, or to restrain such competition, or to tend to restrain competition among the producers of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof in the sale thereof, or of any of the same, or to tend to enable such oil pipe-line, either alone or in conjunction with other oil pipe-lines, to restrain competition in the sale or the purchase of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, either among the producers or the consumers thereof, or to tend to enable such oil pipe-line, either alone or in conjunction with other pipe-lines, to secure the control or the monopoly of the purchase of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, or to fix the selling price of any thereof at the oil fields or points of production of the same, or at the shipping points or at the vicinity of any thereof, or to secure the control or the monopoly of the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof from such oil fields or points of production, or from the shipping points or from the vicinity of any thereof, to such refining, selling or marketing points, or any thereof, then such contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy is hereby declared to be an unfair practice, contrary to the public policy of the State of California, and the same shall and must be deemed by such court in all such actions or proceedings to be an unreasonable contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy, in restraint of trade, and an unreasonable control or monopoly of the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or some of the products thereof, and an unreasonable restraint on or over competition and trade in the purchase, sale or transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or some of the products thereof, and the same shall and must be deemed illegal.

§ 4. Defining "Unreasonable."—The term "unreasonable" wherever used in this act means where the nature and extent of the control or restraint is such that the matter becomes of public consequence or is injurious to the public welfare, or where the nature and extent of the business is such that the public needs some use in the same, and the control or restraint so exercised prevents, obstructs or in anywise hinders such use.

§ 5. Penalty for Violation.—Every person who shall hereafter make any such contract or arrangement or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, or shall hereafter continue to execute any such contract or arrangement, or to do or perform any act in furtherance of any such combination or conspiracy without having first procured the license hereinafter provided for, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments in the discretion of the court.

§ 6. Duty of Superior Court to Prevent Violation of Act.—The several Superior Courts of the State of California are hereby vested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of this act; and it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the counties and of the cities and counties of the State of California in their respective counties and in their respective cities and counties, under the direction of the attorney general of the State of California, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. Such proceedings may be by way of petition setting forth the case and praying that such violation shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited, and may be brought in any county or city and county in which the defendant or any one of the defendants resides, or in which such unlawful act or any overt act in pursuance of such unlawful contract, combination, arrangement or conspiracy was committed, or in which the defendant or any one of the defendants has his or its principal place of business. When the parties complained of shall have been duly notified of such petition, the court shall proceed, as soon as may be, to the hearing and determination of the case; and pending such petition, and before final decree, the court may at any time make such temporary restraining order or prohibition as shall be deemed just in the premises.

§ 7. Damages for Injury to Business by Reason of Violation of Act.—Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation or association of persons by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act, may sue therefor in any Superior Court of the State of California in the county, or in the city and county, in which the defendant or any one of the defendants resides, or in which such unlawful act, or any overt act in pursuance of such unlawful contract, combination or conspiracy was committed, or in which the defendant, or any one of the defendants, has his or its principal place of business, and such petitioner shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained and the costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

§ 8. Definition of "Person."—That the word "person" wherever used in this act shall be deemed to include corporations and associations existing under, or authorized by the laws of either the United States or the State of California, or of any of the Territories, or of any State or of any foreign country.

§ 9. Definition of "Common Carrier Railroad."—That the words "common carrier railroad" wherever used in this act, when the context so permits, shall be deemed to include any corporation, individual or association of individuals, either directly or indirectly owning, operating, managing or controlling, or participating, either directly or indirectly in the ownership, operation, management or control of any railroad which is operated as a common carrier within the State of California, or of any such railroad, any part of which is operated in the State of California; and the singular includes the plural.

§ 10. Definition of "Oil Pipe-line."—That the words "oil pipe-line" wherever used in this act, when the context so permits, shall be deemed to include any private corporation, individual or association of individuals, either directly or indirectly owning, operating, managing or controlling any pipe-line or any part of any pipe-line for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, or participating, either directly or indirectly, in the ownership, operation, management or control of any such pipe-line, or of any part of any such pipe-line; and the singular includes the plural.

§ 11. Definition of Term "Oil Pipe-line."—That the term "oil pipe-line" wherever used in this act, when the context so permits, also includes all of the instrumentalities by which crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof is transported by or through pipe-lines, in whole or in part.

§ 12. Permission to Become Common Carrier.—Any and every oil pipe-line used or operated or which is or has been used or operated for the transportation of crude oil or petroleum or any of the products thereof, not as a common carrier, under the conditions which are declared to be illegal by section 2 of this act, or under the conditions which are declared to be illegal by section 3 of this act, shall and must, before such use or operation is continued, and within thirty days after this act goes into effect, either file with the railroad commission of the State of California its written consent to transport crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof for hire to and for the public and as a common carrier and public utility, together with a schedule of rates for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum and the products thereof as a common carrier and a public utility, in accordance with the provisions of the act known as the "Public Utilities Act" of the State of California, approved December 23, 1911; or failing to file such written consent to become a common carrier and public utility, together with such schedule of rates with said railroad commission, such oil pipe-line must, on or before the time herein specified for such filing, either cease to continue to so operate or to so transport crude oil, petroleum or any of its products otherwise than as a common carrier; or must file with the said railroad commission an application in writing for permission to procure a license from the Secretary of State permitting it to continue to so operate and to so transport crude oil, petroleum and the products thereof otherwise than as a common carrier and under the conditions prohibited by section 2 or section 3 of this act, as the case may be; and its failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section of this act shall subject it to the penalty and punishment provided by section 5 of this act, and to the liabilities provided by any and every of the other sections of this act. But nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize or permit any contract, combination in form of trust or otherwise, or arrangement of any kind, implied, tacit or otherwise, or conspiracy such as is denounced or prohibited by sections 1, 2 and 3 of this act, or any of such sections, to be hereafter made or entered into, or if so hereafter unlawfully made or entered into, to permit the same, or any of the same, to be executed or performed under a license, or otherwise, or at all.

§ 13. Permit to Procure License.—The application by such oil pipe-line for a permit to procure a license as provided for in section 12 of this act, to permit it to continue to transport crude oil, petroleum or any of its products so as aforesaid, otherwise than as a common carrier, shall describe in a general way the oil pipe-line for the continued maintenance and operation of which such license is desired, stating the terminal points of such oil pipe-line and the county and counties through which the same is constructed and maintained, and the aggregate number of miles thereof in each of such counties, and as nearly as may be, the places at which such oil pipe-line is constructed or maintained over and along the right of way of such common carrier railroad, and the approximate distance thereof at each of such places, and such application shall also set forth the name of the private corporation, individual or association of individuals owning, operating, managing or controlling, either directly or indirectly, such oil pipe-line and each and every part thereof.

§ 14. Issuance of License—License Fee.—The railroad commission may authorize in writing the Secretary of State to issue a license to such oil pipe-line; and the license when so issued by the Secretary of State shall describe such oil pipe-line as the same is described in such application so filed with said railroad commission. At the time of procuring such license, the sum of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) must be paid to the Secretary of State by such licensee.

§ 15. Monthly Report of Oil Pumped Through Pipe-line.—Every oil pipe-line required to procure the license hereinbefore provided for shall file with the railroad commission of the State of California on or before the tenth day of each calendar month, including and following the second calendar month after this act goes into effect, and in such form as said railroad commission shall require, a full, true and correct report showing the number of barrels (forty-two gallons to the barrel) of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof which were transported through such pipe-line, or any part thereof, during the preceding calendar month. Such report shall be subscribed by such licensee or by its, his or their agent duly appointed in writing for such purpose, and shall be accompanied by the affidavit of such subscriber stating in substance and effect that he knows the contents thereof, and that he has had free access to the books and vouchers of such licensee relating to the same for the purpose of determining the truth of the statements contained therein, and that such statements, and each and all thereof are true according to his best information and belief. Said railroad commission shall examine said sworn report, and if it shall have no reason to doubt the correctness of the same, shall, within not less than ten days thereafter, certify it to the Secretary of State, and thereupon there shall immediately become due and payable to the people of the State of California at the office of the Secretary of State, the sum of fifty cents ($.50) for each such barrel of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof so transported through such oil pipe-line. The delivery of such certified report by the railroad commission to the Secretary of State shall be deemed notice as of the date of such filing to said licensee of the amount due as a license fee for such calendar month, under the provisions of this act.

§ 16. Examination of Reports—Penalty.—Whenever the railroad commission shall entertain any doubt of the correctness of such report so filed with it, said railroad commission may subpoena the subscriber of such sworn report, and require him to bring before the said commission the books and vouchers from which he secured the information set forth in said report, and may examine him under oath, and may subpoena such other witnesses and hear such other testimony in relation to such matter as it deems competent, material and relevant, and said commission shall proceed summarily in the matter and determine the true and correct number of such barrels of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof which were so transported by such licensee through such oil pipe-line, and shall thereupon certify to the Secretary of State its findings of the number of such barrels, and thereupon there shall immediately become due and payable to the people of the State of California, at the office of the Secretary of State, the sum of fifty cents ($.50) for each of such barrels of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof so transported through such oil pipe-line. The delivery of such certified finding by the railroad commission to the Secretary of State shall be deemed notice as of the date of such filing to said licensee of the amount due from such licensee as a license fee under the provisions of this act. The railroad commission may revoke the license of such licensee if, upon such hearing, it finds that any material statement contained in such sworn report is false, and that such falsity was known to such licensee at the time such report was filed with said railroad commission, or that said licensee had reason to believe at such time that such report was false in any particular, or if it finds that such licensee willfully aided or abetted the making of such false report, either directly or indirectly, in any manner whatsoever; and said railroad commission may thereupon direct the Secretary of State to revoke such license and prohibit him from renewing the same and from issuing any new license to such oil pipe-line within one year from the time the same was revoked.

§ 17. Penalty for Violation of Act by Employees.—Every oil pipe-line, and every agent, attorney or employee of the same who knowingly or willfully violates or fails to comply with, or who knowingly or willfully aids and abets any violation of any of the provisions of this act, or who knowingly and willfully fails to observe, obey or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the said railroad commission, or who knowingly, or willfully procures, aids or abets any failure to observe, obey or comply therewith, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 18. Failure to Pay License Fee.—Any failure on the part of any licensee to pay within twenty (20) days after the same becomes due, the license fees or any portion thereof as required by and provided in the provisions of this act, shall operate to forfeit, ipso facto, such license, and to deprive such licensee of the right to continue to so transport, otherwise than as a common carrier, any crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through such oil pipe-line.

§ 19. License Fee a Lien on Property.—The license fee, and each installment thereof, in this act provided for, upon the same becoming due, as herein provided, is hereby declared to be a lien upon the whole of the oil pipe-line, for the privilege of maintaining and operating which said license is procured, as described in the application for such license, from the time that such license fee, and each installment thereof becomes due and payable; and such lien shall be enforceable in the same way that tax liens in the State of California are enforceable, and by the same procedure in so far as the same is or can be made applicable hereto.

§ 20. Exemption from Monthly License Fee.—Any and every licensee under this act who pays a license fee of not less than fifty cents ($.50) per barrel of forty-two (42) gallons each, to the State of California under any other law of this State for the privilege of transporting or of engaging, either directly or indirectly, in the business of transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through a pipe-line or pipe-lines, is hereby exempted and relieved from the payment of the monthly license fees herein provided for by this act.

§ 21. Validity of Entire Act not Affected by Unconstitutionality of Part of Act.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

PIPE-LINE LICENSE ACT.

(Approved June 4, 1913.)

- § 1. License required.
- § 2. Fee—Condition of license.
- § 3. Construction of pipe-lines.
- § 4. Application for license.
- § 5. Report to railroad commission of pumping.
- § 6. Railroad commission to check reports.
- § 7. Penalty—Fines.
- § 8. Action to begin for violating act.
- § 9. Failure to pay license.
- § 10. License fee a lien on property.
- § 11. License fee exemptions.
- § 12. Validity of act.

§ 1. License Required.—Every private corporation, individual or association of individuals owning, operating, managing or controlling, either directly or indirectly, or participating, either directly or indirectly, in the ownership, operation, management or control of any pipe-line or pipe-lines, or any part of any pipe-line or pipe-lines, plant or equipment for the transportation of crude oil or petroleum or of any of the products thereof, or engaged, either directly or indirectly in the business of transporting by pipe-line or pipe-lines, in whole or in part, continuously or otherwise, crude oil or petroleum or any of the products thereof from producing points or from points at, in or near any oil field or oil fields to any refinery or refineries, or to any distributing point or points, or to any marketing points or points, or to the vicinity of any thereof for an aggregate distance of thirty-five or more miles, within the State of California, otherwise than as a common carrier, and which said pipe-line or pipe-lines, or any part thereof, or of such plant or equipment is constructed or maintained for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road within the State of California, is hereby required within twenty days after this act goes into effect and before thereafter continuing or commencing to so transport, or to so engage in the business of transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through any part of such pipe-line or pipe-lines for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road, to procure a license from the Secretary of State as hereinafter provided, permitting it, him or them to continue, or to commence and continue, to transport and to engage in the business of transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through such part or parts of such pipe-line or pipe-lines as is or are constructed or maintained for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road.

§ 2. Fee—Condition of License.—The Secretary of State is hereby authorized to issue licenses permitting private corporations, individuals or association of individuals to continue to own, operate, manage or control any pipe-line or pipe-lines already constructed and now being maintained for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or any of its products, otherwise than as a common carrier across, along, over or under any public highway or public road within this State, to the extent only to which such pipe-line or pipe-lines is or are now already so constructed, operated and maintained, upon payment of a fee of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) for each separate pipe-line so already constructed and maintained for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road for such length of time only as such licensee shall comply with all the provisions of this act and of any and every other act which may hereafter be enacted in relation to the subject by the legislature of California; provided, further, that the fees hereinafter required to be paid for such permit may hereafter be increased or diminished at any time as the legislature may determine.

§ 3. Construction of Pipe-lines.—The construction hereafter of any pipe-line or pipe-lines intended for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or any of its products, otherwise than as a common carrier for an aggregate distance of thirty-five or more miles within this State, continuously or otherwise, by means of such pipe-line or pipe-lines, in whole or in part, for any distance whatsoever, across, along, over or under any public highway or public road within this State is declared to be contrary to public policy and is hereby expressly prohibited.

§ 4. Application for License.—The license herein provided for shall not be issued by the Secretary of State unless and until a written application therefor shall first be filed with him by the private corporation, individual or association of individuals desiring to procure the same, which shall describe in a general way the pipe-line or pipe-lines for the maintenance and operation of which such license is desired, stating the terminal points of such pipe-line or pipe-lines and the county and counties through which the same is or are constructed and maintained, and the number of miles thereof in each of such counties, and as nearly as may be the point and points at which such pipe-line or pipe-lines is or are constructed and maintained across, along, over or under any public highway or public road and the approximate distance thereof in each instance, and which written application shall also set forth the name of the private corporation, individual or association of individuals owning, operating, managing or controlling, either directly or indirectly, such pipe-line or pipe-lines and each and every part thereof. And such license when issued shall describe such pipe-line or pipe-lines as described in such application.

§ 5. Report to Railroad Commission of Pumping.—Every private corporation, individual or association of individuals required to procure the license hereinbefore provided for shall file with the railroad commission of the State of California on or before the tenth day of each calendar month, including and following the second calendar month after this act goes into effect, and in such form as said railroad commission shall require, a full, true and correct report showing the number of barrels (forty-two gallons to the barrel) of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof which were transported through each and every such pipe-line so constructed, operated or maintained for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or any public road within this State during the preceding calendar month. Such report shall be subscribed by such licensee or by its, his or their agent duly appointed in writing for such purpose and shall be accompanied by the affidavit of such subscriber stating in substance and effect that he knows the contents thereof, and that he has had free access to the books and vouchers of such licensee relating to the same for the purpose of determining the truth of the statements contained therein, and that such statements, and each and all thereof, are true according to his best information and belief. Said railroad commission shall examine said report and if it shall have no reason to doubt the correctness of the same, shall, within not less than ten days thereafter, certify it to the Secretary of State, and thereupon there shall immediately become due and payable to the people of the State of California at the office of, and through, the Secretary of State, the sum of fifty cents ($.50) for each such barrel of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof so transported through such pipe-line or pipe-lines for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under such public highway or public road. The delivery of such certified report by the railroad commission to the Secretary of State shall be deemed notice as of the date of such filing, to said licensee of the amount due as a license fee for such calendar month under the provisions of this act.

§ 6. Railroad Commission to Check Reports.—Whenever the railroad commission shall entertain any doubt of the correctness of such report so filed with it, said railroad commission may subpoena the subscriber of such report and require him to bring before said commission the books and vouchers from which he secured the information set forth in said report, and may examine him under oath, and may subpoena such other witnesses and hear such other testimony in relation to such matter as it deems competent, material and relevant, and shall proceed summarily in the matter and determine the true and correct number of such barrels of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof which were so transported by said licensee through such pipe-line so constructed, operated or maintained for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road within this State, and shall thereupon certify to the Secretary of State its finding of the number of such barrels, and thereupon there shall immediately become due and payable to the people of the State of California at the office of and through the Secretary of State, the sum of fifty cents ($.50) for each such barrel of such crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof so transported. The delivery of such certified finding by the railroad commission to the Secretary of State shall be deemed notice as of the date of such filing to said licensee of the amount due as a license fee under the provisions of this act. The railroad commission may revoke the license of such licensee if, upon such hearing, it finds that any material statement contained in said sworn report is false and that such falsity was known to such licensee at the time such report was filed with said railroad commission, or that said licensee had reason to believe at such time that such report was false, or that such licensee willfully aided or abetted the making of such false report, either directly or indirectly, in any manner whatsoever, and said railroad commission may thereupon refuse to authorize the Secretary of State to renew any such license, or to issue a new one to any private corporation, individual or association of individuals whose license has thus been revoked, within one year from the time same was revoked.

§ 7. Penalty—Fines.—Every individual and every member of any association of individuals, and every officer, agent, attorney or employee of any private corporation, who knowingly and willfully violates or fails to comply with, or who knowingly and willfully aids and abets any violation of any provision of this act, or who knowingly and willfully fails to observe, obey or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the said railroad commission, or who knowingly or willfully procures, aids or abets any failure to observe, obey and comply therewith, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 8. Action to Begin for Violating Act.—Whenever the railroad commission shall entertain the belief that any private corporation, individual or association of individuals required by the provisions of this act to procure the aforesaid license, is transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, for any distance whatsoever, through any pipe-line now constructed and maintained across, along, over or under any public highway or public road within this State without having procured the license herein provided for, or has or is about to construct any pipe-line for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or any public road within this State, it shall direct the attorney of the commission to commence an action or proceeding in the Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which such pipe-line or any part thereof is so constructed or maintained, or has been or is about to be so constructed, for any distance whatsoever, across, along, over or under any public highway or public road, or in the Superior Court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the private corporation, individual or association of individuals so transporting or threatening to construct a pipe-line or pipe-lines for the purpose of transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof, maintain or maintains it, his or their principal place of business, and said action or proceeding shall be brought in the name of the people of the State of California for the purpose of having such violation or threatened violation of the provisions of this act stopped and prevented by mandamus, injunction or other appropriate remedy, and for the purpose of recovering a judgment for such damages as may have been incurred by the people of the State of California for such violation or threatened violation of the provisions of this act. It shall thereupon become the duty of the court to specify a time not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition in which the private corporation, individual or association of individuals complained of must answer such petition, and in the meantime, said private corporation, individual or association of individuals may be restrained by said court from continuing such violation or threatened violation of any of the provisions of this act. In case of default in the answer, or after the answer has been filed by such defendant or defendants, the court shall immediately hear and determine the case. Such private corporation or individuals as the court may deem necessary or proper in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction issue or be made perpetual as prayed for in the petition, or in such modified or other form as will give appropriate relief. An appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court from such final judgment in the same manner and with the same effect, subject to the provisions of this act, as appeals are taken from the judgments of the Superior Court in other cases involving mandamus or injunction.

§ 9. Failure to Pay License.—Any failure on the part of any licensee to pay within twenty days after the same becomes due, the license fees or any portion thereof as required by and provided in the provisions of this act, shall operate to forfeit, ipso facto, such license, and to deprive such licensee of the right to continue to transport any crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through any part of any such pipe-line or pipe-lines for any distance whatsoever across, along, over or under any public highway or public road.

§ 10. License Fee a Lien on Property.—The license fee, and each installment thereof, in this act provided for, upon the same becoming due, as herein provided, is hereby declared to be a lien upon the whole of the pipe-line or pipe-lines and plant and equipment used in connection therewith of which that part of such pipe-line, for the privilege of maintaining and operating which said license is procured, is a part as described in the application for such license, from the time that such license fee, and each installment thereof, becomes due and payable; and such lien shall be enforceable in the same way that tax liens in the State of California are enforceable, and by the same procedure in so far as the same is or can be made applicable hereto.

§ 11. License Fee — Exemptions.—Any and every licensee under this act who pays a license fee of not less than fifty cents ($.50) per barrel of forty-two gallons each to the State of California under any other law of this State for the privilege of transporting or of engaging, either directly or indirectly, in the business of transporting crude oil, petroleum or any of the products thereof through a pipeline or pipe-lines, is hereby exempted and relieved from the payment of the monthly license fees herein provided for by this act.

§ 12. Validity of Act.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

ACT DECLARING PIPE-LINES COMMON CARRIERS.

(Approved June 4, 1913.)

- § 1. Definition.
- § 2. Pipe-line a common carrier.
- § 3. Public utility.
- § 4. Validity of act.
- § 5. Exemptions of act.

§ 1. Definition.—Every private corporation and every individual or association of individuals:

(a) Owning, operating, managing or controlling any pipe-line or any part of any pipe-line, plant or equipment within the State of California for the transportation of crude oil or petroleum or the products thereof, either directly or indirectly, to or for the public, for hire, compensation or consideration of any kind, paid, given, extended or received, directly or indirectly, for such transportation, or engaged, directly or indirectly, in the business of so transporting the same; or

(b) Owning, operating, managing or controlling any pipe-line or any part of any pipe-line, plant or equipment for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, directly or indirectly, to or for the public, for hire, compensation or consideration of any kind, paid or received, directly or indirectly, for such transportation, and which said pipe-line, plant or equipment is constructed or maintained upon, along, over or under any public highway, and in favor of whom the right of eminent domain exists; or

(c) Owning, operating, managing or controlling, directly or indirectly, any pipe-line or pipe-lines, or any part of any pipe-line or pipe-lines, plant or equipment, or any pipe-line system or any part thereof, for the transportation, directly or indirectly, to or for the public, for hire or otherwise, of crude oil, petroleum or products thereof, and which said pipe-line, or pipe-lines, or plant or equipment, or system is, or are, constructed, operated or maintained across, upon, along, over or under the right of way of any railroad corporation or other common carrier required by law to transport crude oil, petroleum or products thereof as a common carrier; or

(d) Owning, using, operating, managing or controlling, directly or indirectly, or participating in the ownership, use, operation, management or control, directly or indirectly, under lease, contract of purchase, agreement to buy and sell, or other contractual or tacit agreement or arrangement of any kind or character whatsoever, of any pipe-line, or pipe-lines, or any part of any pipe-line, or pipe-lines, plant or equipment, or pipe-line system, or any part of any pipe-line system, for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, of and from, or of, or from any oil field or place of production within the State of California, to any distributing, refining, or marketing center or reshipping point therefor within said State, whereby, or under, or through which, directly or indirectly, such corporation, or any corporation or association of corporations, or individual or association of individuals secures, or is enabled to secure, or attempts to secure, or tends to secure, the control of, or monopoly of the purchasing of, or the control of, or monopoly of the transportation of such crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof;

Is hereby declared to be a common carrier and subject to the provisions of the act known as the "Public Utilities Act," approved December 23, 1911.

§ 2. Pipe-line a Common Carrier.—Every corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of California or under the laws of any other State to transport, or to engage in the business of transporting, within the State of California, any crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, or for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, leasing, owning, maintaining or operating, directly or indirectly, or of controlling or participating in the control of any pipe-line or pipe-lines with pumping station or stations, or other appurtenant equipment or plant constructed and maintained, or to be constructed or maintained for the transportation of crude oil, petroleum or the products thereof, actually engaged or engaging in such operation or transportation, directly or indirectly, or shares, directly or indirectly, in the business of such operation or transportation, is hereby declared to be a common carrier and subject to the provisions of the "Public Utilities Act" of the State of California, approved December 23, 1911.

§ 3. Public Utility.—Any pipe-line constructed, acquired, owned, operated, maintained, managed or controlled by any private corporation or individual or association of individuals for any of the purposes or under any of the conditions specified in section 1 or section 2 of this act, is hereby declared to be a public utility and subject to the provisions of the "Public Utilities Act" of the State of California, approved December 23, 1911.

§ 4. Validity of Act.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 5. Exemptions of Act.—The provisions of this act are not to be construed as applying to any corporation, individual or association of individuals where the nature and extent of their business is such that the public needs no use in the same, and the conduct of the same is not a matter of public consequence.

PERMISSION TO CONSTRUCT PIERS, WHARVES, ETC.

Political Code, § 2906.—The boards of supervisors of every county in this State may, upon approval of the railroad commission, grant authority to any person or corporation to construct a wharf, chute, or pier, on any lands bordering on any navigable bay, lake, inlet, creek, slough or arm of the sea, situate in or bounding their counties, respectively, with a license to take tolls for the use of the same for the term of twenty years. (Approved June 14, 1913.)

RULES—CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMMISSION.

The following rules of practice and procedure were adopted by the Railroad Commission of the State of California in accordance with the provisions of section 53 of the Public Utilities Act:

Rule 1. Definitions.—1. The term “public utility,” when used in these rules, includes every common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger and warehouseman, as those terms are defined in section 2 of the Public Utilities Act.

2. The term “Commission,” when used in these rules, means the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

3. The term “formal proceeding,” when used in these rules, means a proceeding which contemplates a hearing before the Commission or a commissioner sitting in a judicial or quasi-judicial capacity. A formal proceeding may be either (a) a complaint or (b) an application.

4. The term “complaint” when used in these rules, means a formal proceeding, whether brought upon the Commission’s own motion or upon complaint of a third party, having for its object the rendition of an order or decision which can be enforced by the Commission.

5. The term “application,” when used in these rules, means a formal proceeding brought by a public utility, for the purpose of securing the Commission’s authorization or permission to perform an act.

6. The term “financial condition,” when used in these rules with reference to an application, means the financial condition of the applicant as shown by a schedule or schedules annexed to the petition and properly referred to therein, and showing:

(a) Amount and kinds of stock authorized.

(b) Amount and kinds of stock issued and outstanding.

(c) Terms of preference of all preferred stock, whether cumulative or participating, or on dividends or assets, or otherwise.

(d) Brief description of each mortgage upon property of applicant, giving date of execution, name of mortgagor, name of mortgagee or trustee, amount of indebtedness authorized to be secured thereby and amount of indebtedness actually secured.

(e) Number and amount of bonds authorized and issued, giving name of the public utility which issued the same, describing each class separately, giving date of issue, par value, rate of interest, date of maturity and how secured.

(f) Other indebtedness, giving same by classes and describing security, if any, with a brief statement of the devolution or assumption of any portion of such indebtedness upon or by any corporation or person, if the original liability has been transferred.

(g) Amount of interest paid during previous fiscal year and rate thereof, with amount paid at each rate, if different rates were paid, upon each issue of indebtedness.

(h) Rate and amount of dividends paid during the five previous fiscal years and the amount of capital stock on which dividends were paid each year.

(i) Detailed statement of earnings and expenditures for and balance sheet showing conditions at close of the last fiscal year, unless already filed with the Commission as part of the annual report, in which case a reference to the filing should be given.

Rule 2. Sessions of Commission.—The office of the Commission shall be in San Francisco, California, and shall always be open, legal holidays and nonjudicial days excepted. The regular monthly session of the Commission shall be held in its office on the second Tuesday of every month at 10:30 o'clock A. M., at which time any person having business with the Commission may appear and be heard. The Commission will hold other sessions at San Francisco and elsewhere in the State of California at such times as it may designate. The sessions of the Commission shall be public.

Rule 3. Secretary to Furnish Information.—The Commission's secretary will, upon request, advise as to the form of complaint, petition, answer or other documents necessary to be filed in any formal proceeding, and furnish such information from the files of the Commission as will conduce to a full presentation of material facts.

Rule 4. Formal Proceedings—General Matters Applicable to All.—
1. Address of Commission. All communications should be addressed to "Railroad Commission of the State of California, San Francisco, California."

2. Case Numbers. The secretary shall assign to each formal proceeding a number which the parties shall, before filing, place on all subsequent papers in such proceeding.

3. Form and Size of Papers Filed. All pleadings filed with the Commission in formal proceedings shall be printed or typewritten on one side of the paper only, and, as far as practicable, shall be upon paper 8½ by 13 inches in size. Each line and page shall be numbered.

4. Amendments. The Commission may, in its discretion, allow any pleading to be amended or corrected or any omission therein to be supplied.

5. Subpoenas. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of a witness from any place in the State to any designated place of hearing, for the purpose of taking the testimony of such witness orally before the Commission or one or more commissioners may be issued by any commissioner or the secretary.

Subpoenas for the production of books, accounts, papers, waybills and other documents (unless issued upon the Commission's own motion) will only be issued upon application in writing, stating, as nearly as possible, the books, accounts, papers, waybills or other documents desired to be produced.

6. Service of Papers. Personal service of papers in all hearings, investigations and formal proceedings pending before the Commission may be made upon any person upon whom a summons may be served in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State. Service may also be made by mailing in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to any party to such hearing, investigation or formal proceeding or to any person upon whom a summons may be served in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. If service is made by mailing, and an act is to be performed within a specified time after service, the time for the performance of the act shall begin to run at the time the registered letter is received. When any party has appeared by attorney, service upon the attorney will be deemed proper service upon such party.

7. Filing or Entry and Service of Orders. Each order, authorization or certificate made, issued or approved by the Commission shall be in writing and shall be filed with or entered on the records of the Commission, in accordance with the provisions of the Public Utilities Act, and a copy thereof, certified by the secretary under the seal of the Commission, shall be served upon or delivered to the corporation or person complained of, or the applicant, or his or its attorney.

8. Intervention. In any formal proceeding, the Commission may permit any corporation, association, body politic or person to intervene and be heard, after opportunity has been given to the party or parties to such proceeding to be heard on such intervention. Leave thus granted shall entitle the intervener to have notice of and to appear at the taking of testimony, to produce and cross-examine witnesses, and to be heard in person or by counsel on the argument.

Rule 5. Complaints—Contents and Proceedings Up to Hearing.—

1. Who may Complain. Complaint may be made by the Commission of its own motion or by any corporation or person, chamber of commerce, board of trade, or any civic, commercial, mercantile, traffic, agricultural or manufacturing association or organization or any body politic or municipal corporation, by complaint in writing, setting forth any act or thing done or omitted to be done by any public utility in violation, or claimed to be in violation, of any provision of law or of any order or rule of the Commission.

(a) Any public utility shall have the right to complain on any of the grounds upon which complaint may be made by other parties.

2. Contents of Complaint. Each complaint shall show the venue, "Before the Railroad Commission of the State of California," shall bear a heading showing the name of the complainant and the name of the defendant and shall state—

(a) The full name and postoffice address of the complainant.

(b) The full name and postoffice address of the defendant.

(c) Fully, clearly and with reasonable certainty the act or thing done or omitted to be done, of which complaint is made, with a reference, where practicable, to the law, order or rule, and the section or sections thereof, of which a violation is claimed.

(d) Such other matters or facts, if any, as may be necessary to acquaint the Commission fully with the details of the alleged violation.

3. Signature of Complaint.

(a) The complaint shall be signed by the complainant or his attorney, if any, and shall show the name and postoffice address of such attorney and shall be verified. Complaints by unincorporated associations may be verified by any officer or director thereof.

(b) Except upon its own motion, the Commission will entertain no complaint as to the reasonableness of any rates or charges of any gas, electrical, water or telephone corporation, other than a complaint of the corporation itself, unless the same be signed by the mayor or the president or the chairman of the board of trustees or a majority of the council, Commission, or other legislative body of the city and county, or city or town, if any, within which the alleged violation occurred, or not less than twenty-five consumers or purchasers or prospective consumers or purchasers of such gas, electricity, water or telephone service.

4. Copies to Accompany Complaint. At the time complainant files his original complaint, he must also file copies thereof equal in number to one more than twice the number of corporations or persons to be served.

5. Procedure of Commission on Filing of Complaint. Upon the filing of such complaint, the Commission shall immediately mail a copy thereof to the defendant or defendants and shall also examine the same to ascertain whether it establishes a prima facie case and conforms to these rules. At any time within five days after the receipt by a defendant of such copy of such complaint, he may, in writing, call the Commission's attention to any defects therein, but this privilege shall not in any wise, unless the Commission specifically so orders, extend the time within which such defendant is required to satisfy the complaint or to answer. If the Commission is of the opinion that the complaint does not establish a prima facie case or does not conform to these rules, it shall notify the complainant or his attorney to that effect, and opportunity may be given to amend the complaint within a specified time. If the complaint is not so amended within such time or such extension thereof as the Commission, for good cause shown, may grant, it will be dismissed.

If the Commission is of the opinion that such complaint, either as originally filed or as amended, does establish a prima facie case and conform to these rules, the Commission shall serve upon each corporation or person complained of, an order under the hand of its secretary and attested by its seal, accompanied by a copy of said complaint, directed to such corporation or person and requiring that the matter complained of be satisfied, or that the complaint be answered in writing within ten days from the date of service of such order, provided that the Commission may, in particular cases, require the answer to be filed within a shorter time.

6. Satisfaction of Complaint. If the defendant desires to satisfy the complaint, he may submit to the Commission, within the time allowed for the satisfaction or answer, a statement of the relief which he is willing to give. On the acceptance of this offer by the complainant and the approval of the Commission, no further proceedings need be taken.

7. Answer to Complaint. If satisfaction be not made as aforesaid, the corporation or person complained of must, within the time specified in the order or such extension thereof as the Commission, for good cause shown, may grant, file an answer to the complaint, with admission of service by complainant or his attorney indorsed thereon, or an affidavit of service. The answer must contain a specific denial of such material allegations of the complaint as controverted by the defendant and also a statement of any new matter constituting a defense. If the answering party has no information or belief upon the subject sufficient to enable him to answer an allegation of the complaint, he may so state in his answer and place his denial upon that ground. The filing of an answer will not be deemed an admission of the sufficiency of the petition, but a motion to dismiss may be made at the hearing.

Rule 6. Hearings and Rehearings—In All Formal Proceedings.—

1. When Hearings will be Given. Except as otherwise determined in specific cases, the Commission will grant a hearing in the following classes of cases:

(a) When an order to satisfy a complaint or to make answer thereto has been made and the corporation or person complained of has not satisfied the cause of complaint. (Rule 5.)

(b) When an application has been made in a formal proceeding.

2. Notice of Place of Hearing.

(a) Notice of the day and hour of a hearing shall be served at least ten days before the time set therefor, unless the Commission shall find that public necessity requires the hearing to be held at an earlier date. Hearings shall be held in the office of the Commission in San Francisco unless elsewhere specified in the notice.

(b) In formal applications, the Commission may, in its discretion, give all other corporations or persons who may be affected thereby an opportunity to be heard, either by service upon them of a copy of the petition or by publication of the substance thereof, at the expense of the applicant, for such length of time and in such newspaper or newspapers as the Commission may designate. In such cases, the form of the notice must be submitted to the secretary of the Commission for approval, and proof of the publication thereof must be filed with the secretary at or before the hearing.

3. Stipulation as to Facts. The parties to any proceeding or investigation before the Commission may, by stipulation in writing filed with the Commission or entered in the record, agree upon the facts or any portion thereof involved in the controversy, which stipulation shall be regarded and used as evidence at the hearing. It is desirable that the facts be thus agreed upon whenever practicable. The Commission may in such cases require such additional evidence as it may deem necessary.

4. Procedure at Hearings.

(a) Witnesses will be examined orally and under oath before the Commission or a commissioner unless the facts are stipulated or the Commission or commissioner otherwise orders.

(b) The complainant must establish the facts upon which he bases his complaint, unless the defendant admits the same or fails to answer the complaint. The defendant must likewise give evidence of the facts alleged in the answer, unless admitted by the complainant, and must fully disclose its defense at the hearing. In case of failure to answer, the Commission will take such proof of the facts as may be deemed proper and reasonable and make such order thereon as the circumstances of the case may require.

(c) If documentary evidence is offered, the Commission, in lieu of requiring the originals to be filed, may, in its discretion, accept certified, or otherwise authenticated, copies of such documents or such portions of the same as may be relevant, or may require such evidence to be transcribed as part of the record.

5. Adjournments. Hearings may be adjourned from time to time by or at the direction of the Commission or a commissioner.

6. Briefs. The Commission or a commissioner may require the submission of briefs.

7. Investigations on Commission's Own Motion. The Commission may at any time, of its own motion, make investigations and order hearings into any act or thing done or omitted to be done by any public utility, which the Commission may believe is in violation of any provision of law or of any order or rule of the Commission. It may also, through its own experts or employees, or otherwise, secure such evidence as it may consider necessary or desirable in any formal proceeding in addition to the evidence presented by the parties.

8. Rehearings. Any party to a formal proceeding or any stockholder or bondholder or other party pecuniarily interested in the public utility affected may apply for a rehearing as to any matters determined by the Commission and specified in the application for the rehearing, and the Commission may grant and hold such rehearing on said matters, if in its judgment sufficient reason therefor be made to appear. Such application shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the applicant considers the Commission's decision or order to be unlawful or erroneous. Rehearings must be asked for before the effective date of the decision or order complained of. In further respects, rehearings will be governed by the provisions of section 66 of the Public Utilities Act.

Rule 7. Switch Connections and Spurs—Complaints for.—When complaint is made for the installation of a switch connection or spur, under the provisions of section 39 of the Public Utilities Act:

1. The complaint, in addition to the requirements of Rule 5, subd. 2, must state:

(a) Character and amount of business which will probably be tendered at such connection or spur.

(b) Length of track necessary to be built by defendant and the cost of the same.

2. With the complaint shall be filed:

(a) Map on scale of not less than 100 feet per inch, showing location of existing tracks; property lines; buildings and structures in the vicinity; and the location and length of the proposed switch connection or spur. Such map should be filed in triplicate; one copy shall be on tracing linen unless waived by the Commission.

Rule 8. Value of Property of Public Utilities.—Formal proceedings instituted by the Commission to ascertain the value of the property of a public utility shall be conducted as specified in section 70 of the Public Utilities Act. Whenever in any formal proceeding the value of the property or a portion thereof of a public utility becomes relevant and pertinent, the Commission may, through its own experts and employees, or otherwise, investigate and ascertain such value.

Rule 9. Applications—General Matters Applicable to All.—1. Contents of Application. All formal applications must be by petition in writing, signed by the applicant and duly verified. The petition must set forth the full name and postoffice address of the applicant and must show the full name and address of its attorney, if any, and must contain the facts on which the application is based, with a request for the order, authorization, permission or certificate desired and a reference to the particular provision of law requiring or providing for the same. Three copies of the petition shall be filed with the original, except in applications covered by Rules 17, 18, 19 and 20, in which cases the original petition alone need be filed.

The petition must contain such further statements as may be required by any provision of law or of these rules and must show in detail compliance therewith.

If the applicant is a corporation, there must be annexed to the petition a certified or verified copy of its articles of incorporation or charter and all amendments thereof, except in applications covered by Rules 17, 18, 19 and 20. If maps or profiles are filed with the petition, they must always be filed in triplicate and one copy thereof shall be on tracing linen.

2. Documents Filed With Application. Whenever under these rules any map, profile, certificate, statement or other document is required to be filed with a petition and the same has theretofore been filed with the Commission, the petition may state the fact of such filing, with the date and the proceedings in which, or occasion on which, the filing was made.

3. Procedure of Commission on Filing Petition. Upon the filing of such petition, the Commission shall examine the same to see whether it establishes a prima facie case for action on the part of the Commission and conforms to these rules. If the petition fails in either of these respects, the Commission will give notice of the defects to the applicant, who may correct the same. If the petition be found to state a prima facie case and to comply with the rules, the Commission may make an order ex parte granting the application or will appoint a time and place for a hearing on the same, provided that a hearing shall always be held when provided for in the Public Utilities Act.

Rule 10. Railroad Crossings—Applications for Construction, Alteration or Abolition of.—When application is made for the construction, alteration or abolition of crossings (1) of public roads, highways or streets by railroads, or (2) of railroads by public roads, highways or streets, or (3) of railroads by railroads, or (4) of railroads by street railroads, or (5) of street railroads by railroads, or (6) of public roads or highways by street railroads, or (7) of street railroads by public roads or highways, under the provisions of section 43 of the Public Utilities Act.

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) If the application is for a crossing at grade, such facts, data and estimates of cost as tend to show that it is not reasonable or practicable to effect a separation of grades.

(b) Such safety device or other protection, if any, as the applicant may believe should be installed, with detailed information concerning the same.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) Map on scale of not less than 200 feet per inch, showing accurately the location of all tracks, buildings, structures, property lines, streets and roads in the vicinity of the proposed crossing.

(b) Profiles showing ground lines and proposed grade lines of approaches on such public roads, highways or streets, railroads or street railroads as may be affected by the proposed crossing. In case of a contemplated crossing of a railroad by a railroad, the profile of each railroad shall show the customary information for not less than one (1) mile on each side of the proposed crossing.

Rule 11. Safety Devices at Railroad Crossings—Applications for.—

Whenever a railroad or street railroad desires to protect any crossing which it may have at grade with another railroad or street railroad, with an interlocking or other safety device, it may make application to the Commission for an order approving such device and directing its construction and also prescribing the division of the cost of construction, maintenance and operation of the same.

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The kind of device proposed, with a description thereof and an estimate of the cost of its construction and operation.

(b) The average number of trains of each class, and of cars in case of street railroads, operated daily over the crossing by each railroad over a period of not less than thirty (30) days.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) Map on scale of not less than 100 feet per inch, showing the location of main tracks, the length and location of all switches, sidings and spur tracks, all buildings and obstructions to the view in the vicinity, the proposed location of tower, if any, and the proposed location of all derails, switches, signals and detector bars, which are proposed to be operated by the device.

(b) A profile of each railroad or street railroad, showing the customary information for not less than one (1) mile on each side of the crossing, in case of railroads, and not less than 1,000 feet in case of street railroads.

(c) Copies of such contracts or agreements, if any, as may have been entered into relating to the construction or protection of the crossing.

Rule 12. New Construction or Extensions—Application for.—When application is made by a street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation or water corporation for a certificate that the present or future public convenience or necessity require, or will require a proposed new construction or an extension, in the cases specified in section 50a of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The proposed location, route or routes, the method of construction, and the names of all public utility corporations or persons with whom the proposed new construction or extension is likely to compete.

(b) The facts showing the proposed new construction or extension is or will be required by public convenience and necessity.

(c) The manner, in detail, in which it is proposed to finance the proposed new construction or extension.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) Map to suitable scale, showing the location or route of the proposed new construction or extension with its relation to other public utilities with which the same is likely to compete, which map shall contain all data necessary for a complete understanding of the situation.

(b) When the consent, franchise or permit of a county, city and county, municipal or other public authority is necessary, a certified copy of the application therefor and of the ordinance or other document granting such consent, franchise or permit. If it is impossible to file a copy of the application, the facts rendering such filing impossible shall be stated.

Rule 13. Franchises and Permits—Applications for Permission to Exercise.—When application is made by a street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation or water corporation for a certificate that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of a right or privilege under a franchise or permit, in the cases specified in section 50*b* of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The financial condition of the applicant as defined in Rule 1, 6.

(b) The facts showing the proceedings theretofore taken with reference to franchise or permit for which permission and approval are sought.

(c) If the application is for permission to exercise a right or privilege under any franchise or permit granted prior to March 23, 1912, but not theretofore exercised, or the exercise of which has been suspended for more than one year, the reason why such right or privilege has not been exercised or has been suspended.

(d) The facts showing that the exercise of such right or privilege under such franchise or permit is required by the public convenience and necessity.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) A certified copy of the written application to the proper county, city and county, municipal or other public authority for its consent, franchise or permit and of the ordinance or other document, if any has been secured, granting such consent, franchise or permit. If it is impossible to file a copy of the application, the facts rendering such filing impossible shall be stated.

(b) Map to suitable scale, showing the streets, avenues and all other places and property in or upon or along which it is proposed to exercise such franchise or permit.

3. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the Commission for an order preliminary to the issue of the certificate. The Commission will, in its discretion, thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter upon application issue the desired certificate, upon such terms and conditions as it may designate, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. Upon the presentation to the Commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise or permit has been secured by such public utility, the Commission will thereupon issue such certificate.

Rule 14. Sale, Lease, Assignment, Mortgage or Other Disposition of Property—Application for.—When application is made by a railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation or water corporation for an order authorizing the sale, lease, assignment, mortgage or other disposition of the whole or any part of its railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, or any franchise or permit or any right thereunder, or by any means whatsoever, direct or indirect, the merger or consolidation of its property, franchises or permits or any part thereof, with any other public utility, in the cases specified in section 51a of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition must be made by all the parties to the proposed transaction, and, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The financial condition of each applicant, as defined in Rule 1, subd. 6.

(b) In detail the reasons upon the part of each applicant for entering into the proposed sale, lease, assignment, mortgage or other disposition of such property, franchise or permit and all the facts warranting the same and showing that it is for the benefit of the public service.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) A copy of the proposed contract, agreement, lease or mortgage, and if prior agreements have been made between the parties relating to the same subject matter, copies of such agreements must be filed with the petition or referred to as already on file with the Commission.

Rule 15. Acquisition of Part or All of Capital Stock of Another Utility—Applications for.—When application is made by any public utility for authorization to purchase or acquire, take or hold any part of the capital stock of any other public utility, under the provisions of section 51b of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition must be made by the public utility proposing to purchase, acquire, take or hold the stock, and in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The financial condition of the applicant and of the corporation whose stock is sought to be purchased, acquired, taken or held, as defined in Rule 1, subd. 6.

(b) The reasons why the applicant desires to secure the stock, and the amount of the stock of the public utility affected already owned or held by applicant, if any.

(c) Price proposed to be paid for the stock, the terms of payment with the market value thereof, the highest and lowest price during the period of at least one year prior to the application, and dividends, if any, paid for a period of five years.

Rule 16. Stocks, Bonds, Notes and Other Evidences of Indebtedness—Applications for Order Authorizing Issue of.—When application is made by any public utility for an order authorizing the issue of stock or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness payable at periods of not more than twelve months after the date thereof, under the provisions of section 52 of the Public Utilities Act.

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, shall state:

(a) The financial condition of the applicant as defined in Rule 1, subd. 6, and a description of the railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, and equipment of the applicant, with its original cost, where possible, and its cost to the applicant, and the amount of its stock held by other corporations and their names, and the kind of stock held by each. If it is impossible to state the original cost, the facts creating such impossibility shall be stated.

(b) The amount and kind of stock, if any, which the public utility desires to issue, and, if preferred, the nature and extent of the preference: the amount of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, if any, which the public utility desires to issue, with terms, rate of interest, and whether and how to be secured.

(c) The use to which the capital to be secured by the issue of such stock or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness is to be put, with a definite statement of how much is to be used severally for the acquisition of property, the construction, completion, extension or improvement of facilities, the improvement of service, the maintenance of service, the discharge or refunding of obligations, and the reimbursement of moneys actually expended from income or from any other moneys in the treasury, as provided by section 52 of the Public Utilities Act.

(d) The property in detail which is to be acquired, with its value, a detailed description of the contemplated construction, completion, extension or improvement of facilities set forth in such a manner that an estimate of cost may be made, a statement of the character of the improvement of service proposed, and of the reasons why the service should be maintained from its capital. If it is proposed to discharge or refund obligations or to reimburse moneys actually expended, a statement of the nature and description of such obligations and expenditures, including the par value of the obligations and the amount for which they were actually sold and the application of the proceeds and of the moneys expended, showing when, to whom and for what paid or applied.

(e) Whether any contracts have been made for the acquisition of such property, or for such construction, completion, extension or improvement of facilities, or for the reimbursement of expenditures, or for the disposition of any of the stock or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness which it is proposed to issue or the proceeds thereof, and if any contracts have been made, copies thereof shall be annexed to the petition.

(f) Whether any of the outstanding stock or stock certificates or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of the public utility have been issued or used in capitalizing the right to be a corporation, or any franchise or permit, or the right to own, operate, or enjoy any such franchise or permit, or any contract for consolidation or lease, and, if so, the amount thereof and the franchise, right, contract or lease so capitalized.

(g) If the stock or stock certificates are to be issued by a corporation formed by the merger or consolidation of two or more corporations, the petition shall contain a complete statement of the financial condition of the corporations so to be merged or consolidated of the kind required by subdivision (a) hereinbefore set forth, and of their capital stock at the par value thereof.

(h) Such other facts as may be pertinent to the application.

2. With the petition must be filed:

(a) A certificate or proposed certificate of proceedings at the meeting of directors and stockholders authorizing the issue of the desired securities with a copy of the mortgage, if any.

(b) A certified list of the certificates of stock already outstanding, with the shares of stock represented by each certificate, and the amounts paid to the public utility on each certificate as originally issued, either in money, labor or property, stating the amount of each.

(c) Maps, profiles, plans and plats of proposed property and construction showing—

1. In the case of railroads, including street railroads, all information required by the Commission's General Order No. 14.

2. In the case of other public utilities, such certified maps and plans as will indicate to the Commission the property to be acquired and the location, extent and character of the proposed construction.

(d) Original deeds of property or certified copies thereof covered by proposed issue, with a detailed statement of its actual cost.

(e) Certified copies of all contracts for the acquisition of proposed property and equipment and for construction, with plans and specifications of such buildings and structures as may have been designed.

(f) Complete inventory of all property and equipment proposed to be acquired, prepared upon or in accordance with blank forms and specifications prescribed by the Commission, and a statement of the cost thereof.

(g) A certified statement of all cash bonuses and other donations of property received, if any.

3. If the application is granted, in whole or in part, the Commission's order will:

(a) Prescribe the purposes and amounts for which the issue authorized or the proceeds thereof may be used.

(b) Direct the applicant to report under oath the sale or sales of the securities or obligations authorized, the terms and conditions of sale and the amounts realized therefrom.

(c) Require the applicant to make a verified report at least every six months, showing in detail the use and application by it of the moneys so realized until such moneys shall have been fully expended.

(d) Specify such condition or conditions and prescribe such terms as the Commission may deem reasonable and necessary to the exercise of its permission.

Rule 17. Increases in Charges—Applications for Permission to Make.—When application is made by any public utility to raise any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge or so to alter any classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation as to result in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge, under the provisions of section 20 of article 12 of the Constitution of this State or section 63a of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state:

(a) The rates, fares, tolls, rentals or charges in effect and the increases which it is desired to make. These allegations may be made by reference to schedules accompanying the petition.

(b) The reasons for the increase, to be stated in full, so that the Commission may clearly see the justification therefor.

2. With the petition must be filed:

(a) Such schedules or data, if any, as the Commission's tariff circulars or other applicable orders may, from time to time, specify.

3. If the Commission is satisfied with the showing so made, it may take action on the application ex parte; otherwise it may order a hearing and give notice thereof to such corporations or persons as it may consider necessary or desirable.

Rule 18. Long and Short Haul: Thirty Day Notice Rule—Applications for Relief from.—When application is made by a common carrier for authorization to charge less for a longer than a shorter haul over the same line or route in the same direction, under the provisions of section 21 of article 12 of the Constitution of this State or of section 24a of the Public Utilities Act, or by a telegraph or telephone corporation for authorization to charge less for a longer than for a shorter distance service for the transmission of messages or conversation over the same line or route in the same direction, under the provisions of section 24b of the Public Utilities Act, or by any public utility to change a rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, or a rule, regulation or contract relating to or affecting any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification or service, in cases other than those covered by Rule 17, on less than thirty days' notice, under the provisions of section 15b of the Public Utilities Act,

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 9, must state—

(a) Such facts in connection with the matter and the reasons for the desired relief as may be specified from time to time in the Commission's tariff circulars or other applicable orders or instructions.

2. With the petition must be filed:

(a) Such schedules or data, if any, as the Commission's tariff circulars or other applicable orders or instructions may, from time to time, specify.

3. If the Commission is satisfied with the showing so made, it may take action on the application ex parte; otherwise it may order a hearing and give notice thereof to such corporations or persons as it may consider necessary or desirable.

Rule 19. Excessive or Discriminatory Charges—Applications for Permission to Refund.—When application is made by any public utility to make reparation to any shipper or consumer on account of the rates charged to said shipper or consumer being excessive or discriminatory, under the provisions of section 21 of article 12 of the Constitution of this State,

1. The petition, in addition to the requirements of Rule 19, must state:

(a) Such facts in connection with the matter as may be specified from time to time in the Commission's tariff circulars or other applicable orders or instructions.

2. With the petition shall be filed:

(a) Such admissions, undertakings or statements on the part of the applicant as the Commission's tariff circulars or other applicable orders or instructions may, from time to time, specify.

3. If the Commission is satisfied with the showing so made, it may take action on the application ex parte; otherwise it may order a hearing and give notice thereof to such corporations or persons as it may consider necessary or desirable.

Rule 20. Extensions of Time to File Required Reports, Statements or Data, or to Comply With Commission's Orders—Application for.—Whenever a public utility has been required by the Commission to file any report, statement or data or to comply with any other order of the Commission within a time specified, and for any reason is unable to do so within the time specified, it must, before the expiration of such time, file with the Commission an application for extension of time, in which event—

1. The petition shall set forth in detail:

(a) What, if any, effort has been made by the applicant to prepare such report, statement or data or to comply with such order.

(b) Any facts tending to show why the said report, statement or data cannot be filed or said order complied with within the time prescribed.

(c) Any other facts which may make an extension of time necessary or proper.

(d) The further period of time deemed necessary by the applicant within which to make and file such report, statement or data or to comply with such order.

2. The Commission may direct a hearing upon said petition and in that event the applicant shall attend before the Commission or the commissioner holding the hearing and produce such witnesses and documents as the Commission may require.

Rule 21. Other Applications.—All applications relating to matters over which the Commission has jurisdiction, and which are not governed by any of the preceding rules, shall be made by petition, setting forth the name and address of the applicant and the matter with reference to which the Commission's order, authorization or permission is desired. Thereupon the procedure shall be such as the Commission may prescribe.

Rule 22. Deviations from Rules—Authorizations for.—In special cases, for good cause shown, the Commission may permit deviations from these rules in so far as it may find compliance therewith to be impossible or impracticable.

Rule 23. Amendment of Rules.—The rules may be amended at any regular session of the Commission.

Rule 24. Forms Prescribed for Use.—The following forms may be used in cases to which they are applicable, with such modifications as the circumstances may render necessary:

1. Formal Complaint.
2. Formal Application.
3. Order to Satisfy or Answer a Complaint.
4. Answer.
5. Notice of Hearing on Complaint.

THE FEDERAL FOOD AND DRUGS ACTS.

(June 30, 1906, as Amended August 23, 1912.)

Manufacture of Food or Drug Which is Adulterated or Misbranded—Misdemeanor.—It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture within any Territory or the District of Columbia any article of food or drug which is adulterated or misbranded, within the meaning of this act; and any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not to exceed five hundred dollars or shall be sentenced to one year's imprisonment, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and for each subsequent offense and conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one thousand dollars or sentenced to one year's imprisonment, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Sale, Transportation, etc.—Article Intended for Export.—Sec. 2. That the introduction into any State or Territory or the District of Columbia from any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country, or shipment to any foreign country of any article of food or drugs which is adulterated or misbranded, within the meaning of this act, is hereby prohibited; and any person who shall ship or deliver for shipment from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country, or who shall receive in any State or Territory or the District of Columbia from any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or foreign country, and having so received, shall deliver, in original unbroken packages, for pay or otherwise, or offer to deliver to any other person, any such article so adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, or any person who shall sell or offer for sale in the District of Columbia or the Territories of the United States any such adulterated or misbranded foods or drugs, or export or offer to export the same to any foreign country, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for such offense be fined not exceeding two hundred dollars for the first offense, and upon conviction for each subsequent offense not exceeding three hundred dollars or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court: Provided, that no article shall be deemed misbranded or adulterated within the provisions of this act when intended for export to any foreign country and prepared or packed according to the specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser when no substance is used in the preparation or packing thereof in conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which said article is intended to be shipped; but if said article shall be in fact sold or offered for sale for domestic use or consumption, then this proviso shall not exempt said article from the operation of any of the other provisions of this act.

Rules and Regulations.—Sec. 3. That the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor shall make uniform rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act, including the collection and examination of specimens of goods and drugs manufactured or offered for sale in the District of Columbia, or in any Territory of the United States, or which shall be offered for sale in unbroken packages in any State other than that in which they shall have been respectively manufactured or produced, or which shall be received from any foreign country, or intended for shipment to any foreign country, or which may be submitted for examination by the chief health, food, or drug officer of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or at any domestic or foreign port through which such product is offered for interstate commerce, or for export or import between the United States and any foreign port or country.

Examinations of Foods and Drugs.—Sec. 4. That the examinations of specimens of foods and drugs shall be made in the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, or under the direction and supervision of such Bureau, for the purpose of determining from such examinations whether such articles are adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act; and if it shall appear from any such examination that any of such specimens is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, the Secretary of Agriculture shall cause notice thereof to be given to the party from whom such sample was obtained. Any party so notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed as aforesaid, and if it appears that any of the provisions of this act have been violated by such party, then the Secretary of Agriculture shall at once certify the facts to the proper United States district attorney, with a copy of the results of the analysis or the examination of such article duly authenticated by the analyst or officer making such examination, under the oath of such officer. After judgment of the court, notice shall be given by publication in such manner as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations aforesaid.

Duty of District Attorney.—Sec. 5. That it shall be the duty of each district attorney to whom the Secretary of Agriculture shall report any violation of this act, or to whom any health or food or drug officer or agent of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia shall present satisfactory evidence of any such violation, to cause appropriate proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in the proper courts of the United States, without delay, for the enforcement of the penalties as in such case herein provided.

"Drug" and "Food" Defined.—Sec. 6. That the term "drug," as used in this act, shall include all medicines and preparations recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary for internal or external use, and any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure, mitigation, or prevention of disease of either man or other animals. The term "food," as used herein, shall include all articles used for food, drink, confectionery, or condiment by man or other animals, whether simple, mixed, or compound.

What Deemed Adulterated.—Sec. 7. That for the purposes of this act an article shall be deemed to be adulterated:

Drugs.—In case of drugs:

First. If, when a drug is sold under or by a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, it differs from the standard of strength, quality, or purity, as determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary official at the time of investigation: Provided, that no drug defined in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary shall be deemed to be adulterated under this provision if the standard of strength, quality, or purity be plainly stated upon the bottle, box, or other container thereof although the standard may differ from that determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary.

Second. If its strength or purity fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold.

Confectionery.—In the case of confectionery:

If it contain terra alba, barytes, talc, chrome yellow, or other mineral substance or poisonous color or flavor, or other ingredient deleterious or detrimental to health, or any vinous, malt, or spirituous liquor or compound or narcotic drug.

Food.—In the case of food:

First. If any substance has been mixed and packed with it so as to reduce or lower or injuriously affect its quality or strength.

Second. If any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article.

Third. If any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted.

Fourth. If it be mixed, colored, powdered, coated, or stained in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed.

Fifth. If it contain any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient which may render such article injurious to health: Provided, that when in the preparation of food products for shipment they are preserved by any external application applied in such manner that the preservative is necessarily removed mechanically, or by maceration in water, or otherwise, and directions for the removal of said preservative shall be printed on the covering or the package, the provisions of this act shall be construed as applying only when said products are ready for consumption.

Sixth. If it consists in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed, or putrid animal or vegetable substance, or any portion of an animal unfit for food, whether manufactured or not, or if it is the product of a diseased animal, or one that has died otherwise than by slaughter.

What Deemed Misbranded.—Sec. 8. That the term “misbranded,” as used herein, shall apply to all drugs, or articles of food, or articles which enter into the composition of food, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding such article, or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to any food or drug product which is falsely branded as to the State, Territory, or country in which it is manufactured or produced.

That for the purposes of this act an article shall also be deemed to be misbranded:

Drugs.—In case of drugs:

First. If it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article.

Second. If the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed, in whole or in part, and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if the package fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any alcohol, morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein.

Third. If its package or label shall bear or contain any statement, design, or device regarding the curative or therapeutic effect of such article or any of the ingredients or substances contained therein, which is false and fraudulent.

Food.—In the case of food:

First. If it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

Second. If it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser, or purport to be a foreign product when not so, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if it fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any of such substances contained therein.

Third. If in package form, the quantity of the contents be not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count: Provided, however, that reasonable variations shall be permitted, and tolerances and also exemptions as to small packages shall be established by rules and regulations made in accordance with the provisions of section three of this act.

Fourth. If the package containing it or its label shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding the ingredients or the substances contained therein, which statement, design, or device shall be false or misleading in any particular: Provided, that an article of food which does not contain any added poisonous or deleterious ingredients shall not be deemed to be adulterated or misbranded in the following cases:

First. In the case of mixtures or compounds which may be now or from time to time hereafter known as articles of food, under their own distinctive names, and not an imitation of or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article, if the name be accompanied on the same label or brand with a statement of the place where said article has been manufactured or produced.

Second. In the case of articles labeled, branded, or tagged so as to plainly indicate that they are compounds, imitations, or blends, and the word "compound," "imitation," or "blend," as the case may be, is plainly stated on the package in which it is offered for sale: Provided, that the term blend as used herein shall be construed to mean a mixture of like substances, not excluding harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients used for the purpose of coloring and flavoring only: And provided further, that nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring or compelling proprietors or manufacturers of proprietary foods which contain no unwholesome added ingredient to disclose their trade formulas, except in so far as the provisions of this act may require to secure freedom from adulteration or misbranding.

Guaranty.—Sec. 9. That no dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this act when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer, or other party residing in the United States, from whom he purchases such articles, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, designating it. Said guaranty, to afford protection, shall contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sale of such articles to such dealer, and in such case said party or parties shall be amenable to the prosecutions, fines and other penalties which would attach, in due course, to the dealer under the provisions of this act.

Condemnation.—Sec. 10. That any article of food, drug, or liquor that is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, and is being transported from one State, Territory, District, or insular possession to another for sale, or, having been transported, remains unloaded, unsold, or in original unbroken packages, or if it be sold or offered for sale in the District of Columbia or the Territories, or insular possessions of the United States, or if it be imported from a foreign country for sale, or if it is intended for export to a foreign country, shall be liable to be proceeded against in any district court of the United States within the district where the same is found, and seized for confiscation by a process of libel for condemnation. And if such article is condemned as being adulterated or misbranded, or of a poisonous or deleterious character, within the meaning of this act, the same shall be disposed of by destruction or sale, as the said court may direct, and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, but such goods shall not be sold in any jurisdiction contrary to the provisions of this act or the laws of that jurisdiction: Provided, however, that upon the payment of the costs of such libel proceedings and the execution and delivery of a good and sufficient bond to the effect that such articles shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of contrary to the provisions of this act, or the laws of any State, Territory, District, or insular possession, the court may by order direct that such articles be delivered to the owner thereof. The proceedings of such libel cases shall conform, as near as may be, to the proceedings in admiralty, except that either party may demand trial by jury of any issue of fact joined in any such case, and all such proceedings shall be at the suit of and in the name of the United States.

Examination of Samples of Imported Goods and Proceedings Against Such Goods.—Sec. 11. The Secretary of the Treasury shall deliver to the Secretary of Agriculture, upon his request from time to time, samples of foods and drugs which are being imported into the United States or offered for import, giving notice thereof to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Secretary of Agriculture, and have the right to introduce testimony, and if it appear from the examination of such samples that any article of food or drug offered to be imported into the United States is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, or is otherwise dangerous to the health of the people of the United States, or is of a kind forbidden entry into, or forbidden to be sold or restricted in sale in the country in which it is made or from which it is exported, or is otherwise falsely labeled in any respect, the said article shall be refused admission, and the Secretary of the Treasury shall refuse delivery to the consignee and shall cause the destruction of any goods refused delivery which shall not be exported by the consignee within three months from the date of notice of such refusal under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe: Provided, that the Secretary of the Treasury may deliver to the consignee such goods pending examination and decision in the matter on execution of a penal bond for the amount of the full invoice value of such goods, together with the duty thereon; and on refusal to return such goods for any cause to the custody of the Secretary of the Treasury, when demanded, for the purpose of excluding them from the country, or for any other purpose, said consignee shall forfeit the full amount of the bond: And provided further, that all charges for storage, cartage, and labor on goods which are refused admission or delivery shall be paid by the owner or consignee, and in default of such payment shall constitute a lien against any future importation made by such owner or consignee.

“Territory” and “Person” Defined.—Sec. 12. That the term “Territory” as used in this act shall include the insular possessions of the United States. The word “person” as used in this act shall be construed to import both the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person acting for or employed by any corporation, company, society, or association, within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such corporation, company, society, or association as well as that of the person.

Act in Force.—Sec. 13. That this act shall be in force and effect from and after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and seven.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE FOOD AND DRUGS ACT.

GENERAL.

Regulation 1. Short Title of the Act.—The act, "For preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated or misbranded or poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines, and liquors, and for regulating traffic therein, and for other purposes," approved June 30, 1906, shall be known and referred to as "The Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906."

Regulation 2. Original Unbroken Package.—The term "original unbroken package" as used in this act is the original package, carton, case, can, box, barrel, bottle, phial, or other receptacle put up by the manufacturer, to which the label is attached, or which may be suitable for the attachment of a label, making one complete package of the food or drug article. The original package contemplated includes both the wholesale and the retail package.

Regulation 3. Collection of Samples.—Samples of unbroken packages shall be collected only by authorized agents of the Department of Agriculture, or by the health, food, or drug officer of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, when commissioned by the Secretary of Agriculture for this purpose.

Samples may be purchased in the open market; and, if in bulk, the marks, brands, or tags upon the package, carton, container, wrapper, or accompanying printed or written matter shall be noted. The collector shall also note the names of the vendor and agent through whom the sale was actually made, together with the date of the purchase. The collectors shall purchase representative samples.

A sample taken from bulk goods shall be divided into three parts, and each shall be labeled with the identifying marks.

If a package be less than 4 pounds, or in volume less than 2 quarts, three packages shall be purchased, when practicable, and the marks and tags upon each noted as above. When three samples are purchased, one sample shall be delivered to the Bureau of Chemistry or to such chemist or examiner as may be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture; the second and third samples shall be held under seal by the Secretary of Agriculture, who, upon request, shall deliver one of such samples to the party from whom purchased or to the party guaranteeing such merchandise.

When it is impracticable to collect three samples, or to divide the sample or samples, the order of delivery outlined above shall obtain, and in case there is a second sample the Secretary of Agriculture may, at his discretion, deliver such sample to parties interested.

All samples shall be sealed by the collector with a seal provided for the purpose.

Regulation 4. Methods of Analysis.—Unless otherwise directed by the Secretary of Agriculture, the methods of analysis employed shall be those prescribed by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists and the United States Pharmacopœia.

Regulation 5. Hearings.—(a) When the examination or analysis shows that samples are adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act notice of that fact shall be given in every case to the party or parties against whom prosecution lies under this act for the shipment or manufacture or sale of the particular product and such other interested parties as the Secretary of Agriculture may direct, and a date shall be fixed at which such party or parties may be heard before the Secretary of Agriculture or such other person as he may direct. The hearings shall be had at places designated by the Secretary of Agriculture most convenient for all parties concerned. These hearings shall be private and confined to questions of fact. The parties interested therein may appear in person or by attorney and may submit oral or written evidence to show any fault or error in the findings of the analyst or examiner. Interested parties may present proper interrogatories to analysts, to be submitted to and propounded by the Secretary of Agriculture or the officer conducting the hearing. Such privilege, however, shall not include the right of cross-examination. The Secretary of Agriculture may order a re-examination of the sample or have new samples drawn for further examination.

(b) If, after hearings held, it appears that a violation of the act has been committed, the Secretary of Agriculture shall give notice to the proper United States attorney.

(c) Any health, food, or drug officer or agent of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia who shall obtain satisfactory evidence of any violation of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, as provided by section 5 thereof, shall first submit the same to the Secretary of Agriculture in order that he may give notice and fix dates for hearings to the proper parties.

Regulation 6. Publication.—(a) When a judgment of the court shall have been rendered there may be a publication of the findings of the examiner or analyst, together with the findings of the court.

(b) This publication may be made in the form of circulars, notices, or bulletins, as the Secretary of Agriculture may direct, not less than thirty days after judgment.

(c) If an appeal be taken from the judgment of the court before such publication, notice of the appeal shall accompany the publication.

Regulation 7. Standards for Drugs.—(a) A drug bearing a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, without any further statement respecting its character, shall be required to conform in strength, quality, and purity to the standards prescribed or indicated for a drug of the same name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, official at the time.

(b) A drug bearing a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, and branded to show a different standard of strength, quality, or purity, shall not be regarded as adulterated if it conforms to its declared standard.

Regulation 8. Formulas—Proprietary Foods.—(a) Manufacturers of proprietary foods are only required to state upon the label the names and percentages of the materials used, in so far as the Secretary of Agriculture may find this to be necessary to secure freedom from adulteration and misbranding.

(b) The factories in which proprietary foods are made shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection provided for in Regulation 16.

Regulation 9. Form of Guaranty.—(a) No dealer in food or drug products will be liable to prosecution if he can establish that the goods were sold under a guaranty by the wholesaler, manufacturer, jobber, dealer, or other party residing in the United States from whom purchased.

(b) A general guaranty may be filed with the Secretary of Agriculture by the manufacturer or dealer and be given a serial number, which number shall appear on each and every package of goods sold under such guaranty with the words "Guaranteed by [insert name of guarantor] under the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906."

(c) The following form of guaranty is suggested:

I (we) the undersigned do hereby guarantee that the articles of foods or drugs manufactured, packed, distributed, or sold by me (us) [specifying the same as fully as possible] are not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906.

(Signed in ink.)

[Name and place of business of wholesaler, dealer, manufacturer, jobber, or other party.]

(d) If the guaranty be not filed with the Secretary of Agriculture as above, it should identify and be attached to the bill of sale, invoice, bill of lading, or other schedule giving the names and quantities of the articles sold.

ADULTERATION.

Regulation 10. Confectionery.—(a) Mineral substances of all kinds (except as provided in Regulation 15) are specifically forbidden in confectionery whether they be poisonous or not.

(b) Only harmless colors or flavors shall be added to confectionery.

(c) The term "narcotic drugs" includes all the drugs mentioned in section 8, food and drugs act, June 30, 1906, relating to foods, their derivatives and preparations, and all other drugs of a narcotic nature.

Regulation 11. Substances Mixed and Packed With Foods.—No substance may be mixed or packed with a food product which will reduce or lower its quality or strength. Not excluded under this provision are substances properly used in the preparation of food products for clarification or refining, and eliminated in the further process of manufacture.

Regulation 12. Coloring, Powdering, Coating, and Staining.—(a) Only harmless colors may be used in food products.

(b) The reduction of a substance to a powder to conceal inferiority in character is prohibited.

(c) The term "powdered" means the application of any powdered substance to the exterior portion of articles of food, or the reduction of a substance to a powder.

(d) The term "coated" means the application of any substance to the exterior portion of a food product.

(e) The term "stain" includes any change produced by the addition of any substance to the exterior portion of foods which in any way alters their natural tint.

Regulation 13. Natural Poisonous or Deleterious Ingredients.—Any food product which contains naturally a poisonous or deleterious ingredient does not come within the provisions of the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906, except when the presence of such ingredient is due to filth, putrescence, or decomposition.

Regulation 14. External Application of Preservatives.—(a) Poisonous or deleterious preservatives shall only be applied externally, and they and the food products shall be of a character which shall not permit the permeation of any of the preservative to the interior, or any portion of the interior, of the product.

(b) When these products are ready for consumption, if any portion of the added preservative shall have penetrated the food product, then the proviso of section 7, paragraph 5, under "Foods," shall not obtain, and such food products shall then be subject to the regulations for food products in general.

(c) The preservative applied must be of such a character that, until removed, the food products are inedible.

Regulation 15. Wholesomeness of Colors and Preservatives.—(a) Respecting the wholesomeness of colors, preservatives, and other substances which are added to foods, the Secretary of Agriculture shall determine from chemical or other examination, under the authority of the agricultural appropriation act, Public 382, approved June 30, 1906, the names of those substances which are permitted or inhibited in food products; and such findings, when approved by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, shall become a part of these regulations.

(b) The Secretary of Agriculture shall determine from time to time, in accordance with the authority conferred by the agricultural appropriation act, Public 382, approved June 30, 1906, the principles which shall guide the use of colors, preservatives, and other substances added to foods; and when concurred in by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, the principles so established shall become a part of these regulations.

(c) It having been determined that benzoate of soda mixed with food is not deleterious or poisonous and is not injurious to health, no objection will be raised under the food and drugs act to the use in food of benzoate of soda, provided that each container or package of such food is plainly labeled to show the presence and amount of benzoate of soda. Food Inspection Decisions 76 and 89 are amended accordingly.

(d) It having been determined that saccharin mixed with food is an added poisonous and deleterious ingredient such as is contemplated by the act, and also that the substitution of saccharin for sugar in foods reduces and lowers their quality, the Secretary of Agriculture will regard as adulterated under the food and drugs act foods containing saccharin which, on or after April 1, 1912, are manufactured or offered for sale in the District of Columbia or Territories or shipped in interstate or foreign commerce, or offered for importation into the United States. (F. I. D. 135, 138, and 142, dated April 26 and June 20, 1911, and March 1, 1912, respectively.)

Regulation 16. Character of the Raw Materials.—(a) The Secretary of Agriculture, when he deems it necessary, shall examine the raw materials used in the manufacture of food and drug products, and determine whether any filthy, decomposed, or putrid substance is used in their preparation.

(b) The Secretary of Agriculture shall make such inspections as often as he may deem necessary.

MISBRANDING.

Regulation 17. Label.—(a) The term "label" applies to any printed, pictorial or other matter upon or attached to any package of a food or drug product, or any container thereof subject to the provisions of this act.

(b) The principal label shall consist, first, of all information which the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906, specifically requires, to wit, the name of the place of manufacture in the case of food compounds or mixtures sold under a distinctive name; statements which show that the articles are compounds, mixtures, or blends; the words "compound," "mixture," or "blend," and words designating substances or their derivatives and proportions required to be named in the case of foods and drugs. All this information shall appear upon the principal label, and should have no intervening descriptive or explanatory reading matter. Second, if the name of the manufacturer and place of manufacture are given, they should also appear upon the principal label. Third, preferably upon the principal label, in conjunction with the name of the substance, such phrases as "artificially colored," "colored with sulphate of copper," or any other such descriptive phrases necessary to be announced should be conspicuously displayed. Fourth, elsewhere upon the principal label other matter may appear in the discretion of the manufacturer. If the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, such statement should appear upon the principal label and must be couched in plain terms, as required by Regulation 29.

(c) If the principal label is in a foreign language, all information required by law and such other information as indicated above in (b)

shall appear upon it in English. Besides the principal label in the language of the country of production, there may be also one or more other labels, if desired, in other languages, but none of them more prominent than the principal label, and these other labels must bear the information required by law, but not necessarily in English. The size of the type used to declare the information required by the act shall not be smaller than 8-point (brevier) capitals: Provided, That in case the size of the package will not permit the use of 8-point type, the size of the type may be reduced proportionately.

(d) Descriptive matter upon the label shall be free from any statement, design, or device regarding the article or the ingredients or substances contained therein, or quality thereof, or place of origin, which is false or misleading in any particular. The term "design" or "device" applies to pictorial matter of every description, and to abbreviations, characters, or signs for weights, measures, or names of substances.

(e) An article containing more than one food product or active medicinal agent is misbranded if named after a single constituent.

In the case of drugs the nomenclature employed by the United States Pharmacopœia and the National Formulary shall obtain.

(f) The use of any false or misleading statement, design, or device appearing on any part of the label shall not be justified by any statement given as the opinion of an expert or other person, nor by any descriptive matter explaining the use of the false or misleading statement, design, or device.

Regulation 18. Name and Address of Manufacturer.—(a) The name of the manufacturer or producer, or the place where manufactured, except in case of mixtures and compounds having a distinctive name, need not be given upon the label, but if given, must be the true name and the true place. The words "packed for," "distributed by," or some equivalent phrase, shall be added to the label in case the name which appears upon the label is not that of the actual manufacturer or producer, or the name of the place not the actual place of manufacture or production.

(b) When a person, firm, or corporation actually manufactures or produces an article of food or drug in two or more places, the actual place of manufacture or production of each particular package need not be stated on the label except when in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture the mention of any such place, to the exclusion of the others, misleads the public.

Regulation 19. Character of Name.—(a) A simple or unmixed food or drug product not bearing a distinctive name should be designated by its common name in the English language; or if a drug, by any name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary. No further description of the components or qualities is required, except as to content of alcohol, morphine, etc.

(b) The use of a geographical name shall not be permitted in connection with a food or drug product not manufactured or produced in that place, when such name indicates that the article was manufactured or produced in that place.

(c) The use of a geographical name in connection with a food or drug product will not be deemed a misbranding when by reason of long usage it has come to represent a generic term and is used to indicate a style, type, or brand; but in all such cases the State or Territory where any such article is manufactured or produced shall be stated upon the principal label.

(d) A foreign name which is recognized as distinctive of a product of a foreign country, shall not be used upon an article of domestic origin except as an indication of the type or style of quality or manufacture, and then only when so qualified that it cannot be offered for sale under the name of a foreign article.

Regulation 20. Distinctive Name.—(a) A “distinctive name” is a trade, arbitrary, or fancy name which clearly distinguishes a food product, mixture, or compound from any other food product, mixture, or compound.

(b) A distinctive name shall not be one representing any single constituent of a mixture or compound.

(c) A distinctive name shall not misrepresent any property or quality of a mixture or compound.

(d) A distinctive name shall give no false indication of origin, character, or place of manufacture, nor lead the purchaser to suppose that it is any other food or drug product.

Regulation 21. Compounds, Imitations, or Blends Without Distinctive Name.—(a) The term “blend” applies to a mixture of like substances, not excluding harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients used for the purpose of coloring and flavoring only.

(b) If any age is stated, it shall not be that of a single one of its constituents, but shall be the average of all constituents in their respective proportions.

(c) Coloring and flavoring cannot be used for increasing the weight or bulk of a blend.

(d) In order that colors or flavors may not increase the volume or weight of a blend, they are not to be used in quantities exceeding 1 pound to 800 pounds of the blend.

(e) A color or flavor cannot be employed to imitate any natural product or any other product of recognized name and quality.

(f) The term “imitation” applies to any mixture or compound which is a counterfeit or fraudulent simulation of any article of food or drug.

Regulation 22. Articles Without a Label.—It is prohibited to sell or offer for sale a food or drug product bearing no label upon the package or no descriptive matter whatever connected with it, either by design, device, or otherwise, if said product be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article.

Regulation 23. Proper Branding not a Complete Guaranty.—Packages which are correctly branded as to character of contents, place of manufacture, name of manufacturer, or otherwise, may be adulterated and hence not entitled to enter into interstate commerce.

Regulation 24. Incompleteness of Branding.—A compound shall be deemed misbranded if the label be incomplete as to the names of the required ingredients. A simple product does not require any further statement than the name or distinctive name thereof, except as provided in Regulations 19 (a) and 28.

Regulation 25. Substitution.—(a) When a substance of a recognized quality commonly used in the preparation of a food or drug product is replaced by another substance not injurious or deleterious to health, the name of the substituted substance shall appear upon the label.

(b) When any substance which does not reduce, lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength, is added to a food or drug product, other than that necessary to its manufacture or refining, the label shall bear a statement to that effect.

Regulation 26. Waste Materials.—When an article is made up of refuse materials, fragments, or trimmings, the use of the name of the substance from which they are derived, unless accompanied by a statement to that effect, shall be deemed a misbranding. Packages of such materials may be labeled "pieces," "stems," "trimmings," or with some similar appellation.

Regulation 27. Mixtures or Compounds With Distinctive Names.—(a) The terms "mixtures" and "compounds" are interchangeable and indicate the results of putting together two or more food products.

(b) These mixtures or compounds shall not be imitations of other articles, whether simple, mixed, or compound, or offered for sale under the name of other articles. They shall bear a distinctive name and the name of the place where the mixture or compound has been manufactured or produced.

(c) If the name of the place be one which is found in different States, Territories, or countries, the name of the State, Territory, or country, as well as the name of the place, must be stated.

Regulation 28. Substances Named in Drugs or Foods.—(a) The term "alcohol" is defined to mean common or ethyl alcohol. No other kind of alcohol is permissible in the manufacture of drugs except as specified in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary.

(b) The words alcohol, morphine, opium, etc., and the quantities and proportions thereof, shall be printed in letters corresponding in size with those prescribed in Regulation 17, paragraph (c).

(c) A drug, or food product except in respect of alcohol, is misbranded in case it fails to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any alcohol, morphine, opium, heroin, cocaine, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein.

(d) A statement of the maximum quantity or proportion of any such substances present will meet the requirements, provided the maximum stated does not vary materially from the average quantity or proportion.

(e) In case the actual quantity or proportion is stated it shall be the average quantity or proportion with the variations noted in Regulation 29.

(f) The following are the principal derivatives and preparations made from the articles which are required to be named upon the label:

ALCOHOL, ETHYL: (Cologne spirits, Grain alcohol, Rectified spirits, Spirits, and Spirits of wine.)

Derivatives—

Aldehyde, Ether, Ethyl acetate, Ethyl nitrite, and Paraldehyde.

Preparations containing alcohol—

Bitters, Brandies, Cordials, Elixirs, Essences, Fluid extracts, Spirits, Sirups, Tinctures, Tonics, Whiskies, and Wines.

MORPHINE, ALKALOID:

Derivatives—

Apomorphine, Dionine, Peronine, Morphine acetate, Hydrochloride, Sulphate, and other salts of morphine.

Preparations containing morphine or derivatives of morphine—

Bougies, Catarrh Snuff, Chlorodyne, Compound powder of morphine, Crayons, Elixirs, Granules, Pills, Solutions, Sirups, Suppositories, Tablets, Triturates, and Troches.

OPIUM, GUM:

Preparations of opium—

Extracts, Denarcotized opium, Granulated opium, and Powdered opium, Bougies, Brown mixture, Carminative mixtures, Crayons, Dover's powder, Elixirs, Liniments, Ointments, Paregoric, Pills, Plasters, Sirups, Suppositories, Tablets, Tinctures, Troches, Vinegars, and Wines.

Derivatives—

Codeine, Alkaloid, Hydrochloride, Phosphate, Sulphate, and other salts of codeine.

Preparations containing codeine or its salts—

Elixirs, Pills, Sirups, and Tablets.

COCAINE, ALKALOID:

Derivatives—

Cocaine hydrochloride, Oleate, and other salts.

Preparations containing cocaine or salts of cocaine—

Coca leaves, Catarrh powders, Elixirs, Extracts, Infusion of coca, Ointments, Paste pencils, Pills, Solutions, Sirups, Tablets, Tinctures, Troches, and Wines.

HEROIN :

Preparations containing heroin—

Sirups, Elixirs, Pills, and Tablets.

ALPHA AND BETA EUCAINE :

Preparations—

Mixtures, Ointments, Powders, and Solutions.

CHLOROFORM :

Preparations containing chloroform—

Chloranodyne, Elixirs, Emulsions, Liniments, Mixtures, Spirits and Sirups.

CANNABIS INDICA :

Preparations of cannabis indica—

Corn remedies, Extracts, Mixtures, Pills, Powders, Tablets, and Tinctures.

CHLORAL HYDRATE (Chloral, U. S. Pharmacopœia, 1890) :

Derivatives—

Chloral acetophenonoxim, Chloral alcoholate, Chloralamide, Chloralimide, Chloral orthoform, Chloralose, Dormiol, Hypnal, and Uraline.

Preparations containing chloral hydrate or its derivatives—

Chloral camphorate, Elixirs, Liniments, Mixtures, Ointments, Suppositories, Sirups, and Tablets.

ACETANILIDE (Antifebrine, Phenylacetamide) :

Derivatives—

Acetphenetidine, Citrophen, Diacetanilide, Lactophenin, Methoxyacetanilide, Methylacetanilide, Para-Iodoacetanilide, and Phenacetine.

Preparations containing acetanilide or derivatives—

Analgesics, Antineuralgics, Antirheumatics, Cachets, Capsules, Cold remedies, Elixirs, Granular effervescing salts, Headache powders, Mixtures, Pain remedies, Pills, and Tablets.

(g) In declaring the quantity or proportion of any of the specified substances the names by which they are designated in the act shall be used, and in declaring the quantity or proportion of derivatives of any of the specified substances, in addition to the trade name of the derivative, the name of the specified substance shall also be stated, so as to indicate clearly that the product is a derivative of the particular specified substance.

Regulation 29. Statement of Weight or Measure.—(a) A statement of the weight or measure of the food contained in a package is not required. If any such statement is printed, it shall be a plain and correct statement of the average net weight or volume, either on or immediately above or below the principal label, and of the size of letters specified in Regulation 17.

(b) A reasonable variation from the stated weight for individual packages is permissible, provided this variation is as often above as below the weight or volume stated. This variation shall be determined by the inspector from the changes in the humidity of the atmosphere, from the exposure of the package to evaporation or to absorption of water, and the reasonable variations which attend the filling and weighing or measuring of a package.

Regulation 30. Method of Stating Quantity or Proportion.—In the case of alcohol the expression “quantity” or “proportion” shall mean the average percentage by volume in the finished product. In the case of the other ingredients required to be named upon the label, the expression “quantity” or “proportion” shall mean grains or minims per ounce or fluid ounce, and also, if desired, the metric equivalents therefor, or milligrams per gram or per cubic centimeter, or grams or cubic centimeters per kilogram or per liter; provided that these articles shall not be deemed misbranded if the maximum of quantity or proportion be stated, as required in Regulation 28 (d).

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS OF FOODS AND DRUGS.

Regulation 31. Preparation of Food Products for Export.—(a) Food products intended for export may contain added substances not permitted in foods intended for interstate commerce, when the addition of such substances does not conflict with the laws of the countries to which the food products are to be exported and when such substances are added in accordance with the directions of the foreign purchaser or his agent.

(b) The exporter is not required to furnish evidence that goods have been prepared or packed in compliance with the laws of the foreign country to which said goods are intended to be shipped, but such shipment is made at his own risk.

(c) Food products for export under this regulation shall be kept separate and labeled to indicate that they are for export.

(d) If the products are not exported they shall not be allowed to enter interstate commerce.

Regulation 32. Imported Food and Drug Products.—(a) Meat and meat food products imported into the United States shall be accompanied by a certificate of official inspection of a character to satisfy the Secretary of Agriculture that they are not dangerous to health, and each package of such articles shall bear a label which shall identify it as covered by the certificate, which certificate shall accompany or be attached to the invoice on which entry is made.

(b) The certificate shall set forth the official position of the inspector and the character of the inspection.

(c) Meat and meat food products as well as all other food and drug products of a kind forbidden entry into or forbidden to be sold, or restricted in sale in the country in which made or from which exported, will be refused admission.

(d) Meat and meat food products which have been inspected and passed through the customs may, if identity is retained, be transported in interstate commerce.

Regulation 33. Declaration.—(a) All invoices of food or drug products shipped to the United States shall have attached to them a declaration of the shipper, made before a United States consular officer, as follows:

I, the undersigned, do solemnly and truly declare that I am the of the merchandise herein mentioned and described, and that it consists of food or drug products which contain no added substances injurious to health.
(Manufacturer, agent or shipper.)

These products were grown in and manufactured in (Country.) (Country.)
by during the year, and are exported from

(b) In the case of importations to be entered at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, and New Orleans, and other ports where food and drug inspection laboratories shall be established, this declaration shall be attached to the invoice on which entry is made. In other cases the declaration shall be attached to the copy of the invoice sent to the Bureau of Chemistry.

Regulation 34. Denaturing.—Unless otherwise declared on the invoice, all substances ordinarily used as food products will be treated as such. Shipments of substances ordinarily used as food products intended for technical purposes should be accompanied by a declaration stating that fact. Such products should be denatured before entry, but denaturing may be allowed under customs supervision with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Secretary of the Treasury may release such products without denaturing, under such conditions as may preclude the possibility of their use as food products.

Regulation 35. Bond, Imported Foods and Drugs.—Unexamined packages of food and drug products may be delivered to the consignee prior to the completion of the examination to determine whether the same are adulterated or misbranded upon the execution of a penal bond by the consignee in the sum of the invoice value of such goods with the duty added, for the return of the goods to customs custody.

Regulation 36. Notification of Violation of the Law.—If the sample on analysis or examination be found not to comply with the law, the importer shall be notified of the nature of the violation, the time and place at which final action will be taken upon the question of the exclusion of the shipment, and that he may be present, and submit evidence (Form No. 5), which evidence, with a sample of the article, shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Chemistry at Washington, accompanied by the appropriate report card.

Regulation 37. Appeal to the Secretary of Agriculture and Remuneration.—All applications for relief from decisions arising under the execution of the law should be addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture, and all vouchers or accounts for remuneration for samples shall be filed with the chief of the inspection laboratory, who shall forward the same, with his recommendation, to the Department of Agriculture for action.

Regulation 38. Shipment Beyond the Jurisdiction of the United States.—The time allowed the importer for representations regarding the shipment may be extended at his request to permit him to secure such evidence as he desires, provided that this extension of time does not entail any expense to the Department of Agriculture. If at the expiration of this time, in view of the data secured in inspecting the sample and such evidence as may have been submitted by the manufacturers or importers, it appears that the shipment cannot be legally imported into the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture shall request the Secretary of the Treasury to refuse to deliver the shipment in question to the consignee, and to require its reshipment beyond the jurisdiction of the United States.

Regulation 39. [Revoked June 13, 1913.]

Regulation 40. Alteration and Amendment of Regulations.—These regulations may be altered or amended at any time, without previous notice, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

GUARANTIES—THEIR NATURE AND USE.

Both the State and federal foods and drugs acts contain provisions enabling every dealer, whether wholesaler or retailer, to protect himself against prosecution for the sale of adulterated or mislabeled articles which have been produced, manufactured, or packed by someone else.

By the simple means of requiring that a guaranty be given with all goods purchased (except as hereinafter noted), the dealer may shift the responsibility to the person from whom he buys. This, however is something that the dealer must do for himself, and he must investigate the subject of guaranties sufficiently to know that he is protected.

It is believed that if dealers will study the following synopsis of the law on this subject, and will carefully comply with the suggestions therein made, they will have no difficulty in avoiding prosecution for any adulteration or misbranding done by anyone except themselves.

Guaranties, under the California Foods and Drugs Acts, are of two kinds, general and specific.

General Guaranty.—1. The general guaranty must be filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, in Washington, D. C. It must refer to the California law, and must be in the following form:

I (we), the undersigned, do hereby guarantee that the articles of foods, liquors, and drugs manufactured, produced, prepared, compounded, packed, distributed, or sold by me (us) (specifying the same as fully as possible) are not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, and are not adulterated, mislabeled, or misbranded, within the meaning of the California Pure Foods Act, March 11, 1907, or the California Pure Drugs Act, March 11, 1907.

Dated,

(Signed in ink.)

.....
(Name, place of business and address of the guarantor, and the statement
as to whether guarantor is corporation or copartnership.)

The general guaranty must be acknowledged before a notary public, and, where the guarantor is a corporation, must be accompanied by evidence of the authority of the person executing the guaranty, as agent or officer. Unless these requirements are complied with, the guaranty will not be filed.

The general guaranty will afford protection only as to packages bearing on the label the legend "Guaranteed by (name of guarantor) under the Foods and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906," and the serial number given by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The general guaranty is worthless unless it is filed with the Secretary of Agriculture. Given by the guarantor to the purchaser it affords no protection, for the reason that the acts make no provision for the prosecution of the guarantor in such a case.

Specific Guaranty.—2. The specific guaranty must contain the name and address of the guarantor, an itemized statement of the articles purchased, and a statement that they are not misbranded, mislabeled, or adulterated within the meaning of the California law. It must be in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby guarantees that the articles of (drugs, foods, or liquors, as the case may be, specifying them), this day sold to (name of dealer) and mentioned in the attached invoice, are not adulterated, misbranded, or mislabeled, within the meaning of the California Pure Foods (or Drugs, as the case may be) Act, March 11, 1907.

Dated,

.....
(Name, place of business
and address of the guar-
antor, and the statement
as to whether guarantor
is corporation or copart-
nership.)

A convenient method of using the specific guaranty, which has been adopted by many manufacturers and wholesalers, is to print or stamp the form on all invoices, and sign such invoices as they go out.

A convenient form for use in this manner is the following:

The articles of foods (or drugs, as the case may be) listed in this invoice are guaranteed not to be adulterated, mislabeled, or misbranded within the meaning of the California Pure Foods (or Drugs, as the case may be) Act, March 11, 1907.

.....
(Name and address of guarantor with statement as to whether guarantor is corporation, partnership, or individual.)

Excepting as to goods covered by general guaranty, filed in Washington and bearing label with the legend and serial number, the dealer will not be protected unless he has a specific guaranty as above indicated, containing an itemized statement of the articles guaranteed.

Proof.—Dealers from whom adulterated or misbranded goods are taken by inspectors, in order to protect themselves, must prove that the sample was guaranteed as required by the act. Such proof must be submitted to the State Board of Health at the hearing, or the case will be referred for prosecution. Where the guaranty is specific, it should be submitted, with an affidavit that the sample taken is one of the articles mentioned in the itemized statement, and that when taken the sample was in exactly the same condition as when received by the dealer. Where the guaranty is general, a copy of the general guaranty on file with the Secretary of Agriculture, duly certified by him as correct, a statement under oath that the sample when taken was in exactly the same condition as it was when received by the dealer, and like proof of the time and place of purchase and the name and address of the person of whom the article was purchased, should be submitted.

General Guaranties, Together With Specific Guaranties.—It has been the practice of many wholesalers to furnish their customers with general guaranties, together with an agreement to the effect that specific guaranties, covering any particular articles purchased from the guarantor, will be furnished upon demand. This arrangement contemplates that whenever a sample of goods purchased from the guarantor is taken up by an inspector, the dealer shall state the name of the guarantor, and shall at once demand of the latter a specific guaranty to be used for the dealer's protection in case he is cited to appear before the State Board of Health for any violation discovered upon examination of the sample.

The Board has no objection to this plan, but such an arrangement, if made, is at the dealer's own risk, and it must be borne in mind that to afford himself any protection, the dealer must produce the specific guaranty at the hearing, must prove that the article described therein is the identical article taken as a sample, and that the sample when taken was in the same condition, as to label and ingredients, as it was when purchased from the guarantor. Under these circumstances, the specific guaranty may be given at any time before the hearing.

Exception as to Foods and Liquors.—Dealers in foods and liquors must also bear in mind the change made by the amendment to section 22 of the Pure Foods Act, adopted in 1911. Under this amendment (adopted against the protest of this department), to protect himself the dealer must prove a guaranty, and must "also establish by satisfactory evidence that the article sold by him was mislabeled and that at the time of making such sale he was not aware of that fact."

CALIFORNIA PURE FOODS ACT.

(Approved March 11, 1907; as amended 1909 and 1911.)

§ 1. Adulterated, Mislabeled or Misbranded.—The manufacture, production, preparation, compounding, packing, selling, offering for sale or keeping for sale within the State of California, or the introduction into this State from any other State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country, of any article of food or liquor which is adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act is hereby prohibited. Any person, firm, company, or corporation who shall import or receive from any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia or from any foreign country, or who having so received shall deliver for pay or otherwise, or offer to deliver to any other person, any article of food or liquor adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act, or any person who shall manufacture or produce, prepare or compound, or pack or sell, or offer for sale, or keep for sale, in the State of California any such adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food, or liquor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that no article of food shall be deemed adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the provisions of this act when prepared for export beyond the jurisdiction of the United States and prepared or packed according to specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser, when no substance is used in the preparation or packing thereof in conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which said article is intended to be shipped; but if such foods shall be in fact sold, or kept or offered for sale for domestic uses and consumption, then this proviso shall not exempt said article from the operation of any provisions of this act.

§ 2. Term "Food."—The term "food" as used in this act shall include all articles used for food, drink, liquor, confectionery or condiment by man or other animals, whether simple, mixed, or compound.

§ 3. Standard of Purity.—The standard of purity of food and liquor shall be that proclaimed by the Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 4. Food, When Deemed Adulterated.—Food shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act, in any of the following cases:

First. If any substance has been mixed or packed, or mixed and packed with the food so as to reduce or lower or injuriously affect its quality, purity, strength, or food value.

Second. If any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article of food.

Third. If any essential or any valuable constituent or ingredient of the article of food has been wholly or in part abstracted.

Fourth. If it be mixed, colored, powdered, coated or stained in any manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed.

Fifth. If it contain any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient.

Sixth. If it consists in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substance, or any portion of an animal or vegetable unfit for food, whether manufactured or not, or if it is the product of a diseased animal, or one that has died otherwise than by slaughter; provided, that an article of liquor shall not be deemed adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded if it be blended or mixed with like substances so as not to injuriously reduce or injuriously lower or injuriously affect its quality, purity or strength.

Seventh. In the case of confectionery: If it contains terra alba, barytes, talc, chrome yellow, or other mineral substance or poisonous color or flavor, or other ingredient deleterious or detrimental to health, or any vinous, malt, or spirituous liquor or compound or narcotic drug.

Eighth. In the case of vinegar: If it be artificially colored.

Ninth. If it does not conform to the standard of purity therefor as proclaimed by the Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 5. Term "Misbranded."—That the term "misbranded" as used herein shall apply to all articles of food, or articles which enter into the composition of food, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design or device regarding such article, or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to any food product which is falsely branded as to the county, city and county, city, town, State, territory, District of Columbia or foreign country in which it is manufactured, or produced.

§ 6. Food and Liquor, When Deemed Misbranded.—Food and liquor shall be deemed mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act in any of the following cases:

First. If it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article of food.

Second. If it be labeled or branded or colored so as to deceive or mislead, or tend to deceive or mislead the purchaser; or if it be falsely labeled in any respect, or if it purport to be a foreign product tend to mislead the purchaser, or purport to be a foreign product when not so, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package.

Third. If in package form, and the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, they are not plainly and correctly stated on the outside of the package.

Fourth. If the package containing it or its label shall bear any statement, design or device regarding the ingredients or the substance contained therein, which statement, design, or device shall be false or misleading in any particular.

Fifth. When any package bears the name of the manufacturers, jobbers or sellers, or the grade or class of the product, it must bear the name of the real manufacturers, jobbers or sellers and the true grade or class of the product, the same to be expressed in clear and distinct English words in legible type; provided, that an article of food shall not be deemed misbranded, if it be a well-known food product of a nature, quality and appearance, and so exposed to public inspection as not to deceive or mislead nor tend to deceive or mislead a purchaser, and not misbranded and not of the character included within the definitions one to four of this section.

Sixth. If, having no label, it is an imitation or adulteration, or is sold or offered for sale under a name, designation, description or representation which is false or misleading in any particular whatever; and in case of eggs and poultry: if they have been kept or packed in cold storage, or otherwise preserved, they must be so indicated by written or printed label or placard plainly designating such fact when offered or exposed for sale.

§ 7. Package.—The term "package" as used in this act shall be construed to include any phial, bottle, jar, demijohn, carton, bag, case, can, box or barrel or any receptacle, vessel or container of whatsoever material or nature which may be used by a manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer or dealer, for inclosing any article of food.

§ 8. Possession.—The possession of any adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded article of food or liquor by any manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer, or dealer in food, or broker, commission merchant, agent, employee or servant of any such manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer, or dealer, shall be prima facie evidence of the violation of this act.

§ 9. State Laboratory.—For the purposes of this act there is hereby established a state laboratory for the analysis and examination of foods and drugs, which shall be under the supervision of the State Board of Health, which laboratory shall be located at such place as the State Board of Health may select.

Director.—The State Board of Health shall appoint a director of said laboratory, and an assistant to such director, both of whom shall be skilled pharmaceutical chemists and analysts of foods and drugs. Said director shall perform all duties required by this act and which shall be required by the State Board of Health. The assistant shall be under the supervision of the director, and shall perform all duties required of him by the director and by the State Board of Health.

Salaries.—The director shall receive an annual salary of $3,000, and the assistant shall receive an annual salary of $1,500. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of State officers.

Compensation.—The State Board of Health, out of the appropriation hereinafter provided, and out of the funds derived from the operation of this act, may employ and fix the compensation of other and additional clerical and professional assistants.

§ 10. Analyses.—The State Board of Health or its secretary, shall cause to be made by the said director of the State Laboratory, examinations and analyses of food and liquor on sale in California, suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded at such times and places and to such extent as said board or its secretary may determine, and may appoint such agent or agents, as it may deem necessary, and the sheriffs of the respective counties of the State are hereby appointed and constituted agents for the enforcement of this act, and any agent or sheriff shall have free access, at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examining any place where it is suspected that any article of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods exist, and such agent or sheriff upon tendering the market price of said articles, if a sale be refused, may take, from any person, firm or corporation samples of any articles suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, and shall deliver or forward such samples to the said director of the State Laboratory for examination and analysis.

§ 11. Report to District Attorney.—It shall be the duty of the State Board of Health whenever it has satisfactory evidence of the violation of any of the provisions of this act respecting the adulteration or misbranding of foods to report such facts to the district attorney of the county where the law is violated, after the hearing provided in section 16 of this act.

§ 12. Concealing Evidence.—It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to refuse to sell to any sheriff or other agent of the State Board of Health, any sample of food or liquor upon tender of the market price therefor, or to conceal any such food from such officer, or to withhold from him information where such food is kept or stored. Any such person so refusing to sell, or concealing such food, or withholding such information from said officer shall, upon conviction, be punished as provided in section 19 of the Penal Code of the State of California.

§ 13. Report to Secretary of State Board of Health.—Whenever said director shall find from his examination and analysis that adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food has been on sale in this State, he shall forthwith report to the Secretary of the State Board of Health.

§ 14. Certificate.—Every certificate signed by the said director of the State Laboratory shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

§ 15. Annual Report.—The said director of the State Laboratory shall make an annual report to the State Board of Health, on or before August 1st of each year, upon adulterated or misbranded foods and liquors, in which report shall be included the list of cases examined by him in which adulterants were found, and the list of articles found, mislabeled or misbranded, and the names of the manufacturers, producers, jobbers and sellers. Said report, or any part thereof, may, in the discretion of the State Board of Health, be included in the report which the State Board of Health is already authorized by law to make to the Governor. The State Board of Health may, in its discretion, publish any part of said report in any issue of its monthly bulletin.

§ 16. Hearing.—When an examination or analysis of the director of the State Laboratory shows that any of the provisions of this act have been violated, notice of that fact together with a copy of the certificate of the findings, shall be furnished to the party or parties from whom the sample was obtained or who executed the guaranty as provided in this act, and a date shall be fixed by the secretary of the State Board of Health at which said party or parties may be heard before the State Board of Health or before any two members thereof and the secretary. The hearing shall be held in the city of Sacramento, and at least fifteen days' notice thereof shall be first served upon the party complained of. These hearings shall be private and confined to questions of fact. Parties interested therein may appear in person or by attorney and may propound interrogatories and submit oral or written evidence to show any fault or error in the findings made by the director of the State Laboratory. If the examination or analysis be found correct, or if the party or parties fail to appear at such hearing after notice duly served as provided herein, the secretary of the State Board of Health shall forthwith transmit a certificate of the facts so found to the district attorney of the county in which said adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food was found. No publication as in this act provided shall be made until after said hearing is concluded.

§ 17. Sample of Adulterated, Mislabeled or Misbranded Food.—It is hereby made the duty of the sheriff of any county of this State, on presentation to him of a verified complaint of the violation of any provisions of this act, at once to obtain by purchase a sample of the adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food complained of, and divide said article into three parts, and each part shall be sealed by the sheriff with a seal provided for that purpose. If the package be less than four pounds or in volume less than two quarts, three packages of approximately the same size shall be purchased and the marks and tags upon each package noted as above. One sample shall be delivered to the party from whom procured, or to the party guaranteeing such merchandise, one sample shall be sent to the director of the State Laboratory and the third sample shall be sent to and held under seal by the State Board of Health.

§ 18. Fees.—For his services hereunder the said sheriff shall be allowed the same fees for travel allowed by law to sheriffs on service of criminal process, together with such compensation as by the board of supervisors of his county may be deemed reasonable, and all amounts expended by him in procuring and transmitting the said samples, which fees and amount expended shall be audited and allowed by the said supervisors and paid by his said county as other bills of said sheriff.

§ 19. Duty of District Attorney.—It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this act occurring within his county.

§ 20. Penalty.—Any person, firm, company or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5, nor more than $500, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Food found to be adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act may, by order of any court or judge, be seized and destroyed.

§ 21. Fines.—One-half of all fines collected by any court or judge, for the violations of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the State Treasurer and the State Treasurer shall deposit such money to the credit of the fund for the maintenance of the State Laboratory, to be drawn against by warrants of the State Controller upon claims which shall be approved by the State Board of Health and by the State Board of Examiners.

§ 22. Protection by Guaranty.—No dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this act, when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party residing in the United States from whom he purchased such article to the effect that the same is not adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act, designating it, and can also establish by satisfactory evidence that the article sold by him was mislabeled and that at the time of making such sale he was not aware of that fact. Said guaranty to afford protection, must contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sales of such article to said dealer, and an itemized statement showing the articles purchased; or a general guaranty may be filed with the secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture by the manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber or other party in the United States and be given a serial number, which number shall appear on each and every package of goods sold under such guaranty with the words "guaranteed under the food and drugs act June 30, 1906." In case the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party making such guaranty to said dealer resides without this State, and it appears from the certificate of the director of the State Laboratory that such article or articles were adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, within the meaning of this act, or the national pure food act, approved June 30, 1906, the district attorney must forthwith notify the attorney general of the United States of such violation.

§ 23. Appropriation.—The sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purchase of equipment, apparatus, chemicals and supplies of said laboratory and of the office expenses, in connection with the same and for the compensation of additional assistants and other necessary help. The State Controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants for the sums herein appropriated in favor of the secretary of the State Board of Health and the State Treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 24. When Act Effective as to Manufacture.—No article of food as herein defined shall be manufactured or produced in violation of this act from and after the first day of July, 1907.

§ 25. Acts Repealed.—All acts and parts of acts in conflict or inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 26. When Act Effective Generally.—This act shall be in force and effect from and after the first day of January, 1908.

CALIFORNIA PURE DRUGS LAW.

(Chapter 186 [Stats. 1907, p. 230], approved March 11, 1907.)

An act for the prevention of the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drugs, regulating the traffic in drugs and providing penalties for violation thereof.

§ 1. Manufacture, Production, Preparation, Compounding, Packing, Selling, Offering for Sale or Keeping for Sale of Drug Which is Adulterated, Mislabeled or Misbranded.—The manufacture, production, preparation, compounding, packing, selling, offering for sale or keeping for sale within the State of California, or the introduction into this State from any other State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country, of any drug which is adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act is hereby prohibited. Any person, firm, company, or corporation who shall import or receive from any other State or Territory, or the District of Columbia, or from any foreign country, or who having so received shall deliver for pay or otherwise, or offer to deliver to any other person, any drug adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act, or any person who shall manufacture or produce, prepare or compound, or pack or sell, or offer for sale, or keep for sale, in the State of California, any such adulterated, mislabeled, or misbranded drug, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that no article shall be deemed misbranded, mislabeled or adulterated within the provisions of this act when intended for export to any foreign country and prepared or packed according to the specifications or directions of the foreign purchaser when no substance is used in the preparation or packing thereof in conflict with the laws of the foreign country to which said article is intended to be shipped; but if said article shall be in fact sold or offered for sale for domestic use or consumption, then this proviso shall not exempt said article from the operation of any of the other provisions of this act.

§ 2. Term "Drug."—That the term "drug," as used in this act, shall include all medicines and preparations recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary for internal or external use, and any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure, mitigation, or prevention of disease of either man or other animals.

§ 3. Standard of Purity.—The standard of purity of drugs shall be the United States Pharmacopœia and National Formulary, and the regulations and definitions adopted for the enforcement of the National Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, shall be adopted by the State Board of Health for the enforcement of this act.

§ 4. Drugs Deemed Adulterated When.—Drugs shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act in any of the following cases:

First—If, when a drug is sold under or by a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, it differs from the standard of strength, quality or purity, as determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary official at the time of investigation; provided, that no drug defined in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary shall be deemed to be adulterated under this provision if the standard of strength, quality, or purity be plainly stated upon the package thereof although the standard may differ from that determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary.

Second—If the strength or purity fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold.

§ 5. Term "Misbranded."—That the term "misbranded" as used herein shall apply to all drugs, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design, or device, regarding such article or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to any drug which is falsely branded or labeled as to the county, city and county, city, town, State, Territory District of Columbia or foreign country in which it is manufactured or produced.

§ 6. Drugs Misabeled or Misbranded When.—Drugs shall be deemed mislabeled or misbranded under the meaning of this act in either of the following cases:

First—If it be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article.

Second—If the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed, in whole or in part, and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if the packages as offered for sale at retail or wholesale, fail to bear a statement on the label of the per cent volume of alcohol, or the quantity of any morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein, except when prescribed by a licensed physician, licensed dentist, or licensed veterinary surgeon.

§ 7. Term "Package."—The term "package" as used in this act shall be construed to include any phial, bottle, jar, demijohn, carton, bag, case, can, box or barrel, or any receptacle, vessel or container of whatsoever material or nature which may be used by a manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer or dealer, for inclosing any drug.

§ 8. Sale or Offering for Sale.—The sale or offering for sale of any adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drug by any manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer or dealer in drugs, or broker, commission merchant, agent, employee or servant of any such manufacturer, producer, jobber, packer or dealer, shall be prima facie evidence of the violation of this act.

§ 9. Examinations and Analyses.—Whenever required by the State Board of Health or its secretary, examinations and analyses of drugs on sale in California suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, shall be made by the director of the State Laboratory for the examination and analysis of foods and drugs. Said State Board of Health or the secretary may appoint such agent or agents as it may deem necessary for the enforcement of this act, and the sheriffs of the respective counties of the State are hereby appointed and constituted such agents. Any agent or sheriff shall have the right to purchase at the place of business of any manufacturer or dealer, any drug suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act, tendering the market price of said articles. If a sale be refused, he may take from any person, firm or corporation samples of any articles suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled and misbranded, and shall deliver or forward such samples to said director of the State Laboratory for examination and analysis.

§ 10. Report to the District Attorney.—It shall be the duty of the State Board of Health, whenever it has satisfactory evidence of the violation of any of the provisions of this act respecting the adulteration, mislabeling or misbranding of drugs, to report such facts to the district attorney of the county where the law is violated.

§ 11. Concealing Evidence.—It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to refuse to sell to any sheriff, or other agent of the State Board of Health, any sample drug upon tender of the market price therefor, or to conceal any such drug from such officer, or to withhold from him information where such drug is kept or stored. Any such person so refusing to sell, or concealing such drug, or withholding such information from said officer, shall, upon conviction, be punished as provided in section nineteen of the Penal Code of the State of California.

§ 12. Report to Secretary of State Board of Health.—Whenever said director shall find from his examination and analysis that adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drugs have been on sale in this state, he shall forthwith report to the secretary of the State Board of Health, and shall promptly transmit a certificate of the facts so found to the district attorney of the county in which said adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drug was found.

§ 13. Certificate.—Every certificate signed by the said director of the State Laboratory shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

§ 14. Annual Report.—The said director of the State Laboratory shall make an annual report to the State Board of Health, on or before August first of each year, upon adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drugs, in which report shall be included the list of cases examined by him in which adulterants were found, and the list of articles found mislabeled or misbranded, and the names of the manufacturers, producers, jobbers and sellers. Said report, or any part thereof, may, in the discretion of the State Board of Health, be included in the report which the State Board of Health is already authorized by law to make to the governor. The State Board of Health may, in its discretion, publish any part of said report in any issue of its monthly bulletin.

§ 15. Hearing.—When the examination or analysis of the director of the State Laboratory shows that any of the provisions of this act have been violated, notice of that fact, together with a copy of the certificate of the findings, shall be furnished to the party or parties from whom the sample was obtained or who executed the guaranty as provided in this act, and a date shall be fixed by the secretary of the Board of Health, at which time said party or parties may be heard before the State Board of Health or any two members thereof, and the secretary. The hearing shall be held in the city of Sacramento, and at least fifteen days' notice thereof shall be first served upon the party complained of. These hearings shall be private and confined to questions of fact. The parties interested therein may appear in person or by attorneys and may propound the interrogatories and submit oral or written evidence to show any fault or error in the findings made by the director of the State Laboratory. If the examination or analysis be found correct, or if the party or parties fail to appear at such hearing, after notice duly served as provided herein, the secretary of the State Board of Health shall forthwith transmit a certificate of the facts so found to the district attorney of the county in which said adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drug was found. No publication thereof shall be made until after said hearing is concluded.

§ 16. Sample of Adulterated, Mislabeled or Misbranded Drug.—It is hereby made the duty of the sheriff of any county of this State, on presentation to him of a verified complaint of the violation of any provisions of this act, at once to obtain by purchase a sample of the adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drug complained of and divide said article into three parts, and each part be sealed by the sheriff with a seal provided for that purpose. If the package be less than four pounds, or in volume less than two quarts, three packages of approximately the same size shall be purchased and the marks and tags upon each package noted as above. One sample shall be delivered to the party from whom procured, or to the party guaranteeing said drug. One sample shall be sent to the director of the State Laboratory, and the third sample shall be sent to and held under seal by the State Board of Health.

§ 17. Fees.—For his services hereunder the said sheriff shall be allowed the same fees for travel allowed by law to sheriffs on service of criminal process, together with such compensation as by the board of supervisors of his county may be deemed reasonable, and all accounts expended by him in procuring and transmitting the said samples, which fees and amount expended shall be audited and allowed by the said supervisors and paid by his said county as other bills of said sheriff.

§ 18. Duty of District Attorney.—It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this act occurring within his county.

§ 19. Penalty.—Any person, firm, company or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Drugs found to be adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act may, by order of any court or judge, be seized and destroyed.

§ 20. Fines.—One-half of all fines collected by any court or judge for the violations of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the State Treasurer, and the State Treasurer shall deposit such money to the credit of the fund for the maintenance of the State Laboratory, to be drawn against by warrants of the State Controller upon claims which shall be approved by the State Board of Examiners.

§ 21. Guaranty as a Defense.—No dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this act, when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party residing in the United States from whom he purchased such article to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act, designating it. Said guaranty to afford protection, must contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sales of such article to said dealer, and an itemized statement showing the articles purchased; or a general guaranty may be filed with the Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture by the manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber or other party in the United States and be given a serial number, which number shall appear on each and every package of goods sold under such guaranty with the words "Guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906." In case the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party making such guaranty to said dealer resides without this State, and it appears from the certificate of the director of the State Laboratory that such article or articles were adulterated or misbranded, within the meaning of this act, or the National Pure Food Act, approved June 30, 1906, the district attorney must forthwith notify the Attorney General of the United States of such violation.

§ 22. Act Effective When.—This act shall be in force and effect from and after the first day of January, 1908.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE CALIFORNIA PURE FOODS AND DRUGS ACTS.

GENERAL.

Regulation 1. Short Title of Acts.—The act entitled “An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a State laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor,” approved March 11, 1907, shall be known and referred to as “The California Pure Foods Act, March 11, 1907.”

The act entitled “An act for the prevention of the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded drugs, regulating the traffic in drugs and providing penalties for violation thereof,” approved March 11, 1907, shall be known and referred to as “The California Pure Drugs Act, March 11, 1907.”

Regulation 2. Collection of Samples.—Samples of foods, liquors, or drugs shall be collected only by authorized agents of the State Board of Health, who shall be known as “inspectors.”

Samples may be purchased or taken as provided by said acts. If in bulk, the marks, brands, or tags upon the package, carton, container, wrapper, or accompanying printed or written matter shall be noted. The collector shall also note the names of the vendor and agent through whom the sale was actually made, together with the date of purchase. The collector shall purchase representative samples.

A sample shall be divided into three parts, and each part shall be labeled with identifying marks. All samples shall be sealed with a seal provided for the purpose. If the package be less than four pounds, or in volume less than two quarts, three packages, approximately of the same size, shall be purchased, and the marks and tags upon each package noted as above. One sample shall be delivered to the party from whom procured, or to the party guaranteeing such merchandise; one sample shall be sent to the director of the State Laboratory, University of California, Berkeley, California; and the third sample shall be sent to and held under seal by the State Board of Health, Sacramento, California.

Regulation 3. Methods of Analysis.—Unless otherwise ordered by the State Board of Health, the methods of analysis employed shall be those prescribed by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists and the United States Pharmacopœia.

Regulation 4. Hearings.—Hearings shall be held as prescribed by the terms of said acts.

Notices and findings required by the said acts, or either of them, to be served, may be served in the following manner:

1. Upon individuals, by personal service, or if the party cannot be found, by leaving the same at his residence or place of business.

2. Upon domestic corporations, by delivering the same to the president, secretary, vice-president, treasurer, or managing agent of such corporation, or if such officer or agent cannot be found, by leaving the same at its place of business.

3. Upon foreign corporations, by delivering the same to such officer or agent, or if such officer or agent cannot be found, by leaving the same at its place of business within this State, or by leaving the same with the State agent of such corporation.

Upon the hearing the State Board of Health may order a re-examination of the sample, or have new samples drawn for further examination.

When the residence of the party guaranteeing merchandise found to be in violation of the terms of said acts, or either of them, shall be in a county other than that in which the sample was taken, the secretary of the State Board of Health shall transmit a certificate of the facts found both to the district attorney of the county where the sample was taken and to the district attorney of the county of the residence or place of business of the guarantor.

Regulation 5. Publication.—Publication may be made, after hearing, as provided by the terms of said acts.

Also, when a judgment of the court shall have been rendered, there may be a publication of the findings of the director of the State Laboratory, together with the findings of the court. This publication may be made in the form of circulars, notices, or bulletins, as the State Board of Health may determine, not less than thirty days after the rendering of the judgment; and if an appeal has been taken from the judgment of the court, a notice of the appeal shall accompany the publication.

Regulation 6. Standard for Drugs.—A drug bearing a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, without any further statement respecting its character, shall be required to conform in strength, quality, and purity to the standards prescribed or indicated for a drug of the same name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, official at the time.

A drug bearing a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary, and branded to show a different standard of strength, quality, or purity, shall not be regarded as adulterated if it conforms to its declared standard.

Regulation 7. Formulas — Proprietary Foods.—Manufacturers of proprietary foods are only required to state upon the label the names and percentages of the materials used, in so far as the State Board of Health may find this to be necessary to secure freedom from adulteration, mislabeling, and misbranding.

The factories in which proprietary foods are made shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of raw materials hereinafter provided for.

Regulation 8. Form of Guaranty.—No dealer will be liable to prosecution under the provisions of said acts, or either of them, when he can establish a guaranty, signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer, or other party residing in the United States, from whom he purchased such article, to the effect that the same is not adulterated, mislabeled, or misbranded within the meaning of said acts, designating them.

Such guaranty may be:

1. A specific guaranty. This guaranty, to afford protection, must be substantially in the following form:

The undersigned hereby guarantees that the articles of (drugs, foods, or liquors, as the case may be, specifying them), this day sold to (name of dealer) and mentioned in the attached invoice, are not adulterated, misbranded, or mislabeled, within the meaning of the California Pure Foods (or Drugs, as the case may be) Act, March 11, 1907.

Dated

.....

2. A general guaranty. This guaranty, to afford protection, must be substantially in the following form:

I (we), the undersigned, do hereby guarantee that the articles of foods, liquors, and drugs, manufactured, produced, prepared, compounded, packed, distributed, or sold by me (us) (specifying the same as fully as possible), are not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, and are not adulterated, mislabeled, or misbranded, within the meaning of the California Pure Foods Act, March 11, 1907, or the California Pure Drugs Act, March 11, 1907.

Dated

(Sign in ink)

All general guaranties must be acknowledged before a notary public, and the notary's certificate of the fact attached.

No guaranty will be filed by the State Board of Health, or its secretary; and no serial number will be given by this board, or its secretary.

All general guaranties must be filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who will furnish a serial number which when used on label with the words "Guaranteed by (here insert name of guarantor) under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906," will protect the dealer if he purchased of the guarantor.

In the case of persons who have already filed a general guaranty with the Secretary of Agriculture, it will be necessary to file an amended guaranty in the form given above. Accompanying this guaranty should be a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture, giving the serial number already assigned and stating that the guaranty inclosed is an amended guaranty filed to comply with the California law.

ADULTERATION.

Regulation 9. Confectionery.—Mineral substances of all kinds (except as provided in Regulation 14) are specifically forbidden in confectionery, whether they be poisonous or not.

Only harmless color flavors shall be added to confectionery.

The term "narcotic drugs" includes all the drugs mentioned in section 6 of the California Pure Drugs Act, March 11, 1907, and all other drugs of a narcotic nature.

Regulation 10. Substances Mixed and Packed With Foods.—No substance may be mixed or packed with a food product which will reduce or lower its quality or strength. Not excluded under this provision are substances properly used in the preparation of food products for clarification or refining and eliminated in the further process of manufacture.

Regulation 11. Coloring, Powdering, Coating, and Staining.—Only harmless colors may be used in food products.

The reduction of a substance to a powder to conceal inferiority in character is prohibited.

The term "powder" means the application of any powdered substance to the exterior portions of articles of food, or the reduction of a substance to a powder.

The term "coated" means the application of any substance to the exterior portions of a food product.

The term "stain" includes any change produced by the addition of any substance to the exterior portion of foods which in any way alters their natural tint.

Regulation 12. Natural Poisonous or Deleterious Ingredients.—Any food product which contains naturally a poisonous or deleterious ingredient does not come within the provisions of the California Pure Foods Act, March 11, 1907, except when the presence of such ingredient is due to filth, putrescence, or decomposition.

Regulation 13. External Application of Preservatives.—Poisonous or deleterious preservatives shall only be applied externally, and they and the food products shall be of a character which shall not permit the permeation of any of the preservative to the interior, or any portion of the interior of the product.

When these products are ready for consumption, if any portion of the added preservative shall have penetrated the food product, then such food products shall be subject to the regulations for food products in general.

The preservative applied must be of such a character that, until removed, the food products are inedible.

Regulation 14. Wholesomeness of Colors and Preservatives.—(a) Respecting the wholesomeness of colors, preservatives, and other substances which are added to foods, the Secretary of Agriculture shall determine from chemical or other examination, under the authority of the agricultural appropriation act, Public 382, approved June 30, 1906, the names of those substances which are permitted or inhibited in food products; and such findings, when approved by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, shall become a part of these regulations.

(b) The Secretary of Agriculture shall determine from time to time, in accordance with the authority conferred by the agricultural appropriation act, Public 382, approved June 30, 1906, the principles which shall guide the use of colors, preservatives, and other substances added to foods; and when concurred in by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, the principles so established shall become a part of these regulations.

(c) It having been determined that benzoate of soda mixed with food is not deleterious or poisonous and is not injurious to health, no objection will be raised under the food and drugs act to the use in food of benzoate of soda, provided that each container or package of such food is plainly labeled to show the presence and amount of benzoate of soda. Food Inspection Decisions 76 and 89 are amended accordingly.

Regulation 15. Character of the Raw Materials.—The State Board of Health, its secretary or duly authorized agent, when deemed necessary by said board or its secretary, shall examine the raw materials used in the manufacture of food and drug products, and determine whether any filthy, decomposed or putrid substance is used in their preparation.

MISBRANDING AND MISLABELING.

Regulation 16. Label.—(a) The term "label" applies to any printed, pictorial, or other matter upon or attached to any package of a food or drug product, or any container thereof subject to the provisions of this act.

(b) The principal label shall consist, first, of all information which the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906, specifically requires, to wit, the name of the place of manufacture in the case of food compounds or mixtures sold under a distinctive name; statements which show that the articles are compounds, mixtures, or blends; the words "compound," "mixture," or "blend," and words designating substances or their derivatives and proportions required to be named in the case of foods and drugs. All this information shall appear upon the principal label, and should have no intervening descriptive or explanatory reading matter. Second, if the name of the manufacturer and place of manufacture are given, they should also appear upon the principal label. Third, preferably upon the principal label, in conjunction with the name of the substance, such phrases as "artificially colored," "colored with sulphate of copper," or any other descriptive phrases necessary to be announced should be conspicuously displayed. Fourth, elsewhere upon the principal label other matter may appear in the discretion of the manufacturer. If the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, such statement should appear upon the principal label and must be couched in plain terms, as required by Regulation 29.

(c) If the principal label is in a foreign language, all information required by law and such other information as indicated above in (b) shall appear upon it in English. Besides the principal label in the language of the country of production, there may be also one or more other labels, if desired, in other languages, but none of them more prominent than the principal label, and these other labels must bear the information required by law, but not necessarily in English. The size of the type used to declare the information required by the act shall not be smaller than 8-point (brevier) capitals; provided, that in case the size of the package will not permit the use of 8-point type, the size of the type may be reduced proportionately.

(d) Descriptive matter upon the label shall be free from any statement, design, or device regarding the article or the ingredients or substances contained therein, or quality thereof, or place of origin, which is false or misleading in any particular. The term "design" or "device" applies to pictorial matter of every description, and to abbreviations, characters, or signs for weights, measures, or names of substances.

(e) An article containing more than one food product or active medicinal agent is misbranded if named after a single constituent.

In the case of drugs the nomenclature employed by the United States Pharmacopœia and the National Formulary shall obtain.

(f) The use of any false or misleading statement, design, or device appearing on any part of the label shall not be justified by any statement given as the opinion of an expert or other person, nor by any descriptive matter explaining the use of the false or misleading statement, design, or device.

Regulation 17. Name and Address of Manufacturer.—The name of the manufacturer or producer, or the place where manufactured, except in case of mixtures and compounds having a distinctive name, need not be given upon the label; but if given, must be the true name and the true place. The words "packed for —," "distributed by —," or some equivalent phrase, shall be added to the label in case the name which appears upon the label is not that of the actual manufacturer or producer, or the name of the place not the actual place of manufacture or production.

When a person, firm, or corporation actually manufactures or produces an article of food or drug in two or more places, the actual place of manufacture or production of each particular package need not be stated on the label, except when, in the opinion of the secretary of the State Board of Health, the mention of any such place, to the exclusion of the others, misleads the public.

Regulation 18. Character of Name.—A simple or unmixed food or drug product not bearing a distinctive name shall be designated by its common name in the English language, or, if a drug, by any name recognized in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary. No further description of its components or qualities is required, except as to content of alcohol, morphine, etc.

The use of a geographical name shall not be permitted in connection with a food or drug product not manufactured or produced in that place, when such name indicates that the article was manufactured or produced in that place.

The use of a geographical name in connection with a food or drug product will not be deemed a misbranding when by reason of long usage it has come to represent a generic term and is used to indicate a style, type, or brand; but in all such cases the state, territory, or country where any such article is manufactured or produced shall be stated upon the principal label.

A foreign name which is recognized as distinctive of a product of a foreign country shall not be used upon an article of domestic origin except as an indication of the type or style of quality or manufacture, and then only when so qualified that it cannot be offered for sale under the name of a foreign article.

Regulation 19. Distinctive Name.—A “distinctive name” is a trade, arbitrary, or fancy name which clearly distinguishes a food product, mixture, or compound from any other food product, mixture, or compound.

A distinctive name shall not be one representing any single constituent of a mixture or compound.

A distinctive name shall not misrepresent any property or quality of a mixture or compound.

A distinctive name shall give no false indication of origin, character, or place of manufacture, nor lead the purchaser to suppose that it is any other food or drug product.

Regulation 20. Compounds, Imitations, or Blends Without Distinctive Name.—The term “blend” applies to a mixture of like substances, not excluding harmless coloring or flavoring ingredients used for the purpose of coloring and flavoring only.

If any age is stated, it shall not be that of a single one of its constituents, but shall be the average of all constituents in their respective proportions.

Coloring and flavoring cannot be used for increasing the weight or bulk of a blend.

In order that colors or flavors may not increase the volume or weight of a blend, they are not to be used in quantities exceeding 1 pound to 800 pounds of the blend.

A color or flavor cannot be employed to imitate any natural product or any other product of recognized name and quality.

The term “imitation” applies to any mixture or compound which is a counterfeit or fraudulent simulation of any article of food or drug.

Regulation 21. Articles Without a Label.—It is prohibited to sell or offer for sale a food or drug product bearing no label upon the package or no descriptive matter whatever connected with it, either by design, device, or otherwise, if said product be an imitation of or offered for sale under the name of another article.

Regulation 22. Proper Branding not a Complete Guaranty.—Packages which are correctly branded as to character of contents, place of manufacture, name of manufacturer, or otherwise, may be adulterated, and hence not entitled to protection under said acts; or their sale, except upon prescription, may be forbidden by the Poisons Act, March 6, 1907.

Regulation 23. Incompleteness of Branding.—A compound shall be deemed misbranded if the label be incomplete as to the names of the required ingredients. A simple product does not require any further statement than the name or distinctive name thereof, except as provided in Regulations 18 and 27.

Regulation 24. Substitution.—When a substance of a recognized quality, commonly used in the preparation of a food or drug product, is replaced by another substance not injurious or deleterious to health, the name of the substituted substance shall appear upon the label.

When any substance which does not reduce, lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength is added to a food or drug product, other than that necessary to its manufacture or refining, the label shall bear a statement to that effect.

Regulation 25. Waste Materials.—When an article is made up of refuse materials, fragments, or trimmings, the use of the name of the substance from which they are derived, unless accompanied by a statement to that effect, shall be deemed a misbranding. Packages of such materials may be labeled “pieces,” “stems,” “trimmings,” or with some similar appellation.

Regulation 26. Mixtures or Compounds With Distinctive Names.—The terms “mixtures” and “compounds” are interchangeable, and indicate the results of putting together two or more food products.

These mixtures or compounds shall not be imitations of other articles, whether simple, mixed, or compound, or offered for sale under the name of other articles. They shall bear a distinctive name and the name of the place where the mixture or compound has been manufactured or produced.

If the name of the place be one which is found in different States, Territories, or countries, the name of the State, Territory, or country, as well as the name of the place, must be stated.

Regulation 27. Substances Named in Drugs or Foods.—The term “alcohol” is defined to mean common or ethyl alcohol. No other kind of alcohol is permissible in the manufacture of drugs, except as specified in the United States Pharmacopœia or National Formulary.

The words alcohol, morphine, opium, etc., and the quantities and proportions thereof, shall be printed in letters corresponding in size with those prescribed in Regulation 16.

A drug is misbranded in case it fails to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any alcohol, morphine, opium, heroin, cocaine, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannabis indica, chloral hydrate, or acetanilide, or any derivative or preparation of any such substances contained therein.

A statement of the maximum quantity or proportion of any such substances present will meet the requirements, provided the maximum stated does not vary materially from the average quantity or proportion.

In case the actual quantity or proportion is stated it shall be the average quantity or proportion with the variations noted in Regulation 28.

The following are the principal derivatives and preparations made from the articles which are required to be named upon the label:

ALCOHOL, ETHYL: (Cologne spirits, grain alcohol, rectified spirits, and spirits of wine.)

Derivatives—

Aldehyde, ether, ethyl acetate, ethyl nitrite, and paraldehyde.

Preparations containing alcohol—

Bitters, brandies, cordials, elixirs, essences, fluid extracts, spirits, sirups, tinctures, tonics, whiskies, and wines.

MORPHINE, ALKALOID:

Derivatives—

Apomorphine, dionine, peronine, morphine acetate, hydrochlorid, sulphate, and other salts of morphine.

Preparations containing morphine or derivatives of morphine—

Bougies, catarrh snuff, chlorodyne, compound powder of morphine, crayons, elixirs, granules, pills, solutions, sirups, suppositories, tablets, triturates, and troches.

OPIUM, GUM:

Preparations of opium—

Extracts, denarcotized opium, granulated opium, and powdered opium, bougies, brown mixture, carminative mixtures, crayons, Dover's powders, elixirs, liniments, ointments, paregoric, pills, plasters, sirups, suppositories, tablets, tinctures, troches, vinegars, and wines.

Derivatives—

Codeine, alkaloid, hydrochlorid, phosphate, sulphate, and other salts of codeine.

Preparations containing codeine or its salts—

Elixirs, pills, sirups, and tablets.

COCAINE, ALKALOID:

Derivatives—

Cocaine hydrochlorid, oleate, and other salts.

Preparations containing cocaine or salts of cocaine—

Coca leaves, catarrh powders, elixirs, extracts, infusion of coca, ointments, paste pencils, pills, solutions, sirups, tablets, tinctures, troches, and wines.

HEROIN:

Preparations containing heroin—

Sirups, elixirs, pills, and tablets.

ALPHA AND BETA EUCAINE:

Preparations—

Mixtures, ointments, powders, and solutions.

CHLOROFORM:

Preparations containing chloroform—

Chloranodyne, elixirs, emulsions, liniments, mixtures, spirits, and sirups.

CANNABIS INDICA:

Preparations of cannabis indica—

Corn remedies, extracts, mixtures, pills, powders, tablets, and tinctures.

CHLORAL HYDRATE (Chloral U. S. Pharmacopœia, 1890):

Derivatives—

Chloral acetophenonoxim, chloral alcoholate, chloralamide, chloralimide, chloral orthoform, chloralose, dormiol, hypnal, and uraline.

Preparations containing chloral hydrate or its derivatives—

Chloral camphorate, elixirs, liniments, mixtures, ointments, suppositories, sirups, and tablets.

ACETANILIDE (Antifebrine, Phenylacetamide):

Derivatives—

Acetphenetidine, citrophen, diacetanilide, lactophenin, methoxyacetanilide, methylacetanilide, para-iodoacetanilide, and phenacetine.

Preparations containing acetanilide or derivatives—

Analgesics, antineuralgics, antirheumatics, cachets, capsules, cold remedies, elixirs, granular effervescing salts, headache powders, mixtures, pain remedies, pills, and tablets.

In declaring the quantity or proportion of any of the specified substances the names by which they are designated in the act shall be used, and in declaring the quantity or proportion of derivatives of any of the specified substances, in addition to the trade name of the derivative, the name of the specified substance shall also be stated, so as to indicate clearly that the product is a derivative of the particular specified substance.

Regulation 28. Statement of Weight or Measure.—A statement of the weight or measure of the food contained in a package is not required. If any such statement is printed, it shall be a plain and correct statement of the average net weight or volume, either on or immediately above or below the principal label, and of the size of letters specified in Regulation 16.

A reasonable variation from the stated weight for individual packages is permissible, provided this variation is as often above as below the weight or volume stated. This variation shall be determined from the changes in the humidity of the atmosphere, from the exposure of the package to evaporation or to absorption of water, and the reasonable variations which attend the filling and weighing or measuring of a package.

Regulation 29. Method of Stating Quantity or Proportion.—In the case of alcohol the expression “per cent of volume” shall mean the average percentage by volume in the finished product. In the case of the other ingredients required to be named upon the label, the expression “quantity” or “proportion” shall mean grains or minims per ounce or fluid ounce, and also, if desired, the metric equivalents therefor, or milligrams per gram or per cubic centimeter, or grams or cubic centimeters per kilogram or per liter; provided, that these articles shall not be deemed misbranded if the maximum of quantity or proportion be stated, as required in Regulation 27.

EXPORTS OF FOODS AND DRUGS.

Regulation 30. Preparation of Products for Export.—Food products intended for export may contain added substances not permitted in foods intended for domestic commerce, when the addition of such substances does not conflict with the laws of the countries to which the food product is to be exported and when such substances are added in accordance with the directions of the foreign purchaser or his agent.

The exporter is not required to furnish evidence that goods have been prepared or packed in compliance with the laws of the foreign country to which said goods are intended to be shipped, but such shipment is made at his own risk.

Food products for export under this regulation shall be kept separate and labeled to indicate that they are for export.

If the products are not exported they shall not be allowed to enter domestic commerce.

Regulation 31. Denaturing.—Unless otherwise declared on the invoice, all substances ordinarily used as food products will be treated as such. Shipments of substances ordinarily used as food products intended for technical purposes should be accompanied by a declaration stating that fact. Such products should be denatured before entry, but denaturing may be allowed under customs supervision, with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Secretary of the Treasury may release such products without denaturing, under such conditions as may preclude the possibility of their use as food products.

Regulation 32. Alteration and Amendment of Regulations.—These regulations may be altered or amended at any time, without previous notice, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

§ 1. Place Used for the Production, Preparation for Sale, Manufacture, Packing, Storage, Sale or Distribution of Food—Conditions.—Every building, room, basement or cellar, occupied, or used as a bakery, confectionery, cannery, packing-house, slaughter-house, restaurant, hotel, grocery, meat market, or other place or apartment, used for the production, preparation for sale, manufacture, packing, storage, sale or distribution of any food, shall be properly lighted, drained, plumbed and ventilated, and conducted with strict regard to the influence of such conditions upon the health of the operatives, employees, clerks or other persons therein employed, and the purity and wholesomeness of the food therein produced, kept, handled or sold; and for the purpose of this act the term "food" shall include all articles used for food, drink, confectionery or condiment, whether simple or compound, and all substances and ingredients used in the preparation thereof.

§ 2. Floors, Sidewalls, Ceilings, Furniture, Receptacles, Utensils, Implements and Machinery.—The floors, sidewalls, ceilings, furniture, receptacles, utensils, implements and machinery of every establishment or place where food is manufactured, packed, stored, sold or distributed, shall at no time be kept in an unclean, unhealthful or unsanitary condition; and for the purposes of this act, unclean, unhealthful and unsanitary conditions shall be deemed to exist if food in the process of manufacture, preparation, packing, storing, sale or distribution is not securely protected from flies, dust, dirt, unsanitary conditions, and as far as may be necessary, by all reasonable means from all other foreign or injurious contamination; and if the refuse, dirt, and the waste products subject to decomposition and fermentation incident to the manufacture, preparation, packing, storing, selling and distributing of food, are not removed daily; and if all trucks, trays, boxes, baskets, buckets, and other receptacles, chutes, platforms, racks, tables, shelves, and all knives, saws, cleavers, and all other utensils, receptacles, and machinery, used in moving, handling, cutting, chopping, mixing, canning, and all other processes used in the preparation of food, are not thoroughly cleaned daily; and if the clothing of operatives, employees, clerks, and other persons therein employed, is unclean, or if they dress or undress, or leave or store their clothing therein.

§ 3. Sidewalls and Ceilings and All Interior Woodwork.—The sidewalls and ceilings of every bakery, confectionery, hotel and restaurant kitchen, shall be well plastered, or ceiled, with metal or lumber, or shall be oil painted or kept well lime washed, or otherwise kept in a good sanitary condition and all interior woodwork of every bakery, confectionery, hotel or restaurant kitchen shall be kept well oiled or painted with oil paint, and be kept washed clean with soap and water or otherwise kept in a good sanitary condition; and every building, room, basement or cellar, occupied or used for the preparation, manufacture, packing, storage, sale or distribution of food, shall have an impermeable floor, made of cement or tile laid in cement, brick, wood or other suitable nonabsorbent material which can be flushed and washed clean with water.

§ 4. Doors, Windows and Other Openings Fitted With Screens.—The doors, windows and other openings of every food producing or distributing establishment, where practicable, shall be fitted with stationary or self-closing screen doors and wire window screens, of not coarser than fourteen mesh wire gauze.

§ 5. Toilet or Toilet-rooms — Lavatories and Washrooms.—Every building, room, basement or cellar, occupied or used for the preparation, manufacture, packing, canning, sale or distribution of food, shall have convenient toilet or toilet-rooms, separate and apart from the room or rooms where the process of production, manufacture, packing, canning, selling or distributing is conducted. The floors of such toilet-rooms shall be of cement, tile laid in cement, wood, brick or other nonabsorbent material, and shall be washed and scoured daily. Such toilets shall be furnished with separate ventilating pipes or flues, discharging into soil pipes, or on the outside of the building in which they are situated. Lavatories and washrooms shall be adjacent to toilet rooms, and shall be supplied with soap, running water and towels, and shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition. Operatives, employees, clerks and all persons who handle the material from which food is prepared, or the finished product, before beginning work and immediately after visiting a toilet or lavatory shall wash their hands and arms thoroughly in clean water.

§ 6. Cuspidors.—Cuspidors, for the use of operatives, employees, clerks and other persons, shall be provided, and each cuspidor shall be emptied and washed out daily with disinfectant solution and not less than five ounces of such solution shall be left in each cuspidor while in use. No operative, employee, clerk or other person, shall expectorate or discharge any substance from his nose or mouth, on the floor or interior sidewall of any building, room, basement, or cellar where the production, manufacture, packing, storing, preparation or sale of any food product is conducted.

§ 7. No Person Allowed to Reside or Sleep Where Food Prepared. No person shall be allowed to, nor shall he, reside or sleep in any room of a bake-shop, public dining-room, hotel or restaurant kitchen, confectionery, or other place where food is prepared, produced, manufactured, served or sold.

§ 8. Person Afflicted With Infectious or Contagious Disease.—No employer shall require, permit or suffer any person to work, nor shall any person work, in a building, room, basement, cellar, place or vehicle, occupied or used for the production, preparation, manufacture, packing, storage, sale, distribution or transportation of food, who is afflicted or affected with any venereal disease, smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, yellow fever, tuberculosis, consumption, bubonic plague, Asiatic cholera, leprosy, trachoma, typhoid fever, epidemic dysentery, measles, mumps, German measles, whooping-cough, chicken-pox, or any other infectious or contagious disease.

§ 9. Inspection.—The members of the State Board of Health, inspectors and agents appointed by said board, and all local health officers and inspectors, shall have full power at all times to enter every building, room, basement, cellar, or any place occupied or used, or suspected or being occupied or used, for the production, manufacture, preparation, storage, sale or distribution of food, and to inspect the premises and all utensils, implements, receptacles, fixtures, furniture and machinery used as aforesaid, and if, upon inspection, any such building, room, basement, cellar, or any such place, vehicle, employer, operative, employee, clerk, driver, or other person, is found to be in violation or violating any of the provisions of this act, or if the production, preparation, manufacture, packing, storing, sale or distribution of food is being conducted in a manner detrimental to the health of the employees or operatives or to the character or quality of the food therein being produced, manufactured, packed, stored, sold, distributed or conveyed, the officer or inspector making the examination shall at once make a written report of the same to the district attorney of the county who shall prosecute all persons violating any of the provisions of this act, and also to the State Board of Health. The State Board of Health, from time to time, as in its discretion it may determine, may publish such reports in its monthly bulletin.

§ 10. Nuisances.—All buildings, rooms, basements, cellars, and other places and things, kept, maintained or operated, or which are, in violation of the provisions of this act or any of them, and all food produced, prepared, manufactured, packed, stored, kept, sold, distributed or transported in violation of the provisions of this act or any of them, are hereby declared to be public nuisances, dangerous to health. Such nuisances may be abated or enjoined, in an action brought for that purpose by the local or State Board of Health, or they may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law for the summary abatement of public nuisances dangerous to health.

§ 11. Penalty.—Any person, firm or corporation, whether as principal or agent, employer or employee, who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and each day that conditions or actions, in violation of this act, shall continue, shall be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and for each offense, upon conviction, he shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

ACTS RELATIVE TO LABELING OF COLD STORAGE EGGS AND BUTTER.

Act regulating the sale of cold storage eggs and butter, represented to be fresh eggs and butter, and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof.

(Approved March 6, 1911.)

§ 1. Every person, firm, company or corporation, who sells or offers for sale any cold storage eggs or butter, as and for fresh eggs or butter, or who by any means whatever represents the same to be fresh eggs or butter is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Stats. of 1911, p. 285.)

Act to regulate the sale of eggs and butter that have been in cold storage for a longer period than three months, requiring the labeling thereof by all persons selling or offering the same for sale, empowering and directing the State Board of Health to make rules and regulations to carry this act into effect and fixing penalties for the violation of the same, or any of the provisions.

(Approved March 14, 1911.)

§ 1. Person, Firm, Company or Corporation.—For the purpose of this act the words “person, firm, company or corporation” shall include wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, and every place where eggs or butter that have been in cold storage for a longer period than three months are sold or offered for sale.

§ 2. Period to be Stamped.—Every person, firm, company or corporation, who sells or offers for sale any eggs or butter that have been in cold storage for a longer period than three months shall before so doing cause to be stamped, marked or branded upon all sides of each receptacle holding and containing the same in black-faced letters two inches in length the period of time during which the same have been in cold storage.

§ 3. Sign.—That every person, firm, company or corporation selling or offering for sale any cold storage eggs or butter, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their salesroom, a sign bearing the words “Cold storage eggs or butter sold here” in black-faced letters not less than six inches in length, upon a white ground.

§ 4. Penalty.—Every person, firm, company or corporation, who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or a fine of two hundred and fifty dollars or both fine and imprisonment.

§ 5. Rules and Regulations.—The State Board of Health is hereby authorized and directed to make rules and regulations necessary to carry this act into effect.

§ 6. Act, When Effective.—This act shall take effect immediately. (Stats. 1911, p. 356.)

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

§ 1. Interstate Commerce Defined.—That the term “interstate commerce,” as used in this act, shall include transportation from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, and the term “foreign commerce,” as used in this act, shall include transportation from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia to any foreign country and from any foreign country to any State or Territory or the District of Columbia.

§ 2. Transportation for Immoral Purposes.—That any person who shall knowingly transport or cause to be transported, or aid or assist in obtaining transportation for, or in transporting, in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or in the District of Columbia, any woman or girl for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent and purpose to induce, entice, or compel such woman or girl to become a prostitute or to give herself up to debauchery, or to engage in any other immoral practice; or who shall knowingly procure or obtain, or cause to be procured or obtained, or aid or assist in procuring or obtaining any ticket or tickets, or any form of transportation or evidence of the right thereto, to be used by any woman or girl in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, in going to any place for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent or purpose on the part of such person to induce, entice, or compel her to give herself up to the practice of prostitution, or to give herself up to debauchery, or any other immoral practice, whereby any such woman or girl shall be transported in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment of not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 3. Inducing, Coercing or Persuading.—That any person who shall knowingly persuade, induce, entice, or coerce, or cause to be persuaded, induced, enticed, or coerced, or aid or assist in persuading, inducing, enticing or coercing any woman or girl to go from one place to another in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, for the purpose of prostitution or debauchery, or for any other immoral purpose, or with the intent and purpose on the part of such person that such woman or girl shall engage in the practice of prostitution or debauchery, or any other immoral practice, whether with or without her consent, and who shall thereby knowingly cause or aid or assist in causing such woman or girl to go and to be carried or transported as a passenger upon the line or route of any common carrier or carriers in interstate or foreign commerce, or any Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 4. Girl Under Eighteen Years.—That any person who shall knowingly persuade, induce, entice, or coerce any woman or girl under the age of eighteen years from any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, with the purpose and intent to induce or coerce her, or that she shall be induced or coerced to engage in prostitution or debauchery, or any other immoral practice, and shall in furtherance of such purpose knowingly induce or cause her to go and to be carried or transported as a passenger in interstate commerce upon the line or route of any common carrier or carriers, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years, or by such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 5. Jurisdiction.—That any violation of any of the above sections 2, 3 and 4 shall be prosecuted in any court having jurisdiction of crimes within the district in which said violation was committed, or from, through, or into which any such woman or girl may have been carried or transported as a passenger in interstate or foreign commerce, or in any Territory or the District of Columbia, contrary to the provisions of any of said sections.

§ 6. Bureau of Information.—That for the purpose of regulating and preventing the transportation in foreign commerce of alien women and girls for purposes of prostitution and debauchery, and in pursuance of and for the purpose of carrying out the terms of the agreement or project of arrangement for the suppression of the white slave traffic, adopted July 25, 1902, for submission to their respective governments by the delegates of various powers represented at the Paris conference and confirmed by a formal agreement signed at Paris on May 18, 1904, and adhered to by the United States on June 6, 1908, as shown by the proclamation of the President of the United States, dated June 15, 1908, the Commissioner General of Immigration is hereby designated as the authority of the United States to receive and centralize information concerning the procurement of alien women and girls with a view to their debauchery, and to exercise supervision over such alien women and girls, receive their declarations, establish their identity, and ascertain from them who induced them to leave their native countries, respectively; and it shall be the duty of said Commissioner General of Immigration to receive and keep on file in his office the statements and declarations which may be made by such alien women and girls, and those which are hereinafter required pertaining to such alien women and girls engaged in prostitution or debauchery in this country, and to furnish receipts for such statements and declarations provided for in this act to the persons, respectively, making and filing them.

Statements to be Filed.—Every person who shall keep, maintain, control, support or harbor in any house or place for the purpose of prostitution, or for any other immoral purpose, any alien woman or girl within three years after she shall have entered the United States from any country, party to the said arrangement for the suppression of the white slave traffic, shall file with the Commissioner General of Immigration a statement in writing setting forth the name of such alien woman or girl, the place at which she is kept, and all facts as to the date of her entry into the United States, the port through which she entered, her age, nationality, and parentage, and concerning her procurement to come to this country within the knowledge of such person, and any person who shall fail, within thirty days after such person shall commence to keep, maintain, control, support, or harbor in any house or place for the purpose of prostitution, or for any other immoral purpose, any alien woman or girl within three years after she shall have entered the United States from any of the countries, party to the said arrangement for the suppression of the white slave traffic, to file such statement concerning such alien woman or girl with the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall knowingly and willfully state falsely or fail to disclose in such statement any fact within his knowledge or belief with reference to the age, nationality, or parentage of any such alien or girl, or concerning her procurement to come to this country, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Burden of Proof—Immunity.—In any prosecution brought under this section, if it appear that any such statement required is not on file in the office of the Commissioner General of Immigration, the person whose duty it shall be to file such statement shall be presumed to have failed to file said statement, as herein required, unless such person or persons shall prove otherwise. No person shall be excused from furnishing the statement, as required by this section, on the ground or for the reason that the statement so required by him, or the information therein contained, might tend to criminate him or subject him to a penalty of forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture under any law of the United States for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing, concerning which he may truthfully report in such statement, as required by the provisions of this section.

§ 7. Words Defined.—That the term “Territory,” as used in this act, shall include the district of Alaska, the insular possessions of the United States, and the Canal Zone. The word “person,” as used in this act, shall be construed to import both the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies and associations. When construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person, acting for or employed by any other person or by any corporation, company, society, or association within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such other person, or of such company, corporation, society, or association, as well as that of the person himself.

§ 8. Name of Act.—That this act shall be known and referred to as the “White Slave Traffic Act.”

RATE SCHEDULE OF BONDING COMPANIES FOR COURT, FIDUCIARY, INSOLVENCY AND PROBATE BONDS.

Applicable to California.

Rate for Bonds Required of Litigants.

Appeal, attachment, certiorari, condemnation of land, costs, counter-replevin, damages, discharge of injunction, execution, forthcoming, garnishment, injunction, land damage, libelants, mandamus, petitioning creditors, postponement or adjournment of trial, release, removal of cause, replevin, right of way, stay of execution, stay of proceedings, stipulation for costs, stipulation for value, supersedeas, writ of error, writ of prohibition, or any bond to enable plaintiff or defendant to pursue the remedy of the courts, or staying or guaranteeing the payment of any recovery or relief, $5 per M per annum.

To indemnify sheriff or marshal or other officer for seizure of property under writ of attachment, execution, replevin, etc., or under Federal Bankruptcy Act, $5 per M per annum.

Minimum premium for all the above court bonds up to and including $500, $5 per annum.

Minimum premium for bonds over $500, $10 per annum.

On all court bonds premium is computed on the penalty of the bond; except that if an undertaking without penalty is given, premium computed on the estimated liability to be ascertained by adding to the amount of the value of the property, or of the judgment or claim, or other matter in controversy, two years' interest at six per cent (6%) per annum, and $250 probable costs.

To release mechanics' liens which have been filed or to release liens or to release or guarantee payment of lien of judgment, mortgage or other liens existing on property, $10 per M per annum.

Minimum premium for liens not exceeding $200, $5 per annum.

Where the amount of liens exceeds $200, $10 per annum.

Arrest in Civil Proceedings.

Bonds to procure order of arrest, discharge from arrest, bail, or jail liberties in civil actions only, $10 per M per annum—Minimum, $10.

Bail Bonds in Criminal Proceedings.

$20 per M per annum—Minimum $10.

The premium of $20 per thousand for bail bonds in criminal proceedings shall cover such subsequent bail bonds or recognizances as may be required of the same principal for the same offense, and during the same year, provided the penalty thereof is not increased. Should the penalty of subsequent bonds be increased, the premium of $20 per thousand per annum shall be charged on such increase; and should it be diminished no abatement from the original premium shall be made therefor.

Pure Food and Drugs Act.

Adulteration, misbranding and other violations of the Pure Food and Drugs Act are misdemeanors; bonds for defendant prosecuted under this act, or for the release of goods seized under the act, are therefore criminal bail bonds, rated at $20 per M.

Automobile Bail Bonds.

$20 per M—Minimum, $10.

Power of Attorney.

Empowering automobilists to furnish bail bonds covering themselves, their immediate family, and their chauffeur:

One power of attorney for any term not exceeding one year, $5.

Two powers of attorney for any term not exceeding one year, $10.

No refund to be made for nonuse or for short term.

On all court bonds extending over one year an annual renewal premium is charged at the same rate as the first premium. When bond is canceled, refund may be made from renewal premiums only of unearned premium at Western Union Short Rate Table. On all court bonds which expire within the first year, the first annual premium paid is deemed to be fully earned, and no rebate therefrom is made; except, however, as follows:

Where bond in preliminary proceedings (as injunction, certiorari, mandamus or prohibition) has been given and in the same action or proceeding the writ or relief is made permanent, and another bond is required, if new bond is given within six months of the date of preliminary bond, there may be applied to premium on new bond a refund of one-half the premium paid for preliminary bond, such refund, however, not to reduce net premium earned on preliminary bond below the amount of $10.

Where bond has been given to stay execution of judgment pending permission to appeal; and within six months such permission to appeal is granted, and new bond on appeal is required in the same case, there may be applied to the payment of premium on the subsequent bond a refund of one-half the premium paid on the former bond, such refund, however, not to reduce the net earned premium on the former bond below $10.

Fiduciary and Insolvency Bonds.

(For fiduciaries in administration, probate, decedent's estate, or orphan's estate, see p. 1027.)

Rates on these bonds are computed on the penal sum named in the bond; that is, on the amount of the bond irrespective of the amount of the estate or of any estimated liability under the bond.

Receivers of National Banks appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency, $2.50 per M per annum.

Receivers appointed in all State courts, and receivers in Federal courts except in proceedings under the Federal Bankruptcy Act, $5 per M per annum.

Minimum premiums on bonds less than $1,000, $5 each; on bonds, $1,000 and upwards, $10 each.

Receivers in bankruptcy appointed by the Federal bankruptcy court, and trustees in bankruptcy under the Federal Bankruptcy Act:

On bonds up to $100,000, $3 per M per annum.

Over $100,000 up to $250,000, $300 for the first $100,000 and $2 per M per annum on excess.

Over $250,000 up to $500,000, $600 for the first $250,000 and $1.50 per M per annum on excess.

Over $500,000, $975 for the first $500,000 and $1 per M per annum on excess.

Minimum premiums on bonds for receivers and trustees appointed under Federal bankruptcy law:

Bonds of $200 and under $2.50 each; over $200 and less than $1,000, $5 each; $1,000 and over, $10 each.

Where a temporary fiduciary is succeeded by a permanent fiduciary (as where a receiver in bankruptcy is succeeded by a trustee in bankruptcy), the earned premium on the temporary fiduciary's bond for the period of liability may be computed at the Short Rate Table (p. 1027), subject to a minimum earned premium on bonds of $200 and less of $2.50 each, and for bonds over $200 of $5 each.

Commissioners, masters or referees appointed by Federal or State courts for the sale of property under foreclosure, or for the sale of property for the benefit of creditors, in litigation or in liquidating or winding up proceedings, where such commissioners are not charged with the performance of any duties in the conduct of their trust, other than such sale and the distribution of its proceeds, $3 per M per annum—Minimum, $5 per annum for each appointee.

Assignee or trustee for the benefit of creditors under State laws, and bonds given by survivor of partnership, $10 per M per annum—Minimum, $10 per annum.

Where assignors for the benefit of creditors are petitioned into bankruptcy and the assigned estate is turned over to the custody of the Federal bankruptcy courts, if the assignee's account is approved and his bond released by the bankruptcy court, the amount allowed to him by such court for premium on his bond as assignee may be accepted as the minimum earned premium on such bond for the period of liability. If no premium is allowed the assignee by the bankruptcy court, then the minimum earned premium on his bond as assignee is $5 per thousand.

On all bonds for the fiduciaries, receivers, assignees, or trustees in bankruptcy or insolvency extending over one year, an annual renewal premium is charged at the same rate as the first premium. When bond is canceled, refund may be made from renewal premiums only at Western Union Short Rate Table (p. 1027). Where such bond expires within the first year, the first annual premium paid is deemed to be fully earned, and no rebate therefrom is made; except, however, as follows:

Where the receivership or trust is closed and taken from the further custody of the court either by winding up and distribution to creditors, or by composition and settlement, or by the reassignment of the estate, no refund of unearned premium shall be made.

Where a trust or receivership is retained in the custody of the court, but a different fiduciary is appointed to carry out the orders of the court, or the same fiduciary is appointed in a different capacity, or a temporary fiduciary is succeeded by a permanent fiduciary (as where a receiver in bankruptcy is succeeded by a trustee in bankruptcy), if the successor or permanent fiduciary is former or temporary fiduciary, bond may be computed at the Short Rate Table; no refund for unearned premium, however, shall be given which shall reduce the net earned premium below the minimum premiums herein given. The same rule applies where a receiver or other fiduciary is appointed to succeed himself in winding up the same estate and is required to give a new bond for that purpose. In any case where no bond is given by the successor or permanent fiduciary, no refund shall be made from the premium paid by the former or temporary fiduciary.

Probate Bonds in Probate, Decedents', Orphans', or Incompetents' Estates.

Rates on these bonds are computed on the penal sum named in the bond; that is, on the amount of the bond irrespective of the amount of the estate, or of any estimated liability under the bond.

Administrator, special administrator, administrator with the will annexed, administrator d. b. n., administrator to sell real estate, executor, general guardian, special guardian, guardian ad litem, guardian on sale of real estate, trustee under will or deed, or on sale of real estate, and commissioner for sale of real property:

Bonds up to and including $10,000, $4 per M per annum.

No premium less than $10 where the bond is in the amount of $1,000 or over. Where bond is less than $1,000, no premium less than $5.

Bonds over $10,000, up to $100,000, $40 for the first $10,000, and $3 per M per annum on excess.

No premium more than $300 for bond of $100,000 or less.

Bonds over $100,000 up to $250,000, $300 for the first $100,000 and $2 per M per annum on excess.

Bonds over $250,000 up to $500,000, $600 for the first $250,000 and $1.50 per M per annum on excess.

Bonds over $500,000, $975 for the first $500,000, and $1 per M per annum on excess.

On all fiduciaries' bonds under this title extending over one year, an annual renewal premium is charged in the amount of two-thirds the first premium. On all such bonds of less than $1,000, the minimum first premium is $5, and the minimum annual renewal premium is $5. On all such bonds of $1,000 or more, the minimum first premium is $10, and the minimum annual renewal premium is $10. If premium for two or more years is paid in advance, the minimum premium herein given applies to the first year, and two-thirds thereof is the minimum premium for each subsequent year for which advance payment is made. On all fiduciaries' bonds under this title expiring within the first year, the first annual premium paid is deemed to be fully earned, and no rebate therefrom is made, except, however, as follows:

Where a fiduciary succeeds himself in a different capacity but retains custody of the same estate and is required to give new bond for his new appointment within less than a year of the date of execution or renewal of his first bond, the earned premium on the first bond may be computed in accordance with the short rate table, and there may be applied to the premium on the new bond a refund of the unearned premium paid for the first bond; such refund, however, not to reduce the premium earned on the first bond below $5 if the first bond is in the sum of $1,000 or less or below $10 if the first bond is in the sum of more than $1,000.

Where the liability on the bond of a receiver, administrator, or other fiduciary has been reduced by competent evidence or by an order of a competent court, based on a legal distribution of the assets, or a portion of the assets of the estate, the renewal premium on the bond for the second and subsequent years may be reduced in the same proportion, unless there remains in the estate undistributed assets equal to the amount of the bond, in which case there is no other reduction of annual renewal premium than provided for in the rate table. No reduction, however, by reason of distributed assets or otherwise shall make the annual renewal premium so long as the bond or any part thereof remains in force, less than $5.

Where a guardian is appointed for two or more minors in the same family, and entitled to a share of the same estate, and a separate bond is required to be given by him for each minor, the premium for the first and subsequent years is calculated upon the sum total of all the guardians' bonds thus required for the whole estate instead of a minimum charge for each separate bond. When a trustee gives separate bonds covering individual trusts created by one instrument, the premium thereon is computed on the sum total of such bonds.

If two or more receivers, administrators, or other fiduciaries are appointed for the same estate and give a joint bond, there is charged a single premium computed on the penalty of such joint bond.

Where two or more receivers, administrators or other fiduciaries are appointed for the same estate and each give separate bond, there is charged one full premium at regular rates computed on the penalty of one such bond; plus an additional charge of 15% of the regular premium to be computed on the penalty of each additional bond required. Where separate bonds are thus given for joint fiduciaries of the same estate and are written in more than one surety company, agents arrange that the gross premium for all fiduciaries, computed according to this rule, are so divided that an equal amount thereof is charged on each fiduciary's bond.

Where two or more receivers, administrators or other fiduciaries are appointed to jointly administer a receivership, estate or other trust, and one of such fiduciaries is a trust company or other corporation which by statute or charter is relieved from giving bond, the rate on the bonds given by those fiduciaries of whom bond is required is:

For one bond covering one or more bonded fiduciaries acting jointly with a nonbonded trust company:

60 per cent of the regular first and renewal premiums.

For two such individual fiduciaries, each giving separate bond, 30 per cent for each.

For each one of three, 25 per cent.

For each one of four or more, 20 per cent.

Where a fiduciary is required to file an additional bond, the following rules are the guide as to the computation of premium:

1. Where the additional bond is of the same character as the first bond given by the fiduciary to qualify for his office, and is required simply because further assets of the estate have been discovered, premium is computed on the total amount of the first bond and the additional bond. Thus, if the first bond is $100,000, and further assets of the estate are discovered requiring an additional bond of $100,000, the premium of $300 having been paid on the first bond, premium on the second will be $200, being equivalent to total premium of $500 for a total penalty of $200,000.

2. Where new bond is required for the same fiduciary in the same estate, more than a year after his first appointment and therefore when the "two-thirds rule" applies to renewal premium on his original bond, the "two-thirds rule" will likewise apply to the first premium on the new bond. Where new bond is given for a new appointee succeeding the first fiduciary, the "two-thirds rule" shall not apply to the first premium on the bond of the new appointee. The new appointment and new bond constitute a new risk, for which the regular first year's premium shall be charged.

3. Where a fiduciary has given general bond to qualify for his office, and an additional bond is subsequently required for the sale of real property of the estate:

- a. If the fiduciary's first bond given to qualify him for his office is based on the total value of the estate, both real and personal property, the premium on any additional bond required of him for the sale of any such real property of the estate (already covered by his first bond) is one-half the regular rate.

b. Where the fiduciary's first bond given to qualify him for his office is based only on the value of the personal property of the estate, or includes only rents and profits of the real property, and not the value of the fee of the real property, the premium on a bond subsequently required of him for the sale of real property of the estate is computed at regular rates for such bond as a separate and distinct risk. Such bond is not entitled to the benefit of the rule for a fiduciary succeeding himself in a different capacity, nor is it entitled to have premiums computed upon it as an addition to the fiduciary's general bond.

Refunding Bonds.

Bonds given by a creditor or heir or distributee or legatee to an executor or administrator to secure an advance payment of his interest in an estate prior to its final settlement: Rate, $10 per M flat for term of bond—Minimum, $10.

Bonds Guaranteeing Against Decedent's Debts.

Bonds running to purchasers of real estate of a decedent sold by heirs prior to the expiration of the time for presentation of claims against an estate: Rate, $10 per M flat for term of bond—Minimum, $10.

Bonds Given by Heirs of an Estate.

Partial distribution of decedent's estate, under sections 1658 and 1661, California Code of Civil Procedure: Rate, $10 per M flat for term of bond—Minimum, $5.

RULES UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Rule 1. Clerk.—1. The clerk of this court shall reside and keep office at the seat of the National government, and he shall not practice, either as attorney or counselor, in this court, or in any other court, while he shall continue to be clerk of this court.

2. The clerk shall not permit any original record or paper to be taken from the courtroom or from the office, without an order from the court, except as provided by Rule 10.

Rule 2. Attorneys and Counselors.—1. It shall be requisite to the admission of attorneys or counselors to practice in this court that they shall have been such for three years past in the Supreme Courts of the States to which they respectively belong, and that their private and professional character shall appear to be fair.

2. They shall respectively take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation, viz.:

I,, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will demean myself, as an attorney and counselor of this court, uprightly, and according to law; and that I will support the Constitution of the United States.

Rule 3. Practice.—This court considers the former practice of the courts of king's bench and of chancery, in England, as affording outlines for the practice of this court; and will, from time to time, make such alterations therein as circumstances may render necessary.

Rule 4. Bill of Exceptions.—The judges of the Circuit and District Courts shall not allow any bill of exceptions which shall contain the charge of the court at large to the jury in trials at common law, upon any general exception to the whole of such charge. But the party excepting shall be required to state distinctly the several matters of law in such charge to which he excepts; and those matters of law, and those only, shall be inserted in the bill of exceptions and allowed by the court.

Rule 5. Process.—1. In Name of President.—All process of this court shall be in the name of the President of the United States, and shall contain the Christian names, as well as the surnames, of the parties.

2. Against State.—When process at common law or in equity shall issue against a State, the same shall be served on the governor, or chief executive magistrate, and Attorney General of such State.

3. In Equity.—Process of subpoena, issuing out of this court, in any suit in equity, shall be served on the defendant sixty days before the return day of the said process; and if the defendant, on such service of the subpoena, shall not appear at the return day, the complainant shall be at liberty to proceed ex parte.

Rule 6. Motions.—1. In Writing.—All motions to the court shall be reduced to writing, and shall contain a brief statement of the facts and objects of the motion.

2. Argument of Motion.—One hour on each side shall be allowed to the argument of a motion, and no more, without special leave of the court, granted before the argument begins.

3. Motion to Dismiss.—No motion to dismiss, except on special assignment by the court, shall be heard, unless previous notice has been given to the adverse party, or the counsel or attorney of such party.

4. Motions to Dismiss Writs of Error and Appeals.—All motions to dismiss writs of error and appeals, except motions to docket and dismiss under Rule 9, must be submitted in the first instance on printed briefs or arguments. If the court desires further argument on that subject, it will be ordered in connection with the hearing on the merits. The party moving to dismiss shall serve notice of the motion, with a copy of his brief of argument, on the counsel for plaintiff in error or appellant of record in this court, at least three weeks before the time fixed for submitting the motion, in all cases except where the counsel to be notified resides west of the Rocky Mountains, in which case the notices shall be at least thirty days. Affidavits of the deposit in the mail of the notice and brief to the proper address of the counsel to be served, duly postpaid, at such time as to reach him by due course of mail, the three weeks or thirty days before the time fixed by the notice, will be regarded as prima facie evidence of service on counsel who reside without the District of Columbia. On proof of such service, the motion will be considered, unless, for satisfactory reasons, further time be given by the court to either party.

5. Motion to Affirm.—There may be united, with a motion to dismiss a writ of error or an appeal, a motion to affirm on the ground that, although the record may show that this court has jurisdiction, it is manifest the writ or appeal was taken for delay only, or that the question on which the jurisdiction depends is so frivolous as not to need further argument.

6. Arguments on Saturday—Motion Day.—The court will not hear arguments on Saturday (unless for special cause it shall order to the contrary), but devote that day to the other business of the court. The motion day shall be Monday of each week; and motions not required by the rules of the court to be put on the docket shall be entitled to preference immediately after the reading of opinions, if such motions shall be made before the court shall have entered upon the hearing of a case upon the docket.

Rule 7. Law Library.—1. Order to Take Books.—During the session of the court, any gentleman of the bar having a case on the docket, and wishing to use any book or books in the law library, shall be at liberty, upon application to the clerk of the court, to receive an order to take the same (not exceeding at any one time three) from the library, he being thereby responsible for the due return of the same within a reasonable time, or when required by the clerk. It shall be the duty of the clerk to keep, in a book for that purpose, a record of all books so delivered, which are to be charged against the party receiving the same. And in case the same shall not be so returned, the party receiving the same shall be responsible for and forfeit, and pay twice the value thereof, and also one dollar per day for each day's detention beyond the limited time.

2. Clerk to Deposit Record in Every Case.—The clerk shall deposit in the law library to be there carefully preserved, one copy of the printed record in every case submitted to the court for its consideration, and of all printed motions, briefs, or arguments filed therein.

3. Marshal to Take Charge of Books.—The marshal shall take charge of the books of the court, together with such of the duplicate law books as Congress may direct to be transferred to the court, and arrange them in the conference-room, which he shall have fitted up in a proper manner; and he shall not permit such books to be taken therefrom by anyone except the justices of the court.

Rule 8. Writ of Error, Return and Record.—1. Clerk to Make Return.—The clerk of the court to which any error may be directed shall make return of the same, by transmitting a true copy of the record, and of the assignment of errors, and of all proceedings in the case, under his hand and the seal of the court.

2. Clerk to Transmit Opinion.—In all cases brought to this court, by writ of error or appeal, to review any judgment or decree, the clerk of the court by which such judgment or decree was rendered shall annex to and transmit with the record a copy of the opinion or opinions filed in the case.

3. Complete Record to be Filed.—No case will be heard until a complete record, containing in itself and not by reference, all the papers, exhibits, depositions, and other proceedings which are necessary to the hearing in this court, shall be filed.

4. Order for Safekeeping of Original Papers.—Whenever it shall be necessary or proper, in the opinion of the presiding judge in any Circuit Court, or District Court exercising Circuit Court jurisdiction, that original papers of any kind should be inspected in this court upon writ of error or appeal, such presiding judge may make such rule or order for the safekeeping, transporting, and return of such original papers as to him may seem proper, and this court will receive and consider such original papers in connection with the transcript of the proceedings.

5. Return Day.—All appeals, writs of error and citations must be made returnable not exceeding thirty days from the day of signing the citation, whether the return day fall in vacation or in term time, and be served before the return day.

6. Record in Admiralty.—The record in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, when under the requirements of law the facts have been found in the court below, and the power of review is limited to the determination of questions of law arising on the record, shall be confined to the pleadings, the findings of fact, and conclusions of law thereon, the bills of exceptions, the final judgment or decree, and such interlocutory orders and decrees as may be necessary to a proper review of the case.

Rule 9. Docketing Cases.—1. Plaintiff in Error or Appellant to Docket Case.—It shall be the duty of the plaintiff in error or appellant to docket the case and file the record thereof with the clerk of this court by or before the return day, whether in vacation or in term time. But, for good cause shown, the justice or judge who signed the citation, or any justice of this court, may enlarge the time, by or before its expiration, the order of enlargement to be filed with the clerk of this court. If the plaintiff in error or appellant shall fail to comply with this rule, the defendant in error or appellee, may have the cause docketed and dismissed upon producing a certificate whether in term time or vacation, from the clerk of the court wherein the judgment or decree was rendered, stating the case and certifying that such writ of error or appeal has been duly sued out or allowed. And in no case shall the plaintiff in error or appellant be entitled to docket the case and file the record after the same shall have been docketed and dismissed under this rule, unless by order of the court.

2. Defendant in Error or Appellee may Docket.—But the defendant in error or appellee may, at his option, docket the case and file a copy of the record with the clerk of this court; and if the case is docketed and a copy of the record filed with the clerk of this court by the plaintiff in error or appellant within the period of time above limited and prescribed by this rule, or by the defendant in error or appellee at any time thereafter, the case shall stand for argument.

3. Appearance of Counsel.—Upon the filing of the transcript of a record brought up by writ of error or appeal, the appearance of the counsel for the party docketing the case shall be entered.

4. Period of Rule 8 Extended When.—In all cases where the period of thirty days is mentioned in Rule 8, it shall be extended to sixty days in writs of error and appeals, from California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington, New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Alaska, Idaho, Hawaii and Porto Rico, and to one hundred and twenty days from the Philippine Islands.

Rule 10. Printing Records.—1. Undertaking for Payment of Fees.—In all cases the plaintiff in error or appellant, on docketing a case and filing the record, shall enter into an undertaking to the clerk, with surety to his satisfaction, for the payment of his fees, or otherwise satisfy him in that behalf.

2. Cost of Printing Record.—The clerk shall cause an estimate to be made of the cost of printing the record, and of his fee for preparing it for the printer and supervising the printing, and shall notify to the party docketing the case the amount of the estimate. If he shall not pay it within a reasonable time, the clerk shall notify the adverse party, and he may pay it. If neither party shall pay it, and for want of such payment the record shall not have been printed when a case is reached in the regular call of the docket, after March 1, 1884, the case shall be dismissed.

3. Twenty-five Copies.—Upon payment by either party of the amount estimated by the clerk, twenty-five copies of the record shall be printed, under his supervision, for the use of the court and of counsel.

4. Transcript for Printer.—In cases of appellate jurisdiction the original transcript on file shall be taken by the clerk to the printer. But the clerk shall cause copies to be made for the printer of such original papers, sent up under Rule 8, section 4, as are necessary to be printed; and of the whole record in cases of original jurisdiction.

5. Printing.—The clerk shall supervise the printing, and see that the printed copy is properly indexed. He shall distribute the printed copies to the justices and the reporter, from time to time, as required, and a copy to the counsel for the respective parties.

6. Refunded and Excess.—If the actual cost of printing the record, together with the fee of the clerk, shall be less than the amount estimated and paid, the amount of the difference shall be refunded by the clerk to the party paying it. If the actual cost and clerk's fee shall exceed the estimate, the amount of the excess shall be paid to the clerk before the delivery of a printed copy to either party or his counsel.

7. Cost of Printing Taxed.—In case of reversal, affirmance, or dismissal, with costs the amount of the cost of printing the record and of the clerk's fee shall be taxed against the party against whom costs are given, and shall be inserted in the body of the mandate or other proper process.

8. Attachment to Compel Payment of Fees.—Upon the clerk's producing satisfactory evidence, by affidavit or the acknowledgment of the parties or their sureties, of having served a copy of the bill of fees due by them, respectively, in this court, on such parties or their sureties, an attachment shall issue against such parties or sureties, respectively, to compel payment of said fees.

9. Clerk to Print Designated Parts of Record Only.—The plaintiff in error or appellant may, within ninety days after filing the record in this court, file with the clerk a statement of the errors on which he intends to rely, and of the parts of the record which he thinks necessary for the consideration thereof, and forthwith serve on the adverse party a copy of such statement. The adverse party, within ninety days thereafter, may designate in writing, filed with the clerk, additional parts of the record which he thinks material; and if, he shall not do so, he shall be held to have consented to a hearing on the parts designated by the plaintiff in error or appellant. If parts of the record shall be so designated by one or both of the parties, the clerk shall print those parts only; and the court will consider nothing but those parts of the record, and the errors so stated. If at a hearing it shall appear that any material part of the record has not been printed, the writ of error or appeal may be dismissed, or such other order made as the circumstances may appear to the court to require. If the defendant in error or appellee shall have caused unnecessary parts of the record to be printed, such order as to costs may be made as the court shall think proper.

10. Fees Computed on Record as Filed.—The fees of the clerk under Rule 24, section 7, shall be computed, as at present, on the folios in the record as filed, and shall be in full for the performance of his duties in the execution hereof.

Rule 11. Translations.—Whenever any record transmitted to this court upon a writ of error or appeal shall contain any document, paper, testimony, or other proceedings in a foreign language, and the record does not also contain a translation of such document, paper, testimony, or other proceeding, made under the authority of the inferior court, or admitted to be correct, the record shall not be printed; but the case shall be reported to this court by the clerk, and the court will thereupon remand it to the inferior court, in order that a translation may be there supplied and inserted in the record.

Rule 12. Further Proof.—1. Depositions.—In all cases where further proof is ordered by the court, the depositions which may be taken shall be by a commission, to be issued from this court, or from any Circuit Court of the United States.

2. In Admiralty.—In all cases of admiralty, and maritime jurisdiction, where new evidence shall be admissible in this court, the evidence by testimony of witnesses shall be taken under a commission to be issued from this court, or from any Circuit Court of the United States, under the direction of any judge thereof; and no such commission shall issue but upon interrogatories, to be filed by the party applying for the commission, and notice to the opposite party or his agent or attorney, accompanied with a copy of the interrogatories so filed, to file the cross-interrogatories within twenty days from the service of such notice: Provided, however, that nothing in this rule shall prevent any party from giving oral testimony in open court in cases where by law it is admissible.

Rule 13. Objections to Evidence in the Record.—In all cases of equity or admiralty jurisdiction, heard in this court, no objection shall hereafter be allowed to be taken to the admissibility of any deposition, deed, grant, or other exhibit found in the record as evidence, unless objection was taken thereto in the court below and entered of record; but the same shall otherwise be deemed to have been admitted by consent.

Rule 14. Certiorari.—No certiorari for diminution of the record will be hereafter awarded in any case, unless a motion therefor shall be made in writing, and the facts on which the same is founded shall, if not admitted by the other party, be verified by affidavit. And all motions for certiorari must be made at the first term of the entry of the case; otherwise, the same will not be granted, unless upon special cause shown to the court, accounting satisfactorily for the delay.

Rule 15. Death of a Party.—1. Appearance by Representatives—Suggestion of Death.—Whenever, pending a writ of error or appeal in this court, either party shall die, the proper representatives in the personalty or realty of the deceased party, according to the nature of the case, may voluntarily come in and be admitted parties to the suit, and thereupon the case shall be heard and determined as in other cases; and if such representatives shall not voluntarily become parties, then the other party may suggest the death on the record, and thereupon, on motion, obtain an order that unless such representatives shall become parties within the first ten days of the ensuing term, the party moving for such order, if defendant in error, shall be entitled to have the writ of error or appeal dismissed; and if the party so moving shall be plaintiff in error, he shall be entitled to open the record, and on hearing have the judgment or decree reversed, if it be erroneous; Provided, however, that a copy of every such order shall be printed in some newspaper of general circulation within the State, Territory, or District from which the case is brought, for three successive weeks, at least sixty days before the beginning of the term of the Supreme Court then next ensuing.

2. Abatement.—When the death of a party is suggested, and the representatives of the deceased do not appear by the tenth day of the second term next succeeding the suggestion, and no measures are taken by the opposite party within that time to compel their appearance, the cases shall abate.

3. Writ of Error or Appeal Where No Representative Within the Jurisdiction of the Court Which Rendered Final Judgment or Decree.—When either party to a suit in a Circuit Court of the United States shall desire to prosecute a writ of error or appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, from any final judgment or decree, rendered in the Circuit Court, and at the time of suing out such writ of error or appeal the other party to the suit shall be dead and have no proper representative within the jurisdiction of the court which rendered such final judgment or decree, so that the suit cannot be revived in that court, but shall have a proper representative in some State or Territory of the United States, the party desiring such writ of error or appeal may procure the same, and may have proceedings on such judgment or decree superseded or stayed in the same manner as is now allowed by law in other cases, and shall thereupon proceed with such writ of error or appeal as in other cases. And within thirty days after the commencement of the term to which such writ of error or appeal is returnable, the plaintiff in error or appellant shall make a suggestion to the court, supported by affidavit, that the said party was dead when the writ of error or appeal was taken or sued out, and had no proper representative within the jurisdiction of the court which rendered said judgment or decree, so that the suit could not be revived in that court, and that said party had a proper representative in some State or Territory of the United States, and stating therein the name and character of such representative, and the State or Territory in which such representative resides; and, upon such suggestion, he may, on motion, obtain an order that, unless such representative shall make himself a party within the first ten days of the ensuing term of the court, the plaintiff in error or appellant shall be entitled to open the record, and, on hearing, have the judgment or decree reversed, if the same be erroneous: Provided, however, that a proper citation reciting the substance of such order shall be served upon such representative, either personally or by being left at his residence, at least sixty days before the beginning of the term of the Supreme Court then next ensuing: And provided, also, that in every such case if the representative of the deceased party does not appear by the tenth day of the term next succeeding said suggestion, and the measures above provided to compel the appearance of such representative have not been taken within time as above required, by the opposite party, the case shall abate: And provided, also, that the said representative may at any time before or after said suggestion come in and be made a party to the suit, and thereupon the case shall proceed, and be heard and determined as in other cases.

Rule 16. No Appearance of Plaintiff.—Where no counsel appears and no brief has been filed for the plaintiff in error or appellant, when the case is called for trial, the defendant may have the plaintiff called and the writ of error or appeal dismissed, or may open the record and pray for an affirmance.

Rule 17. No Appearance of Defendant.—Where the defendant fails to appear when the case is called for trial, the court may proceed to hear an argument on the part of the plaintiff and to give judgment according to the right of the case.

Rule 18. No Appearance of Either Party.—When a case is reached in the regular call of the docket, and there is no appearance for either party, the case shall be dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff.

Rule 19. Neither Party Ready at Second Term.—When a case is called for argument at two successive terms, and upon the call at the second term neither party is prepared to argue it, it shall be dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff, unless sufficient cause is shown for further postponement.

Rule 20. Printed Arguments.—1. Filing.—In all cases brought here on writ of error, appeal, or otherwise, the court will receive printed arguments without regard to the number of the case on the docket, if the counsel on both sides shall choose to submit the same within the first ninety days of the term; and, in addition, appeals from the court of claims may be submitted by both parties within thirty days after they are docketed, but not after the first day of April; but twenty-five copies of the arguments, signed by attorneys or counselors of this court, must be first filed.

2. Printed Argument Equivalent to Appearance.—When a case is reached in the regular call of the docket, and a printed argument shall be filed for one or both parties, the case shall stand on the same footing as if there were an appearance by counsel.

3. Must be Filed Before Oral Argument.—When a case is taken up for trial upon the regular call of the docket, and argued orally in behalf of only one of the parties, no printed argument for the opposite party will be received, unless it is filed before the oral argument begins, and the court will proceed to consider and decide the case upon the ex parte argument.

4. No Brief Received, After a Case Argued.—No brief or argument will be received, either through the clerk or otherwise, after a case has been argued or submitted, except upon leave granted in open court after notice to opposing counsel.

Rule 21. Briefs.—1. Brief for Plaintiff in Error or Appellant.—The counsel for plaintiff in error or appellant shall file with the clerk of the court, at least six days before the case is called for argument, twenty-five copies of a printed brief, one of which shall, on application, be furnished to each of the counsel engaged upon the opposite side.

2. Contents.—This brief shall contain, in the order here stated—

(1) Statement of the Case.—A concise abstract, or statement of the case, presenting succinctly the questions involved and the manner in which they are raised.

(2) Specification of the Errors.—A specification of the errors relied upon, which, in cases brought up by writ of error, shall set out separately and particularly each error asserted and intended to be urged; and in cases brought up by appeal the specification shall state, as particularly as may be, in what the decree is alleged to be erroneous. When the error alleged is to the charge of the court, the specification shall set out the part referred to totidem verbis, whether it be instructions given or instructions refused. When the error alleged is to a ruling upon the report of a master, the specification shall state the exception to the report and the action of the court upon it.

(3) Brief of the Argument.—A brief of the argument, exhibiting a clear statement of the points of law or fact to be discussed, with a reference to the pages of the record and the authorities relied upon in support of each point. When a statute of the State is cited, so much thereof as may be deemed necessary to the decision of the case shall be printed at length.

3. Brief for Defendant in Error or Appellee.—The counsel for a defendant in error or an appellee shall file with the clerk twenty-five printed copies of his argument, at least three days before the case is called for hearing. His brief shall be of like character with that required of the plaintiff in error or appellant, except that no specification of errors shall be required, and no statement of the case, unless that presented by the plaintiff in error or appellant is controverted.

4. When No Assignment of Errors.—When there is no assignment of errors, as required by section 997 of the Revised Statutes, counsel will not be heard, except at the request of the court; and errors not specified according to this rule will be disregarded; but the court, at its option, may notice a plain error not assigned or specified.

5. When Plaintiff in Error or Appellant is in Default.—When, according to this rule, a plaintiff in error or an appellant is in default, the case may be dismissed on motion; and when a defendant in error or an appellee is in default, he will not be heard, except on consent of his adversary, and by request of the court.

6. When No Oral Argument is Made for One of the Parties.—When no oral argument is made for one of the parties, only one counsel will be heard for the adverse party.

Rule 22. Oral Arguments.—1. Opinion and Closing.—The plaintiff or appellant in this court shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument of the case. But when there are cross-appeals they shall be argued together as one case, and the plaintiff in the court below shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument.

2. Two Counsel.—Only two counsel will be heard for each party on the argument of a case.

3. Time.—Two hours on each side will be allowed for the argument, and no more, without special leave of the court, granted before the argument begins. The time thus allowed may be apportioned between the counsel on the same side, at their discretion; Provided, always, that a fair opening of the case shall be made by the party having the opening and closing arguments.

Rule 23. Interest.—1. Where Judgment Affirmed.—In cases where a writ of error is prosecuted to this court, and the judgment of the inferior court is affirmed, the interest shall be calculated and levied, from the date of the judgment below until the same is paid, at the same rate that similar judgments bear interest in the courts of the State where such judgment is rendered.

2. Damages.—In all cases where a writ of error shall delay the proceedings on the judgment of the inferior court, and shall appear to have been sued out merely for delay, damages at a rate not exceeding 10 per cent, in addition to interest, shall be awarded upon the amount of the judgment.

3. Decrees in Equity.—The same rule shall be applied to decrees for the payment of money in cases in equity, unless otherwise ordered by this court.

4. In Admiralty.—In cases in admiralty, damages and interest may be allowed if specially directed by the court.

Rule 24. Costs.—1. On Dismissal for Want of Jurisdiction.—In all cases where any suit shall be dismissed in this court, except where the dismissal shall be for want of jurisdiction, costs shall be allowed to the defendant in error or appellee, unless otherwise agreed by the parties.

2. In Cases of Affirmance.—In all cases of affirmance of any judgment or decree in this court, costs shall be allowed to the defendant in error or appellee, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

3. In Cases of Reversal.—In cases of reversal of any judgment or decree in this court, costs shall be allowed to the plaintiff in error or appellant, unless otherwise ordered by the court. The cost of the transcript of the record from the court below shall be a part of such costs, and be taxable in that court as costs in the case.

4. Where United States a Party.—Neither of the foregoing sections shall apply to cases where the United States are a party; but in such cases no cost shall be allowed in this court for or against the United States.

5. Mandate.—In all cases of the dismissal of any suit in this court, it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue a mandate, or other proper process, in the nature of a procedendo, to the court below, for the purpose of informing such court of the proceedings in this court, so that further proceedings may be had in such court as to law and justice may appertain.

6. Bill of Items.—When costs are allowed in this court, it shall be the duty of the clerk to insert the amount thereof in the body of the mandate, or other proper process, sent to the court below, and annex to the same the bill of items taxed in detail.

7. Table of Fees.—In pursuance of the act of March 3, 1883, authorizing and empowering this court to prepare a table of fees to be charged by the clerk of this court, the following table is adopted:

For docketing a case and filing and indorsing the transcript, five dollars.

For entering an appearance, twenty-five cents.

For entering a continuance, twenty-five cents.

For filing a motion, order, or other paper, twenty-five cents.

For entering any rule, or for making or copying any record or other paper, twenty cents per folio of each one hundred words.

For transferring each case to a subsequent docket and indexing the same, one dollar.

For entering a judgment or decree, one dollar.

For every search of the records of the court, one dollar.

For a certificate and seal, two dollars.

For receiving, keeping, and paying money in pursuance of any statute or order of court, two per cent on the amount so received, kept, and paid.

For an admission to the bar and certificate under seal, ten dollars.

For preparing the record or a transcript thereof for the printer, indexing the same, supervising the printing and distributing the printed copies to the justices, the reporter, the law library, and the parties or their counsel, fifteen cents per folio.

For making a manuscript copy of the record, when required under Rule 10, twenty cents per folio, but nothing in addition for supervising the printing.

For issuing a writ of error and accompanying papers, five dollars.

For a mandate or other process, five dollars.

For filing briefs, five dollars for each party appearing.

For every copy of any opinion of the court or any justice thereof, certified under seal, one dollar for every printed page, but not to exceed five dollars in the whole for any copy.

Rule 25. Opinion of the Court.—1. To be Recorded.—All opinions delivered by the court shall, immediately upon the delivery thereof, be handed to the clerk to be recorded. And it shall be the duty of the clerk to cause the same to be forthwith recorded, and to deliver a copy to the reporter as soon as the same shall be recorded.

2. Original Opinions Filed.—The original opinions of the court shall be filed with the clerk of this court for preservation.

3. Printed Opinions.—Opinions printed under the supervision of the justice delivering the same need not be copied by the clerk into a book of records; but at the end of each term the clerk shall cause such printed opinions to be bound in a substantial manner into one or more volumes, and when so bound they shall be deemed to have been recorded within the meaning of this rule.

Rule 26. Call and Order of the Docket.—1. Calling Cases for Argument.—The court, on the second day in each term, will commence calling the cases for argument in the order in which they stand on the docket, and proceed from day to day during the term in the same order (except as hereinafter provided); and if the parties, or either of them, shall be ready when the case is called, the same will be heard; and if neither party shall be ready to proceed in the argument, the case shall go down to the foot of the docket, unless some good and satisfactory reason to the contrary shall be shown to the court.

2. Ten Cases Called Each Day.—Ten cases only shall be considered as liable to be called on each day during the term. But on the coming in of the court on each day the entire number of such ten cases will be called, with a view to the disposition of such of them as are not to be argued.

3. Criminal Cases.—Criminal cases may be advanced by leave of the court on motion of either party.

4. Cases Once Adjudicated.—Cases once adjudicated by this court upon the merits, and again brought up by writ of error or appeal, may be advanced by leave of the court on motion of either party.

5. Cases in Which the United States are Concerned.—Revenue and other cases in which the United States are concerned, which also involve or affect some matter of general public interest, may also by leave of the court be advanced on motion of the Attorney General.

6. Motions to Advance.—All motions to advance cases must be printed, and must contain a brief statement of the matter involved, with the reasons for the application.

7. No Other Case Taken Up Out of the Order.—No other case will be taken up out of the order on the docket, or be set down for any particular day, except under special and peculiar circumstances to be shown to the court. Every case which shall have been called in its order and passed and put at the foot of the docket shall, if not again reached during the term it was called, be continued to the next term of the court.

8. Cases Involving the Same Question.—Two or more cases, involving the same question, may, by the leave of the court, be heard together, but they must be argued as one case.

9. Reinstatement.—If, after a case has been passed under circumstances which do not place it at the foot of the docket, the parties shall desire to have it heard, they may file with the clerk their joint request to that effect, and the case shall then be by him reinstated for call ten cases after that under argument, or next to be called at the end of the day the request is filed. If the parties will not unite in such a request, either may move or take up the case, and it shall then be assigned to such place upon the docket as the court may direct.

10. Stipulation to Pass a Case.—No stipulation to pass a case without placing it at the foot of the docket will be recognized as binding upon the court. A case can only be so passed upon application made and leave granted in open court.

Rule 27. Adjournments.—The court will, at every term, announce on what day it will adjourn at least ten days before the time which shall be fixed upon, and the court will take up no case for argument, nor receive any case upon printed briefs within three days next before the day fixed upon for adjournment.

Rule 28. Dismissing Cases in Vacation.—Whenever the plaintiff and defendant in a writ of error pending in this court, or the appellant and appellee in an appeal, shall in vacation, by their attorneys of record, sign and file with the clerk an agreement in writing directing the case to be dismissed, and specifying the terms on which it is to be dismissed as to costs, and shall pay to the clerk any fees that may be due to him, it shall be the duty of the clerk to enter the case dismissed, and to give to either party requesting it a copy of the agreement filed, but no mandate or other process shall issue without an order of the court.

Rule 29. Supersedeas.—Supersedeas bonds in the Circuit Courts must be taken, with good and sufficient security, that the plaintiff in error or appellant shall prosecute his writ or appeal to effect, and answer all damages and costs if he failed to make his plea good. Such indemnity, where the judgment or decree is for the recovery of money not otherwise secured, must be for the whole amount of the judgment or decree, including just damages for delay, and costs and interest on the appeal; but in all suits where the property in controversy necessarily follows the event of the suit, as in real actions, replevin, and in suits on mortgages, or where the property is in the custody of the marshal under admiralty process, as in case of capture or seizure, or where the proceeds thereof, or a bond for the value thereof, is in the custody or control of the court, indemnity in all such cases is only required in an amount sufficient to secure the sum recovered for the use and detention of the property, and the costs of the suit, and just damages for delay, and costs and interest on the appeal.

Rule 30. Rehearing.—A petition for rehearing after judgment can be presented only at the term at which judgment is entered, unless by special leave granted during the term; and must be printed and briefly and distinctly state its grounds, and be supported by certificate of counsel; and will not be granted, or permitted to be argued, unless a justice who concurred in the judgment desires it, and a majority of the court so determines.

Rule 31. Form of Printed Records and Briefs.—All records, arguments, and briefs, printed for the use of the court, must be in such form and size that they can be conveniently bound together, so as to make an ordinary octavo volume; and, as well as all quotations contained therein, and the covers thereof, must be printed in clear type (never smaller than small pica) and on unglazed paper.

Rule 32. Writs of Error and Appeals Under the Act of February 25, 1889, Chapter 236, or Under Section 5 of the Act of March 3, 1891, Chapter 517.—Cases brought to this court by writ of error or appeal, under the act of February 25, 1889, chapter 236, or under section 5 of the act of March 3, 1891, chapter 517, where the only question in issue is the question of the jurisdiction of the court below, will be advanced on motion, and heard under the rules prescribed by rule 6, in regard to motions to dismiss writ of error and appeals.

Rule 33. Models, Diagrams, and Exhibits of Materials.—1. Custody of Marshal.—Models, diagrams, and exhibits of material forming part of the evidence taken in the court below, in any case pending in this court, on writ of error or appeal, shall be placed in the custody of the marshal of this court at least one month before the case is heard or submitted.

2. Must be Taken Away Within One Month.—All models, diagrams and exhibits of material, placed in the custody of the marshal for the inspection of the court on the hearing of a case, must be taken away by the parties within one month after the case is decided. When this is not done, it shall be the duty of the marshal to notify the counsel in the case by mail or otherwise, of the requirements of this rule; and if the articles are not removed within a reasonable time after the notice is given, he shall destroy them, or make such other disposition of them as to him may seem best.

Rule 34. Custody of Prisoners on Habeas Corpus.—1. From Decision Declining to Grant the Writ of Habeas Corpus.—Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or judge declining to grant the writ of habeas corpus, the custody of the prisoner shall not be disturbed.

2. From Decision Discharging the Writ.—Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or judge discharging the writ after it has been issued, the prisoner shall be remanded to the custody from which he was taken by the writ, or shall, for good cause shown, be detained in custody of the court or judge, or be enlarged upon recognizance as hereinafter provided.

3. From Decision Discharging the Prisoner.—Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or judge discharging the prisoner, he shall be enlarged upon recognizance, with surety, for the appearance to answer the judgment of the appellate court, except where, for special reasons, sureties ought to be required.

Rule 35. Assignment of Errors.—1. Plaintiff in Error or Appellant to File.—Where an appeal or a writ of error is taken from a District Court or a Circuit Court direct to this court, under section 5 of the act entitled “An act to establish Circuit Courts of Appeals and to define and regulate in certain cases the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States, and for other purposes,” approved March 3, 1891, the plaintiff in error or appellant shall file with the clerk of the court below, with his petition for the writ of error or appeal, an assignment of errors, which shall set out separately and particularly each error asserted and intended to be urged. No writ of error or appeal shall be allowed until such assignment of errors shall have been filed. When the error alleged is to the admission or to the rejection of evidence, the assignment of errors shall quote the full substance of the evidence admitted or rejected. When the error alleged is to the charge of the court, the assignment of errors shall set out the part referred to totidem verbis, whether it be in instructions given or in instructions refused. Such assignment of errors shall form part of the transcript of the record, and be printed with it. When this is not done counsel will not be heard, except at the request of the court; and errors not assigned according to this rule will be disregarded, but the court, at its option, may notice a plain error not assigned.

2. Record to be Printed.—The plaintiff in error or appellant shall cause the record to be printed, according to the provisions of Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 9, of Rule 10.

Rule 36. Appeals and Writs of Error.—1. When Allowed—Supersedeas.—An appeal or a writ of error from a Circuit Court or a District Court direct to this court, in the cases provided for in sections 5 and 6 of the act entitled "An act to establish Circuit Courts of Appeals, and to define and regulate in certain cases the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1891, may be allowed, in term time or in vacation, by any justice of this court, or by any circuit judge within his circuit, or by any district judge within his district, and the proper security be taken and the citation signed by him, and he may also grant a supersedeas and stay of execution or of proceedings, pending such writ of error or appeal.

2. In Criminal Case—Bail.—Where such writ of error is allowed in the case of a conviction of an infamous crime, or in any other criminal case in which it will lie under said sections 5 and 6, the Circuit Court or District Court or any justice or judge thereof, shall have power, after the citation is served, to admit the accused to bail in such amount as may be fixed.

Rule 37. Cases from Circuit Court of Appeals.—1. Statement of Facts.—Where, under section 6 of the said act, a Circuit Court of Appeals shall certify to this court a question or proposition of law, concerning which it desires the instruction of this court for its proper decision, the certificate shall contain a proper statement of the facts on which such question or proposition of law arises.

2. Certified Copy of Record.—If application is thereupon made to this court that the whole record and cause may be sent up to it for its consideration, the party making such application shall, as a part thereof, furnish this court with a certified copy of the whole of said record.

3. Application to Require a Case to be Certified.—Where application is made to this court under section 6 of the said act to require a case to be certified to it for its review and determination a certified copy of the entire record of the case in the Circuit Court of Appeals shall be furnished to this court by the applicant, as part of the application.

Rule 38. Interest, Costs and Fees.—The provisions of Rules 23 and 24 of this court, in regard to interest and costs and fees, shall apply to writs of error and appeals and reviews under the provisions of sections 5 and 6 of the said act.

Rule 39. Mandates.—Mandates shall issue as of course after the expiration of thirty days from the day the judgment or decree is entered, unless the time is enlarged by order of the court, or of a justice thereof when the court is not in session, but during the term.

RULES OF PRACTICE FOR UNITED STATES COURTS OF EQUITY.

Rule 1. District Court Always Open for Certain Purposes—Orders at Chambers.—The District Courts, as courts of equity, shall be deemed always open for the purpose of filing any pleading, of issuing and returning mesne and final process, and of making and directing all interlocutory motions, orders, rules and other proceedings preparatory to the hearing, upon their merits, of all causes pending therein.

Any District Judge may, upon reasonable notice to the parties, make, direct, and award, at Chambers or in the Clerk's office, and in vacation as well as in term, all such process, commissions, orders, rules and other proceedings, whenever the same are not grantable of course, according to the rules and practice of the court.

Rule 2. Clerk's Office Always Open, Except, etc.—The Clerk's office shall be open during business hours on all days, except Sundays and legal holidays, and the Clerk shall be in attendance for the purpose of receiving and disposing of all motions, rules, orders and other proceedings which are grantable of course.

Rule 3. Books Kept by Clerk and Entries Therein.—The Clerk shall keep a book known as "Equity Docket," in which he shall enter each suit, with a file number corresponding to the folio in the book. All papers and orders filed with the Clerk in the suit, all process issued and returns made thereon, and all appearances shall be noted briefly and chronologically in this book on the folio assigned to the suit and shall be marked with its file number.

The Clerk shall also keep a book entitled "Order Book," in which shall be entered at length, in the order of their making, all orders made or passed by him as of course and also all orders made or passed by the Judge in Chambers.

He shall also keep an "Equity Journal," in which shall be entered all orders, decrees and proceedings of the court in equity causes in term time.

Separate and suitable indices of the Equity Docket, Order Book and Equity Journal shall be kept by the Clerk under the direction of the court.

Rule 4. Notice of Orders.—Neither the noting of an order in the Equity Docket nor its entry in the Order Book shall of itself be deemed notice to the parties or their solicitors; and when an order is made without prior notice to, and in the absence of, a party, the Clerk, unless otherwise directed by the court or Judge, shall forthwith send a copy thereof, by mail, to such party or his solicitor and a note of such mailing shall be made in the Equity Docket, which shall be taken as sufficient proof of due notice of the order.

Rule 5. Motions Grantable of Course by Clerk.—All motions and applications in the Clerk's office for the issuing of mesne process or final process to enforce and execute decrees; for taking bills pro confesso; and for other proceedings in the Clerk's office which do not require any allowance or order of the court or of a Judge, shall be deemed motions and applications grantable of course by the Clerk; but the same may be suspended, or altered, or rescinded by the Judge upon special cause shown.

Rule 6. Motion Day.—Each District Court shall establish regular times and places, not less than once each month, when motions requiring notice and hearing may be made and disposed of; but the Judge may at any time and place, and on such notice, if any, as he may consider reasonable, make and direct all interlocutory orders, rulings and proceedings for the advancement, conduct and hearing of causes. If the public interest permits, the senior Circuit Judge of the circuit may dispense with the motion day during not to exceed two months in the year in any district.

Rule 7. Process, Mesne and Final.—The process of subpoena shall constitute the proper mesne process in all suits of equity, in the first instance, to require the defendant to appear and answer the bill; and, unless otherwise provided in these rules or specially ordered by the court, a writ of attachment and, if the defendant cannot be found, a writ of sequestration, or a writ of assistance to enforce a delivery of possession, as the case may require, shall be the proper process to issue for the purpose of compelling obedience to any interlocutory or final order or decree of the court.

Rule 8. Enforcement of Final Decrees.—Final process to execute any decree may, if the decree be solely for the payment of money, be by a writ of execution, in the form used in the District Court in suits at common law in actions of assumpsit. If the decree be for the performance of any specific act, as, for example, for the execution of a conveyance of land or the delivering up of deeds or other documents, the decree shall, in all cases, prescribe the time within which the act shall be done, of which the defendant shall be bound, without further service, to take notice; and upon affidavit of the plaintiff, filed in the Clerk's office, that the same has not been complied with within the prescribed time, the Clerk shall issue a writ of attachment against the delinquent party, from which, if attached thereon, he shall not be discharged, unless upon a full compliance with the decree and the payment of all costs, or upon a special order of the court, or a Judge thereof, upon motion and affidavit, enlarging the time for the performance thereof. If the delinquent party cannot be found a writ of sequestration shall issue against his estate, upon the return of non est inventus, to compel obedience to the decree. If a mandatory order, injunction or decree for the specific performance of any act or contract be not complied with, the court or a Judge, besides, or instead of, proceedings against the disobedient party for a contempt or by sequestration, may by order direct that the act required to be done, be done, so far as practicable, by some other person appointed by the court or Judge, at the cost of the disobedient party, and the act, when so done, shall have like effect as if done by him.

Rule 9. Writ of Assistance.—When any decree or order is for the delivery of possession, upon proof made by affidavit of a demand and refusal to obey the decree or order, the party prosecuting the same shall be entitled to a writ of assistance from the Clerk of the court.

Rule 10. Decree for Deficiency in Foreclosures, etc.—In suits for the foreclosure of mortgages, or the enforcement of other liens, a decree may be rendered for any balance that may be found due to the plaintiff over and above the proceeds of the sale or sales, and execution may issue for the collection of the same, as is provided in Rule 8 when the decree is solely for the payment of money.

Rule 11. Process in Behalf of and Against Persons not Parties.—Every person, not being a party in any cause, who has obtained an order, or in whose favor an order shall have been made, may enforce obedience to such order by the same process as if he were a party; and every person, not being a party, against whom obedience to any order of the court may be enforced, shall be liable to the same process for enforcing obedience to such orders as if he were a party.

Rule 12. Issue of Subpoena—Time for Answer.—Whenever a bill is filed, and not before, the Clerk shall issue the process of subpoena thereon, as, of course, upon the application of the plaintiff, which shall contain the names of the parties and be returnable into the Clerk's office twenty days from the issuing thereof. At the bottom of the subpoena shall be placed a memorandum, that the defendant is required to file his answer or other defense in the Clerk's office on or before the twentieth day after service, excluding the day thereof; otherwise the bill may be taken pro confesso. Where there are more than one defendant, a writ of subpoena may, at the election of the plaintiff, be sued out separately for each defendant, or a joint subpoena against all the defendants.

Rule 13. Manner of Serving Subpoena.—The service of all subpoenas shall be by delivering a copy thereof to the defendant personally, or by leaving a copy thereof at the dwelling-house or usual place of abode of each defendant, with some adult person who is a member of or resident in the family.

Rule 14. Alias Subpoena.—Whenever any subpoena shall be returned not executed as to any defendant, the plaintiff shall be entitled to other subpoenas against such defendant, until due service is made.

Rule 15. Process, by Whom Served.—The service of all process, mesne and final, shall be by the marshal of the district, or his deputy, or by some other person especially appointed by the court or Judge for that purpose, and not otherwise. In the latter case, the person serving the process shall make affidavit thereof.

Rule 16. Defendant to Answer—Default—Decree Pro Confesso.—It shall be the duty of the defendant, unless the time shall be enlarged, for cause shown, by a Judge of the court, to file his answer or other defense to the bill in the Clerk's office within the time named in the subpoena as required by Rule 12. In default thereof the plaintiff may, at his election, take an order as of course that the bill be taken pro confesso; and thereupon the cause shall be proceeded in ex parte.

Rule 17. Decree Pro Confesso to be Followed by Final Decree—Setting Aside Default.—When the bill is taken pro confesso the court may proceed to a final decree at any time after the expiration of thirty days after the entry of the order pro confesso, and such decree shall be deemed absolute, unless the court shall, at the same term, set aside the same, or enlarge the time for filing the answer, upon cause shown upon motion and affidavit. No such motion shall be granted, unless upon the payment of the costs of the plaintiff up to that time, or such part thereof as the court shall deem reasonable, and unless the defendant shall undertake to file his answer within such time as the court shall direct, and submit to such other terms as the court shall direct, for the purpose of speeding the cause.

Rule 18. Pleadings—Technical Forms Abrogated.—Unless otherwise prescribed by statute or these rules the technical forms of pleadings in equity are abolished.

Rule 19. Amendments Generally.—The court may, at any time, in furtherance of justice, upon such terms as may be just, permit any process, proceeding, pleading or record to be amended, or material supplemental matter to be set forth in an amended or supplemental pleading. The court, at every stage of the proceeding, must disregard any error or defect in the proceeding which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Rule 20. Further and Particular Statement in Pleading may be Required.—A further and better statement of the nature of the claim or defense, or further and better particulars of any matter stated in any pleading, may in any case be ordered, upon such terms, as to costs and otherwise, as may be just.

Rule 21. Scandal and Impertinence.—The right to except to bills, answers, and other proceedings for scandal or impertinence shall not obtain, but the court may, upon motion or its own initiative, order any redundant, impertinent or scandalous matter stricken out, upon such terms as the court shall think fit.

Rule 22. Action at Law Erroneously Begun as Suit in Equity—Transfer.—If at any time it appear that a suit commenced in equity should have been brought as an action on the law side of the court, it shall be forthwith transferred to the law side and be there proceeded with, with only such alteration in the pleadings as shall be essential.

Rule 23. Matters Ordinarily Determinable at Law, When Arising in Suit in Equity to be Disposed of Therein.—If in a suit in equity a matter ordinarily determinable at law arises, such matter shall be determined in that suit according to the principles applicable, without sending the case or question to the law side of the court.

Rule 24. Signature of Counsel.—Every bill or other pleading shall be signed individually by one or more solicitors of record, and such signatures shall be considered as a certificate by each solicitor that he has read the pleading so signed by him; that upon the instructions laid before him regarding the case there is good ground for the same; that no scandalous matter is inserted in the pleading; and that it is not interposed for delay.

Rule 25. Bill of Complaint—Contents.—Hereafter it shall be sufficient that a bill in equity shall contain, in addition to the usual caption:

First, the full name, when known, of each plaintiff and defendant, and the citizenship and residence of each party. If any party be under any disability that fact shall be stated.

Second, a short and plain statement of the grounds upon which the court's jurisdiction depends.

Third, a short and simple statement of the ultimate facts upon which the plaintiff asks relief, omitting any mere statement of evidence.

Fourth, if there are persons other than those named as defendants who appear to be proper parties, the bill should state why they are not made parties—as that they are not within the jurisdiction of the court, or cannot be made parties without ousting the jurisdiction.

Fifth, a statement of and prayer for any special relief pending the suit or final hearing, which may be stated and sought in alternative forms. If special relief pending the suit be desired the bill should be verified by the oath of the plaintiff, or someone having knowledge of the facts upon which such relief is asked.

Rule 26. Joinder of Causes of Action.—The plaintiff may join in one bill as many causes of action, cognizable in equity, as he may have against the defendant. But when there is more than one plaintiff, the causes of action joined must be joint, and if there be more than one defendant the liability must be one asserted against all of the material defendants, or sufficient grounds must appear for uniting the causes of action in order to promote the convenient administration of justice. If it appear that any such causes of action cannot be conveniently disposed of together, the court may order separate trials.

Rule 27. Stockholder's Bill.—Every bill brought by one or more stockholders in a corporation against the corporation and other parties, founded on rights which may properly be asserted by the corporation, must be verified by oath, and must contain an allegation that the plaintiff was a shareholder at the time of the transaction of which he complains, or that his share had devolved on him since by operation of law, and that the suit is not a collusive one to confer on a court of the United States jurisdiction of a case of which it would not otherwise have cognizance. It must also set forth with particularity the efforts of the plaintiff to secure such action as he desires on the part of the managing directors or trustees, and, if necessary, of the shareholders, and the causes of his failure to obtain such action, or the reason for not making such effort.

Rule 28. Amendment of Bill as of Course.—The plaintiff may, as of course, amend his bill before the defendant has responded thereto, but if such amendment be filed after any copy has issued from the Clerk's office, the plaintiff at his own cost shall furnish to the solicitor of record of each opposing party, a copy of the bill as amended, unless otherwise ordered by the court or judge.

After pleading filed by any defendant, plaintiff may amend only by consent of the defendant or leave of the court or Judge.

Rule 29. Defenses—How Presented.—Demurrers and pleas are abolished. Every defense in point of law arising upon the face of the bill, whether for misjoinder, nonjoinder, or insufficiency of fact to constitute a valid cause of action in equity, which might heretofore have been made by demurrer or plea, shall be made by motion to dismiss or in the answer; and every such point of law going to the whole or a material part of the cause or causes of action stated in the bill may be called up and disposed of before final hearing at the discretion of the court. Every defense heretofore presentable by plea in bar or abatement shall be made in the answer and may be separately heard and disposed of before the trial of the principal case in the discretion of the court. If the defendant move to dismiss the bill or any part thereof, the motion may be set down for hearing by either party upon five days' notice, and, if it be denied, answer shall be filed within five days thereafter or a decree pro confesso entered.

Rule 30. Answer—Contents—Counterclaim.—The defendant in his answer shall in short and simple terms set out his defense to each claim asserted by the bill, omitting any mere statement of evidence and avoiding any general denial of the averments of the bill, but specifically admitting or denying or explaining the facts upon which the plaintiff relies, unless the defendant is without knowledge, in which case he shall so state, such statement operating as a denial. Averments other than those of value or amount of damage, if not denied, shall be deemed confessed, except as against an infant, lunatic or other person non compos and not under guardianship. The answer may be amended, by leave of the court or Judge, upon reasonable notice, so as to put any averment in issue, when justice requires it. The answer may state as many defenses, in the alternative, regardless of consistency, as the defendant deems essential to his defense.

The answer must state in short and simple form any counterclaim arising out of the transaction which is the subject matter of the suit, and may, without cross-bill, set out any setoff or counterclaim against the plaintiff which might be the subject of an independent suit in equity against him, and such setoff or counterclaim, so set up, shall have the same effect as a cross-suit, so as to enable the court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit both on the original and cross-claims.

Rule 31. Reply—When Required—When Cause at Issue.—Unless the answer assert a setoff or counterclaim, no reply shall be required without special order of the court or Judge, but the cause shall be deemed at issue upon the filing of the answer, and any new or affirmative matter therein shall be deemed to be denied by the plaintiff. If the answer include a setoff or counterclaim, the party against whom it is asserted shall reply within ten days after the filing of the answer, unless a longer time be allowed by the court or Judge. If the counter-claim is one which affects the rights of other defendants they or their solicitors shall be served with a copy of the same within ten days from the filing thereof, and ten days shall be accorded to such defendants for filing a reply. In default of a reply, a decree pro confesso on the counterclaim may be entered as in default of an answer to the bill.

Rule 32. Answer to Amended Bill.—In every case where an amendment to the bill shall be made after answer filed, the defendant shall put in a new or supplemental answer within ten days after that on which the amendment or amended bill is filed, unless the time is enlarged or otherwise ordered by a Judge of the court; and upon his default, the like proceedings may be had as a case of an omission to put in an answer.

Rule 33. Testing Sufficiency of Defense.—Exceptions for insufficiency of an answer are abolished. But if an answer set up an affirmative defense, setoff or counterclaim, the plaintiff may, upon five days' notice, or such further time as the court may allow, test the sufficiency of the same by motion to strike out. If found insufficient but amendable the court may allow an amendment upon terms, or strike out the matter.

Rule 34. Supplemental Pleading.—Upon application of either party, the court or Judge may, upon reasonable notice and such terms as are just, permit him to file and serve a supplemental pleading, alleging material facts occurring after his former pleading, or of which he was ignorant when it was made, including the judgment or decree of a competent court rendered after the commencement of the suit determining the matters in controversy or a part thereof.

Rule 35. Bills of Revivor and Supplemental Bills—Form.—It shall not be necessary in any bill of revivor or supplemental bill to set forth any of the statements in the original suit, unless the special circumstances of the case may require it.

Rule 36. Officers Before Whom Pleadings Verified.—Every pleading which is required to be sworn to by statute, or these rules, may be verified before any Justice or Judge of any court of the United States, or of any State or Territory, or of the District of Columbia, or any Clerk of any court of the United States, or of any Territory, or of the District of Columbia, or any notary public.

Rule 37. Parties Generally—Intervention.—Every action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, but an executor, administrator, guardian, trustee of an express trust, a party with whom or in whose name a contract has been made for the benefit of another, or a party expressly authorized by statute, may sue in his own name without joining with him the party for whose benefit the action is brought. All persons having an interest in the subject of the action and in obtaining the relief demanded may join as plaintiffs, and any person may be made a defendant who has or claims an interest adverse to the plaintiff. Any person may at any time be made a party if his presence is necessary or proper to a complete determination of the cause. Persons having a united interest must be joined on the same side as plaintiffs or defendants, but when anyone refuses to join, he may for such reason be made a defendant.

Anyone claiming an interest in the litigation may at any time be permitted to assert his right by intervention, but the intervention shall be in subordination to, and in recognition of, the property of the main proceeding.

Rule 38. Representatives of Class.—When the question is one of common or general interest to many persons constituting a class so numerous as to make it impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the whole.

Rule 39. Absence of Persons Who Would be Proper Parties.—In all cases where it shall appear to the court that persons, who might otherwise be deemed proper parties to the suit, cannot be made parties by reason of their being out of the jurisdiction of the court, or incapable otherwise of being made parties, or because their joinder would oust the jurisdiction of the court as to the parties before the court, the court may, in its discretion, proceed in the cause without making such persons parties; and in such cases the decree shall be without prejudice to the rights of the absent parties.

Rule 40. Nominal Parties.—Where no account, payment, conveyance, or other direct relief is sought against a party to a suit, not being an infant, the party, upon service of the subpoena upon him, need not appear and answer the bill, unless the plaintiff specially requires him to do so by the prayer; but he may appear and answer at his option; and if he does not appear and answer he shall be bound by all the proceedings in the cause. If the plaintiff shall require him to appear and answer he shall be entitled to the costs of all the proceedings against him, unless the court shall otherwise direct.

Rule 41. Suit to Execute Trusts of Will—Heir as Party.—In suits to execute the trusts of a will, it shall not be necessary to make the heir at law a party; but the plaintiff shall be at liberty to make the heir at law a party where he desires to have the will established against him.

Rule 42. Joint and Several Demands.—In all cases in which the plaintiff has a joint and several demand against several persons, either as principals or sureties, it shall not be necessary to bring before the court as parties to a suit concerning such demand all the persons liable thereto; but the plaintiff may proceed against one or more of the persons severally liable.

Rule 43. Defect of Parties—Resisting Objection.—Where the defendant shall by his answer suggest that the bill of complaint is defective for want of parties, the plaintiff may, within fourteen days after answer filed, set down the cause for argument as a motion upon that objection only; and where the plaintiff shall not so set down his cause, but shall proceed therewith to a hearing, notwithstanding an objection for want of parties taken by the answer, he shall not at the hearing of the cause, if the defendant's objection shall then be allowed, be entitled as of course to an order to amend his bill by adding parties; but the court shall be at liberty to dismiss the bill, or to allow an amendment on such terms as justice may require.

Rule 44. Defect of Parties—Tardy Objection.—If a defendant shall, at the hearing of a cause, object that a suit is defective for want of parties, not having by motion or answer taken the objection and therein specified by name or description the parties to whom the objection applies, the court shall be at liberty to make a decree saving the rights of the absent parties.

Rule 45. Death of Party—Revivor.—In the event of the death of either party the court may, in a proper case, upon motion, order the suit to be revived by the substitution of the proper parties. If the successors or representatives of the deceased party fail to make such application within a reasonable time, then any other party may, on motion, apply for such relief, and the court, upon any such motion may make the necessary orders for notice to the parties to be substituted and for the filing of such pleadings or amendments as may be necessary.

Rule 46. Trial—Testimony Usually Taken in Open Court—Rulings on Objections to Evidence.—In all trials in equity the testimony of witnesses shall be taken orally in open court, except as otherwise provided by statute or these rules. The court shall pass upon the admissibility of all evidence offered as in actions at law. When evidence is offered and excluded, and the party against whom the ruling is made excepts thereto at the time, the court shall take and report so much thereof, or make such a statement respecting it, as will clearly show the character of the evidence, the form in which it was offered, the objection made, the ruling, and the exception. If the appellate court shall be of opinion that the evidence should have been admitted, it shall not reverse the decree unless it be clearly of opinion that material prejudice will result from an affirmance, in which event it shall direct such further steps as justice may require.

Rule 47. Depositions—To be Taken in Exceptional Instances.—The court, upon application of either party, when allowed by statute, or for good and exceptional cause for departing from the general rule, to be shown by affidavit, may permit the deposition of named witnesses, to be used before the court or upon a reference to a master, to be taken before an examiner or other named officer, upon the notice and terms specified in the order. All depositions taken under a statute, or under any such order of the court, shall be taken and filed as follows, unless otherwise ordered by the court or Judge for good cause shown: Those of the plaintiff within sixty days from the time the cause is at issue; those of the defendant within thirty days from the expiration of the time for the filing of plaintiff's depositions; and rebutting depositions by either party within twenty days after the time for taking original depositions expires.

Rule 48. Testimony of Expert Witnesses in Patent and Trade-mark Cases.—In a case involving the validity or scope of a patent or trademark, the District Court may, upon petition, order that the testimony in chief of expert witnesses, whose testimony is directed to matters of opinion, be set forth in affidavits and filed as follows: Those of the plaintiff within forty days after the cause is at issue; those of the defendant within twenty days after plaintiff's time has expired; and rebutting affidavits within fifteen days after the expiration of the time for filing original affidavits. Should the opposite party desire the production of any affiant for cross-examination, the court or Judge shall, on motion, direct that said cross-examination and any re-examination take place before the court upon the trial, and unless the affiant is produced and submits to cross-examination in compliance with such direction, his affidavit shall not be used as evidence in the cause.

Rule 49. Evidence Taken Before Examiners, etc.—All evidence offered before an examiner or like officer, together with any objections, shall be saved and returned into the court. Depositions, whether upon oral examination before an examiner or like officer or otherwise, shall be taken upon questions and answers reduced to writing, or in the form of narrative, and the witness shall be subject to cross and re-examination.

Rule 50. Stenographer—Appointment—Fees.—When deemed necessary by the court or officer taking testimony, a stenographer may be appointed who shall take down testimony in shorthand and, if required, transcribe the same. His fee shall be fixed by the court and taxed ultimately as costs. The expense of taking a deposition, or the cost of a transcript, shall be advanced by the party calling the witness or ordering the transcript.

Rule 51. Evidence Taken Before Examiners, etc.—Objections to the evidence, before an examiner or like officer, shall be in short form, stating the grounds of objection relied upon, but no transcript filed by such officer shall include argument or debate. The testimony of each witness, after being reduced to writing, shall be read over to or by him, and shall be signed by him in the presence of the officer; provided, that if the witness shall refuse to sign his deposition so taken, the officer shall sign the same, stating upon the record the reasons, if any, assigned by the witness for such refusal. Objection to any question or questions shall be noted by the officer upon the deposition, but he shall not have power to decide on the competency or materiality or relevancy of the questions. The court shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to deal with the costs of incompetent and immaterial or irrelevant depositions, or parts of them, as may be just.

Rule 52. Attendance of Witnesses Before Commissioner, Master or Examiner.—Witnesses who live within the district, and whose testimony may be taken out of court by these rules, may be summoned to appear before a commissioner appointed to take testimony, or before a master or examiner appointed in any cause, by subpoena in the usual form, which may be issued by the Clerk in blank and filled up by the party praying the same, or by the commissioner, master, or examiner, requiring the attendance of the witnesses at the time and place specified, who shall be allowed for attendance the same compensation as for attendance in court; and if any witness shall refuse to appear or give evidence it shall be deemed a contempt of the court, which being certified to the Clerk's office by the commissioner, master, or examiner, an attachment may issue thereupon by order of the court or of any Judge thereof, in the same manner as if the contempt were for not attending, or for refusing to give testimony in the court.

In case of refusal of witnesses to attend or be sworn or to answer any question put by the commissioner, master or examiner or by counsel or solicitor, the same practice shall be adopted as is now practiced with respect to witnesses to be produced on examination before an examiner of said court on written interrogatories.

Rule 53. Notice of Taking Testimony Before Examiner, etc.—Notice shall be given by the respective counsel or parties to the opposite counsel or parties of the time and place of examination before an examiner or like officer for such reasonable time as the court or officer may fix by order in each case.

Rule 54. Depositions Under Rev. Stats., §§ 863, 865, 866, 867—Cross-examination.—After a cause is at issue, depositions may be taken as provided by Sections 863, 865, 866 and 867, Revised Statutes. But if in any case no notice has been given the opposite party of the time and place of taking the deposition, he shall, upon application and notice, be entitled to have the witness examined orally before the court, or to a cross-examination before an examiner or like officer, or a new deposition taken with notice, as the court or Judge under all the circumstances shall order.

Rule 55. Deposition Deemed Published When Filed.—Upon the filing of any deposition or affidavit taken under these rules or any statute, it shall be deemed published, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

Rule 56. On Expiration of Time for Depositions, Case Goes on Trial Calendar.—After the time has elapsed for taking and filing depositions under these rules, the case shall be placed on the trial calendar. Thereafter no further testimony by deposition shall be taken except for some strong reason shown by affidavit. In every such application the reason why the testimony of the witness cannot be had orally on the trial, and why his deposition has not been before taken, shall be set forth, together with the testimony which it is expected the witness will give.

Rule 57. Continuances.—After a cause shall be placed on the trial calendar it may be passed over to another day of the same term, by consent of counsel or order of the court, but shall not be continued beyond the term save in exceptional cases by order of the court upon good cause shown by affidavit and upon such terms as the court shall in its discretion impose. Continuances beyond the term by consent of the parties shall be allowed on condition only that a stipulation be signed by counsel for all the parties and that all costs incurred therefore be paid. Thereupon an order shall be entered dropping the case from the trial calendar, subject to reinstatement within one year upon application to the court by either party, in which event it shall be heard at the earliest convenient day. If not so reinstated within the year, the suit shall be dismissed without prejudice to a new one.

Rule 58. Discovery—Interrogatories — Inspection and Production of Documents—Admission of Execution or Genuineness.—The plaintiff at any time after filing the bill and not later than twenty-one days after the joinder of issue, and the defendant at any time after filing his answer and not later than twenty-one days after the joinder of issue, and either party at any time thereafter by leave of the court or Judge, may file interrogatories in writing for the discovery by the opposite party or parties of facts and documents material to the support or defense of the cause, with a note at the foot thereof stating which of the interrogatories each of the parties is required to answer. But no party shall file more than one set of interrogatories to the same party without leave of the court or Judge.

If any party to the cause is a public or private corporation, any opposite party may apply to the court or Judge for an order allowing him to file interrogatories to be answered by any officer of the corporation, and an order may be made accordingly for the examination of such officer as may appear to be proper upon such interrogatories as the court or Judge shall think fit.

Copies shall be filed for the use of the interrogated party and shall be sent by the Clerk to the respective solicitors of record, or to the last known address of the opposite party if there be no record solicitor.

Interrogatories shall be answered, and the answers filed in the Clerk's office, within fifteen days after they have been served, unless the time be enlarged by the court or Judge. Each interrogatory shall be answered separately and fully and the answers shall be in writing, under oath, and signed by the party or corporate officer interrogated. Within ten days after the service of interrogatories, objections to them, or any of them, may be presented to the court or Judge, with proof of notice of the purpose so to do, and answers shall be deferred until the objections are determined, which shall be at as early a time as is practicable. In so far as the objections are sustained, answers shall not be required.

The court or Judge, upon motion and reasonable notice, may make all such orders as may be appropriate to enforce answers to interrogatories or to effect the inspection or production of documents in the possession of either party and containing evidence material to the cause of action or defense of his adversary. Any party failing or refusing to comply with such an order shall be liable to attachment, and shall also be liable, if a plaintiff, to have his bill dismissed, and, if a defendant, to have his answer stricken out and be placed in the same situation as if he had failed to answer.

By a demand served ten days before the trial, either party may call on the other to admit in writing the execution or genuineness of any document, letter or other writing, saving all just exceptions; and if such admission be not made within five days after such service, the costs of proving the document, letter or writing shall be paid by the party refusing or neglecting to make such admission, unless at the trial the court shall find that the refusal or neglect was reasonable.

Rule 59. Reference to Master—Exceptional, not Usual.—Save in matters of account, a reference to a master shall be the exception, not the rule, and shall be made only upon a showing that some exceptional condition requires it. When such a reference is made, the party at whose instance or for whose benefit it is made shall cause the order or reference to be presented to the master for a hearing within twenty days succeeding the time when the reference was made, unless a longer time be specially granted by the court or Judge; if he shall omit to do so, the adverse party shall be at liberty forthwith to cause proceedings to be had before the master, at the costs of the party securing the reference.

Rule 60. Proceedings Before Master.—Upon every such reference, it shall be the duty of the master, as soon as he reasonably can after the same is brought before him, to assign a time and place for proceedings in the same, and to give due notice thereof to each of the parties, or their solicitors; and if either party shall fail to appear at the time and place appointed, the master shall be at liberty to proceed ex parte, or, in his discretion, to adjourn the examination and proceedings to a future day, giving notice to the absent party or his solicitor of such adjournment; and it shall be the duty of the master to proceed with all reasonable diligence in every such reference, and with the least practicable delay, and either party shall be at liberty to apply to the court, or a Judge thereof, for an order to the master to speed the proceedings and to make his report, and to certify to the court or Judge the reason for any delay.

Rule 61. Master's Report—Documents Identified but not Set Forth. In the reports made by the master to the court, no part of any state of facts, account, charge, affidavit, deposition, examination, or answer brought in or used before him shall be stated or recited. But such state of facts, account, charge, affidavit, deposition, examination, or answer shall be identified, and referred to, so as to inform the court what state of facts, account, charge, affidavit, deposition, examination, or answer were so brought in or used.

Rule 62. Powers of Master.—The master shall regulate all the proceedings in every hearing before him, upon every reference; and he shall have full authority to examine the parties in the cause, upon oath, touching all matters contained in the reference; and also to require the production of all books, papers, writings, vouchers, and other documents applicable thereto; and also to examine on oath, viva voce, all witnesses produced by the parties before him, or by deposition, according to the acts of Congress, or otherwise, as here provided; and also to direct the mode in which the matters requiring evidence shall be proved before him; and generally to do all other acts and direct all other inquiries and proceedings in the matters before him, which he may deem necessary and proper to the justice and merits thereof and the rights of the parties.

Rule 63. Form of Accounts Before Master.—All parties accounting before a master shall bring in their respective accounts in the form of debtor and creditor; and any of the other parties who shall not be satisfied with the account so brought in shall be at liberty to examine the accounting party viva voce, or upon interrogatories, as the master shall direct.

Rule 64. Former Depositions, etc., may be Used Before Master.—All affidavits, depositions and documents which have been previously made, read, or used in the court upon any proceeding in any cause or matter may be used before the master.

Rule 65. Claimants Before Master Examinable by Him.—The master shall be at liberty to examine any creditor or other person coming in to claim before him, either upon written interrogatories or viva voce, or in both modes, as the nature of the case may appear to him to require. The evidence upon such examinations shall be taken down by the master, or by some other person by his order and in his presence, if either party requires it, in order that the same may be used by the court if necessary.

Rule 66. Return of Master's Report—Exceptions—Hearing.—The master, as soon as his report is ready, shall return the same into the Clerk's office and the day of the return shall be entered by the Clerk in the Equity Docket. The parties shall have twenty days from the time of the filing of the report to file exceptions thereto, and if no exceptions are within that period filed by either party, the report shall stand confirmed. If exceptions are filed, they shall stand for hearing before the court, if then in session, or, if not, at the next sitting held thereafter, by adjournment or otherwise.

Rule 67. Costs on Exceptions to Master's Report.—In order to prevent exceptions to reports from being filed for frivolous causes, or for mere delay, the party whose exceptions are overruled shall, for every exception overruled, pay five dollars costs to the other party, and for every exception allowed shall be entitled to the same costs.

Rule 68. Appointment and Compensation of Masters.—The District Courts may appoint standing masters in chancery in their respective districts (a majority of all the judges thereof concurring in the appointment), and they may also appoint a master pro hac vice in any particular case. The compensation to be allowed to every master shall be fixed by the district court, in its discretion, having regard to all the circumstances thereof, and the compensation shall be charged upon and borne by such of the parties in the cause as the court shall direct. The master shall not retain his report as security for his compensation; but when the compensation is allowed by the court, he shall be entitled to an attachment for the amount against the party who is ordered to pay the same, if, upon notice thereof, he does not pay it within the time prescribed by the court.

Rule 69. Petition for Rehearing.—Every petition for a rehearing shall contain the special matter or cause on which such rehearing is applied for, shall be signed by counsel, and the facts therein stated, if not apparent on the record, shall be verified by the oath of the party or by some other person. No rehearing shall be granted after the term at which the final decree of the court shall have been entered and recorded, if an appeal lies to the Circuit Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court. But if no appeal lies, the petition may be admitted at any time before the end of the next term of the court, in the discretion of the court.

Rule 70. Suits by or Against Incompetents.—Guardians ad litem to defend a suit may be appointed by the court, or by any Judge thereof, for infants or other persons who are under guardianship, or otherwise incapable of suing for themselves. All infants and other persons so incapable may sue by their guardians, if any, or by their prochein ami; subject, however, to such orders as the court or Judge may direct for the protection of infants and other persons.

Rule 71. Form of Decree.—In drawing up decrees and orders, neither the bill, nor answer, nor other pleadings, nor any part thereof, nor the report of any master, nor any other prior proceeding, shall be recited or stated in the decree or order; but the decree and order shall begin, in substance, as follows: "This cause came on to be heard (or to be further heard, as the case may be) at this term, and was argued by counsel; and thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it was ordered, adjudged and decreed as follows, viz.:" (Here insert the decree or order.)

Rule 72. Correction of Clerical Mistakes in Orders and Decrees.—Clerical mistakes in decrees or decretal orders, or errors arising from any accidental slip or omission, may, at any time before the close of the term at which final decree is rendered, be corrected by order of the court or a Judge thereof, upon petition, without the form or expense of a rehearing.

Rule 73. Preliminary Injunctions and Temporary Restraining Orders.—No preliminary injunction shall be granted without notice to the opposite party. Nor shall any temporary restraining order be granted without notice to the opposite party, unless it shall clearly appear from specific facts, shown by affidavit or by the verified bill, that immediate and irreparable loss or damage will result to the applicant before the matter can be heard on notice. In case a temporary restraining order shall be granted without notice, in the contingency specified, the matter shall be made returnable at the earliest possible time, and in no event later than ten days from the date of the order, and shall take precedence of all matters, except older matters of the same character. When the matter comes up for hearing the party who obtained the temporary restraining order shall proceed with his application for a preliminary injunction, and if he does not do so the court shall dissolve his temporary restraining order. Upon two days' notice to the party obtaining such temporary restraining order, the opposite party may appear and move the dissolution or modification of the order, and in that event the court or Judge shall proceed to hear and determine the motion as expeditiously as the ends of justice may require. Every temporary restraining order shall be forthwith filed in the clerk's office.

Rule 74. Injunction Pending Appeal.—When an appeal from a final decree, in an equity suit, granted or dissolving an injunction, is allowed by a justice or a Judge who took part in the decision of the cause, he may, in his discretion, at the time of such allowance, make an order suspending, modifying or restoring the injunction during the pendency of the appeal, upon such terms, as to bond or otherwise, as he may consider proper for the security of the rights of the opposite party.

Rule 75. Record on Appeal—Reduction and Preparation.—In case of appeal:

(a) It shall be the duty of the appellant or his solicitor to file with the Clerk of the court from which the appeal is prosecuted, together with proof or acknowledgment of service of a copy on the appellee or his solicitor, a praeceipe which shall indicate the portions of the record to be incorporated into the transcript on such appeal. Should the appellee or his solicitor desire additional portions of the record incorporated into the transcript, he shall file with the Clerk of the court his praeceipe also within ten days thereafter, unless the time shall be enlarged by the court or a Judge thereof, indicating such additional portions of the record desired by him.

(b) The evidence to be included in the record shall not be set forth in full, but shall be stated in simple and condensed form, all parts not essential to the decision of the questions presented by the appeal being omitted and the testimony of witnesses being stated only in narrative form, save that if either party desires it, and the court or Judge so directs, any part of the testimony shall be reproduced in the exact words of the witness. The duty of so condensing and stating the evidence shall rest primarily on the appellant, who shall prepare his statement thereof and lodge the same in the Clerk's office for the examination of the other parties at or before the time of filing his praeceipe under paragraph a of this rule. He shall also notify the other parties or their solicitors of such lodgment and shall name a time and place when he will ask the court or Judge to approve the statement, the time so named to be at least ten days after such notice. At the expiration of the time named or such further time as the court or Judge may allow, the statement, together with any objections made or amendments proposed by any party, shall be presented to the court or the Judge, and if the statement be true, complete and properly prepared, it shall be approved by the court or Judge, and if it be not true, complete or properly prepared, it shall be made so under the direction of the court or Judge and shall then be approved. When approved, it shall be filed in the Clerk's office and become a part of the record for the purposes of the appeal.

(c) If any difference arise between the parties concerning directions as to the general contents of the record to be prepared on the appeal, such difference shall be submitted to the court or Judge in conformity with the provisions of paragraph b of this rule and shall be covered by the directions which the court or Judge may give on the subject.

Rule 76. Record on Appeal—Reduction and Preparation—Costs—Correction of Omissions.—In preparing the transcript on an appeal, especial care shall be taken to avoid the inclusion of more than one copy of the same paper and to exclude the formal and immaterial parts of all exhibits, documents and other papers included therein; and for any infraction of this or any kindred rule the appellate court may withhold or impose costs as the circumstances of the case and the discouragement of like infractions in the future may require. Costs for such an infraction may be imposed upon offending solicitors as well as parties.

If, in the transcript, anything material to either party be omitted by accident or error, the appellate court, on a proper suggestion or its own motion, may direct that the omission be corrected by a supplemental transcript.

Rule 77. Record on Appeal—Agreed Statement.—When the questions presented by an appeal can be determined by the appellate court without an examination of all the pleadings and evidence, the parties, with the approval of the District Court or the Judge thereof, may prepare and sign a statement of the case showing how the questions arose and were decided in the District Court and setting forth so much only of the facts alleged and proved, or sought to be proved, as is essential to a decision of such questions by the appellate court. Such statement, when filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, shall be treated as superseding, for the purposes of the appeal, all parts of the record other than the decree from which the appeal is taken, and, together with such decree, shall be copied and certified to the appellate court as the record on appeal.

Rule 78. Affirmation in Lieu of Oath.—Whenever under these rules an oath is or may be required to be taken, the party may, if conscientiously scrupulous of taking an oath, in lieu thereof make solemn affirmation to the truth of the facts stated by him.

Rule 79. Additional Rules by District Court.—With the concurrence of a majority of the Circuit Judges for the circuit, the District Courts may make any other and further rules and regulations for the practice, proceedings and process, mesne and final, in their respective districts, not inconsistent with the rules hereby prescribed, and from time to time alter and amend the same.

Rule 80. Computation of Time—Sundays and Holidays.—When the time prescribed by these rules for doing any act expires on a Sunday or legal holiday, such time shall extend to and include the next succeeding day that is not a Sunday or legal holiday.

Rule 81. These Rules Effective February 1, 1913—Old Rules Abrogated.—These rules shall be in force on and after February 1, 1913, and shall govern all proceedings in cases then pending or thereafter brought, save that where in any then pending cause an order has been made or act done which cannot be changed without doing substantial injustice, the court may give effect to such order or act to the extent necessary to avoid any such injustice.

All rules theretofore prescribed by the Supreme Court, regulating the practice in suits in equity, shall be abrogated when these rules take effect.

RULES OF ADMIRALTY PRACTICE ON THE INSTANCE SIDE OF THE COURT, IN PURSUANCE OF THE ACT OF THE 23d OF AUGUST, 1842, CHAPTER 188.

Rule 1. Issue and Service of Mesne Process.—No mesne process shall issue from the district courts in any civil cause of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction until the libel, or libel of information, shall be filed in the clerk's office from which such process is to issue. All process shall be served by the marshal or by his deputy, or, where he or they are interested, by some discreet and disinterested person appointed by the court.

Rule 2. Issue and Service of Mesne Process.—In suits in personam, the mesne process may be by a simple warrant of arrest of the person of the defendant, in the nature of a capias, or by a warrant of arrest of the person of the defendant, with a clause therein, that if he cannot be found, to attach his goods and chattels to the amount sued for; or if such property cannot be found, to attach his credits and effects to the amount sued for in the hands of the garnishees named therein; or by a simple monition, in the nature of a summons to appear and answer to the suit, as the libellant shall, in his libel or information, pray for or elect.

Rule 3. Bail Bond or Stipulation.—In all suits in personam, where a simple warrant of arrest issues and is executed, the marshal may take bail, with sufficient sureties, from the party arrested, by bond or stipulation, upon condition that he will appear in the suit and abide by all orders of the court, interlocutory or final, in the cause, and pay the money awarded by the final decree rendered therein in the court to which the process is returnable, or in any appellate court. And upon such bond or stipulation summary process of execution may and shall be issued against the principal and sureties by the court to which such process is returnable, to enforce the final decree so rendered, or upon appeal by the Appellate Court.

Rule 4. Dissolution of Attachment.—In all suits in personam, where goods and chattels, or credits and effects, are attached under such warrant authorizing the same, the attachment may be dissolved by order of the court to which the same warrant is returnable, upon the defendant whose property is so attached, giving a bond or stipulation, with sufficient sureties, to abide by all orders, interlocutory or final, of the court, and pay the amount awarded by the final decree rendered in the court to which the process is returnable, or in any appellate court; and upon such bond or stipulation, summary process of execution shall and may be issued against the principal and sureties by the court to which such warrant is returnable, to enforce the final decree so rendered, or upon appeal by the appellate court.

Rule 5. Bail Bond and Stipulation, How Given and Taken.—Bonds or stipulations in admiralty suits may be given and taken in open court, or in chambers, or before any commissioner of the court who is authorized by the court to take affidavits of bail and depositions in cases pending before the court, or any commissioner of the United States authorized by law to take bail and affidavits in civil cases.

Rule 6. Reduction of Bond and New Sureties.—In all suits in personam, where bail is taken, the court may, upon motion, for due cause shown, reduce the amount of the sum contained in the bond or stipulation therefor; and in all cases where a bond or stipulation is taken as bail, or upon dissolving an attachment of property as aforesaid, if either of the sureties shall become insolvent pending the suit, new sureties may be required by the order of the court, to be given upon motion, and due proof thereof.

Rule 7. No Warrant or Arrest for More Than $500.—In suits in personam, no warrant of arrest, either of the person or property of the defendant, shall issue for a sum exceeding five hundred dollars, unless by the special order of the court, upon affidavit or other proper proof showing the propriety thereof.

Rule 8. Where Property in Custody of Third Person.—In all suits in rem against a ship, her tackle, sails, apparel, furniture, boats, or other appurtenances, if such tackle, sails, apparel, furniture, boats, or other appurtenances are in the possession or custody of any third person, the court may, after a due monition to such third person, and a hearing of the cause, if any, why the same should not be delivered over, awarding decree that the same be delivered into the custody of the marshal or other proper officer, if, upon the hearing, the same is required by law and justice.

Rule 9. Seizure, Custody and Disposition of Property.—In all cases of seizure, and in other suits and proceedings in rem, the process, unless otherwise provided for by statute, shall be by a warrant of arrest of the ship, goods, or other thing to be arrested; and the marshal shall thereupon arrest and take the ship, goods, or other thing into his possession for safe custody, and shall cause public notice thereof and of the time assigned for the return of such process and the hearing of the cause, to be given in such newspaper within the district as the district court shall order; and if there is no newspaper published therein, then in such other public places in the district as the court shall direct.

Rule 10. Disposition of Perishable Property.—In all cases where any goods or other things are arrested, if the same are perishable, or are liable to deterioration, decay, or injury, by being detained in custody pending the suit, the court may, upon the application of either party, in its discretion, order the same or so much thereof to be sold as shall be perishable or liable to depreciation, decay, or injury; and the proceeds or so much thereof as shall be a full security to satisfy in decree, to be brought into court to abide the event of the suit; or the court may, upon the application of the claimant, order a delivery thereof to him, upon a due appraisement, to be had under its direction, either upon the claimant's depositing in court so much money as the court shall order, or upon his giving a stipulation, with sureties, in such sum as the court shall direct, to abide by and pay the money awarded by the final decree rendered by the court, or the appellate court, if any appeal intervenes, as the one or the other course shall be ordered by the court.

Rule 11. Disposition of Arrested Ship.—In like manner, where any ship shall be arrested, the same may, upon the application of the claimant, be delivered to him upon a due appraisement, to be had under the direction of the court, upon the claimant's depositing in court so much money as the court shall order, or upon his giving a stipulation, with sureties, as aforesaid; and if the claimant shall decline any such application, then the court may, in its discretion, upon the application of either party, upon due course shown, order a sale of such ship, and the proceeds thereof to be brought into court or otherwise disposed of, as it may deem most for the benefit of all concerned.

Rule 12. Proceedings in Rem or in Personam—Suits by Materialmen.—In all suits by materialmen for supplies or repairs, or other necessities, the libellant may proceed against the ship and freight in rem, or against the master or owner in personam.

Rule 13. Same—Suits for Pilotage.—In all suits for pilotage the libellant may proceed against the ship, freight and master, or against the ship and freight, or against the owner or the master alone in personam.

Rule 14. Same—Suits for Pilotage.—In all suits for pilotage the libellant may proceed against the ship and master, or against the ship, or against the owner alone or the master alone in personam.

Rule 15. Same—Suits for Collision.—In all suits for damage by collision, the libellant may proceed against the ship and master, or against the ship alone, or against the master or the owner alone in personam.

Rule 16. Same—Suits for Assault.—In all suits for an assault or beating on the high seas, or elsewhere within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, the suit shall be in personam only.

Rule 17. Same—Suits Founded on Hypothecation.—In all suits against the ship or freight, founded upon a mere maritime hypothecation, either express or implied, of the master, for moneys taken up in a foreign port for supplies or repairs or other necessities for the voyage, without any claim of marine interest, the libellant may proceed either in rem or against the master or the owner alone in personam.

Rule 18. Same—Suits on Bottomry Bonds.—In all suits on bottomry bonds, properly so called, the suit shall be in rem only against the property hypothecated, or the proceeds of the property, in whosoever hands the same may be found, unless the master has, without authority, given the bottomry bond, or by his fraud or misconduct has avoided the same, or has subtracted the property, or unless the owner has, by his own misconduct or wrong, lost or subtracted the property, in which latter cases the suit may be in personam against the wrongdoer.

Rule 19. Same—Suits for Salvage.—In all suits for salvage, the suits may be in rem against the property saved, or the proceeds thereof, or in personam against the party at whose request and for whose benefit the salvage service has been performed.

Rule 20. Process in Petitory and Possessory Suits.—In all petitory and possessory suits between part owner or adverse proprietors, or by the owners of a ship or the majority thereof, against the master of a ship, for the ascertainment of the title and delivery of the possession, or for the possession only, or by one or more part owners against the others to obtain security for the return of the ship from any voyage undertaken without their consent, or by one or more part owners against the others to obtain possession of the ship for any voyage, upon giving security for the safe return thereof, the process shall be by an arrest of the ship, and by a monition to the adverse party or parties to appear and make answer to the suit.

Rule 21. Execution.—In all cases of a final decree for the payment of money, the libellant shall have a writ of execution, in the nature of a fieri facias, commanding the marshal or his deputy to levy and collect the amount thereof out of the goods and chattels, lands and tenements, or other real estate, of the defendant or stipulators.

Rule 22. Information and Libels.—All informations and libels of information upon seizures for any breach of the revenue, or navigation, or other laws of the United States, shall state the place of seizure, whether it be on land or on the high seas, or on navigable waters within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States, and the district within which the property is brought and where it then is. The information or libel of information shall also propound in distinct articles the matters relied on as grounds or causes of forfeiture, and aver the same to be contrary to the form of the statute or statutes of the United States in such case provided, as the case may require, and shall conclude with a prayer of due process to enforce the forfeiture, and to give notice to all persons concerned in interest to appear and show cause at the return day of the process why the forfeiture should not be decreed.

Rule 23. Same—Libels in Instance Causes.—All libels in instance causes, civil or maritime, shall state the nature of the cause; as, for example, that it is a cause, civil and maritime, of contract, or of tort or damage, or of salvage, or of possession, or otherwise, as the case may be; and, if the libel be in rem, that the property is within the district; and if in personam, the names and occupations and places of residence of the parties. The libel shall also propound and articulate in distinct articles the various allegations of fact upon which the libellant relies in support of his suit, so that the defendant may be enabled to answer distinctly and separately the several matters contained in each article; and it shall conclude with a prayer of due process to enforce his rights, in rem or in personam (as the case may require), and for such relief and redress as the court is competent to give in the premises. And the libellant may further require the defendant to answer on oath all interrogatories propounded by him touching all and singular the allegations in the libel at the close or conclusion thereof.

Rule 24. Same—Amendments.—In all informations and libels in cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, amendments in matters of form may be made at any time, on motion to the court, as of course. And new counts may be filed, and amendments in matters of substance may be made, upon motion, at any time before the final decree, upon such terms as the court shall impose. And where any defect of form is set down by the defendant upon special exceptions, and is allowed, the court may, in granting leave to amend, impose terms upon the libellant.

Rule 25. Stipulations.—In all cases of libels in personam, the court may, in its discretion, upon the appearance of the defendant, where no bail has been taken, and no attachment of property has been made to answer the exigency of the suit, require the defendant to give a stipulation, with sureties, in such sum as the court shall direct, to pay all costs and expenses which shall be awarded against him in the suit upon the final adjudication thereof, or by any interlocutory order in the progress of the suit.

Rule 26. Claim—Verification and Stipulation.—In suits in rem, the party claiming the property shall verify his claim on oath or solemn affirmation stating that the claimant by whom or on whose behalf the claim is made is the true and bona fide owner, and that no other person is the owner thereof. And, where the claim is put in by an agent or consignee, he shall also make oath that he is duly authorized thereto by the owner; or, if the property be, at the time of the arrest, in the possession of the master of a ship, that he is the lawful bailee thereof for the owner. And, upon putting in such claim, the claimant shall file a stipulation, with sureties, in such sum as the court shall direct, for the payment of all costs and expenses which shall be awarded against him by the final decree of the court, or, upon an appeal, by the appellate court.

Rule 27. Answer to Libel.—In all libels in causes of civil and maritime jurisdiction, whether in rem or in personam, the answer of the defendant to the allegations in the libel shall be on oath or solemn affirmation; and the answer shall be full and explicit and distinct to each separate article and separate allegation in the libel, in the same order as numbered in the libel, and shall also answer in like manner each interrogatory propounded at the close of the libel. [See rules 48 and 49.]

Rule 28. Exceptions to Answer.—The libelant may except to the sufficiency, or fullness, or distinctness or relevancy of the answer to the articles and interrogatories in the libel; and, if the court shall adjudge the same exceptions, or any of them, to be good and valid, the court shall order the defendant forthwith, within such time as the court shall direct, to answer the same, and may further order the defendant to pay such costs as the court shall adjudge reasonable.

Rule 29. Decree Pro Confesso.—If the defendant shall omit or refuse to make due answer to the libel upon the return day of the process, or other day assigned by the court, the court shall pronounce him to be in contumacy and default; and thereupon the libel shall be adjudged to be taken pro confesso against him, and as to law and justice shall appertain. But the court may, in its discretion, set aside the default, and, upon the application of the defendant, admit him to make answer to the libel, at any time before the final hearing and decree, upon his payment of all the costs of the suit up to the time of granting leave therefor.

Rule 30. Failure to Answer Certain Matters.—In all cases where the defendant answers, but does not answer fully and explicitly and distinctly to all the matters in any article of the libel, and exception is taken thereto by the libelant, and the exception is allowed, the court may, by attachment, compel the defendant to make further answer thereto, or may direct the matter of the exception to be taken pro confesso against the defendants, to the full purport and effect of the article to which it purports to answer, and as if no answer had been put in thereto.

Rule 31. Same—Objection by Answer.—The defendant may object, by his answer, to answer any allegation or interrogatory contained in the libel which will expose him to any prosecution or punishment for crime, or for any penalty or any forfeiture of his property for any penal offense.

Rule 32. Defendant's Interrogatories.—The defendant shall have a right to require the personal answer of the libelant upon oath or solemn affirmation to any interrogatories which he may, at the close of his answer, propound to the libelant touching any matters charged in the libel, or touching any matter of defense set up in the answer, subject to the like exception as to matters which shall expose the libelant to any prosecution, or punishment, or forfeiture, as is provided in the thirty-first rule. In default of due answer by the libelant to such interrogatories the court may adjudge the libelant to be in default and dismiss the libel, or may compel his answer in the premises, by attachment, or take the subject matter of the interrogatory pro confesso in favor of the defendant, as the court, in its discretion, shall deem most fit to promote public justice.

Rule 33. In Case of Absence or Sickness.—Where either the libelant or the defendant is out of the country, or unable, from sickness or other casualty, to make an answer to any interrogatory on oath or solemn affirmation at the proper time, the court may, in its discretion, in furtherance of a due administration of justice, dispense therewith, or may award a commission to take the answer of the defendant when and as soon as it may be practicable.

Rule 34. Interveners.—If any third person shall intervene in any cause of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction in rem for his own interest, and he is entitled, according to the cause of admiralty proceedings, to be heard for his own interest therein, he shall propound the matter in suitable allegations, to which, if admitted by the court, the other party or parties in the suit may be required, by order of the court, to make due answer; and such further proceedings shall be had and decree rendered by the court therein as to law and justice shall appertain. But every such intervener shall be required upon filing his allegations, to give a stipulation, with sureties, to abide by the final decree rendered in the cause, and to pay all such costs and expenses and damages as shall be awarded by the court upon the final decree, whether it is rendered in the original or appellate court.

Rule 35. Stipulations, How Given and Taken.—The stipulations required by the last preceding rule, or on appeal, or in any other admiralty or maritime proceeding, shall be given and taken in the manner prescribed by rule fifth as amended.

Rule 36. Exceptions.—Exceptions may be taken to any libel, allegation, or answer for surplusage, irrelevancy, impertinence, or scandal; and if, upon reference to a master, the exception shall be reported to be so objectionable, and allowed by the court, the matter shall be expunged, at the cost and expense of the party in whose libel or answer the same is found.

Rule 37. Answer by Garnishees.—In cases of foreign attachment, the garnishee shall be required to answer on oath or solemn affirmation as to the debts, credits, or effects of the defendant in his hands, and to such interrogatories touching the same as may be propounded by the libelant; and if he shall refuse or neglect so to do, the court may award compulsory process in personam against him. If he admits any debts, credits, or effects, the same shall be held in his hands, liable to answer the exigency of the suit.

Rule 38. Deposit in Court.—In cases of mariners' wages, or bottomry, or salvage, or other proceeding in rem, where freight or other proceeds of property are attached to or are bound by the suit, which are in the hands or possession of any person, the court may, upon due application, by petition of the party interested, require the party charged with the possession thereof to appear and show cause why the same should not be brought into court to answer the exigency of the suit; and if no sufficient cause be shown, the court may order the same to be brought into court to answer the exigency of the suit, and upon failure of the party to comply with the order, may award an attachment, or other compulsive process, to compel obedience thereto.

Rule 39. Dismissal.—If, in any admiralty suit, the libellant shall not appear and prosecute his suit, according to the course and orders of the court, he shall be deemed in default and contumacy; and the court may, upon the application of the defendant, pronounce the suit to be deserted, and the same may be dismissed with costs.

Rule 40. Rehearing.—The court may, in its discretion, upon the motion of the defendant and the payment of costs, rescind the decree in any suit in which, on account of his contumacy and default, the matter of the libel shall have been decreed against him, and grant a rehearing thereof at any time within ten days after the decree has been entered, the defendant submitting to such further orders and terms in the premises as the court may direct.

Rule 41. Sales.—All sales of property under any decree of admiralty shall be made by the marshal or his deputy, or other proper officer assigned by the court, where the marshal is a party in interest, in pursuance of the orders of the court; and the proceeds thereof, when sold, shall be forthwith paid into the registry of the court by the officer making the sale, to be disposed of by the court according to law.

Rule 42. Moneys Paid into Court.—All moneys paid into the registry of the court shall be deposited in some bank designated by the court, and shall be so deposited in the name of the court, and shall not be drawn out, except by a check or checks signed by a judge of the court and countersigned by the clerk, stating on whose account and for whose use it is drawn, and in what suit and out of what fund in particular it is paid. The clerk shall keep a regular book, containing a memorandum and copy of all the checks so drawn and the date thereof.

Rule 43. Same—Intervention for Delivery.—Any person having an interest in any proceeds in the registry of the court shall have a right, by petition and summary proceeding, to intervene pro interesse suo for delivery thereof to him; and upon due notice to the adverse parties, if any, the court shall and may proceed summarily to hear and decide thereon, and to decree therein according to law and justice. And if such petition or claim shall be deserted, or, upon a hearing, be dismissed, the court may, in its discretion, award costs against the petitioner in favor of the adverse party.

Rule 44. Reference to Commissioners.—In cases where the court shall deem it expedient or necessary for the purposes of justice, the court may refer any matters arising in the progress of the suit to one or more commissioners, to be appointed by the court, to hear the parties and make report therein. And such commissioner or commissioners shall have and possess all the powers in the premises which are usually given to or exercised by masters in chancery in reference to them, including the power to administer oaths to and to examine the parties and witnesses touching the premises.

Rule 45. Appeals to Circuit Court.—All appeals from the District to the Circuit Court [of Appeals] must be made while the court is sitting, or within such other period as shall be designated by the District Court by its general rules, or by an order specially made in the particular suit; or in case no such rule or order be made, then within thirty days from the rendering of the decree.

Rule 46. Additional Rules.—In all cases not provided for by the foregoing rules, the District and Circuit Courts [of Appeals] are to regulate the practice of the said courts respectively, in such manner as they shall deem most expedient for the due administration of justice in suits in admiralty.

Rule 47. Bail and Imprisonment for Debt.—In all suits in personam, where a simple warrant of arrest issues and is executed, bail shall be taken by the marshal and the court in those cases only in which it is required by the laws of the State where an arrest is made upon similar or analogous process issuing from the State court.

And imprisonment for debt, on process issuing out of the admiralty, is abolished, in all cases where, by the laws of the State in which the court is held, imprisonment for debt has been, or shall be hereafter abolished, upon similar or analogous process issuing from a State court.

Rule 48. Restriction on Rule 27.—The twenty-seventh rule shall not apply to cases where the sum or value in dispute does not exceed fifty dollars, exclusive of costs, unless the District Court shall be of opinion that the proceedings prescribed by that rule are necessary for the purposes of justice in the case before the court.

All rules and parts of rules heretofore adopted, inconsistent with this order, are hereby repealed and annulled.

Rule 49. Execution on Appeal.—Further proof, taken in a Circuit Court upon an admiralty appeal, shall be by deposition, taken before some commissioner appointed by a Circuit Court, pursuant to the acts of Congress in that behalf, or before some officer authorized to take depositions by the thirtieth section of the act of Congress of the 24th of September, 1789, upon an oral examination and cross-examination, unless the court in which such appeal shall be pending, or one of the judges thereof, shall, upon motion, allow a commission to issue to take such depositions upon written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories. When such deposition shall be taken by oral examination, a notification from the magistrate before whom it is to be taken, or from the clerk of the court in which such appeal shall be pending, to the adverse party, to be present at the taking of the same, and to put interrogatories, if he think fit, shall be served on the adverse party or his attorney, allowing time for their attendance after being notified not less than twenty-four hours, and, in addition thereto, one day, Sundays exclusive, for every twenty miles' travel; provided that the court in which such appeal may be pending, or either of the judges thereof, may, upon motion, increase or diminish the length of notice above required.

Rule 50. Same—Oral Evidence.—When oral evidence shall be taken down by the clerk of the District Court, pursuant to the above-mentioned section of the act of Congress, and shall be transmitted to the Circuit Court, the same may be used in evidence on the appeal, saving to each party the right to take the depositions of the same witnesses, or either of them, if he should so elect.

Rule 51. Replication.—When the defendant, in his answer, alleges new facts, these shall be considered as denied by the libelant, and no replication, general or special, shall be filed, unless allowed or directed by the court on proper cause shown. But within such time after the answer is filed as shall be fixed by the District Court, either by general rule or by special order, the libelant may amend his libel so as to confess and avoid, or explain or add to, the new matters set forth in the answer; and within such time as may be fixed, in like manner, the defendant shall answer such amendments.

Rule 52. Record on Appeal.—The clerks of the District Courts shall make up the records to be transmitted to the Circuit Courts on appeals, so that the same shall contain the following:

1. The style of the court.
2. The names of the parties, setting forth the original parties, and those who have become parties before the appeal, if any change has taken place.
3. If bail was taken, or property was attached or arrested, the process of the arrest or attachment and the service thereof; all bail and stipulations; and, if any sale has been made, the orders, warrants, and reports relating thereto.
4. The libel, with exhibits annexed thereto.
5. The pleadings of the defendant, with the exhibits annexed thereto.
6. The testimony on the part of the libelant, and any exhibits not annexed to the libel.
7. The testimony on the part of the defendant, and any exhibits not annexed to his pleadings.
8. Any order of the court to which exception was made.
9. Any report of an assessor or assessors, if excepted to, with the orders of the court respecting the same, and the exceptions to the report. If the report was not excepted to, only the fact that a reference was made, and so much of the report as shows what results were arrived at by the assessor, are to be stated.
10. The final decree.
11. The prayer for an appeal, and the action of the District Court thereon; and no reasons of appeal shall be filed or inserted in the transcript.

The following shall be omitted:

1. The continuances.

2. All motions, rules, and orders not excepted to which are merely preparatory for trial.

3. The commissions to take depositions, notices therefor, their captions, and certificates of their being sworn to, unless some exception to a deposition in the District Court was founded on some one or more of these; in which case, so much of either of them as may be involved in the exception shall be set out. In all other cases it shall be sufficient to give the name of the witness and to copy the interrogatories and answers, and to state the name of the commissioner, and the place where and the date when the deposition was sworn to; and, in copying all depositions taken on interrogatories, the answer shall be inserted immediately following the question.

2. The clerk of the District Court shall page the copy of the record thus made up, and shall make an index thereto, and he shall certify the entire document, at the end thereof, under the seal of the court, to be a transcript of the record of the District Court in the cause named at the beginning of the copy made up pursuant to this rule; and no other certificate of the record shall be needful or inserted.

3. Hereafter, in making up the record to be transmitted to the circuit clerk on appeal, the clerk of the District Court shall omit therefrom any of the pleading, testimony, or exhibits which the parties by their proctors shall by written stipulation agree may be omitted; and such stipulation shall be certified up with the record.

Rule 53. Cross-libel.—Whenever a cross-libel is filed upon any counterclaim, arising out of the same cause of action for which the original libel was filed, the respondents in the cross-libel shall give security in the usual amount and form, to respond in damages, as claimed in said cross-libel, unless the court, on cause shown, shall otherwise direct; and all proceedings upon the original libel shall be stayed until such security shall be given.

Rule 54. Limitation of Liability.—When any ship or vessel shall be libeled, or the owner or owners thereof shall be sued, for any embezzlement, loss, or destruction by the master, officers, mariners, passengers, or any other person or persons, of any property, goods, or merchandise shipped or put on board of such ship or vessel, or for any loss, damage, or injury by collision, or for any act, matter, or thing, loss, damage or forfeiture done, occasioned, or incurred, without the privity or knowledge of such owner or owners, and he or they shall desire to claim the benefit of limitation of liability provided for in the third and fourth sections of the act of March 3, 1851, entitled "An act to limit the liability of ship owners and for other purposes," now embodied in sections 4283 to 4285 of the Revised Statutes, the said owner or owners shall and may file a libel or petition in the proper District Court of the United States, as hereinafter specified, setting forth the facts and circumstances on which such limitation of liability is claimed, and praying proper relief in that behalf; and thereupon said court, having caused due appraisalment to be had of the amount or value of the interest of said owner or owners, respectively, in such ship or vessel, and her freight.

for the voyage, shall make an order for the payment of the same into court, or for the giving of a stipulation, with sureties, for payment thereof into court whenever the same shall be ordered; or, if the said owner or owners shall so elect, the said court shall, without such appraisement, make an order for the transfer by him or them of his or their interest in such vessel and freight, to a trustee to be appointed by the court under the fourth section of said act; and, upon compliance with such order, the said court shall issue a monition against all persons claiming damages for any such embezzlement, loss, destruction, damage, or injury, citing them to appear before the said court and make due proof of their respective claims at or before a certain time to be named in said writ; not less than three months from the issuing of the same; and public notice of such monition shall be given as in other cases, and such further notice served through the postoffice, or otherwise, as the court, in its discretion may direct; and the said court shall also, on the application of the said owner or owners make an order to restrain the further prosecution of all and any suit or suits against said owner or owners in respect of any such claim or claims.

Rule 55. Same—Proof of Claims.—Proof of all claims which shall be presented in pursuance of said monition shall be made before a commissioner, to be designated by the court, subject to the right of any person interested to question or controvert the same; and upon the completion of said proofs, the commissioner shall make report of the claims so proven, and upon confirmation of said report, after hearing any exceptions thereto, the moneys paid or secured to be paid into court as aforesaid, or the proceeds of said ship or vessel and freight (after payment of costs and expense), shall be divided pro rata amongst the several claimants in proportion to the amount of their respective claims, duly proved and confirmed as aforesaid, saving, however, to all parties any priority to which they may be legally entitled.

Rule 56. Same—Contest of Claim.—In the proceedings aforesaid, the said owner or owners shall be at liberty to contest his or their liability, or the liability of said ship or vessel for said embezzlement, loss, destruction, damage, or injury (independently of the limitation of liability claimed under said act), provided that, in his or their libel or petition, he or they shall state the facts and circumstances by reason of which exemption from liability is claimed; and any person or persons claiming damages as aforesaid, and who shall have presented his or their claim to the commissioner under oath, shall and may answer such libel or petition, and contest the right of the owner or owners of said ship or vessel, either to an exemption from liability, or to a limitation of liability under the said act of Congress, or both.

Rule 57. Same—Place of Jurisdiction.—The said libel or petition shall be filed and the said proceedings had in any District Court of the United States in which said ship or vessel may be libeled to answer for any such embezzlement, loss, destruction, damage or injury; or if the said ship or vessel be not libeled, then in the District Court for any district in which the said owner or owners may be sued in that behalf.

When the said ship or vessel has not been libeled to answer the matters aforesaid, and suit has not been commenced against the said owner or owners, or has been commenced in a District Court other than that in which the ship or vessel may be, the said proceedings may be had in the District Court of the district in which the said ship or vessel may be, and where it may be subject to the control of such court for the purposes of the case as hereinbefore provided. If the ship have already been libeled and sold, the proceeds shall represent the same for the purposes of these rules.

Rule 58. Same—Rules Applicable on Appeal.—All the preceding rules and regulations for proceeding in cases where the owner or owners of a ship or vessel shall desire to claim the benefit of limitation of liability provided for in the act of Congress in that behalf shall apply to the Circuit Court [of Appeal] of the United States where such cases are or shall be pending in said courts upon appeal from the District Courts.

Rule 59. Bringing in Other Offending Vessel on Libel for Collision. In a suit for damage by collision, if the claimant of any vessel proceeded against, or any respondent proceeded against in personam, shall, by petition, on oath, presented before or at the time of answering the libel, or within such further time as the court may allow, and containing suitable allegations showing fault or negligence in any other vessel contributing to the same collision, and the particulars thereof, and that such other vessel or any other party ought to be proceeded against in the same suit for such damage, pray that process be issued against such vessel or party to that end, such process may be issued, and, if duly served, such suit shall proceed as if such vessel or party had been originally proceeded against; the other parties in the suit shall answer the petition; the claimant of such vessel or such new party shall answer the libel; and such further proceedings shall be had and decree rendered by the court in the suit as to law and justice shall appertain. But every such petitioner shall, upon filing his petition, give a stipulation, with sufficient sureties, to pay to the libelant and to any claimant or new party brought in by virtue of such process, all such costs, damages, and expenses as shall be awarded against the petitioner by the court upon the final decree, whether rendered in the original or appellate court; and any such claimant or new party shall give the same bonds or stipulations which are required in like cases from parties brought in under process issued on the prayer of a libelant.

GENERAL ORDERS IN BANKRUPTCY.

Preamble.—In pursuance of the powers conferred by the Constitution and laws upon the Supreme Court of the United States, and particularly by the act of Congress approved July 1, 1898, entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, it is ordered, on this twenty-eighth day of November, 1898, that the following rules be adopted and established as general orders in bankruptcy, to take effect on the first Monday, being the second day, of January, 1899. And it is further ordered that all proceedings in bankruptcy had before that day, in accordance with the act last aforesaid, and being in substantial conformity either with the provisions of these general orders, or else with the general orders established by this court under the bankrupt act of 1867 and with any general rules or special orders of the courts in bankruptcy, stand good, subject, however, to such further regulation by rule or order of those courts as may be necessary or proper to carry into force and effect the bankrupt act of 1898 and the general orders of this court.

1. Docket.—The clerk shall keep a docket, in which the cases shall be entered and numbered in the order in which they are commenced. It shall contain a memorandum of the filing of the petition and of the action of the court thereon, of the reference of the case to the referee, and of the transmission by him to the clerk of his certified record of the proceedings, with the dates thereof, and a memorandum of all proceedings in the case except those duly entered on the referee's certified record aforesaid. The docket shall be arranged in a manner convenient for reference, and shall at all times be open to public inspection.

2. Filing of Papers.—The clerk or the referee shall indorse on each paper filed with him the day and hour of filing, and a brief statement of its character.

3. Process.—All process, summons and subpoenas shall issue out of the court, under the seal thereof, and be tested by the clerk; and blanks, with the signature of the clerk and seal of the court, may, upon application, be furnished to the referees.

4. Conduct of Proceedings.—Proceedings in bankruptcy may be conducted by the bankrupt in person in his own behalf, or by a petitioning or opposing creditor; but a creditor will only be allowed to manage before the court his individual interest. Every party may appear and conduct the proceedings by attorney, who shall be an attorney or counsel authorized to practice in the Circuit Court or District Court. The name of the attorney or counselor, with his place of business, shall be entered upon the docket, with the date of the entry. All papers or proceedings offered by an attorney to be filed shall be indorsed as above required, and orders granted on motion shall contain the name of the party or attorney making the motion. Notices and orders which are not, by the act or by these general orders, required to be served on the party personally may be served upon his attorney.

5. Frame of Petitions.—All petitions and the schedules filed therewith shall be printed or written out plainly, without abbreviation or interlineation, except where such abbreviation and interlineation may be for the purpose of reference.

6. Petitions in Different Districts.—In case two or more petitions shall be filed against the same individual in different districts, the first hearing shall be had in the district in which the debtor has his domicile, and the petition may be amended by inserting an allegation of an act of bankruptcy committed at an earlier date than that first alleged, if such earlier act is charged in either of the other petitions; and in case of two or more petitions against the same partnership in different courts, each having jurisdiction over the case, the petition first filed shall be first heard, and may be amended by the insertion of an allegation of an earlier act of bankruptcy than that first alleged, if such earlier act is charged in either of the other petitions; and, in either case, the proceedings upon the other petitions may be stayed until an adjudication is made upon the petition first heard; and the court which makes the first adjudication of bankruptcy shall retain jurisdiction over all proceedings therein until the same shall be closed. In case two or more petitions shall be filed in different districts by different members of the same partnership for an adjudication of the bankruptcy of said partnership, the court in which the petition is first filed, having jurisdiction, shall take and retain jurisdiction over all proceedings in such bankruptcy until the same shall be closed; and if such petitions shall be filed in the same district, action shall be first had upon the one first filed. But the court so retaining jurisdiction shall, if satisfied that it is for the greatest convenience of parties in interest that another of said courts should proceed with the cases, order them to be transferred to that court.

7. Priority of Petitions.—Whenever two or more petitions shall be filed by creditors against a common debtor, alleging separate acts of bankruptcy committed by said debtor on different days within four months prior to the filing of said petitions, and the debtor shall appear and show cause against an adjudication of bankruptcy against him on the petitions, that petition shall be first heard and tried which alleges the commission of the earliest act of bankruptcy; and in case the several acts of bankruptcy are alleged in the different petitions to have been committed on the same day, the court before which the same are pending may order them to be consolidated, and proceed to a hearing as upon one petition; and if an adjudication of bankruptcy be made upon either petition, or for the commission of a single act of bankruptcy, it shall not be necessary to proceed to a hearing upon the remaining petitions, unless proceedings be taken by the debtor for the purpose of causing such adjudication to be annulled or vacated.

8. Proceedings in Partnership Cases.—Any member of a partnership who refuses to join in a petition to have the partnership declared bankrupt, shall be entitled to resist the prayer of the petition in the same manner as if the petition had been filed by a creditor of the partnership, and notice of the filing of the petition shall be given to him in the same manner as provided by law and by these rules in the case of a debtor petitioned against; and he shall have the right to appear at the time fixed by the court for the hearing of the petition and to make proof, if he can, that the partnership is not insolvent or has not committed an act of bankruptcy, and to make all defenses which any debtor proceeded against is entitled to take by the provisions of the act; and in case an adjudication of bankruptcy is made upon the petition, such partner shall be required to file a schedule of his debts and an inventory of his property in the same manner as is required by the act in cases of debtors against whom adjudication of bankruptcy shall be made.

9. Schedule in Involuntary Bankruptcy.—In all cases of involuntary bankruptcy in which the bankrupt is absent or cannot be found it shall be the duty of the petitioning creditor to file, within five days after the date of adjudication, a schedule giving the names and places of residence of all the creditors of the bankrupt, according to the best information of the petitioning creditor. If the debtor is found, and is served with notice to furnish a schedule of his creditors and fails to do so, the petitioning creditors may apply for an attachment against the debtor, or may himself furnish such schedule as aforesaid.

10. Indemnity for Expenses.—Before incurring any expense in publishing or mailing notices, or in traveling, or in procuring the attendance of witnesses, or in perpetuating testimony, the clerk, marshal or referee may require, from the bankrupt or other person in whose behalf the duty is to be performed, indemnity for such expense. Money advanced for this purpose by the bankrupt or other person shall be repaid him out of the estate as part of the cost of administering the same.

11. Amendments.—The court may allow amendments to the petition and schedules on application of the petitioner. Amendments shall be printed or written, signed and verified, like original petitions and schedules. If amendments are made to separate schedules, the same must be made separately, with proper references. In the application for leave to amend, the petitioner shall state the cause of the error in the paper originally filed.

12. Duties of Referee.—1. Proceedings Before Referee.—The order referring a case to a referee shall name a day upon which the bankrupt shall attend before the referee; and from that day the bankrupt shall be subject to the orders of the court in all matters relating to his bankruptcy, and may receive from the referee a protection against arrest, to continue until the final adjudication on his application for a discharge, unless suspended or vacated by order of the court. A copy of the order shall forthwith be sent by mail to the referee, or be delivered to him personally by the clerk or other officer of the court. And thereafter all the proceedings, except such as are required by the act or by these general orders to be had before the judge, shall be had before the referee.

2. Time and Place.—The time when and the place where the referees shall act upon the matters arising under the several cases referred to them shall be fixed by special order of the judge, or by the referee; and at such times and places the referees may perform the duties which they are empowered by the act to perform.

3. Applications for Discharge, etc.—Applications for a discharge, etc., or for the approval of a composition, or for an injunction to stay proceedings of a court or officer of the United States, or of a State, shall be heard and decided by the judge. But he may refer such an application, or any specified issue arising thereon, to the referee to ascertain and report the facts.

13. Appointment and Removal of Trustee.—The appointment of a trustee by the creditors shall be subject to be approved or disapproved by the referee or by the judge; and he shall be removable by the judge only.

14. No Official or General Trustee.—No official trustee shall be appointed by the court, nor any general trustee to act in classes of cases.

15. Trustee not Appointed in Certain Cases.—If the schedule of a voluntary bankrupt discloses no assets, and if no creditor appears at the first meeting, the court may, by order setting out the facts, direct that no trustee be appointed; but at any time thereafter a trustee is appointed as aforesaid, the court may order that no meeting of the creditors other than the first meeting shall be called.

16. Notice to Trustee of His Appointment.—It shall be the duty of the referee, immediately upon the appointment and approval of the trustee, to notify him in person or by mail of his appointment; and the notice shall require the trustee forthwith to notify the referee of his acceptance or rejection of the trust, and shall contain a statement of the penal sum of the trustee's bond.

17. Duties of Trustee.—The trustee shall, immediately upon entering upon his duties, prepare a complete inventory of all the property of the bankrupt that comes into his possession. The trustee shall make report to the court, within twenty days after receiving the notice of his appointment, of the articles set off to the bankrupt by him, according to the provisions of the forty-seventh section of the act, with the estimated value of each article, and any creditor may take exceptions to the determination of the trustee within twenty days after the filing of the report. The referee may require the exceptions to be argued before him, and shall certify them to the court for final determination at the request of either party. In case the trustee shall neglect to file any report or statement which it is made his duty to file or make by the act, or by any general order in bankruptcy, within five days after the same shall be due, it shall be the duty of the referee to make an order requiring the trustee to show cause before the judge at a time specified in the order, why he should not be removed from office. The referee shall cause a copy of the order to be served upon the trustee at least seven days before the time fixed for the hearing, and proof of the service thereof to be delivered to the clerk. All accounts of trustees shall be referred as of course to the referee for audit, unless otherwise specially ordered by the court.

18. Sale of Property.—1. Public Sales.—All sales shall be by public auction unless otherwise ordered by the court.

2. Private Sale.—Upon application to the court, and for good cause shown, the trustee may be authorized to sell any specified portion of the bankrupt's estate at private sale; in which case he shall keep an accurate account of each article sold, and the price received therefor, and to who, sold; which account he shall file at once with the referee.

3. Sale of Perishable Property.—Upon petition by a bankrupt, creditor, receiver, or trustee, setting forth that a part or the whole of the bankrupt's estate is perishable, the nature and location of such perishable estate, and that there will be loss if the same is not sold immediately, the court, if satisfied of the facts stated and that the sale is required in the interest of the estate, may order the same to be sold, with or without notice to the creditors, and the proceeds to be deposited in court.

19. Accounts of Marshal.—The marshal shall make return, under oath, of his actual and necessary expenses in the service of every warrant addressed to him, and for custody of property, and other services, and other actual and necessary expenses paid by him, with vouchers therefor whenever practicable, and also with a statement that the amounts charged by him are just and reasonable.

20. Papers Filed After Reference.—Proofs of claims and other papers filed subsequently to the reference, except such as call for action by the judge, may be filed either with the referee or with the clerk.

21. Proof of Debts.—1. Depositions to Prove Claims.—Depositions to prove claims against a bankrupt's estate shall be correctly entitled in the court and in the cause. When made to prove a debt due to a partnership, it must appear on oath that the deponent is a member of the partnership; when made by an agent, the reason the deposition is not made by the claimant in person must be stated; and when made to prove a debt due to a corporation, the deposition shall be made by the treasurer, or if the corporation has no treasurer, by the officer whose duties most nearly correspond to those of treasurer. Depositions to prove debts existing in open account shall state when the debt became or will become due; and if it consists of items maturing at different dates the average due date shall be stated, in default of which it shall not be necessary to compute interest upon it. All such depositions shall contain an averment that no note has been received for such account, nor any judgment rendered thereon. Proofs of debt received by any trustee shall be delivered to the referee to whom the cause is referred.

2. Notices, How Addressed.—Any creditor may file with the referee a request that all notices to which he may be entitled shall be addressed to him at any place, to be designated by the postoffice box or street number, as he may appoint; and thereafter, and until some other designation shall be made by such creditor, all notices shall be so addressed; and in other cases notices shall be addressed as specified in proof of debt.

3. Assigned Claims.—Claims which have been assigned before proof shall be supported by a deposition of the owner at the time of the commencement of proceedings, setting forth the true consideration of the debt, and that it is entirely unsecured, or if secured, the security as is required in proving secured claims. Upon the filing of satisfactory proof of the assignment of a claim proved and entered on the referee's docket, the referee shall immediately give notice by mail to the original claimant of the filing of such proof of assignment; and if no objection be entered within ten days, or within further time allowed by the referee, he shall make an order subrogating the assignee to the original claimant. If objection be made, he shall proceed to hear and determine the matter.

4. Claims of Persons Contingently Liable.—The claims of persons contingently liable for the bankrupt may be proved in the name of the creditor when known by the party contingently liable. When the name of the creditor is unknown, such claim may be proved in the name of the party contingently liable; but no dividend shall be paid upon such claim, except upon satisfactory proof that it will diminish pro tanto the original debt.

5. Letter of Attorney.—The execution of any letter of attorney to represent a creditor, or of an assignment of claim after proof, may be proved or acknowledged before a referee, or a United States commissioner, or a notary public. When executed on behalf of a partnership or of a corporation, the person executing the instrument shall make oath that he is a member of the partnership, or a duly authorized officer of the corporation on whose behalf he acts. When the person executing is not personally known to the officer taking the proof or acknowledgment, his identity shall be established by satisfactory proof.

6. Re-examination of Claim.—When the trustee or any creditor shall desire the re-examination of any claim filed against the bankrupt's estate, he may apply by petition to the referee to whom the case is referred for an order for such re-examination, and thereupon the referee shall make an order fixing a time for hearing the petition, of which due notice shall be given by mail addressed to the creditor. At the time appointed the referee shall take the examination of the creditor, and of any witness that may be called by either party and if it shall appear from such examination that the claim ought to be expunged or diminished, the referee may order accordingly.

22. Taking of Testimony.—The examination of witnesses before the referee may be conducted by the party in person or by his counsel or attorney, and the witnesses shall be subject to examination and cross-examination, which shall be had in conformity with the mode now adopted in courts of law. A deposition taken upon an examination before a referee shall be taken down in writing by him, or under his direction, in the form of narrative, unless he determines that the examination shall be by question and answer. When completed it shall be read over to the witness and signed by him in the presence of the referee. The referee shall note upon the deposition any question objected to, with his decision thereon; and the court shall have power to deal with the costs of incompetent, immaterial, or irrelevant depositions, or parts of them, as may be just.

23. Orders of Referee.—In all orders made by a referee, it shall be recited, according as the fact may be, that notice was given and the manner thereof; or that the order was made by consent; or that no adverse interest was represented at the hearing; or that the order was made after hearing adverse interests.

24. Transmission of Proved Claims to Clerk.—The referees shall forthwith transmit to the clerk a list of the claims proved against an estate, with the names and addresses of the proving creditors.

25. Special Meeting of Creditors.—Whenever, by reason of a vacancy in the office of trustee, or for any other cause, it becomes necessary to call a special meeting of the creditors in order to carry out the purpose of the act, the court may call such a meeting, specifying in the notice the purpose for which it is called.

26. Accounts of Referee.—Every referee shall keep an accurate account of his traveling and incidental expenses, and of those of any clerk or any officer attending him in the performance of his duties in any case which may be referred to him; and shall make return of the same under oath to the judge, with proper vouchers when vouchers can be procured, on the first Tuesday in each month.

27. Review by Judge.—When a bankrupt, creditor, trustee, or other person shall desire a review by the judge of any order made by the referee, he shall file with the referee his petition therefor, setting out the error complained of; and the referee shall forthwith certify to the judge the question presented, a summary of the evidence relating thereto, and the finding and order of the referee thereon.

28. Redemption of Property and Compounding of Claims.—Whenever it may be deemed for the benefit of the estate of a bankrupt to redeem and discharge any mortgage or other pledge, or deposit or lien upon any property, real or personal, or to relieve said property from any conditional contract, and to tender performance of the conditions thereof, or to compound and settle any debts or other claims due or belonging to the estate of the bankrupt, the trustee, or the bankrupt, or any creditor who has proved his debt, may file his petition therefor, and thereupon the court shall appoint a suitable time and place for the hearing thereof, notice of which shall be given as the court shall direct, so that all creditors and other persons interested may appear and show cause, if any they have, why an order should not be passed by the court upon the petition authorizing such act on the part of the trustee.

29. Payment of Moneys Deposited.—No moneys deposited as required by the act shall be drawn from the depository unless by check or warrant, signed by the clerk of the court, or by a trustee, and countersigned by the judge of the court, or by a referee designated for that purpose, or by the clerk or his assistant under an order made by the judge, stating the date, the sum, and the account for which it is drawn; and an entry of the substance of such check or warrant, with the date thereof, the sum drawn for, and the account for which it is drawn, shall be forthwith made in a book kept for that purpose by the trustee or his clerk; and all checks and drafts shall be entered in the order of time in which they are drawn, and shall be numbered in the case of each estate. A copy of this general order shall be furnished to the depository, and also the name of the referee or clerk authorized to countersign said checks.

30. Imprisoned Debtor.—If, at the time of preferring his petition, the debtor shall be imprisoned, the court, upon application, may order him to be produced upon habeas corpus, by the jailer, or any officer in whose custody he may be, before the referee, for the purpose of testifying in any manner relating to his bankruptcy; and if committed after the filing of his petition upon process in any civil action founded upon a claim provable in bankruptcy, the court may, upon like application, discharge him from such imprisonment. If the petitioner, during the pendency of the proceedings in bankruptcy, be arrested or imprisoned upon process in any civil action, the district court, upon his application, may issue a writ of habeas corpus to bring him before the court to ascertain whether such process has been issued for the collection of any claim provable in bankruptcy, and if so provable he shall be discharged; if not, he shall be remanded to the custody in which he may lawfully be. Before granting the order for discharge the court shall cause notice to be served upon the creditor or his attorney, so as to give him an opportunity of appearing, and being heard before the granting of the order.

31. Petition for Discharge.—The petition of a bankrupt for a discharge shall state concisely, in accordance with the provisions of the act and the orders of the court, the proceedings in the case and the acts of the bankrupt.

32. Opposition to Discharge or Composition.—A creditor opposing the application of a bankrupt for his discharge, or for the confirmation of a composition, shall enter his appearance in opposition thereto on the day when the creditors are required to show cause, and shall file a specification in writing of the grounds of his opposition within ten days thereafter, unless the time shall be enlarged by special order of the judge.

33. Arbitration.—Whenever a trustee shall make application to the court for authority to submit a controversy arising in the settlement of a demand against a bankrupt's estate, or for a debt due to it, to the determination of arbitrators, or for authority to compound and settle such controversy by agreement with the other party, the application shall clearly and distinctly set forth the subject matter of the controversy, and the reasons why the trustee thinks it proper and most for the interest of the estate that the controversy should be settled by arbitration or otherwise.

34. Costs in Contested Adjudications.—In cases of involuntary bankruptcy, when the debtor resists an adjudication, and the court, after hearing, adjudges the debtor a bankrupt, the petitioning creditor shall recover, and be paid out of the estate, the same costs that are allowed to a party recovering in a suit in equity; and if the petition is dismissed the debtor shall recover like costs against the petitioner.

35. Compensation of Clerks, Referees, and Trustees.—1. Fees Allowed Clerks.—The fees allowed by the act to clerks shall be in full compensation for all services performed by them in regard to filing petitions or other papers required by the act to be filed with them, or in certifying or delivering papers or copies of records to referees or other officers, or in receiving or paying out moneys; but shall not include copies furnished to other persons, or expenses necessarily incurred in publishing or mailing notices or other papers.

2. Compensation of Referees.—The compensation of referees, prescribed by the act, shall be in full compensation for all services performed by them under the act, or under these general orders; but shall not include expenses necessarily incurred by them in publishing or mailing notices, in traveling, or in perpetuating testimony or other expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties under the act and allowed by special order of the judge.

3. Compensation Allowed Trustees.—The compensation allowed to trustees by the act shall be in full compensation for the services performed by them; but shall not include expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties and allowed upon the settlement of their accounts.

4. Payment of Fees.—In any case in which the fees of the clerk, referee, and trustee are not required by the act to be paid by a debtor before filing his petition to be adjudged a bankrupt, the judge, at any time during the pendency of the proceeding in bankruptcy, may order those fees to be paid out of the estate; or may, after notice to the bankrupt, and satisfactory proof that he then has or can obtain the money with which to pay those fees, order him to pay them within a time specified, and, if he fails to do so, may order his petition to be dismissed. He may also, pending such proceedings, both in voluntary and involuntary cases, order the commissions of referees and trustees to be paid immediately after such commissions accrue and are earned.

36. Appeals.—1. Appeals from Court of Bankruptcy.—Appeals from a court of bankruptcy to a Circuit Court of Appeals, or to the Supreme Court of a territory, shall be allowed by a judge of the court appealed from or of the court appealed to, and shall be regulated, except as otherwise provided in the act by the rules governing appeals in equity in the courts of the United States.

2. Appeals to the Supreme Court.—Appeals under the act to the Supreme Court of the United States from a Circuit Court of Appeals, or from the Supreme Court of a territory, or from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, or from any court of bankruptcy whatever, shall be taken within thirty days after the judgment or decree, and shall be allowed by a judge of the court appealed from, or by a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

3. Record on Appeal.—In every case in which either party is entitled by the act to take an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, the court from which the appeal lies shall, at or before the time of entering its judgment or decree, make and file a finding of the facts, and its conclusions of law thereon, stated separately; and the record transmitted to the Supreme Court of the United States on such an appeal shall consist only of the pleadings, the judgment or decree, the finding of facts, and the conclusions of law.

37. General Provisions.—In proceedings in equity, instituted for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act, or for enforcing the rights and remedies given by it, the rules of equity practice established by the Supreme Court of the United States shall be followed as nearly as may be. In proceedings at law, instituted for the same purpose, the practice and procedure in cases at law shall be followed as nearly as may be. But the judge may, by special order in any case, vary the time allowed for return of process, for appearance and pleading, and for taking testimony and publication, and may otherwise modify the rules for the preparation of any particular case so as to facilitate a speedy hearing.

38. Forms.—The several forms annexed to these general orders shall be observed and used, with such alterations as may be necessary to suit the circumstances of any particular case.

[Forms omitted.]

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

CLERK'S INSTRUCTIONS AS TO APPLICATIONS FOR WRITS OF CERTIORARI UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1891.

The following are the requirements on applications for writs of certiorari under the act of March 3, 1891:

Petitions are docketed in this court as

....., Petitioner, vs., Respondent.

Before the petition will be docketed there must be furnished this office:

1. An original petition with written signature of counsel.
2. A certified copy of the transcript of the record, including all proceedings in the Circuit Court of Appeals.
3. An appearance of counsel for petitioner, signed by a member of the bar of this court.
4. A deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25) on account of costs.

Before submission of the petition there must be furnished:

1. Proof of service of notice of date fixed for submission and of copies of petition and brief upon counsel for the respondent. About two weeks' notice should be given.
2. Twenty-five (25) printed copies of the petition.
3. Twenty-five (25) printed copies of brief in support of petition, if any such brief is to be filed.
4. At least nine (9) uncertified copies of record, which must contain all the proceedings in the Circuit Court of Appeals. These copies may be made up by using copies of the record as printed for the Circuit Court of Appeals and adding thereto printed copies of the proceedings in that court. If a sufficient number of records thus made up cannot be obtained, making it necessary to reprint the record for use on the hearing of the petition, fifty (50) copies must be printed under my supervision, in order that, should the petition be granted, there may be a sufficient number for use on the final hearing.

Monday being motion day, some Monday must be fixed upon for the submission of the petition. No oral argument is permitted on such petitions, but they must be called up and submitted in open court by counsel for petitioner, or by some attorney in his behalf.

If a respondent desires to oppose a petition, twenty-five (25) copies of a brief for such respondent must be filed. These briefs must bear the name of a member of the bar of this court, who should also enter an appearance for the respondent. It is not necessary, however, for such counsel to be present in court when the petition is submitted.

All papers in the case must be filed not later than the Saturday preceding the Monday fixed for the submission of the petition.

JAMES H. MCKENNEY,
Clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States.

RULES—UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS, NINTH CIRCUIT.

Rule 1. Name.—The court adopts "United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit" as the title of the court.

Rule 2. Seal.—The seal shall contain the words "United States" on the upper part of the outer edge; and the words "Circuit Court of Appeals" on the lower part of the outer edge, running from left to right; and the words "Ninth Circuit" in two lines, in the center, with a dash beneath.

Rule 3.* Terms.—One term of this court shall be held annually at the city of San Francisco on the first Monday of October, and shall be adjourned to such times and places as the court may from time to time designate.

Rule 4. Quorum.—1. If, at any term or session, a quorum does not attend on any day appointed for holding it, any Judge who does attend may adjourn the court from time to time, or, in the absence of any Judge, the Clerk may adjourn the court from day to day. If, during a term, after a quorum has assembled, less than that number attend on any day, any Judge attending may adjourn the court from day to day until there is a quorum, or may adjourn without day.

2. Any Judge attending when less than a quorum is present may make all necessary orders touching any suit, proceeding or process depending in or returned to the court, preparatory to hearing, trial or decision thereof.

Rule 5. Clerk.—The Clerk's office shall be kept at San Francisco, California.

*See, also, Rule 36.

2. The Clerk shall not practice, either as attorney or counselor, in this court or in any other court while he shall continue to be clerk of this court.

3. He shall, before he enters on the execution of his office, take an oath in the form prescribed by section 794 of the Revised Statutes, and shall give bond in a sum to be fixed, and with sureties to be approved, by the court, faithfully to discharge the duties of his office and seasonably to record the decrees, judgments, and determinations of the court. A copy of such bond shall be entered on the journal of the court, and the bond shall be deposited for safekeeping as the court may direct.

4. He shall not permit any original record or paper to be taken from the courtroom or from the office, without an order from the court, except as provided in Rule 23.

Rule 6. Marshal, Crier and Other Officers.—The marshal and crier shall be in attendance during the session of the court, with such number of bailiffs and messengers as the court may from time to time order.

Rule 7.* Attorneys and Counselors.—All attorneys admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States, or in any District Court of the Ninth Circuit, shall be deemed attorneys of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit; but such attorneys, on or before their first appearance in open court, in said court, shall take an oath or affirmation, in the form prescribed by Rule 2 of the Supreme Court of the United States and subscribe the Roll of Attorneys. All other persons who have been admitted to practice in the highest court of any State or Territory, upon presenting satisfactory evidence of good moral character and fair professional standing, may be admitted to practice in said court, upon taking the oath so prescribed, and subscribing the Roll of Attorneys.

Rule 8. Practice.—The practice shall be the same as in the Supreme Court of the United States, as far as the same shall be applicable.

Rule 9. Process.—All process of this court shall be in the name of the President of the United States, and shall be in like form and tested in the same manner as process of the Supreme Court.

Rule 10. Bill of Exceptions.—The Judges of the district courts shall not allow any bill of exceptions which shall contain the charge of the court at large to the jury in trials at common law, upon any general exception to the whole of such charge. But the party excepting shall be required to state distinctly the several matters of law in such charge to which he excepts, and those matters of law, and those only, shall be inserted in the bill of exceptions and allowed by the court.

*Appearance cannot be entered unless counsel is a member of the bar of this court, or of the Supreme Court of the United States, or of a district court within the ninth circuit. Briefs signed by counsel who are not members of the bar of this court or fully qualified under the provisions of this rule will not be considered by the court.

Rule 11.* Assignment of Errors.—The plaintiff in error or appellant shall file with the Clerk of the court below, with his petition for the writ of error or appeal, an assignment of errors, which shall set out separately and particularly each error asserted and intended to be urged. No writ of error or appeal shall be allowed until such assignment of errors shall have been filed. When the error alleged is to the admission or to the rejection of evidence, the assignment of errors shall quote the full substance of the evidence admitted or rejected. When the error alleged is to the charge of the court, the assignment of errors shall set out the part referred to totidem verbis, whether it be in instructions given or in instructions refused. Such assignment of errors shall form part of the transcript of the record and be printed with it. When this is not done, counsel will not be heard, except at the request of the court; and errors not assigned according to this rule will be disregarded, but the court, at its option, may notice a plain error not assigned.

Rule 12. Objections to Evidence in the Record.—In all cases of equity or admiralty jurisdiction, heard in this court, no objection shall be allowed to be taken to the admissibility of any deposition, deed, grant, exhibit, or translation found in the record as evidence, unless objection was taken thereto in the court below and entered of record; but the same shall otherwise be deemed to have been admitted by consent.

Rule 13. Supersedeas and Cost Bonds.—1. Supersedeas bonds in the district courts must be taken, with good and sufficient security, that the plaintiff in error or appellant shall prosecute his writ or appeal to effect, and answer all damages and costs if he fail to make his plea good. Such indemnity, where the judgment or decree is for the recovery of money not otherwise secured, must be for the whole amount of the judgment or decree, including just damages for delay, and costs and interest on the appeal; but in all suits where the property in controversy necessarily follows the suit, as in real actions and replevin, and in suits on mortgages, or where the property is in the custody of the marshal under admiralty process, or where the proceeds thereof, or a bond for the value thereof, is in the custody of the court, indemnity in all such cases will be required only in an amount sufficient to secure the sum recovered for the use and detention of the property, and the costs of the suit and just damages for delay, and costs and interest on the appeal.

2. On all appeals from any interlocutory order or decree granting or continuing an injunction in a district court, the appellant shall, at the time of the allowance of said appeal, file with the Clerk of such District Court a bond to the opposite party in such sum as such court shall direct, to answer all costs if he shall fail to sustain his appeal.

*See note to Admiralty Rule 1.

Rule 14.* Writs of Error, Appeals, Return and Record.—1. The Clerk of the court to which any writ of error may be directed shall make a return of the same by transmitting a true copy of the record, opinion or opinions of the court, bill of exceptions, assignment of errors, and all proceedings in the case, under his hand and the seal of the court.

2. In all cases brought to this court by writ of error or appeal, to review any judgment or decree, the Clerk of the court by which such judgment or decree was rendered shall annex to and transmit with the record the original writ of error and citation, or citation issued in the cause, and a certificate under seal stating the cost of the record and by whom paid.

3. No case will be heard until a complete record, containing in itself, and not by reference, all the papers, exhibits, depositions, and other proceedings which are necessary to the hearing in this court shall be filed.

4. Whenever it shall be necessary or proper, in the opinion of the presiding Judge in any District Court, that original papers of any kind should be inspected in this court upon writ of error or appeal, such presiding Judge may make such rule or order for the safekeeping, transporting and return of such original papers as to him may seem proper; and this court will receive and consider such original papers in connection with the transcript of the proceedings.

5. All appeals, writs of error, and citations must be made returnable at San Francisco, California, not exceeding thirty days from the day of signing the citation, whether the return day fall in vacation or in term time, and be served before the return day.

Rule 15. Translations.—Whenever any record transmitted to this court upon a writ of error or appeal shall contain any document, paper, testimony or other proceeding in a foreign language, and the record does not also contain a translation of such document, paper, testimony or other proceeding, made under the authority of the inferior court, or admitted to be correct, the record shall not be printed; but the case shall be reported to this court by the clerk, and the court will thereupon remand it back to the inferior court, in order that a translation may be there supplied and inserted in the record.

Rule 16.† Docketing Cases.—1. It shall be the duty of the plaintiff in error or appellant to file the record thereof and docket the case with the Clerk of this court at San Francisco, California, by or before the return day, whether in vacation or in term time. But for good cause shown, the Justice or Judge who signed the citation, or any Judge of this court, may enlarge the time by or before its expiration, the order of enlargement to be filed with the Clerk of this court. If the plaintiff in error or appellant shall fail to comply with this rule, the defendant in error or appellee may have the cause docketed and dismissed, upon producing a certificate, whether in term time or vacation, from the clerk of the court wherein the judgment or decree was rendered, stating the case and certifying that such writ of error or appeal has been duly sued out or allowed. And in no case shall the plaintiff in error or appellant be entitled to file the record and docket the case after the same shall have been docketed and dismissed under this rule, unless by order of the court.

*See, also, Rules 16, 17, 23, 34, 35 and 36, and Rules in Admiralty.

†See, also, Rules 14, 17, 23, 34, 35 and 36, and Rules in Admiralty.

2. But the defendant in error or appellee may, at his option, file a copy of the record and docket the case with the Clerk of this court; and if a copy of the record is filed and the case docketed with the Clerk of this court by the plaintiff in error or appellant within the period of time above limited and prescribed by this rule, or by the defendant in error or appellee at any time thereafter, the case shall stand for argument at the term.

3. Upon the filing of the transcript of a record brought up by a writ of error or appeal, the appearance of the counsel for the party docketing the case shall, if said counsel be qualified under the provisions of Rule 7, be entered.

Rule 17.* Docket.—The Clerk shall, upon payment to him by the appellant or plaintiff in error of a deposit of twenty-five dollars in each case, file the record and enter upon a docket all cases brought to and pending in the court in their proper chronological order.

Rule 18. Certiorari.—No certiorari for diminution of the record will be hereafter awarded in any case, unless a motion therefor shall be made in writing, and the facts on which the same is founded shall, if not admitted by the other party, be verified by affidavit. And all motions for such certiorari must be made at the first term of the entry of the case; otherwise the same will not be granted, unless upon special cause shown to the court, accounting satisfactorily for the delay.

Rule 19. Death of a Party.—1. Whenever, pending a writ of error or appeal in this court, either party shall die, the proper representatives in the personalty or realty of the deceased party, according to the nature of the case, may voluntarily come in and be admitted parties to the suit, and thereupon the case shall be heard and determined as in other cases; and if such representatives shall not voluntarily become parties, then the other party may suggest the death on the record, and thereupon, on motion, obtain an order that unless such representatives shall become parties within sixty days, the party moving for such order, if defendant in error, shall be entitled to have the writ of error on appeal dismissed, and if the party so moving shall be plaintiff in error, he shall be entitled to open the record, and on hearing, have the judgment or decree reversed, if it be erroneous: Provided, however, that a copy of every such order shall be personally served on said representatives at least thirty days before the expiration of such sixty days.

*See, also, Rule 16.

2. When the death of a party is suggested, and the representatives of the deceased do not appear within ten days after the expiration of such sixty days, and no measures are taken by the opposite party within that time to compel their appearance, the case shall abate.

3. When either party to a suit in a District Court of the United States shall desire to prosecute a writ of error or appeal to this court, from any final judgment or decree rendered in the District Court, and at the time of suing out such writ of error or appeal, the other party to the suit shall be dead and have no proper representative within the jurisdiction of the court which rendered such final judgment or decree, so that the suit cannot be revived in that court, but shall have a proper representative in some State or Territory of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, the party desiring such writ of error or appeal may procure the same, and may have proceedings on such judgment or decree superseded or stayed in the same manner as is now allowed by law in other cases, and shall thereupon proceed with such writ of error or appeal as in other cases. And within thirty days after the filing of the record in this court the plaintiff in error or appellant shall make a suggestion to the court, supported by affidavit, that the said party was dead when the writ of error or appeal was taken or sued out, and had no proper representative within the jurisdiction of the court which rendered such judgment or decree, so that the suit could not be revived in that court, and that said party had a proper representative in some State or Territory of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, and stating therein the name and character of such representative, and the State or Territory or District in which such representative resides; and upon such suggestion, he may on motion obtain an order that, unless such representative shall make himself a party within ninety days, the plaintiff in error or appellant shall be entitled to open the record, and, on hearing, have the judgment or decree reversed if the same be erroneous: Provided, however, that a proper citation reciting the substance of such order shall be served upon such representative, either personally or by being left at his residence, at least thirty days before the expiration of such ninety days: Provided, also, that in every such case, if the representative of the deceased party does not appear within ten days after the expiration of such ninety days, and the measures above provided to compel the appearance of such representative have not been taken within the time as above required, by the opposite party, the case shall abate: And provided, also, that the said representative may at any time before or after said suggestion come in and be made a party to the suit, and thereupon the case shall proceed, and be heard and determined as in other cases.

Rule 20. Dismissing Cases by Agreement.—Whenever the plaintiff and defendant in a writ of error pending in this court, or the appellant and appellee in an appeal, shall by their attorneys of record, sign and file with the clerk an agreement in writing directing the case to be dismissed, and specifying the terms on which it is to be dismissed, as to costs, and shall pay to the Clerk any fees that may be due to him, it shall be the duty of the Clerk to enter the case dismissed, and to give to either party requesting it a copy of the agreement filed; but no mandate or other process shall issue without an order of the court.

Rule 21. Motions.—1. All motions to the court shall be reduced to writing,* shall contain a brief statement of the facts and objects of the motion and shall be served upon opposing counsel at least five days before the day noticed for the hearing.

2. One-half hour on each side shall be allowed to the argument of a motion, and no more, without special leave of the court, granted before the argument begins.

3. No motion to dismiss, except on special assignment by the court, shall be heard, unless previous notice as above has been given to the adverse party, or the counsel or attorney of such party.

Rule 22. Parties not Ready.—1. Where no counsel appears, and no brief has been filed for the plaintiff in error or appellant, when the case is called for trial, the defendant may have the plaintiff called and the writ of error or appeal dismissed.

2. When the defendant fails to appear when the case is called for trial, the court may proceed to hear an argument on the part of the plaintiff, and to give judgment according to the right of the case.

3. Where a case is reached in the regular call of the docket, and there is no appearance for either party, the case shall be dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff in error or appellant.

Rule 23. Printing Records.—1. All records shall be printed under the supervision of the Clerk, and upon the docketing of the cause, he shall cause an estimate to be made of the expense of printing the record, and his fee for preparing it for the printer and supervising the printing, and shall notify the party docketing the case of the amount of the estimate. If the amount so estimated is not promptly paid over to the Clerk, and for want of such payment the record shall not have been printed when a case is reached for argument, the case shall be dismissed.

2. Upon payment of the amount estimated by the Clerk, thirty copies of the record shall be printed, under his supervision, for the use of the court and of counsel.

3. In cases of appellate jurisdiction the original transcript on file shall be taken by the Clerk to the printer. But the Clerk shall cause copies to be made for the printer of such original papers sent up under Rule 14, Section 4, as are necessary to be printed; and the whole of the record in cases of original jurisdiction.

4. In all cases, including cases in which the record may have been printed under the Act of Congress approved February 13, 1911, or otherwise, the Clerk of this Court shall index the printed record, and distribute the printed copies to the Judges and the reporter, and one or more printed copies to the counsel for the respective parties.

5. If the expense of printing and supervision shall be less than the amount estimated and paid, the Clerk shall refund the difference to the party paying same. If the expense is greater than the estimate the amount of such excess shall be paid to the Clerk before he shall file the printed record or deliver copies to the parties or their counsel.

6. In case of reversal, affirmance or dismissal, with costs, the amount paid for printing the record and of the Clerk's fee shall be taxed against the party against whom costs are given.

7. The plaintiff in error or appellant may, upon filing the record in this court, file with the Clerk a statement of the errors on which he intends to rely, and of the parts of the record which he thinks necessary for the consideration thereof, and forthwith serve on the adverse party a copy of such statement. The adverse party, within ten days thereafter, may designate, in writing, filed with the Clerk, additional parts of the record which he thinks material; and, if he shall not do so, he shall be held to have consented to a hearing on the parts designated by the plaintiff in error or appellant. If parts of the record shall be so designated by one or both of the parties, or if such parts be distinctly designated by stipulation of counsel for the respective parties, the Clerk shall print those parts only; and the court will consider nothing but those parts of the record, and the errors so stated. If at the hearing it shall appear that any material part of the record has not been printed, the writ of error or appeal may be dismissed, or such other order made as the circumstances may appear to the court to require. If the defendant in error or appellee shall have caused unnecessary parts of the record to be printed such order as to costs may be made as the court shall think proper.

All statements and stipulations filed hereunder shall distinctly and accurately refer to the pages of the original certified record as well as the documents to be printed or omitted.

8. At the time of filing the record and docketing the cause counsel for the plaintiff in error or appellant in patent cases may furnish the Clerk with the copies of patent office drawings and specifications to be used as inserts, and the same, if in proper form and of convenient size, shall be used in printing the record.

9. In all cases, including cases in which the record may have been printed under the Act of Congress approved February 13, 1911, or otherwise, the fee of the Clerk of this court for performing the services herein required shall be twenty-five cents for each printed page of the record and index, as provided by law.

Rule 24.* Briefs.—1. The counsel for the plaintiff in error or appellant shall file with the Clerk of this court twenty copies of a printed

*NOTE.—Briefs signed by counsel who are not members of the bar of this court or fully qualified under the provisions of Rule 7, will not be considered by the court.

See, also, subd. 2 of Rule 26.

brief, and serve upon counsel for the defendant in error or the appellee one copy thereof, at least ten days before the case is called for argument.

2. This brief shall contain, in order here stated—

(a) A concise abstract, or statement of the case; presenting succinctly the questions involved, in the manner in which they are raised.

(b) A specification of the errors relied upon, which, in cases brought up by writ of error, shall set out separately and particularly each error asserted and intended to be urged; and in cases brought up by appeal the specifications shall state, as particularly as may be, in what the decree is alleged to be erroneous. When the error alleged is to the admission or to the rejection of evidence, the specification shall quote the full substance of the evidence admitted or rejected. When the error alleged is to the charge of the court, the specification shall set out the part referred to totidem verbis, whether it be in instructions given or in instructions refused. When the error alleged is to a ruling upon the report of a master, the specification shall state the exception to the report and the action of the court upon it.

(c) A brief of the argument, exhibiting a clear statement of the points of law or fact to be discussed, with a reference to the pages of the record and the authorities relied upon in support of each point. When a statute of a state is cited, so much thereof as may be deemed necessary to the decision of the case shall be printed at length.

3. The counsel for a defendant in error or an appellee shall file with the Clerk twenty printed copies of his brief and serve upon counsel for plaintiff in error or appellant one copy thereof, at least three days before the case is called for hearing. His brief shall be of a like character with that required of the plaintiff in error or appellant, except that no specification of error shall be required, and no statement of the case, unless that presented by the plaintiff in error or appellant is controverted.

4. When there is no assignment of errors, as required by section 997 of the Revised Statutes, counsel will not be heard, except at the request of the court; and errors not specified according to this rule will be disregarded; but the court, at its option, may notice a plain error not assigned or specified.

5. When according to this rule, a plaintiff in error or an appellant is in default, the case may be dismissed on motion; and when a defendant in error or an appellee is in default he will not be heard, except on consent of his adversary and by request of the court.

6. When no counsel appears for one of the parties, and no printed brief or argument is filed, only one counsel will be heard for the adverse party but if a printed brief or argument is filed, the adverse party will be entitled to be heard by two counsel.

Rule 25.* Oral Arguments.—1. The plaintiff in error or appellant in this court shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument of the case. But when there are cross-appeals they shall be argued together as one case, and the plaintiff in the court below shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument.

2. Only two counsel will be heard for each party on the argument of a case.

3. One hour on each side will be allowed for the argument, and no more, without special leave of the court, granted before the argument begins. The time thus allowed may be apportioned between the counsel on the same side at their discretion; provided, always, that a fair opening of the case shall be made by the party having the opening and closing arguments.

Rule 26. Form of Printed Records, Arguments, Briefs, and Petitions for Rehearing.—1. All records printed for the use of the court must be printed on unruled white writing paper, nine and one-quarter inches long and six and one-quarter inches wide. The printed page, exclusive of any marginal note, reference or running head, must be seven inches long and four inches wide, excepting in patent cases where counsel furnish to the clerk at the time of docketing the cause patent office drawings and specifications for insertion. In such cases the margin of the record may be sufficiently enlarged to accommodate such drawings and specifications. The record must be properly indexed. Pica double-leaded is the only mode of composition allowed.

2. All arguments, briefs, and petitions for rehearing, printed for the use of the court, must be printed on unruled white writing paper, nine and one-quarter inches long and six and one-quarter inches wide. The printed page, exclusive of any marginal note, reference or running head, must be seven inches long and four inches wide. Pica double-leaded is the only mode of composition allowed.

Rule 27. Copies of Records and Briefs.—The Clerk shall carefully preserve in his office one copy of the printed record in every case submitted to the court for its consideration, and of all printed motions, briefs and arguments filed therein.

Rule 28. Opinions of the Court.—The original opinions of the court shall be filed with the Clerk of this court for preservation, and when so filed the same shall be deemed to have been recorded within the meaning of this rule.

Rule 29.* Rehearing.—A petition for rehearing may be presented within thirty days after judgment. It must be printed, and briefly and distinctly state its grounds, and be supported by certificate of counsel that in his judgment it is well founded, and that it is not interposed for delay. Twenty printed copies must be filed with the Clerk of this court.

Rule 30. Interest.—1. In cases where a writ of error is prosecuted in this court, and the judgment of the inferior court is affirmed, the interest shall be calculated and levied from the date of the judgment below until the same is paid, at the same rate that similar judgments bear interest in the courts of the State or Territory where such judgment was rendered.

*See, also, subd. 2 of Rule 26 and Rule 32.

2. In all cases where a writ of error shall delay the proceedings on the judgment of the inferior court, and shall appear to have been sued out merely for delay, damages at a rate not exceeding ten per cent, in addition to interest, shall be awarded upon the amount of the judgment.

3. The same rule shall be applied to decrees for the payment of money in cases in equity, unless otherwise ordered by this court.

4. In cases in admiralty, damages and interest may be allowed, if specially directed by the court.

Rule 31. Costs.—1. In all cases where any suit shall be dismissed in this court costs shall be allowed to the defendant in error or appellee, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

2. In all cases of affirmance of any judgment or decree in this court, costs shall be allowed to the defendant in error or appellee, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

3. In cases of reversal of any judgment or decree in this court, costs shall be allowed to the plaintiff in error or appellant, including the cost of the transcript from the court below, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

4. Neither of the foregoing sections shall apply to cases where the United States are a party; but in such cases no costs shall be allowed in this court for or against the United States.

5. When costs are allowed in this court it shall be the duty of the Clerk to insert the amount thereof in the body of the mandate, or other proper process sent to the court below, and annex to the same the bill of items taxed in detail.

6. In all cases certified to the Supreme Court or removed thereto by certiorari or otherwise, the fees of the Clerk of this court shall be paid before a transcript of the record shall be transmitted to the Supreme Court.

7. Upon the Clerk's producing satisfactory evidence, by affidavit or the acknowledgment of the parties or their sureties, of having served a copy of any bill of fees due by them, respectively, in this court, on such parties or their sureties, an attachment shall issue against such parties or sureties respectively to compel payment of said fees.

Rule 32.* Mandate.—In all cases finally determined in this court, a mandate or other proper process in the nature of a procedendo shall, upon the payment of any costs due in the case, be issued, as of course from this court to the court below, for the purpose of informing such court of the proceedings in this court, so that further proceedings may be had in such court as to law and justice may appertain. Such mandate, if not stayed by the order of the court, shall be issued on the expiration of thirty days from the date of such final determination, unless within said time a petition for rehearing be filed, in which case the mandate shall be stayed until five days after the determination of such petition.

*See, also, Rule 29.

Rule 33. Custody of Prisoners on Habeas Corpus.—1. Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or Judge declining to grant the writ of habeas corpus, the custody of the prisoner shall not be disturbed.

2. Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or Judge discharging the writ after it has been issued, the prisoner shall be remanded to the custody from which he was taken by the writ, or shall, for good cause shown, be detained in custody of the court or Judge, or be enlarged upon recognizance, as hereinafter provided.

3. Pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or Judge discharging the prisoner, he shall be enlarged upon recognizance, with surety, for appearance to answer the judgment of the appellate court, except where, for special reasons, sureties ought not to be required.

Rule 34. Models, Diagrams, and Exhibits of Material.—1. Models, diagrams and exhibits of material forming part of the evidence taken in the court below, in any case pending in this court, on writ of error or appeal, shall be placed in the custody of the marshal of this court at least ten days before the case is heard or submitted.

2. All models, diagrams and exhibits of material placed in the custody of the marshal for the inspection of the court on the hearing of a case must be taken away by the parties within one month after the case is decided. When this is not done it shall be the duty of the marshal to notify the counsel in the case, by mail or otherwise, of the requirements of this rule; and, if the articles are not removed within a reasonable time after the notice is given, he shall destroy them or make such other disposition of them as to him may seem best.

Rule 35. Assignment of Causes for Hearing.—1. Thirty days prior to the opening of any calendar session of the court, the Clerk is directed to assign causes for hearing at the rate of one case for the first day of each term or session, and two cases per day for each of the ensuing court days of such term or session. Causes shall be grouped by States, and assignments made, so as to permit the hearing of causes from one State before the causes from the next State in order shall be called; causes from the Northern District of California shall be assigned for hearing last. Any causes entitled by law to preference in hearing shall be first assigned and take precedence over other causes from the same State.

2. A stipulation to continue a case to the foot of the calendar or in any way change the day assigned for hearing, will not be recognized as binding upon the court, and no such change will be made except by order of the court for reasons shown.

3. Ten days before each calendar session of the court the Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed a calendar of the causes assigned for the approaching session.

Rule 36. Terms and Sessions of the Court.—1. One term of this court shall be held annually on the first Monday of October and adjourned sessions on the first Monday of each month in the year. All sessions shall be held at San Francisco, unless otherwise specially ordered by the court.

2. The October, February and May sessions shall be known as calendar sessions, and shall be sessions for the trial of all causes that shall have been placed upon the calendar in pursuance of Rule 35.

3. A term of this court shall be held annually in the city of Seattle, in the State of Washington, and in the city of Portland, in the State of Oregon. The Seattle term shall be held beginning upon the second Monday in September, and the term at Portland shall be held beginning upon the third Monday in September. All appeals and writs of error from the district courts for the Districts of Washington, the transcripts of which shall be filed in this court between the first day of April and the first day of August of each year, shall be heard at said annual term in the city of Seattle, unless it be stipulated by the parties thereto that they be heard at San Francisco. All other appeals and writs of error from said District Courts for those districts shall be heard at San Francisco, unless it be stipulated by the parties thereto that they be heard at said annual term in the city of Seattle. All appeals and writs of error from the District Court for the District of Oregon, the transcripts of which shall be filed in this court between the first day of April and the first day of August of each year, shall be heard at said annual term in the city of Portland, unless it be stipulated by the parties thereto that they be heard at San Francisco. All other appeals and writs of error from said District Court for that district shall be heard at San Francisco, unless it be stipulated by the parties thereto that they be heard at said annual term in the city of Portland. Appeals and writs of error from the District Courts for the Districts of Idaho and Montana, and from the District Court of Alaska may, upon the stipulation of the parties thereto, be heard at the annual term to be held either at Seattle or Portland.

Rule 37. Photograph of Chinese to be Attached to Bail Bond.—Whenever, in cases of deportation of Chinese, the defendant be admitted to bail pending appeal, before the bond be approved and the party released from custody, a photograph of the defendant shall be attached to said bond.

RULES IN ADMIRALTY—CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS, NINTH CIRCUIT.

Rule 1.* Appeals and New Pleadings.—An appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals shall be taken by filing in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, and serving on the proctor of the adverse party a notice signed by the appellant or his proctor that the party appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals from the decree complained of.

The appeal shall be heard on the pleadings and evidence in the District Court, unless the Appellate Court, on motion, otherwise order.

Rule 2. Notice and Bond.—Sec. 1. When a notice of appeal is served, the appellant shall file in the Clerk's office of the District Court a bond for costs of the appeal, with sufficient surety in the sum of $250, conditioned that the appellant shall prosecute his appeal to effect and pay the costs, if the appeal is not sustained. Such security shall be given within ten days after filing the notice, or the appeal shall be deemed abandoned, and the decree of the court below enforced, unless otherwise ordered by a Judge of this court.

Sec. 2. And if the appellant desires to stay the execution of the decree of the court below, the bond which he shall give shall be a bond with sufficient surety in such further sum as the Judge of the District Court or a Judge of this court shall order, conditioned that he will abide by and perform whatever decree may be rendered by this court in the cause, or on the mandate of this court by the court below.

Sec. 3. The appellant shall, on filing either of such bonds, give notice of such filing, and of the names and residences of the sureties, and if the appellee, within two days, excepts to the sureties they shall justify, on notice, within two days after such exception.

Rule 3. Review in Part Only.—The appellant may also, at his option, state in his notice of appeal that he desires only to review one or more questions involved in the cause, which questions must be clearly and succinctly stated; and he shall be concluded in this behalf by such notice, and the review upon such an appeal shall be limited to such question or questions.

Rule 4. Apostles on Appeal to Contain.—Sec. 1. The apostles, on an appeal to this court, shall, in cases where a general notice of appeal is served, consist of the following:

(1) A caption exhibiting the proper style of the court and the title of the cause, and a statement showing the time of the commencement of the suit; the names of the parties, setting forth the original parties and those who have become parties before the appeal, if any change

*This rule so far modifies Rule 11 of the General Rules that a petition for an appeal and the allowance thereof is not required in an admiralty case, nor is the assignment of errors required to be filed with notice of appeal. The assignment of errors must, however, be sent up to the appellate court with the apostles, as required in Rule 4 of the Admiralty Rules. (Kennedy v. Louie, No. 939. Motion to dismiss appeal denied, May 6, 1903.)

has taken place; the several dates when the respective pleadings were filed, whether or not the defendant was arrested, or bail taken, or property attached, or arrested, and if so, an account of the proceedings thereunder; the time when the trial was had, and the name of the Judge hearing the same; whether or not any question was referred to a commissioner or commissioners, and if so, the result of the proceedings and report thereon; the date of the entry of the interlocutory and final decrees; and the date when the notice of appeal was filed.

(2) All the pleadings, with the exhibits annexed thereto.

(3) All the testimony and other proofs adduced in the cause.

(4) The interlocutory decree and any order of the court which appellant may desire to have reviewed on the appeal.

(5) Any report of a Commissioner or Commissioners to which exception may have been taken, with the order or orders of the court respecting the same, and the exceptions to the report, and so much of the testimony taken in the proceeding as may be necessary to a review of the exceptions.

(6) All opinions of the court, whether upon interlocutory questions or finally deciding the cause.

(7) The final decree, and the notice of appeal; and

(8) The assignments of error.

Sec. 2. All other papers shall be omitted unless otherwise ordered by the Judge who heard the cause.

Sec. 3. Where the appellant shall appeal specially and seek only to review one or more questions involved in the cause, the apostles may, by stipulation between the proctors for the respective parties, contain only such papers and proceedings and evidence as are necessary to review the questions raised by the appeal.

Rule 5.* Certifying Records.—The appellants shall, within thirty days after giving notice of appeal, procure to be filed in this court the apostles certified by the Clerk of the District Court, or in case of a special appeal, the stipulated record, with the certification by the said Clerk of all papers contained therein on file in his office.

Rule 6. If Appearance of Appellee not Entered.—If the appellee does not cause his appearance to be entered in this court within ten days after service on his proctor of notice that the apostles are filed in this court, the appellant may proceed ex parte in the cause, and have such decree as the nature of the case may demand.

Rule 7. New Allegations, etc.—Upon sufficient cause shown, this court, or any Judge thereof, may allow either appellant or appellee to make new allegations or pray different relief or interpose a new defense, or make new proofs. Application for such leave may be made at any time after the perfecting of the appeal to this court, and within fifteen days after the filing in this court of the apostles, and upon at least four days' notice to the adverse party or his attorney of record.

*See, also, General Rule 17.

Rule 8. New Pleadings—New Testimony.—If leave be granted to make new allegations, pray different relief or interpose a new defense, the moving party shall, within ten days thereafter, serve such new pleading, duly verified, on the adverse party, who shall, if such pleading be a libel, within twenty days answer on oath.

If leave be given to take new testimony, the same may be taken and filed within thirty days after the entry of the order granting such leave, and the adverse party may take and file counter-testimony within twenty days after such filing.

Rule 9. New Testimony—How Taken.—Such testimony shall be taken by deposition before the Clerk of this court, or any United States Commissioner, or any Clerk of a District Court of the United States, or any Notary Public upon reasonable notice, in writing, given to the opposite party or his attorney of record, either in this court or in the court below, which notice must state the name or names of the witness or witnesses and the time and place of taking his or their deposition or depositions; or by commission issued out of this court with interrogatories annexed. Upon sufficient cause shown, the court may grant an open commission.

Rule 10. Printing New Pleadings and Testimony.—If new pleadings are filed or testimony taken in this court, the same shall also be printed and furnished by the Clerk, as in the 23d General Rule provided.

Rule 11. Motions.—All motions shall be made upon at least four days' notice.

Rule 12. Extension of Time.—The time specified in the foregoing rules for any proceeding may be extended by order of a Judge of this court.

These rules shall go into effect on the first Monday of October, 1900.

RULES—UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA.

ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS.

Rule 1. Attorneys, Who Admitted.—No person shall be admitted to practice as an attorney or counselor in this court, unless he shall have been previously admitted in the Supreme Court of the United States, or the Supreme Court of this State, or the highest court of a sister State, or of an organized Territory of the United States. Satisfactory evidence of good moral character will be required. The applicant, upon his admission, shall sign the roll of attorneys and counselors, and take and subscribe the following oath, to wit:

"I solemnly swear [or affirm] that I will support the Constitution of the United States; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the Government of the United States; that I will maintain the respect due to the courts of justice and judicial officers; and that I will demean myself as an attorney and counselor of this court uprightly."

Rule 2. Agreements must be in Writing.—No agreement between parties, or their attorneys, in relation to the proceedings or evidence in an action, will be regarded, unless the same is made in open court, and noted in its minutes, or is reduced to writing and subscribed by the party or attorney against whom it is alleged.

Rule 3. Attorneys not Sureties, etc.—No officer or attorney of this court shall be accepted as security for costs, or as bail of any kind.

Rule 4. Attorneys, When Witnesses, etc.—If the attorney or counsel of either party offers himself as a witness on behalf of his client, and gives evidence on the merits on the trial, he shall not argue the case, or sum it up to the jury, unless by consent of the opposite party, and permission of the Court.

COMMON-LAW RULES.

Rule 6. Commencement of Actions.—Actions shall be commenced by filing a complaint with the Clerk of the court. The summons shall be issued by the Clerk under the seal of the court, and be in substance similar to that used in the courts of this State, except that it shall bear teste of the judge of the court, and shall require the defendant to appear and file his plea, answer, or demurrer in the office of the Clerk of the court, within twenty days after the service of the summons upon him.

Rule 7. Dismissal of Actions—Failure to Prosecute.—Whenever a complainant shall fail to have process issued upon any complaint hereafter filed in this court, within one year after the filing thereof against any defendant named therein, who has not voluntarily made a general appearance in the action, or who shall fail to make a bona fide effort to procure service of summons upon such defendant within sixty days after the issuing thereof, such defendant may, upon due notice to the complainant, have said complaint dismissed for want of prosecution; but this rule shall not affect the right of the court to dismiss actions for want of prosecution in other proper cases.

Rule 8. Service of Summons and Default.—Service of summons shall be made by the marshal of the district in person, or by his duly appointed deputy. A copy of the complaint and a copy of the summons, certified by the Clerk or the plaintiff's attorney, shall be served personally upon each defendant; and in case the defendant fails to appear and file his plea, answer, or demurrer, in conformity with the requirements of the summons, the Clerk shall, on the written request of the plaintiff or his attorney—to be filed in the case—enter his default; and thereafter the proceedings in the action shall be in conformity with the practice prescribed for the State courts by the statutes of the State in like cases.

Rule 9. Matters of Abatement.—All matters in abatement shall be set up in a separate preliminary answer, in the nature of a plea in abatement, to which the plaintiff may reply or demur; and the issue so joined shall be determined by the court before the matters in bar are pleaded. And when any matter in abatement, other than such as affects the jurisdiction of the court, shall be pleaded in the same answer with matter in bar, or to the merits, or simultaneously with an answer of matter in bar, or to the merits, the matter so pleaded in abatement shall be deemed to be waived. When the matter so pleaded in abatement consists of matters of fact, the plea or preliminary answer shall be sworn to. And when matters showing that the court has no jurisdiction, which might have been pleaded in abatement, are first developed during the proceedings in the cause upon the merits, the court will, upon its own motion, dismiss or remand the case and, in its discretion, tax the costs of such proceedings upon the merits, so far as is practicable to the party most in fault in not presenting such matters in some proper mode before proceeding upon the merits.

Rule 10. Demurrers, Special Pleas, etc., Certificate of Counsel.—No demurrer or special plea or answer to a complaint shall be allowed to be filed, unless accompanied by a certificate of counsel, that, in his opinion, it is well founded in point of law.

Rule 11. Schedules of Title Furnished.—In the trial of an action to recover lands or tenements, the attorneys for the respective parties, plaintiff and defendant, shall place in the hands of the court, before the trial, schedules of the documentary evidence of title, chronologically arranged, which they, respectively, propose to introduce as testimony.

Rule 12. One Counsel to Examine Witness, Order of Proceedings, etc.—On trials of issues of fact, only one counsel on each side shall examine or cross-examine a witness, and only one counsel on each side shall sum up the cause, unless the court shall otherwise direct. The party having the affirmative shall be entitled to begin, and shall, before introducing his testimony, open his case by stating generally what he expects to prove. The other party may, either then or after the adverse party rests his testimony, state what he expects to prove. After the testimony is closed, the party holding the affirmative may address the jury, and shall, if desired by the opposite party, state his points and refer to his authorities, or be precluded from a reply; the party holding the negative of the issue may then sum up his case, and the party holding the affirmative may close.

Rule 13. Instructions to Jury, When must be Presented to Court.—In causes civil or criminal tried by a jury, any special charge or instructions asked for by either party must be presented to the court in writing directly after the close of the evidence, and before any argument is made to the jury, or they will not be considered.

Rule 14. Calling Parties.—It shall not be necessary to call the plaintiff's attorney in criminal cases; and in civil cases, and in criminal cases not charging a felony, it shall not be necessary to call either party before receiving the verdict of the jury.

JUDGMENTS.

Rule 15. Judgment-rolls Signed—Costs.—The Clerk or his deputy may tax costs in cases at law and in equity, and in actions at law sign judgment-rolls.

Rule 16. Ibid., What to Embrace.—Immediately after entering the judgment, the Clerk shall attach together and file the following papers, entry of the default of the defendant, and a copy of the judgment-roll:

First—In case the complaint is not answered by any defendant, the summons, with the proof of service, the complaint, and a copy of the entry of the default of the defendant, and a copy of the judgment.

Second—In all other cases the summons, pleadings, verdict of the jury, or finding of the court, referee, or commissioner; copies of orders sustaining or overruling demurrers, and of all orders relating to a change of the parties, and a copy of the judgment. The judgment-roll shall be made, signed by the Clerk or his deputy, and filed before judgment is docketed, or an execution issued thereon. The judgment shall be entered in the judgment-book, unless otherwise ordered by the court, as soon as practicable after having been rendered; or in case of a jury trial, as soon as practicable after the rendition of the verdict. Proper entries of the judgment, under appropriate heads, shall be made by the Clerk in the docket-book kept by him immediately after the judgment-roll is filed. The docket-book shall have each page divided into columns, so as to exhibit at one view the dates of the judgments, their amounts, the executions sued out, the time of their issuing, the returns thereon, and the dates of satisfaction, with a column for miscellaneous matter.

Rule 17. Memorandum of Costs.—The party in whose favor a judgment at law or decree in equity is rendered, and who claims his costs, shall, unless otherwise ordered by the court, within five days after the entry of judgment or decree, deliver to the Clerk of the court, and serve on the attorney or solicitor of the adverse party, a copy thereof, together with a notice of application to have the same taxed, a memorandum of his costs and necessary disbursements in the action or proceeding, distinctly specifying each item so that the nature of the charge can be readily understood; which memorandum shall be verified by the oath of the party, or his agent, attorney, or solicitor, or by the clerk of such attorney or solicitor, stating that the items are correct, and that the disbursements have been necessarily incurred in the action or proceeding, and shall be accompanied by the evidence of service thereof, and of said notice, upon the attorney or solicitor of the adverse party.

The notice shall specify the hour at which application to the Clerk to tax the costs will be made, and shall not be less than one nor more than three days from the date of the notice. Upon a failure to file such memorandum, notice and evidence, the costs other than the Clerk's costs (which may be inserted in the judgment or decree without such memorandum) shall be deemed waived.

In all cases where compensation is claimed for keeping personal property attached or taken on mesne process, the party delivering to the Clerk such memorandum of costs shall annex thereto a petition of the marshal under oath, fully setting forth the facts out of which such claim for compensation arose; stating the character, amount, and value of the property attached or taken; the facts showing the necessity for employing a keeper, or renting a room, or other acts performed in keeping said property, and the reasonable necessary value of the services, in such manner that the court can determine from the facts the proper compensation to be allowed. And the said facts so set out may be controverted by the opposing party in the mode provided in Rule 18, and thereupon the Clerk shall allow and fix such amount as he shall deem reasonable as in the case of other items of costs, subject to appeal as in other cases provided in these rules.

Rule 18. Taxation of Costs.—At the time specified in the notice, the party objecting to any item of costs contained in the said memorandum shall present his objections, either orally or in writing, specifying each item to which objection is made, and the ground of the objection, and file any affidavit, or other evidence relied on, if any there be, to support his objections, which evidence may be rebutted by other evidence. The Clerk shall thereupon proceed to tax the costs, and shall allow such items specified in said memorandum as are properly chargeable as costs, and shall include in the judgment or decree entered, any interest on the verdict or decision of the court from the time it was rendered. And he shall, within two days after the costs shall be finally taxed, insert the same in a blank left in the judgment or decree for the purpose, and shall make a similar insertion of the costs in the copies and docket of the judgment or decree. The taxation of costs made by the Clerk shall be final, unless modified on appeal, as provided in Rule 19.

Rule 19. Retaxation of Costs.—An appeal from the decision of the Clerk, in the taxation of costs, may be taken to the court, or judge, orally, by either party, instantly, or by motion to retax upon written notice of not less than one nor more than two days, given and filed with the Clerk, within two days after the costs have been taxed in the Clerk's office, but not afterward.

When taken upon notice, the notice of motion to retax shall particularly specify the rulings of the Clerk excepted to, and no others will be noticed on the hearing.

The motion will be heard upon the same papers and evidence used before the Clerk.

Rule 20. Sale of Real Estate Under Execution.—In the sale of real estate under execution issuing from this court, the marshal shall conform his proceedings to the directions of the laws of this State in force at the time of the sale in relation to the sale of real estate on execution, and, in addition to the certificate filed with the recorder of the county where the lands sold are situated, shall file a copy thereof with the Clerk of this court.

Rule 21. Redemptions of Lands Sold Under Execution.—Redemptions of lands sold under execution out of this court may be made in the same manner, and with like effect, and by the same persons, as prescribed by the laws of this State in force at the time of the sale. And the sales by the marshal shall be made subject to such redemption.

EXCEPTIONS AND NEW TRIALS.

Rule 22. Bills of Exceptions to Charge of Court, When and How Made.—The party excepting to the charge of the court to the jury must specify distinctly the several matters of law in the charge to which he excepts. Such matters of law, only, will be inserted in the bill of exceptions, and allowed by the court. All exceptions to the charge of the court to the jury shall be specified in writing immediately on the conclusion of the charge, and handed to the court before the jury leave the box. The bill of exceptions must be prepared in form, and presented to the judge within ten days after verdict, and in default thereof, the exceptions will be deemed waived.

Rule 23. New Trials.—All notices of motions for new trials must be given within ten days after the rendition of the verdict, or the decision sought to be set aside, and shall state generally the grounds of the motion, and whether it will be made on affidavits; on the minutes of the court (which for the purposes of this rule shall be deemed to include the notes of the evidence taken by the judge, reporter, or other authorized person; all other testimony in the case, and all rulings made and excepted to in the progress of the trial) and the pleadings and proceedings on file in the Clerk's office. Whether made upon the minutes of the court, and the pleadings and proceedings in the Clerk's office, or upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, or other grounds shown by affidavits, the motion shall be brought on for argument on the first succeeding "motion day" of the term at which it can be heard, after giving notice; and in the latter cases a copy of the affidavits upon which the motion is based shall be served on the attorney of the adverse party two days before said motion day.

Rule 24. General Verdicts Subject to Opinion of Court.—General verdicts may be taken subject to the opinion of the court, on a case to be prepared by the party in whose favor the verdict is taken, containing all the material evidence given at the trial. The case shall be prepared, and a copy served on the attorney of the adverse party, within ten days after taking the verdict, and afterward amended and settled within the time and in the manner prescribed by these rules for settling bills of exceptions.

Rule 25. Exceptions, How Taken.—Where exceptions are taken, or there is a demurrer to evidence, the party shall not be required to prepare at the trial his bill of exceptions, or demurrer and statement of evidence, but shall merely reduce such exceptions to writing, or make a minute of the demurrer to the evidence, as the case may be, and deliver it to the judge. The bill or demurrer shall, within ten days after the termination of the trial, be drawn up, filed, and a copy be served on the attorney of the adverse party, who, within five days thereafter, may prepare, serve, and file amendments thereto; and in default thereof, the right to propose amendments shall be deemed waived, in which case, within five days thereafter, the proposed bill may be presented by the moving party to the judge for allowance. If amendments are served and filed within the time allowed, they shall be deemed assented to by the party proposing the bill, and may, in like time and manner, be presented to the judge for allowance, unless the said party, within three days after receiving a copy of such amendments, shall notify the opposing attorney of his dissent, and that at a time and place specified, not less than two nor more than five days distant, he will present the proposed bill and amendments to the judge for settlement, and in that case the bill shall be so presented. In all cases where a party proposing a bill of exceptions fails to present his bill, or bill and the proposed amendments, to the judge, for allowance or settlement, within the time limited as aforesaid, his bill of exceptions shall be deemed abandoned, and his right thereto waived. In case of the absence of the judge at the time for presenting a bill of exceptions for allowance or settlement, the party proposing it may, upon one day's notice to the opposing attorney, when amendments have been proposed, otherwise without notice, and within the times limited for so presenting it, direct the Clerk of the court to transmit by mail or express to the judge, for allowance or settlement, the proposed bill, or bill and amendments, as the case may be, together with such other papers as may be deemed necessary or convenient to the judge in settling the same; and it shall be the duty of the Clerk, the expenses thereof having been first paid by the party, to forward the same to the judge, in pursuance of such directions, and to file a memorandum of his action, together with the date, among the papers in the case. Either party may transmit with such papers a memorandum, stating his points, and referring to such portions of the evidence or record as, in his judgment, may conduce to a correct settlement of the bill of exceptions; or, upon stipulation of the parties, the proposed bill and amendments may be retained by the Clerk, and be by him delivered to the judge upon his return.

Rule 26. Notice of Motion to Stay Proceedings Pending Motion for New Trial.—When judgment has been entered upon the verdict, or other decision, notice shall be given to the adverse party of any motion to stay execution thereon.

Rule 27. Motion for New Trial, etc., not to Delay Entry of Judgment.—A notice of motion for a new trial, or in arrest of judgment, shall not delay the entry and docketing of the judgment, except when proceedings are stayed by order of the court or one of the judges. If the motion be sustained, the judgment shall be set aside.

Rule 28. No Arrest of Judgment After New Trial.—No motion in arrest of judgment shall be heard after a new trial once had; but motions in arrest of judgment, and for a new trial, may, in the first instance, be simultaneously made.

Rule 29. No Waiver.—A motion for a new trial shall not be deemed a waiver of any bill of exceptions taken; but a writ of error or appeal taken, pending a motion for new trial, or application for rehearing, shall be deemed a waiver of such motion or application.

COMMISSIONS AND DEPOSITIONS.

Rule 30. Depositions of Infirm Witnesses.—A rule to take the depositions of ancient and infirm witnesses, to be read in evidence on the usual terms, is of course, and may be entered by the Clerk upon the request of either party, stipulating a reasonable written notice to the adverse party; so of a rule for a commission to any of the United States.

Rule 31. Ibid., Before Whom Taken.—Depositions may be taken before any of the commissioners of any court of the United States; and commissions may be executed by any person qualified to take testimony according to the laws of the State to which the commission issues, or by any person or persons agreed on by the parties, or by such person or persons as, in the absence of any agreement, shall be designated by one of the judges of this court. The commission may be directed to one or three; but no costs shall be taxed for the service of more than one commissioner, unless both parties unite in requiring a greater number.

Rule 32. Commissions, How Obtained.—Either party to a cause, wishing to sue out a commission, shall first file in the Clerk's office a copy of the interrogatories to be propounded to the witnesses, and shall give five days' notice to the adverse party, or his attorney, and serve on him a copy of the interrogatories and rule for commission; and the cross-interrogatories shall be filed within five days after such notice and service. When such cross-interrogatories have been filed, the party filing them shall give notice thereof to the adverse party; and all objections or exceptions to the interrogatories filed must be made in writing. The interrogatories, when objected to by either party, must be settled by one of the judges before the commission is issued. At the expiration of five days from the filing of the interrogatories, if no objections or exceptions to them are filed, or, if filed, immediately after the same are settled, the commission shall issue with certified copies of the interrogatories attached, directed to such person or persons as shall be agreed on by the parties with the assent of one of the judges or of the Clerk, or in case of no written agreement by the parties, to some one authorized by these rules to execute it.

Rule 33. Commission, How Opened.—When a commission is returned, it may be opened by the Clerk at any time, by consent in writing of the parties indorsed on the commission, or filed in the cause, or by order of one of the judges. The commission when returned shall be the property of both parties, and remain with the Clerk, to be used by either.

Rule 34. Commissions, Exceptions to Execution of, etc.—On the return and opening of the commission, either party may give notice thereof to the opposite party, who shall, within ten days after service of such notice, file with the Clerk, and serve a copy thereof on the attorney of the adverse party, a specification of his exceptions, if he have any, to the execution of the commission, to the mode of swearing the witnesses, or to the acts or omissions of the commissioner, or of any other person or persons in or about the same. No exceptions on any of these grounds to the admissibility of the evidence so returned or filed, not included in such specifications, shall be taken on the trial of the cause; and in no case, where a deposition has been filed before the day on which the case is called for trial, shall an exception on any of said grounds be taken at the trial, unless it has been specified in writing and presented to the court for its decision before a jury is impaneled in the case. Provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to sanction the reading of the answers of a witness, resident within one hundred miles of the place of trial.

Rule 35. Ibid., Decisions on Exceptions.—In all cases of exceptions filed or specified as above, by either party, any party may, before the trial of the cause, on motion, obtain a decision of the court upon the sufficiency or insufficiency of the exceptions; and such decision shall not be reconsidered upon the trial; but a bill of exceptions thereto shall be signed, if required, at the trial, in the same manner as if the decision had taken place during the trial.

MOTIONS.

Rule 36. Mondays Motion Days, etc.—Mondays shall be "Motion Days" on which will be heard ex parte motions; motions for judgments on special verdicts, agreed statements of facts, or otherwise; motions for new trials and injunctions; and all other motions of which notice to the adverse party is required to be given. Upon reading and filing the notice of motion, with proof of due service thereof, and of copies of the papers upon which the motion is made, if no one appears to oppose it, the moving party shall be entitled to a decision of the motion. The affidavits to be used by either party, before being read on the hearing, shall be respectively indorsed with the title of the cause and name of the attorney presenting them, and marked filed by the Clerk. Upon the decision of the motion, the Clerk shall attach together the notice and affidavits, and indorse the same as having been read on the hearing. The counsel succeeding shall prepare a draft of the order. On "Law Days," and the first days of terms, the business usually assigned to those days shall take precedence of ordinary contested motions.

Rule 37. Motions, Service of Papers, and Time.—When a written notice of motion is necessary, it shall be given five days before the time appointed for the hearing; but the court, or one of the judges, may by special order prescribe a shorter time. A copy of all papers to be used by the moving party, except those before on file in the Clerk's office, shall be served with the notice of motion. The notice shall specify the papers upon which the moving party will rely.

Rule 38. Motion Days, Order of Proceedings.—On motion days the order of business, unless otherwise directed by the court, shall be as follows:

1st. Rendering decisions in such matters before submitted as are ready for decision.

2d. Ex parte motions.

3d. Contested motions.

Attorneys having motions on motion days will hand to the Clerk a memorandum containing the title of the cause in which the motion will be made, and the name of the attorney moving; also designating it as "ex parte," or "contested," as the case may be. The Clerk will make two calendars from the memoranda so furnished, one of "ex parte," and the other of "contested" motions, placing the motions on the calendar in the order in which they were received by him. The memoranda may be handed to the Clerk at any time during the week, and up to the opening of court on motion day. No motions will be heard, except those on the calendars, till the calendars are disposed of.

CALENDAR.

Rule 39. Calendar, When and How Made Up.—Five days before the commencement of every term the Clerk shall prepare two calendars, one of which, to be designated the "Law Calendar," shall contain all causes pending before the court, and ready for argument on demurrer or exceptions to pleadings, whether causes at law or in equity; the other—to be known as the "General Trial Calendar"—shall contain all causes which are ready for hearing, or trial, whether the same are criminal causes, or civil causes at law, in equity, or on appeal, or writ of error. Causes in which issue is joined, or which are brought into this court on appeals, or writs of error, and which are in a condition to be heard before the calling of the "General Trial Calendar" on the first day of the term, will also be placed thereon as of course; but civil causes not in a condition to go upon the calendar before such call will only be put upon the "General Trial Calendar" by order of the court, upon motion on notice to the adverse party. Causes will be entered upon the "Law Calendar" at any time during the term, when at issue, or ready for argument.

Rule 40. Special Calendars.—The "General Trial Calendar" shall be divided into special calendars, arranged in the following order:

1st. Of criminal causes.

2d. Of civil causes in which the United States is a party.

3d. Of other civil causes at law and in equity.

The causes on each special calendar shall be arranged in the order of the dates of their issues; and the Clerk shall indicate opposite each civil cause whether it is an action at law or in equity; and in actions at law in which a stipulation waiving a jury has been filed, that fact shall be noted.

Rule 41. General Trial Calendar When and How Called and Disposed of, etc.—The "General Trial Calendar" will be called on the first day of each term, and all causes be then set for trial for some particular day, continued for the term, or otherwise disposed of. Unless otherwise specially ordered, causes to be tried by a jury will be set together in the first part of the term; and causes in which a jury is waived, and equity causes, will be set together in the latter part of the term. In order that causes may be properly set, counsel will be expected to file their stipulations in writing, waiving a jury before or at this call of the calendar; but a jury may be waived at any time by special leave of the court. Subject to the foregoing provisions, causes will be set for trial in the same order as that in which they stand on the "General Trial Calendar," unless, for special reasons, the court shall otherwise direct; and all applications for setting a cause out of its regular order, and to correct the calendar, must be made on this call. Causes not answered to by either party on this call of the "General Trial Calendar" will be continued for the term; and on the third call of a cause on the "General Trial Calendar," without answer from either party, will be dismissed for want of prosecution.

Rule 42. Law Calendar, When and How Disposed of, etc.—On the second day of each term, unless otherwise ordered by the court, and on each subsequent rule day of the term upon which the court is in session, the Law Calendar will be called and disposed of; and such days shall be known in these rules as "Law Days." Upon the regular call of the law calendar, when no counsel appears to support a demurrer or exception, it will be overruled without any examination of the record; and a motion for new trial, under like circumstances, will in like manner be denied.

Rule 44. Absence of Parties When Cause Called, etc.—When a cause is regularly called for hearing or trial, if the complainant or plaintiff fails to appear, or to proceed to a hearing or trial, unless for sufficient cause shown the court shall otherwise direct, the defendant may have the cause dismissed. If the defendant fails to appear, the plaintiff may proceed ex parte. If neither party appears, the cause may be continued or dismissed in the discretion of the court.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES OF GENERAL APPLICATION.

Rule 45. Copies of Pleadings Served.—A party filing a pleading other than a complaint, or bill in equity, must, within the time required to file the same, serve a copy thereof on the attorney, solicitor, or proctor of the adverse party.

Rule 46. Pleadings, etc., How Engrossed, Paged, Numbered, Indorsed, etc.—All pleadings, before being filed, shall have the pages and lines numbered in the margin. All pleadings and documents intended for the files of the court shall be on white paper known as "Legal Cap," of good quality, and either printed, or written in a plainly legible hand, or legibly typewritten, without erasures or interlineations, except slight corrections, which must be noted by the Clerk and attested by his initials before filing; and each paper shall have legibly indorsed thereon the title of the cause, the character or title of the paper, and if a complaint, the character of the action, and the name of the attorney or attorneys. No pleading or document, which fails to conform to the requirements of this rule, shall be filed by the Clerk.

APPLICATION TO AMEND PLEADINGS.

Rule 47. Pleadings, How Amended, etc.—In cases at law or in equity, where the right to amend any pleading is not of course, the party desiring to amend shall serve with the notice of application to amend, an engrossed copy of the pleading, with the amendment incorporated therein, or a copy of the proposed amendment, referring to the page and line of the pleading where it is desired that the amendment shall be inserted; and, if the pleadings were verified, shall verify such amended pleading, or such proposed amendment, before the application shall be heard.

Rule 48. Amended Pleadings Engrossed, etc.—Whenever a pleading has been amended, the pleading, as amended, shall be engrossed and filed, unless otherwise directed by the court, and a copy of the amendment, where it has not been already served with the notice of motion to amend, shall be served on the attorney of the adverse party.

Rule 49. Parties Appearing in Person must Designate Place to Serve Papers.—In all cases in which a party shall appear in person, who is not an attorney, solicitor, or proctor of this court, or is a non-resident of this district, or who appears by an attorney, solicitor, or proctor who is a nonresident of this district, he shall indorse on his appearance, or his first pleading filed, a designation of the place within the city of Los Angeles where notices are to be served on him; and if he does not do so, a filing of any notice or paper in the case in the Clerk's office, with the papers in the case, shall be sufficient service.

GUARDIANS AD LITEM.

Rule 51. Guardian ad Litem, Who and When Appointed.—No person shall be appointed guardian ad litem, either upon the application of the infant or otherwise, unless he be the general guardian of the infant, or an attorney, or other officer of this court, or is fully competent to understand and protect the rights of the infant; has no interest adverse to that of the infant, and is not connected in business with the attorney or counsel of the adverse party; nor unless he be of sufficient pecuniary ability to answer to the infant for any damage which may be sustained for his negligence or misconduct in the defense of the suit.

Rule 52. Ibid., Attorneys shall Act as.—Every attorney or officer of the court shall act as guardian ad litem of an infant defendant, whenever appointed for that purpose by an order of the court. He shall examine into the circumstances of the case, so far as to enable him to make the proper defense, and shall be entitled to such compensation as the court may deem reasonable.

Rule 53. Ibid., must Give Security, Where, etc.—No guardian ad litem shall receive any money, or property, or proceeds of sale of real estate, until he has given security by bond, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his trust, in double the amount of such property or money, with two or more sureties, who shall justify as in other cases. Said bond shall be approved by the judge, and filed with the Clerk.

DEPOSITS OF MONEY IN COURT.

Rule 54. Moneys Paid into Court, How Disposed of, etc.—All moneys brought into court shall be paid to the Clerk of the court, unless the court shall otherwise direct, and when not immediately paid to the party entitled, be deposited by said Clerk, in his name of office, with such depository as may be designated by law, or by the court, when no place is so designated. The amount so received, the purpose for which it was paid into court, together with the fact of the deposit, as herein provided, shall be noted by the Clerk in the register of actions in the particular cause in which it is received.

Rule 55. Orders on Depositories.—Orders on depositories for the payment of money out of court shall be signed by the Clerk, and countersigned by a judge of the court.

Rule 56. Records and Files not to be Taken from the Clerk's Office, etc.—No record or paper belonging to the files of the court shall be taken from the office or custody of the Clerk, except upon the special order of the court or judge, and a receipt from the party obtaining it, specifying the record or paper; and no order will be made, except upon cogent reasons.

Whenever it is necessary for a judge, master, examiner, commissioner, clerk, or other officer of the court to use, for purposes of the action, at places other than the clerk's office, courtroom, or judge's chambers, pleadings or other papers which are ultimately to constitute a part of the judgment-roll, or of the record of a decree, certified copies thereof shall be furnished by the Clerk, and the expense taxed as costs in the case.

Rule 57. Counsel must Prepare Orders, Judgments, etc.—The counsel obtaining any order, judgment, or decree, may be required by the Clerk to furnish a draft of the same.

Rule 58. Instruments upon Which Judgments Entered, How Disposed of, etc.—In all cases in which a judgment or decree is entered upon a written instrument, the Clerk shall, at the time of entering the judgment or decree, note over his official signature, across the face of the instrument, the fact of the entry of the judgment, and its date, with the name of the court; and thereafter, unless the instrument is canceled, or annulled, by the decree of the court, he may return it to the party entitled upon his request, and upon his filing in the cause a copy thereof, and of the memoranda thereon, certified by the Clerk to be a true copy.

Rule 59. Orders of Course, When may be Entered, etc.—All rules which, by the practice of this court, either party is entitled to enter without special application to the court, may be entered as well in vacation as in term, and shall have the like effect as if entered in term.

Rule 60. Briefs and Records, How Printed.—When briefs, points or records are printed, they shall be printed on unruled white writing paper, ten inches long by seven inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge of not less than two inches wide. The printed page, exclusive of any marginal note or reference, shall be seven inches long, and three and one-half inches wide. Small pica solid is the smallest letter and most compact mode of composition allowed.

Rule 61. Bonds must have Affidavits or Sureties, etc.—No bond, or stipulation, or undertaking, will in any case be approved, unless it is accompanied by the affidavit of the sureties, that they are each residents and householders or freeholders within the district, and worth the amount specified therein over and above all their just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution, except that, where the amount exceeds three thousand dollars, they may state in their affidavits that they are severally worth amounts less than that expressed in the bond, stipulation, or undertaking, if the whole amount is equivalent to that of two sufficient sureties.

Rule 62. Costs, Clerk may Require Deposits, etc.—Upon the commencement of an action, the Clerk shall be entitled to require from the plaintiff the payment of the fees for issuing process, with the necessary number of copies; and in addition thereto, a deposit of ten dollars as security for any further fees that may become chargeable against the plaintiff; and upon the entering of the appearance, or the filing of a demurrer, plea, answer, or other paper, on behalf of a defendant, or of defendants, where several appear or plead jointly, the Clerk shall be entitled to require from such defendant, or defendants, a similar deposit. At the termination of the cause, each party making a deposit as security for fees shall be entitled, upon demand, to receive back from the Clerk any balance due him, after deducting the amount of all fees and costs properly chargeable or recoverable against such party. If, at any time, the fees for service rendered either party shall exceed the deposit, the Clerk shall be entitled to payment therefor upon demand, and to decline to perform any further service for such party till a compliance with such demand. All costs, chargeable to either party, paid to the Clerk by the prevailing party, shall be entered as a part of any judgment for costs entered in his favor. In causes removed from State courts, and causes on appeal, or writ of error from the United States District Court, the like deposits may be required as in causes originally commenced in this court.

CRIMINAL CASES.

Rule 63. Impaneling and Challenging Jurors in Criminal Causes.—In all criminal trials, the designation, impaneling, and challenging of jurors shall conform to the laws of this State existing at the time, except as otherwise provided by Acts of Congress, or the rules of this court; but a juror shall be challenged, or accepted and sworn, in the case as soon as his examination is completed, and before the examination of another juror.

Rule 64. Arrest on Indictment, Order of Course.—On filing an indictment found by the grand jury against a party not in custody or on bail, an order shall be entered as of course for a bench warrant, to be issued under the seal of the court, for the arrest of the persons indicted.

Rule 65. Criminal Cases, Pleas or Misnomer Abolished, etc.—Pleas in abatement on the ground of misnomer are abolished. When the defendant is arraigned, he shall be informed that if the name by which he is indicted be not his true name, he must then declare his true name or be proceeded against by the name in the indictment. If he give no other name the court may proceed accordingly. If he alleges that another name is his true name, the court shall direct an entry thereof in the minutes of the arraignment; and the subsequent proceedings on the indictment may be had against him by that name, referring also to the name by which he was indicted.

EQUITY—INJUNCTIONS.

Rule 66. Failure to Prosecute—Bill Dismissed.—Within ninety days after the filing of a bill in equity in this court, the complainant in such bill shall cause process to be issued thereon, and make a bona fide effort to procure service of such process upon each defendant named in the bill who has not voluntarily made a general appearance in the case, and in default thereof, any defendant, who has not so appeared, upon due notice to the complainant, no good cause for the neglect appearing, shall be entitled to have the bill dismissed for want of prosecution.

Rule 67. Injunctions, How Cause Against Shown.—On a motion for an injunction, the defendant may show cause against its allowance, either by plea, answer, or demurrer to the bill, or by parol exception to its legal sufficiency, or by depositions and affidavits disproving the equity on which the motion is founded.

Rule 68. Further Proofs, When not Admissible.—Further proofs will not be heard on behalf of the complainant, in reply to defendant's answer and proofs responsive to the case made by the bill and accompanying proofs of complainant; but the complainant may be allowed, in the discretion of the court, to rebut new affirmative matter set up by the defendant constituting cause against the allowance of an injunction.

FINES AND PENALTIES.

Rule 76. Fines and Penalties, How Disposed of.—When a fine or penalty is paid into court, and the whole shall belong to the United States—or one-half shall belong to the government, and the other half thereof to any other party—the Clerk shall, as soon as practicable, under the direction of the court, pay to the proper depository the amount thereof belonging to the United States; and any person claiming any portion of such fine or penalty, as the discoverer or informer, or prosecutor of the offender incurring such fine or penalty, shall file with the Clerk of the court his affidavit and such other papers as he may think proper, showing his right to a moiety of such fine or penalty; and thereupon, on notice to the parties interested, and the United States District Attorney, or in such manner as the court may direct, the court will make the proper order for payment to the parties entitled thereto.

Rule 77. Under Internal Revenue Act.—In cases arising under the act "To Provide Internal Revenue," etc., the person so claiming shall file, with such affidavit and papers, the written consent of the Collector of Internal Revenue of the district in which such fine or penalty was incurred, that a moiety shall be paid to such claimants—or shall show, by affidavit, that a copy of such affidavit and papers, with a notice of the application for distribution and payment, has been served on such collector, and on the United States District Attorney, five days before the time noticed for making such application. But, in special circumstances, the court may direct such other notice or proceedings as the exigencies of the case may require.

REMOVAL OF ACTIONS FROM STATE COURTS.Rule 78. Proceedings on Removal of Causes from State Courts.—

Whenever an action is removed to this court from a State court in pursuance of any act of Congress, the proper papers may be filed, as of course, at the time authorized by law; and thereupon the Clerk shall enter the action upon his register, and thenceforth the proceedings therein shall be the same as if said suit had been originally commenced in this court, and the same proceedings had been taken in such suit in this court, as shall have been had therein in said State court prior to its removal. But the plaintiff in such action may, as of course, amend his complaint, or bill, within five days after the time designated by law for filing the papers in this court, and in that case the defendant shall have ten days after service of a copy of the amended complaint, or bill, to plead thereto. If the complaint, or bill, be not so amended within the time herein limited, the defendant may, within five days after the expiration of such time, plead to the original complaint, or bill; or, if he has already pleaded to the same in the State court, amend his said pleading, as of course. But this rule shall not be so construed as to authorize the substitution or addition of a new and wholly different cause of action from that transferred from the State court. Whenever the papers in a case removed from a State court have not been filed in this court, at the day appointed by law, the party thereafter filing the papers shall give notice thereof to the adverse party, and such adverse party shall, after such notice, have the time allowed in this rule to enter his appearance in this court and plead, or amend his pleading.

Rule 79. Filing of Transcript on Removal.—Whenever the proper proceedings have been perfected in a State court to remove a case from such court to this court, pursuant to any statute of the United States, either party may at any time thereafter, as of course, file the transcript required by law in this court, and serve written notice of such filing upon the adverse party or his attorney; and upon filing in this court satisfactory evidence of the service of such notice, the Clerk shall enter the action upon his register, and thenceforth the provisions of Rule 78 of this court shall be applicable thereto; and the same proceedings may be thereafter had as if the transcript had been filed by the party removing the case at the time prescribed by law.

BANKRUPTCY.

Rule 1.—Checks or warrants drawn pursuant to Number 29 of the General Orders in Bankruptcy, adopted and established by the Supreme Court of the United States, November the 29th, 1898, shall be countersigned by the referee having jurisdiction of the case to which the moneys so drawn against belong. Copies of this rule and of said General Order shall be furnished by the Clerk of this court to each depository within the district.

Rule 9. It is Ordered, that the Referees in Bankruptcy of said court be, and are hereby vested with jurisdiction in all bankruptcy cases within the limits of their respective counties, to perform all the duties conferred on courts of bankruptcy, which Referees may be required or authorized to perform; except as otherwise provided by General Order in Bankruptcy, No. 12.

Rule 11. The Clerk shall deliver to the referee a copy of the order of reference, or transmit the same by mail to the referees having their offices outside of the city of Los Angeles, and thereafter all proceedings, except such as are required by the bankruptcy act, to be had before the judge, shall be had before the referee, who shall fix the time when and the place where he will act upon the matters arising in the case.

Rule 12. The petition for a discharge, or for a confirmation of a composition, must be filed with the Clerk of the court. There must also be presented therewith a report or certificate of the referee, to whom said case shall have been referred, that the bankrupt has in all things conformed to the requirements of the act, and that he has committed none of the offenses and done none of the things prohibited in b of section 14, of the act, and that he is, in the opinion of the referee, entitled to his discharge.

Rule 13. The order to show cause why a discharge should not be granted may be entered by the Clerk, or his deputy, and notice, stating the time and place of the hearing, must be given, as provided in section 58, of the act, as amended June 25, 1910, to all known creditors and other persons in interest, by mail, and publication once, at least thirty (30) days prior to said hearing. If no creditor or other party in interest appears and opposes, the discharge shall be granted. In case a creditor or other party in interest desires to oppose the granting of the discharge, he shall appear on the return day, and thereafter file a verified specification of the ground of his opposition, as provided in General Order 32.

ADMIRALTY.

Notice of Seizures and of Time and Place of Hearing.—The notice of seizures and of the time and place appointed for trial, and of the time assigned for the return of the process and hearing of the cause, required by section 923, R. S., and by Admiralty Rule 9, shall be published three times in some daily or weekly newspaper of general circulation in the city in which said trial or hearing will be had, and the first publication thereof shall be made not less than fourteen days before the day assigned for such trial or hearing, and said notice shall also be posted in a public manner at or near the place of trial or hearing, at least fourteen days prior to the time thereof.

RULES—SUPREME COURT AND DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL—CALIFORNIA.

(Adopted January 16, 1912. In effect March 18, 1912.)

Rule 1. Admission of Attorneys.—1. Applicants for license to practice as attorneys and counselors will be examined in open Court, by the Court authorized by law to act in that behalf, and at such regular times as such Court shall fix. Until further order the examination will be based upon the following books: Blackstone's "Commentaries," Kent's "Commentaries," Greenleaf's "Evidence" (first volume), Story's "Equity Jurisprudence," Gould's "Pleading," Lube's "Equity Pleading," Parsons on "Contracts," Pomeroy's "Introduction to Municipal Law," Code of Civil Procedure, Civil Code, Constitutions of the United States and of the State of California. Persons applying for admission, whether upon examination or motion, must personally appear in Court at the time the application for admission is made. No applicant will be examined unless there shall have been filed with the Clerk of the Court, before the day on which the application is made, a certificate signed by at least two attorneys of the Court, each of whom shall have been regularly engaged in practice as such attorney for at least four years next theretofore, stating, in substance, that they have, and that each of them has, carefully and diligently examined the applicant touching the qualifications of such applicant in point of learning in the law; that it satisfactorily appeared to them, and to each of them, upon such examination, that the applicant had been engaged in the study of the law for a period of time to be named in the certificate, naming the place at which, and the person under whom, if any, such study had been prosecuted; that the applicant had, during that time, read certain books of law, which books shall be enumerated in the certificate; and stating any other fact tending to show the character of the attainments of the applicant, and also stating that, in their opinion, the applicant possesses the requisite qualifications in point of learning in the law to be entitled to be admitted to practice.

2. Fee.—The fee for license must in all cases be deposited with the Clerk of such Court before the application is made, to be returned to the applicant in case of rejection.

3. Rejection.—Applicants must apply for examination to the District Court of Appeal of the Appellate District in which they reside. Provided, that a person may make application and be examined and admitted in another Appellate District upon filing with his application a written statement showing good cause therefor, satisfactory to the Court to which he applies, accompanied by the written consent of the Presiding Justice of the Appellate District in which he resides. No person rejected shall be at liberty to renew his application in any Court earlier than six months after such rejection.

Rule 2. Transcript.—1. The appellant in a civil action shall within forty days after an appeal is perfected, except as hereinafter stated, serve and file the transcript of the record, duly certified to be correct by the attorneys of the respective parties, or by the Clerk of the Court from which the appeal is taken. If a proceeding is pending for the settlement of a bill of exceptions or statement which may be used in support of such appeal, the time aforesaid shall not begin to run until the settled and authenticated statement or a bill of exceptions has been filed. When a party appealing from a judgment has given notice of motion for a new trial before perfecting said appeal, the time aforesaid shall not begin to run until the motion for a new trial has been decided, or the proceeding therefor dismissed. If the transcript for use on appeal is prepared under the provisions of section 953a of the Code of Civil Procedure and a notice is filed by the appellant requesting a transcript of the phonographic report, the time for filing the transcript of the record on appeal shall not begin to run until such phonographic report is approved and certified by the judge or until the proceeding to obtain the same has been terminated in the Court below by dismissal or otherwise. An appeal from a judgment and from any order denying a new trial of the issue may in all cases be presented in the same transcript.

2. Evidence of Service.—Written evidence of the service upon the adverse party of the transcript shall be filed therewith.

3. Extension of Time.—The time above limited may be extended by order, based on stipulation or affidavit, showing good cause therefor.

4. Briefs.—Thirty days after the filing of the transcript, the appellant shall file with the Clerk his printed points and authorities, with proof of the service of one copy thereof upon the attorney or attorneys of each respondent who shall have appeared separately in the Superior Court. Within thirty days after the service of appellant's points and authorities, the respondent shall serve and file his printed points and authorities; and within ten days after service of respondent's points the appellant may serve and file a reply.

In criminal cases the appellant shall file his points and authorities (with proof of service of a copy thereof on the Attorney General) within ten days after the filing of the transcript. The Attorney General shall serve and file his points and authorities within ten days after service upon him of the appellant's points, and within five days thereafter the appellant may serve and file a reply. Such points and authorities may be either printed or typewritten.

5. Extension of Time on Briefs.—The time above limited for filing points and authorities shall not be extended except by order of the Court upon stipulation of the parties, or an affidavit showing good cause therefor. No brief shall be filed after oral argument except by special order.

6. Twenty-one Copies of Transcript and Points to be Filed.—The party wishing to file any printed paper shall prepare the original and twenty copies thereof. If such paper is to be filed in the District Court of Appeal, the original and three copies shall be filed therein, and the remaining seventeen copies shall be simultaneously delivered to the Clerk of the Supreme Court. If it is to be filed in the Supreme Court, the original must be accompanied by the twenty copies, unless it is an application to the Supreme Court for the hearing of a cause decided by the District Court of Appeal, in which case the party shall deliver to the Clerk of said District Court one copy for each Justice of said Court and file the original and seventeen copies in the Supreme Court. Papers not required to be printed are subject to these provisions if they are, in fact, printed. If not printed, they must be in typewriting, and (except as provided in the next succeeding paragraph) three copies must be filed with the original. A carbon copy must not be used for the original.

In civil cases appealed under the provisions of sections 953a, 953b and 953c of the Code of Civil Procedure, and in criminal cases appealed under the provisions of sections 1246, 1247, 1247a and 1247b of the Penal Code, the record upon appeal shall be prepared and transmitted to the Court to which the appeal is taken, in accordance with said sections; and no further copies of such record shall be required.

When such appeal is taken to the Supreme Court, or has been transferred thereto from a District Court of Appeal, the record shall be kept in the San Francisco office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

7. Disposition of Papers.—Copies of all printed papers, points and briefs filed in any matter appealed, must be deposited with the Clerk of the Court from which the appeal is taken; and the copies so deposited shall, by said Clerk, be delivered to the Judge who presided at the trial of the cause in the lower court.

8. Orders Extending Time.—The Chief Justice is authorized in the name of the Supreme Court to make orders in conformity to the stipulation of the parties, extending time for filing records and briefs; and in other matters of mere routine pending in the Supreme Court. An order indorsed on the stipulation in the following form is sufficient:

“So ordered by the Court.C. J.”

It is desirable that all stipulations should be expressed in terms as brief as may be consistent with clarity.

The Chief Justice is also authorized in the name of the Court to make orders in State causes extending time to file briefs on application of the Attorney General.

The presiding justices of the three District Courts of Appeal shall have similar authority as to causes pending in their respective courts.

Rule 3. Indorsement on Transcript.—There must be indorsed upon the cover of the printed transcript the name of the county from which the appeal is taken, and also the name of the Judge of the Superior Court whose decision is presented for review and the names and addresses of the attorneys representing the parties to the appeal.

Rule 4. Calendar for Oral Argument.—Thirty days before the commencement of a regular session the Clerk shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Court, place on the calendar for oral argument all cases which have been continued for such argument, and also, in the order in which the transcripts were filed, all cases in which points and authorities are on file, and also all motions and original proceedings pending and not under submission. Cases in certiorari shall, after the record is brought up by the return, be subject to the same rules with respect to argument and submission as cases on appeal.

Rule 5. Dismissal of Appeal.—1. If the transcript of the record or appellant's points and authorities be not filed within the time prescribed, the appeal may be dismissed on motion, upon notice given. If the transcript, or the points and authorities, though not filed within the time prescribed, be on file at the time such notice is given, that fact shall be sufficient answer to the motion. If the respondent shall not file his points and authorities within the time allowed therefor, the cause may be submitted for decision upon the motion of the appellant, on notice thereof to the respondent.

2. If an appeal is attempted to be taken after the time limited by law, and papers are filed, either in the trial Court or in an Appellate Court, in pursuance of such attempt, such purported appeal may be dismissed on motion of respondent, supported by certificate of affidavits, or both, as provided in Rule 6.

Rule 6. Certificate of Clerk on Motion to Dismiss.—1. On motion to dismiss an appeal for a failure to file the transcript within the prescribed time, there shall be presented the certificate of the Clerk below, under the seal of the Court, certifying the amount or character of the judgment or order appealed from, the date of its rendition, the fact and date of the filing of the notice of appeal, together with the fact and date of service thereof on the adverse party, and the character of the evidence by which said service appears; the fact and date of filing an undertaking on appeal and that the same is in due form; the fact and time of the settlement of the bill of exceptions, or statement on appeal or reporter's transcript prepared under section 953a of the Code of Civil Procedure, if there be any the names of the attorneys of the respective parties; and also that the appellant has received a duly certified transcript, or that he has not requested the clerk to certify to a correct transcript of the record, or, if he has made such a request, that he has not paid the fees therefor, if the same have been demanded.

2. Affidavits.—On motion to dismiss the appeal on any other ground than the failure to file transcript within the prescribed time, the moving papers shall consist of the certificate of the Clerk of the Court below, as to any of the matters above mentioned, or of affidavits, or both such certificate and affidavits.

3. Service of Moving Papers.—Copies of the moving papers, except the transcript, shall be served with notice of the motion.

Rule 7. Form of Transcript.—1. All transcripts of record, except in criminal cases and civil cases coming under the provisions of section 953a of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be printed on unruled white writing paper, ten inches long by seven inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge not less than two inches wide. The printed pages, exclusive of any marginal note or reference shall be seven inches long and three and one-half inches wide. The folios, embracing ten lines each, shall be numbered from the commencement to the end, and the numbering of the folio shall be printed on the left margin of the page. Small pica, solid, is the smallest letter and most compact mode of composition allowed.

2. Transcripts on appeal in civil cases, prepared under section 953a of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the papers and transcript of the proceedings required to be sent to the Appellate Court in criminal cases, must be typewritten and the paper and the backs for binding the same must not exceed ten inches in length and eight inches in width. The leaves must be bound together on the left-hand side in volumes of convenient size. The papers required to be sent by the Clerk under section 1246 of the Penal Code, and, in civil cases under section 953a, the papers constituting the ordinary judgment-roll, are here designated as the "Clerk's Transcript," and the certified transcriptions of the phonographic reporter's notes required by section 1247a of the Penal Code, and by section 953a in civil cases are here designated as the "Reporter's Transcript." The respective papers in the Clerk's Transcript must be placed in chronological order, and if it is bound with the Reporter's Transcript, it must come first in order. The pages of the Clerk's Transcript and those of the Reporter's Transcript must be numbered separately by consecutive numbers. The lines of each page must be numbered separately and consecutively. An index of each transcript must be inserted in the beginning thereof, referring to each document and to the page beginning the examination, cross-examination, redirect, and recall of each witness.

Rule 8. Index and Arrangement of Transcript.—The pleadings, proceedings, and statement shall be chronologically arranged in the transcript, and each transcript shall be prefaced with an alphabetical index, specifying the page of each separate paper, order, or proceeding, and of the testimony of each witness; and the transcript shall have at least one blank flysheet cover. The chronological arrangement of the several parts of the transcript, and a strict compliance with the other requirements of this rule will be exacted of the appellant or party filing the record in all cases, whether objection by the opposite party be made or not; and for any failure or neglect in these respects, which is found to obstruct the examination of the record, the appeal may be dismissed.

Rule 9. Maps.—Whenever a map or survey or photograph forms a part of the transcript, it shall not be necessary to furnish more than one copy thereof, which shall be annexed to the transcript filed with and certified by the Clerk, and reference thereto shall be made in the other copies.

Rule 10. Penalty for Nonconformity With Rules.—No transcript, or other paper or document, which fails to conform to the requirements of these rules shall be filed by the Clerk.

Rule 11. Transcript, Service and Certificate.—Before the printed transcript is filed, a copy thereof shall be served upon the adverse party, and if there be more than one adverse party appearing by different attorneys, upon the attorney of each party so appearing. If a party shall present to the attorney of the adverse party a transcript on appeal, in a civil cause, and request his certificate that the same is correct, and said attorney, upon such request, shall, for a period of five days, neglect or refuse to join in such certificate, or, if deemed incorrect, shall neglect or refuse, for the same time, to serve upon the party making the request a written statement of the particulars in which the transcript is incorrect, or, upon the presentation of the transcript corrected in the particulars thus specified, shall still neglect or refuse for a period of two days to join in such certificate, the costs of procuring the certificate to such transcript from the Clerk of the proper Court shall be taxed against the party whose attorney so neglects or refuses.

Rule 12. Clerk may Print Transcripts and Certify to Same.—1. The written transcript, in civil causes, authenticated in the mode prescribed by Rule 11, together with sufficient funds to pay the expenses of printing the same, may be transmitted to the Clerk of the Court to which the appeal is taken. The Clerk, upon the receipt thereof, shall file the same and cause the transcript to be printed, and to a printed copy shall annex his certificate that the said printed transcript is a full and correct copy of the transcript furnished to him by the party; and said certificate shall be prima facie evidence that the same is correct. The said printed copy so certified shall also be filed, and constitute the record of the cause in said Court, subject to be corrected by reference to the written transcript on file. Printed copies thereof shall be furnished, as provided in Rule 2; and the Clerk shall also immediately transmit, by mail or express, copies to the attorneys of the adverse parties, and note such service on the original.

2. Points Where Clerk Prints Record.—The time for filing points and authorities, in cases where the record is printed by the Clerk, shall commence to run from the filing of the printed copy of the transcript.

Rule 13. Cost of Printing.—The expense of printing transcripts on appeal in civil causes and pleadings, affidavits, or other papers constituting the record in original proceedings upon which the case is heard, required by these rules to be printed, shall be allowed as costs, and taxed in bills of costs in the usual mode.

Rule 14. Suggestion of Diminution of Record.—For the purpose of correcting any error or defect in the transcript, either party may suggest the same in writing, and upon good cause shown, obtain an order that the proper Clerk certify to the Court in which the case is then pending, the whole or part of the record, as may be required, or may produce the same duly certified without such order. If the attorney or counsel of the adverse party be absent, or the fact of the alleged error or defect be disputed, the suggestion, except when a certified copy of the omitted record is produced at the time, must be accompanied by an affidavit showing the existence of the error or defect alleged.

Rule 15. Exceptions to Transcript.—Exceptions or objections to the transcript, statement, the bond or undertaking on appeal, the notice of appeal, or to its service, or any technical exception or objection to the record in civil cases, affecting the right of the appellant to be heard on the points of error assigned, which might be cured on suggestion of diminution of the record, must be taken and notified to the appellant, in writing, at least five days before the hearing, or they will not be regarded; and when so noted, it shall be the duty of the appellant to present and file at the hearing of the cause such additional record, certificate, or other matter, if such there be, to remove or answer the objection or exception so taken; otherwise such objection or exception, if well taken, shall prevail.

Rule 16. Suggestion of Death of Party.—Upon the death, or other disability, of a party, pending an appeal, his representative shall be substituted in the suit, by proper proceedings for that purpose in the trial Court. Upon suggestion thereof and the presentation of a certified copy of the order of substitution made by the trial Court, a like order of substitution will be made in the Court in which the case is pending on appeal, and the cause shall proceed as in other cases.

Rule 17. Calendar.—Criminal causes shall be placed at the head of the calendar, and shall be followed by such other causes as are preferred by law. Other causes shall be arranged on the calendar of the respective courts, as the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or the Presiding Justice of the District Court of Appeal, respectively, may direct.

Rule 18. Printing of Points, etc.—In all cases where a paper or document is required by these rules to be printed, it shall be printed upon similar paper and in the same style and form (except the numbering of the folios in the margin), as is prescribed for the printing of transcripts.

Rule 19. Oral Argument.—No more than one counsel upon a side will be heard upon the oral argument, except when otherwise ordered; but each defendant, or intervener, who appeared separately in the Court below may be heard through his own counsel, unless the Court otherwise order. The counsel for each party shall be allowed only one hour, unless an extension of time is ordered before the argument begins.

Rule 20. Regular Sessions—Motions—Time of Notice.—1. For the purpose of hearing motions of which notice is required to be given, the Supreme Court will be in session at San Francisco on the first Monday of each month at 10 o'clock A. M., except when the regular sessions at Sacramento and Los Angeles are held during the week beginning on that day. Motions may also be presented and submitted on the first day of each regular session of said Court at Sacramento and Los Angeles.

2. Each District Court of Appeal shall be in session for the hearing of causes at such times and for such periods as such Court may, by order, direct. Each of said Courts shall, by general order, provide for a regular session for said purpose to be held at least once in each quarter. For the purpose of hearing motions, each District Court of Appeal shall be in session on the fourth Monday in each month at 10 o'clock A. M.

3. In all cases where notice of a motion is necessary, unless for good cause shown the time is shortened by the Court or by the Chief Justice or Presiding Justice thereof, the notice shall be ten days.

Rule 21. Opinion Transmitted With Remittitur.—When a case on appeal or certiorari is finally decided, a certified copy of the opinion in the case shall be transmitted with the remittitur, to the Court below, or to the tribunal whose record is reviewed.

Rule 22. Copy for Service in Habeas Corpus.—Any person applying for a writ of habeas corpus shall furnish with the petition a copy thereof for service upon the party to whom the writ shall be addressed. Such copy shall be delivered to the officer with the writ for service, and shall be by him delivered to the party on whom service is made, with the writ.

Rule 23. Costs.—In civil cases the Clerk shall not be required to remit the final papers until the costs are paid. In all cases in which the judgment or order appealed from is reversed or modified, and the order of reversal or modification contains no directions as to the costs of appeal, the Clerk will enter upon the record, and insert in the remittitur, a judgment that the appellant recover the costs of appeal.

Rule 24. Dismissal of Appeal on Stipulation.—An appeal or writ of error may be dismissed at any time, upon and in accordance with the written stipulation of the attorneys of record of the respective parties. Such stipulation shall be accompanied by a certificate of the Clerk of the Court below, showing the names of attorneys of the respective parties and the date and character of the judgment or order appealed from. Upon and in accordance with such stipulation, and upon order of the Court, the Clerk shall enter such dismissal, and the remittitur shall issue thereon in accordance with the terms of such stipulation.

Rule 25. Inspection of Original Papers.—When the inspection of an original paper, which was offered in evidence in the Court below, is shown to be necessary to a correct decision of the appeal, the Court may order the Clerk of the Court below to transmit such original paper, if in his possession, to the Clerk of the Court; and if such paper be in the possession of a party to the action, he may produce the same on the hearing of the cause, or he may, upon motion and notice of the adverse party, be required to produce such paper on the hearing of the cause; and in default thereof, the Court will intend the paper to be, in all respects, as alleged by the opposite party.

Rule 26. Reasons for Original Application to the Court to be Stated.—1. When any application is made to the Supreme Court, or to a District Court of Appeal, for a writ of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, procedendo, or for any prerogative writ to be issued in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, and such application might have been lawfully made to a lower Court in the first instance, the affidavit or petition, in addition to the necessary matter requisite by the rules of law to support the application, shall also set forth the circumstances which, in the opinion of the applicant, render it proper that the writ should issue originally from the Appellate Court to which such application is made, and not from such lower Court. The sufficiency or insufficiency of such circumstances, so set forth in that behalf will be determined by the Court in awarding or refusing the application. In case any Court, Judge, or other officer, or any board, or other tribunal in the discharge of duties of a public character, be named in the application as respondent, the affidavit or petition shall also disclose the name or names of the real party or parties, if any, in interest, or whose interest would be directly affected by the proceedings.

2. Memorandum of Authorities.—All ex parte applications for the issuance of writs in the exercise of original jurisdiction shall be typewritten or printed, and filed with the Clerk of the Court to which such application is made, and the same shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities in support of the application.

3. Return and Issuance of Writ.—Upon the return day of the alternative writ, the respondent may make return, either by demurrer or by answer, or by both. If the return be by demurrer alone and the demurrer is not sustained, the writ will be ordered to issue without leave to answer over.

4. Stay of Proceedings.—When an application is made for an alternative writ, an order staying the proceedings of any Court or officer, until the return of the writ, will not be made unless due notice of the application for the writ shall have been given to all the parties interested in the proceedings.

Rule 27. Settlement of Bills of Exceptions on Death of Judge.—When the Judge before whom an action was tried is dead, or has been removed from office, or resigns, any unsettled bill of exceptions, or statement on motion for new trial therein, may be settled and certified by his successor in office; or, if he be disqualified, by a Judge of the same or an adjoining county. And when the Judge before whom an action was tried becomes disqualified, or is absent from the State, such bill of exceptions or statement may be settled and certified before a Judge of the same or an adjoining county.

Rule 28. Rehearings and Opinions.—1. All orders of the Supreme Court granting rehearings, or for hearing in bank causes decided in Departments, or for hearing in the Supreme Court after decision in a District Court of Appeal, shall be signed by the members of the Court assenting thereto, and filed with the Clerk.

2. Opinions Within Ninety Days After Submission.—Every opinion of the Supreme Court which shall have received the assent of a sufficient number of the members of the Court to order the judgment therein directed, shall be filed within ninety days after the submission of the cause in which such opinion is written.

3. Filing of Opinions.—Opinions of the Supreme Court will be kept in the office of the Clerk in San Francisco. If the opinion is in a case submitted in another District, a certified copy thereof shall immediately be transmitted to the Clerk's office of such District, and there kept on file.

Rule 29. Authentication of Papers.—In all cases of appeal from the orders of the Superior Courts, the papers and evidence used or taken on the hearing of the motion must be authenticated by incorporating the same in a bill of exceptions, except where another mode of authentication is provided by law.

Rule 30. Applications for Rehearing.—1. Applications for a rehearing of a cause by the Court rendering the judgment therein must be filed and a copy served on the adverse party, within twenty days after the judgment is pronounced. The adverse party may file an answer thereto not less than two days before the expiration of the time within which the rehearing can be granted.

2. The submission of a cause to a Department of the Supreme Court without oral argument shall be deemed to be a waiver of an oral argument of the same in bank, if for any reason the same is thereafter ordered to be heard in bank; and when the order that the cause be heard in bank is made, the same shall be at once submitted for decision, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

3. Applications after a judgment of a District Court of Appeal has become final, for an order that the cause be heard and determined by the Supreme Court, must be accompanied by a copy of the opinion of the District Court of Appeal, showing the date of the filing thereof, and must be filed and a copy served on the adverse party, within ten days after the judgment of the District Court of Appeal has become final therein. The adverse party may file an answer thereto not less than ten days before the time for making such order for hearing in the Supreme Court will expire.

4. The time herein prescribed shall not be extended, and the Clerk must not file any such application or answer after the time therefor has expired. In civil cases such applications and answers must be printed.

Rule 31. Applications for the Transfer of Causes.—Applications, before judgment, to have a cause pending in a Department of the Supreme Court heard in bank, or to transfer a cause from the Supreme Court to a District Court of Appeal, or from a District Court of Appeal to the Supreme Court, or to another District Court of Appeal, must set forth briefly the questions involved in the cause and the reasons why it should be heard by the Court in bank, or transferred as requested, and must be made before the submission of the cause in the Court in which it is pending.

Rule 32. Transfer of Appeals not Taken to the Proper Court.—

When a District Court of Appeal decides that the appeal should have been taken to another District Court of Appeal or to the Supreme Court, it shall make an order to that effect, and the Clerk of such Court shall immediately transmit to such other Court all papers in the cause on file in his office, including the opinion of the Court upon which such order was made, and thereupon such cause shall be deemed to be duly transferred to the proper Court, according to such order, without further proceeding.

Rule 33. Transfer of Causes, Records and Papers.—1. When the Judges of a District Court of Appeal fail to agree on a judgment in any cause, and their opinions have been forwarded to the Supreme Court, thereupon, of its own motion, or upon suggestion of either party in open Court or in Chambers, the Supreme Court will order such cause transferred to the Supreme Court, or to another District Court of Appeal, to be there heard and determined. The order may be made by the Chief Justice, in the name of the Court.

2. When a cause is transferred to the Supreme Court, or to a District Court of Appeal, for any cause except that it was appealed to the wrong Court, the Clerk of the Supreme Court must immediately send a certified copy of the order to the Court in which the cause was pending, unless it was pending in the Supreme Court. If it is transferred from the Supreme Court, the Clerk must immediately send to the Court to which it is transferred all the written papers, all exhibits, and the original and three copies of all printed papers on file in such cause in his office, and must preserve the remaining printed copies for subsequent disposition. If it is transferred from one District Court of Appeal to another, or to the Supreme Court, the Clerk of the Court from which it is transferred must, on receipt of a copy of the order of transfer, send to the Court to which it is transferred all papers and records on file in said cause in his office, if the order is made before judgment; if such order is made after judgment he must send all written papers and the original of all printed papers.

The Clerk of the Supreme Court must also send to the Court to which the cause is transferred, if it is a District Court of Appeal, a certified copy of the order of transfer, and if the order is made upon a failure to agree upon a judgment, the opinions of the Judges, which have been forwarded to the Supreme Court.

Rule 34. Remittiturs and Disposition of Copies.—1. When a judgment of a District Court of Appeal becomes final therein, the remittitur shall not be issued until after the lapse of thirty days thereafter, unless otherwise ordered.

2. At the expiration of said thirty days, if no order for hearing has been made by the Supreme Court, the Clerk of the District Court of Appeal shall forthwith send to the Secretary of the Supreme Court, a copy of the opinion of the District Court of Appeal upon which such final judgment was given.

3. Thereupon the seventeen copies of the printed papers in such cause which are, in accordance with these rules, in the custody of the Supreme Court, shall be distributed as required by law and as ordered by said Court.

4. When a judgment of the Supreme Court, in a cause filed after these rules take effect, has become final, seventeen copies of the printed papers must be distributed as provided in subdivision 3 hereof.

5. When a cause, pending at the time these rules take effect, is, or has been, transferred to a District Court of Appeal for decision, there shall be sent to such District Court of Appeal all the written papers on file and the original and three copies only of the printed papers on file. If such cause is thereafter ordered to the Supreme Court or to another District Court of Appeal, all of said papers shall be transmitted to the Court to which the cause is transferred.

Rule 35. Service on Attorney General Where State or County is Interested.—In all criminal cases, and in all other cases where the State or any officer thereof in his official capacity is a party, and in all cases to which any county may be a party, unless the interest of the county is adverse to the State or to some officer thereof acting in his official capacity, no transcript on appeal or brief on behalf of the State or of such county or officer whom the Attorney General is empowered to represent, shall be received or filed without proof of the service of such transcript or brief upon the Attorney General. On such transcript or brief there shall not be printed the name of any person as attorney for the State or for such county or officer of the State, other than the name of the Attorney General, without an order of the Court or the written consent of the Attorney General first obtained.

Rule 36. Bills of Exceptions in Criminal Cases.—1. When a party in a criminal case desires to have a ruling therein reviewed on appeal, and no statutory method is provided for making such ruling a part of the record, he may present to the Judge who made the ruling, or his successor, a bill of exceptions, exhibiting such ruling and the necessary explanations, after serving a copy thereof on the adverse party. The adverse party may present to such Judge amendments thereto, after serving the same on the other party. The bill may be presented within thirty days after the ruling and amendments thereto within ten days after service of the proposed bill. The bill must thereupon be settled by the Judge, upon three days' notice to the parties, within sixty days after the ruling complained of, and when so settled it shall become a part of the record on appeal in such case. The Judge may, for good cause, shorten the respective periods hereby fixed.

2. Upon appeal, copies of such bill of exceptions shall, if requested by the appellant, be forwarded to the proper Appellate Court, as in case of other papers constituting the record on appeal.

Rule 37. Transcript on Hearing in Supreme Court After Decision by District Court of Appeal.—When a petition is filed in the Supreme Court for hearing of a cause decided by a District Court of Appeal.

in which the transcript is prepared and filed as prescribed in sections 953a, 953b and 953c, of the Code of Civil Procedure, or in a criminal case, the Clerk of the Supreme Court shall immediately send notice that such petition has been filed to the Clerk of the District Court of Appeal in which the case was decided, who shall forthwith transmit to the Clerk of the Supreme Court the transcript of the record filed in such case. If the petition is not granted the Clerk of the Supreme Court shall return such transcript to the Clerk of the proper District Court of Appeal. If it is granted, such transcript shall be filed by the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

Ordered, That the foregoing Rules be and the same are hereby adopted as the rules for the government of the Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal of the State of California, and for the regulation of practice therein, and that they take effect on the eighteenth day of March, A. D. 1912, and that thereupon the Rules heretofore made be abrogated.

January 16, 1912.

RULES OF PRACTICE—SUPERIOR COURT—SAN FRANCISCO.

GENERAL.

Rule 1. Departments.—The Superior Court will ordinarily hold as many sessions at the same time as there are Judges of the Court; and for such purpose, and for the purpose of a more convenient classification and distribution of business, said Court is hereby divided into twelve Departments, numbered from one to twelve, inclusive.

The presiding Judge shall from time to time designate certain departments of the Court for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, and shall designate one or more departments for matters of probate and guardianship, to which such matters in the first instance shall be assigned.

All other Departments shall transact the general civil business of the Court, including such cases originally assigned to the probate Department as may be reassigned or transferred by the presiding Judge.

Rule 2. Assignment and Transfer of Civil Cases.—All civil actions, matters and proceedings, except probate and guardianship matters, shall be assigned equally as may be among the several general civil Departments by the presiding Judge. Whenever the proper dispatch of business shall so require, any case, if ready for trial, may, at the request of the Judge before whom it is pending, be transferred to another Department by the presiding Judge.

Rule 3. Drawing of Grand Jurors.—It shall be the duty of the presiding Judge to preside in person over the drawing and impanelment of all Grand Juries required by law or by the public interests to be drawn.

Grand Jurors must in all cases be drawn from the list of Grand Jurors selected by the Judges of this Court, unless the Grand Jury box containing the names of jurors so selected shall be exhausted, without securing a Grand Jury.

Rule 4. Motions—Where Made.—All motions connected with any case, whether ex parte or on notice, if made in open Court, shall be made in the Department to which the case has been assigned. If made at Chambers, all motions must be made to the Judge of that Department to which the case has been assigned, except in case of his absence or inability to act; and in such case the reason for applying to any other Judge must be shown.

No motion or argument will be heard or entertained unless made by a duly licensed attorney of this Court.

Rule 5. Law and Motion Days—Ex Parte Motions.—One day in each week shall be set apart by order of each Department to be known as "Law and Motion Day." The Law and Motion Calendar shall contain all actions in which an issue of law is pending, motions for new trial and motions for judgments on the pleadings, on agreed statements of facts, or upon the findings of the Court or the report of a Referee; also, all contested motions of which notice has been given to the Register Clerk on or before noon of the preceding day.

Ex parte motions will be in order each day at the beginning of Court, but not afterward while the Court is engaged in the trial of a cause or the hearing of an argument.

Rule 6. Notice of Motion—Service of Papers.—Where by statute, or by these rules, notice of motion is required to be given, copies of all papers to be used by the moving parties (except pleadings and other records of Court) shall be served with the notice of the motion. Copies of all counter-affidavits must be served before the hearing. The notice of motion shall specify the papers to be used by the moving party and the grounds of the motion. An order to show cause shall be deemed a notice of motion within the meaning of this rule.

Rule 7. Application for an Order Refused.—When an application for an order has been made to a Judge or to the Court, and refused in whole or in part, or granted conditionally or on terms, and a subsequent application upon an alleged different state of facts shall be made, it shall be shown by affidavit what application was before made, when and to what Judge, what order or decision was made thereon, and what new facts are claimed to be shown; and, for the omission to comply with this requirement, any order made on such subsequent application may be revoked or set aside.

Rule 8. Manner of Making Motions.—The manner of making motions shall be as follows:

1. The moving party shall read the moving papers, or state the contents thereof. 2. The party opposing shall then read or state the contents of his opposing papers. 3. The counsel for the moving party shall then make his argument, to be followed by the counsel of the opposing party; and the counsel for the moving party may, in the discretion of the Court, reply.

Not more than twenty minutes shall be allowed counsel on each side for argument of a demurrer or motion, except on motions for a new trial. The time may be extended in the discretion of the Court upon application before the commencement of the argument.

Rule 9. Indorsements.—Upon the hearing of any motion, the affidavits used by either party shall be indorsed by the Clerk, "Used on the hearing," and filed.

Rule 10. Order of Publication of Summons to be Filed.—Whenever an order of publication of summons is made, the order must be filed with the Clerk, within twenty-four hours after the same is made, and the publication of the summons under any such order must be commenced within thirty days from the date of the order. Failure to publish within the time specified in this order shall ipso facto vacate the order.

Rule 11. Requisites of Cost Bill and of Objections Thereto.—A memorandum of costs, filed under the provisions of Section 1033, Code of Civil Procedure, must particularly specify the items of disbursements claimed; and, where witness fees are included, the names of the witnesses must be set forth, with dates of attendance on the Court.

A notice of motion to retax costs must specify the items in the costs bill objected to and the grounds of objection thereto.

Rule 12. Motion to Strike Out.—The party moving to strike out any portion of a pleading shall, in the notice of motion, distinctly specify the page and lines, or parts of lines, asked to be stricken out; and such notice of motion must be served and filed within the statutory time to plead. And the pendency of a motion to strike out any portion of a pleading shall not enlarge the time to answer or demur without an order of the Court or a Judge thereof.

Rule 13. Requirements as to Documents for Filing—Indorsements. All pleadings, petitions, statements and bills of exceptions, before being filed or served, shall be paged and lines numbered, and in all cases of more than one distinct cause of action, defense or counterclaim, the same shall not only be separately stated, but plainly numbered. All documents and pleadings intended for the files of the Court shall be on white writing paper or legal cap, of good quality, and without interlineations unless noted by the Clerk at the time of filing; and all matter shall be printed or written only on one side of the paper. All copies served shall correspond with the original in paging and lines. The office address by street and number of the attorney appearing for a party filing any complaint, answer or demurrer, or notice of special appearance, must be indorsed upon such pleading or notice, if such attorney have an office in this city and county; otherwise, the name and place of residence of such attorney must be, in like manner, indorsed upon such pleading or notice.

The character of the action shall be indorsed upon all complaints.

Rule 14. Extension of Time.—No order extending the time within which any act is required by law to be done shall be made which, by its terms or in connection with any other order or orders or any stipulation, shall operate to extend such time more than thirty days beyond the time given by law.

In case the time, within which any act is required by law to be done, is extended by stipulation, no extension of time shall afterward be granted by the Court or a Judge, which when added to the time already given by stipulation shall exceed thirty days; and the order shall correctly show upon its face the extensions of time previously given. Every such order shall be filed and served before 10 o'clock A. M. on the next judicial day.

No extension of time exceeding two days shall be allowed by any Judge of this Court in cases pending in a department of the Court other than his own. Only one extension of time shall be thus granted, and any second application for time must be made either to the Judge in whose Department the case is pending, or in case of his sickness or absence, to the presiding Judge, and good cause therefor must be shown.

Orders extending time for making or serving notice of a motion must specify the motion intended.

When by order of the Court or by stipulation the time to plead has been extended ten days, no additional time exceeding two days shall be granted, except to answer.

When a demurrer to a complaint is overruled, the time allowed for answering shall not exceed ten days, except upon showing good cause for granting further time.

Rule 15. Application to Amend Pleadings.—In cases where the right to amend any pleading is not of course, the party desiring to amend (except when the application is made during the trial of a cause) shall serve, with the notice of application to amend, a copy of the pleading, with the amendment incorporated therein, or a copy of the proposed amendment, referring to the page and line of the pleading where it is desired that the amendment be inserted; and, if the pleadings were verified, shall verify such amended pleading or such proposed amendment before the application shall be heard.

Rule 16. Substitution of Party in Case of Death or Other Disability.—Upon the written suggestion of the death or other disability of a party to any pending action, by his legal representative or by any party to the action, an order shall be made substituting such representative on the record.

A copy of said order shall be served on all parties to the action before any further proceedings are had therein.

Rule 17. Jury in Equity Cases—When.—In equity cases and in all other cases where the right to a jury trial is not guaranteed by the law, if either party shall desire a jury trial, such party shall, after issue joined, give notice of a motion, to be made upon the pleadings, that the whole issue, or any specified questions of fact involved therein, be tried by a jury.

With the notice of motion shall be served a copy of the questions of fact proposed to be submitted to the jury for trial, and in proper form to be incorporated in the order settling the issues to be tried by a jury.

No suit or matter in equity, or other suit or matter in which the right to a trial by jury is not guaranteed by law, will be tried by a jury, unless the issues in such cause or matter have been settled as required by this rule.

Rule 18. Setting Causes for Trial.—The Court may specially set causes for trial upon the written stipulation of the parties, or stipulation made in open court, or upon application of either party after two days' notice to the other party.

Rule 19. Jury Fees.—Each party to the action not waiving a jury shall, at such time as may be by the Court directed, deposit jury fees with the Sheriff. The jurors shall be paid out of the moneys deposited, except where the amount recovered is less than three hundred dollars. If, in any trial in a civil action, a jury be for any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of the jury shall be paid by the party not waiving a jury, but may be recovered as costs if such party afterward obtains a judgment. Any party or parties waiving a jury in the manner provided by law shall not be required to deposit jury fees as herein provided. (In effect July 1, 1908.)

Rule 20. Proposed Instructions to Juries.—(a) Instructions requested by any party must be presented to the Court before the introduction of evidence. In the exercise of a sound discretion, however, the Court may, up to the time that the argument commences, grant an application for permission to present additional proposed instructions.

(b) Each proposed instruction shall be typewritten on legal cap sheets of blank paper of uniform size.

(c) One sheet shall contain the title of the Court and cause, with the designation — “Proposed Instructions to the Jury” filled in, and be signed by the counsel.

(d) The sheets shall not be numbered by the parties.

(e) The proposed instructions shall not be numbered by the parties.

(f) Each proposed instruction shall begin at the top of a sheet.

(g) Each proposed instruction must relate to one subject only.

(h) The sheets shall be placed in a cover, properly indorsed, and secured by a temporary fastening. And

(i) The proposed instructions shall be handed to the Judge personally, and thereupon a copy thereof delivered to the other party or parties to the action or proceeding.

(j) All instructions to juries will be settled between Court and counsel before argument to jury begins.

Rule 21. Agreements Between Parties or Their Attorneys.—No agreement or consent between the parties or their attorneys, in respect to the proceedings in a cause, the purport of which is disputed or denied, will be regarded by the Court, unless the same shall have been made or assented to in open Court and entered in the minutes, or unless the evidence thereof shall be in writing, subscribed to by the party against whom the same may be alleged, or by his attorney.

Rule 22. Order of Examination of Witnesses and Summing Up on Trial of Issues of Fact.—On trial of issues of fact only one counsel on each side shall examine or cross-examine a witness, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

The party having the affirmative shall be entitled to begin, and shall, before introducing his testimony, open his case by stating generally what he expects to prove. The other party may then state what he expects to prove. After the testimony is closed, the party holding the affirmative may address the jury, and shall, if desired by the opposite party, read and refer to his authorities and state his points; the party holding the negative of the issue may then sum up his case, and the party holding the affirmative may close.

Not more than one hour on each side will be allowed for the argument of a cause, unless the Court shall otherwise order.

Rule 23. When Counsel not to Argue or Sum Up to the Jury.—If the attorney or counsel of either party offers himself as a witness on behalf of his client, and gives evidence on the merits, on the trial, he shall not argue the case or sum it up to the jury, unless by consent of the opposite party or permission of the Court.

Rule 24. Counsel to Furnish Form of Decree and of Proposed Findings.—The counsel obtaining any order, judgment or decree shall be required to furnish the form of the same.

Immediately on the termination of the trial of a case before the Court, or earlier if directed by the Court, the respective parties shall furnish the Court with the form of proposed findings of facts.

Rule 25. Order Staying Proceedings to be Served.—Any order to stay proceedings shall be served within forty-eight hours from the time when made, or the same shall become inoperative, unless the Judge making the order shall otherwise direct.

Rule 26. Writ of Attachment—How Issued.—The Clerk shall indorse upon every affidavit and undertaking filed to procure a writ of attachment, pursuant to the Code of Civil Procedure, the hour and minute of the day such affidavit and undertaking are filed, and the writ shall be issued thereon according to such indorsement.

Rule 27. Undertaking on Attachment.—The undertaking required before issuing a writ of attachment, in any action, shall be in an amount equal to at least one-half of the amount claimed by the complaint, but it may be increased or diminished by the Court, upon proper notice, for cause shown.

Rule 28. Filing of Order and Affidavit of Arrest.—The Sheriff shall file with the Clerk a return containing copies of the affidavit and order on which any arrest is made, within ten days after the arrest.

Rule 29. Divorce Proceedings.—In all cases of divorce, the attorney appearing for a defendant not personally served within the jurisdiction shall file with the Clerk satisfactory evidence to the Court of his authority to act for such defendant.

In cases of default, when the case is referred to a Referee or Commissioner to take the testimony, the Referee or Commissioner shall cross-examine the witnesses fully, and report such cross-examination in full.

Rule 30. Testimony in Divorce Cases.—No officer of the Court with whom the proceedings in an action of divorce are filed, or before whom the testimony is taken, nor any clerk of such office, either before or after the termination of the suit, shall permit a copy of any of the testimony, or of the substance thereof, to be taken or to be inspected or read by any person other than a party, or the attorney or counsel of a party, who has appeared in the case, without a special order of the Court.

Rule 31. Cancellation of Instruments by Clerk.—In all cases in which a judgment is entered upon a written instrument, the Clerk shall, at the time of entering judgment, note over his official signature, across the face of the instrument the fact of the entry of the judgment and its date, with the name of the Court, and return the instrument to the party in whose favor judgment is rendered.

Rule 32. Guardian of Infant Defendant.—Every attorney of the Court shall act as guardian of an infant defendant whenever appointed for that purpose by an order of the Court. He shall examine into the circumstances of the case so far as to enable him to make the proper defense, and shall be entitled to such compensation as the Court may deem reasonable.

Rule 33. Referee, Commissioner, or Bond of Guardian ad Litem.—No Referee, Commissioner, or guardian ad litem shall receive any money or property, unless the order of his appointment specifically confers upon him power to receive such money or property; and no order shall be made in any case conferring such power until he has given security by bond conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his trust, in double the amount of such property or money, with two sureties, who shall justify as in other cases. Said bond shall be approved by the Judge of the Court before whom the cause is pending, or the presiding Judge, and filed with the Clerk.

In default of such bond, all such money shall be deposited with the Clerk of the Court, and shall be by said Clerk deposited with the County Treasurer as in other cases.

Rule 34. Termination of Life Estate or Homestead.—For the rule of procedure in actions in disposition of homesteads, under Section 1723, C. C. P., see Probate Rule 19.

Rule 35. Commissions and Interrogatories.—The party desiring to issue a commission shall, within five days after the order allowing a commission, present the direct interrogatories desired to be propounded to the Judge for settlement and allowance, and shall give notice of such presentation two days prior thereto, naming therein the day, hour and place where the same will be presented; and, if the opposite party desires to have cross-interrogatories propounded, he shall prepare the same and notice the same, upon a notice of two days, for settlement within five days after the direct interrogatories have been settled and allowed.

If notice of the settlement of cross-interrogatories shall not be given, as aforesaid, the right to join in the commission shall be deemed waived.

Rule 36. Stipulation Concerning Rules.—Parties may by stipulation waive any right secured to them by these rules except as herein-after provided, but such rules as are prescribed to facilitate the convenient dispatch of the court's business cannot be suspended by such stipulation.

Rule No. 33, providing for the giving of security by guardians, commissioners, etc., shall in no case be modified or suspended.

Rule 37. The Selection, Drawing and Impanelment of Trial Jurors.

1. In the month of January of each year the Judges shall select the names of at least twenty-four hundred persons to serve as trial jurors in the Superior Court for the ensuing year. Each Judge shall personally select one-twelfth of the required number. The duty of selection must not be delegated to any other person. Each Judge shall deliver to the presiding Judge the list of names selected by him, duly certified to be a list personally selected by him. The lists shall then be attached together and filed in the office of the County Clerk.

2. Upon receiving the lists, the Clerk shall write down the names contained thereon, on separate pieces of paper of the same size, shape and appearance; fold each piece so as to conceal the name thereon and deposit the slips in the "trial jury box," after having taken therefrom and destroyed the names remaining over from the last preceding year. Said box shall be kept locked. There shall be but one key for the same, which must be kept in the custody of the presiding Judge, who shall deliver the same to the Judges of the different departments whenever necessary for the transaction of the business of the Court.

3. Whenever the business of any department shall require the attendance of a trial jury, and no jury is in attendance, the Court through the Judge of said Department shall make an order directing a trial jury to be drawn and summoned to attend before the Court in such department. The order shall specify the number of jurors to be drawn, and the time at which the jurors are to attend. The "trial jury box" must then be brought into the Department by the Clerk and opened by the Judge presiding in the Department. Thereupon the Clerk shall proceed, in the presence of the Court, to draw the names of jurors from the box and conduct the drawing pursuant to the requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure.

4. Whenever the names of trial jurors for any Department shall have been drawn pursuant to the provisions of Subdivision 3, the Clerk shall deliver a certified list of the jurors so drawn to the Sheriff, who must serve written notice upon each of them to attend the Court in the Department and at the time specified by the Court. The Sheriff shall not, nor shall any of his deputies, excuse any juror from attending. If the Sheriff or any of his deputies shall intentionally fail to serve any juror with notice, or advise or induce a juror not to attend or shall falsely return that a juror cannot be found, he shall be deemed guilty of contempt of court.

5. When the jurors have appeared in obedience to the notice served upon them by the Sheriff, none shall be excused unless for good cause shown. Applications for excuse will not be heard in Chambers or at any place other than in open Court, while the Court is in session. All excuses and reasons therefor and the names of the jurors excused shall be entered by the Clerk in his minutes.

6. A Judge of one Department will not request a Judge of another department to excuse a juror from serving.

7. No official, deputy official, or other person, shall request a Judge of this Court to excuse from jury duty any person whose name has been drawn as a juror.

8. Those jurors who have not been excused shall constitute the regular panel of the department. The Clerk shall write their names upon separate slips of paper of uniform size, shape and color; fold such slips so that the names are concealed and so that no slip can be identified or distinguished from another, and then, in the presence of the Court, deposit the slips in the "department jury box," lock the same and deliver the key to the Judge presiding in the Department, who shall be the exclusive custodian of the same.

9. Whenever a jury case is called for trial, the Judge shall open the "department jury box"; the Clerk of the Court shall thereupon shake the box, and draw the names of the jurors therefrom one at a time until the jury is completed. After each name is drawn from the box, the Clerk must shake the box so as to thoroughly mix the slips therein before taking out another name. The drawing of names of jurors shall be done by the Clerk in the immediate view and under the surveillance of counsel engaged in the trial of the case.

10. All notices served by the Sheriff on jurors pursuant to the requirements of Subdivision 4 and Section 225, C. C. P., shall have printed thereon Section 201, C. C. P., and Subdivisions 4, 5, 6, and 7 of this rule.

Rule 38. Papers on Appeal—When to be Filed—Dismissal.—In all Civil Cases appealed to this Court, the papers on appeal shall be filed with the Clerk within forty (40) days after the undertaking on appeal is filed with the Clerk of the Justices' Court. If not so sent up and filed within the time above limited, the respondent may move to dismiss the appeal, after giving two days' written notice to the appellant, and thereupon said appeal shall be dismissed unless said papers be actually on file at the time said motion is called for hearing. In that event said motion shall be denied, but the Court may impose terms.

Rule 39. Bonds by Corporations as Sole Surety.—No undertaking or bond executed by a corporation as sole surety will be hereafter approved unless a copy of the certificate issued to such corporation by the Insurance Commissioner of this State be filed with the Clerk of this Court, together with a copy of the authority of the officer or agent executing the same. In all cases the restrictions, prohibitions, obligations, conditions and requirements as to the justification enforced under or imposed by the laws of other States upon surety corporations of this State will be imposed and enforced in like manner upon corporations of such other States before they will be accepted as sureties in any action or proceeding in this Court.

Attorneys Requested not to be Sureties.—It is the request of the Court that no practicing attorney of this Court, or municipal or county or city and county officer, shall be received as surety on any bond or undertaking to be approved by this Court or a Judge thereof in any proceeding in this Court.

Rule 40. Certificate of Counsel to Accompany Demurrer.—All demurrers will be accompanied by a certificate of counsel that the demurrer is not filed for delay, and in the opinion of counsel is well taken by point of law; provided that in the absence of such certificate, or if the Court shall believe that the demurrer was filed for delay, costs will be imposed in the amount of Ten ($10.00) Dollars, as a condition for leave to answer.

Rule 41. Chamber Business.—For the purpose of transacting business designated by Section 166 of the Code of Civil Procedure as business that may be transacted in Chambers, each Judge of the Superior Court shall attend, in Chambers, or in open Court, at least fifteen minutes in advance of the time set for the regular sessions of such Court on each day. The members of the bar are requested to transact business designated by Section 166 of the Code of Civil Procedure during the time above fixed for hearing the same in advance of the regular sessions of the Court, in order that the Court and persons having business before it may not be unnecessarily delayed in taking up and disposing of matters appearing on the regular daily calendars of the Courts.

PROBATE.

Rule 1. Counsel Fees.—Applications for allowance of counsel fees must be made in Court, and will not be heard in Chambers. Attorneys are required to present with their applications a summarized and verified statement in writing of services rendered. This should be filed and preserved as a record in the proceeding.

This statement should be a condensed narrative of substantial service rendered, and not a mere skeletonized semblance, and it should be verified by the attorney himself.

Notice should also be given to all parties in interest. The time for passing upon such applications is on the occasion of settlement of accounts of administrator or executor or guardian.

Rule 2. Appointment of Appraisers.—In the matter of the appointment of appraisers, attorneys may nominate to the Court for appointment one person, and no more, subject to the Court's approval.

Rule 3. Admonition to Appraisers.—The attention of appraisers is especially called to the provisions of the law governing them in the discharge of their duty. (Part 3, Title 11, Chapter 4, Article 1, Code of Civil Procedure.) The compensation of appraisers is limited to $5 for every day actually and necessarily employed in the appraisement. No "constructive" charge will be allowed. In case no charge be made and compensation is waived that fact must be noted in the return of the appraisers. See Statutes 1893, pp. 196, 197; C. C. P., sec. 1444.

In all proper cases the discretion of the Court may be invoked to appoint competent appraisers to act without compensation.

Rule 4. An Itemized Account Necessary.—The attention of appraisers is also directed especially to the necessity of making an itemized account of their charges and disbursements. Day and date must be given in every instance. It is enjoined upon the appraisers appointed by the Court, to preserve data in detail of their charges and annex the same to their report.

Rule 5. Appointment of Special Administrators.—Application for letters of special administration will be heard only in open Court, upon petition, and such notice as may be practicable must be given in all cases.

Rule 6. Provision for Payment of Stenographer.—No case will be reported by the official stenographer except upon request of counsel and upon proper provision for payment of per diem and costs of transcribing.

Rule 7. Family Allowance and Homestead Applications.—Application for family allowance or for selecting or setting apart a homestead will be heard only after notice of a specially appointed day of hearing previously fixed by order of Court; which notice shall be not less than three days as to family allowance applications, and not less than ten days as to applications for homesteads.

The manner of notice shall be (1) by posting, as provided with respect to an application for the settlement of an account, and also (2) by written notice served upon the attorney for the administrator or executor, and upon the attorney of any person who has appeared or given notice of appearance (by an attorney) in the estate as heir, legatee, devisee, next of kin, or creditor, or as otherwise interested. The notice, other than posting shall be governed by the rules prescribed in sections 1010 to 1015 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (Kearney vs. Kearney, 72 Cal. 593.)

Rule 8. Form of Orders to be Approved by Opposing Parties.—In all contested cases, whether or not adverse pleadings are filed, where the contestant or opposing party appears by attorney, the order of Court—unless it be a minute order only—shall as to its form be approved by the attorney of the contestant or party opposing; otherwise, the matter of the form shall be argued or the objections presented without argument as the Court may direct.

Rule 9. Notice Required of All Applications—Exceptions.—No application for an order or a decree—whether ordinarily deemed an ex parte matter or otherwise—shall be heard except upon the written notice of the hearing first given to the attorney of every person who has appeared or given notice of appearance (by an attorney) in the estate, as heir, legatee, devisee, next of kin, or creditor, or as otherwise interested; and this enumeration shall include the administrator or executor when he is not the applicant. The period of said notice shall be determined by the Court in each case, and with an endeavor to uniformity as to cases of the same kind or class. This rule shall not apply to applications for orders of publication of notice to creditors or decrees establishing that due and legal notice to creditors has been given, or orders fixing a day of hearing of an application, or decree of final discharge, or orders similar in character.

Rule 10. Rules of C. C. P., 1010–1015, to be Applied in All Cases.—The provisions of Sections 1010 to 1015 shall govern and must be followed in all cases as to every person claiming to be interested in an estate or guardianship matter who has appeared by attorney or has given notice of appearance by attorney. This rule of practice will not be dispensed with in any case; nor shall the rule be suspended in any instance except upon good cause appearing to the Court, founded upon affidavit specifying the particular facts and reasons, and such other evidence as the Court may require.

Rule 11. Requirements as to Sureties on Bonds.—In all cases where bonds are required (by the statute or order of Court), the proposed sureties must appear before the Judge and be examined by him as to their status and sufficiency; or an affidavit by each of them must be presented and passed upon, which affidavit shall set forth such particulars as to their assets and the values thereof as may be prescribed by the Court.

Rule 12. Notice as to Applications for Special or General Letters. All applications for special or general letters of administration must give the special address of any heir resident of San Francisco and if such special address is not known that fact must be stated. Before general or special letters are granted it must be shown to the Court that such locally resident heir has had notice of the application.

Rule 13. Requirements as to Particularity of Inventory and Appraisalment.—Where land inventoried is improved, particulars as to the nature and description of the improvements must be given (e. g., "The improvements on said parcel of realty consist of a two-story frame dwelling with basement known as No. — street"). The land and the improvements thereon must be separately valued, and the total of the separate values carried out as the appraisalment of the land and premises. Where land is unimproved that fact must be stated. Where there is a mortgage existing against property (real or personal) that fact, with the amount, name of the mortgagee, and date and place of recordation must be stated. Moneys belonging to a decedent must be identified by a statement as to the custody of the same, and if deposited in bank, the name of the bank with the exact title or designation of the deposit account.

Rule 14. Filing of Affidavit as to Notice to Creditors.—When publication of notice to creditors is completed, the administrator or executor must file without delay the affidavit of such publication required by law (C. C. P., secs. 2010, 2011, cum sec. 1492.)

Rule 15. Particularities as to Accounts and Final Accounts.—In all accounts, or in a report accompanying the same, it should appear whether or not moneys received by the administrator or executor, or coming under his control, have been deposited in any savings bank (or other bank giving interest on moneys deposited); or otherwise invested at interest; and if not, the reasons therefor. In this connection any existing investments of the decedent at the time of his death should be stated and described, and the changes or transformations of same (if any).

Interest, dividends, or income received or declared on property subsequent to the decedent's death should not be stated in a lump sum only, but particulars of the same should be given, namely: (1) the date of receipt of each separate item of interest, dividend or other income (such as rents), (2) for what period, (3) upon what particular property, and (4) from whom received.

In all final accounts (C. C. P., sec. 1634), whether or not a petition for distribution is filed therewith, the legal commissions of the administrator or executor must not be stated in the aggregate only, but the particulars of the calculation proving such aggregate sum must be set forth. For example: "Legal Commissions of Administrator (or Executor) upon the total 'amount of estate accounted for'" (C. C. P., sec. 1618), $21,000 as follows:

7 per cent on $ 1,000.00.....	$ 70.00
5 per cent on 9,000.00.....	450.00
4 per cent on 10,000.00.....	400.00

Rule 16. As to Disbursement Items in Accounts.—Each item of disbursement in every account should indicate the number of the voucher for such item, the particular voucher to bear the corresponding number.

Rule 16a. Notice to be Given Treasurer of the Hearing of Matters Involving the Inheritance Tax.—Written notice of the hearing of petitions for partial distribution and for final distribution shall be given to the Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco at least five days prior to the hearing thereof in all estates where no appraisement has been had under the provisions of the inheritance tax act, approved March 20, 1905, and proof of the giving of such notice shall be made before such hearing is had; unless the receipt of the Treasurer evidencing payment of said tax is produced at such hearing.

Rule 17. Bonds on Partial Distribution to be Filed.—Bonds given and approved on partial distribution (C. C. P., secs. 1661, 1663), or a copy thereof certified as correct by the attorney for the administrator or executor, should be filed in the matter of the estate immediately after approval, as a record for the information and protection of the Court and persons interested (C. C. P., sec. 1662; end of sec. 1663).

Rule 18. Requisite of Proper Service of “Citations.”—In all proceedings upon which “Citations” are required to be issued, the service of the issued citation must be accompanied by service of a copy of the petition, application, or other paper upon which the issuance of the “Citation” is founded or ordered.

Rule 19. Rules 9, 10, and 12 as Applicable to Specific Sections of Probate Statutes—Notice as to Accounts of Trustees—Disposition of Life Estates and Homesteads—Petitions for Letters of Guardianship of Minors or Incompetents—Restoration to Capacity.—In the proceedings provided for in Sections 1699, 1723, 1747, 1763 and 1766 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the Court requires and will exact in addition to the statutory notice, the service of written notice as prescribed in Rules 9, 10, and 12 hereinabove, which rules shall be deemed applicable to said proceedings under C. C. P., Sections 1699, 1723, 1747, 1763 and 1766, and for the purposes of this Rule the petition or initiative paper in such proceeding shall set forth the name and special address (so far as known or ascertainable) of every person interested in such proceeding who is a resident of the City and County of San Francisco, in furtherance of any special statutory requirement.

Rule 20. Requisites upon Applications for Decree of Discharge.—Application for a decree of final discharge (C. C. P., sec. 1697), or other discharge, must be accompanied by the written receipts of the distributees of the estate, or other parties entitled, the payment or delivery of the property to whom is the basis of the application. The signatures to such receipts must be authenticated by a subscribing witness, or acknowledged before an official authorized to take acknowledgments of writings; reserving the necessity in any given case of such special proof of the fact of payment as may be required by the Court. Such receipts must be filed at the time of filing the decree. Such applications must also be accompanied by the original order or decree under which the payments or delivery of property were made; provided, however, that where such order or decree distributes real property, and nothing more, the requirements of this rule may not or may be applicable as shall appear to the Court.

Rule 21. Guardianship Proceedings—Rules 13, 15, 16, and 20, as Applicable to Guardianships.—The requirements of Rules 13, 15, 16, and 20, above, apply as to Inventories and Appraisements, and Accountings, and Applications for Discharge, in guardianship proceedings (C. C. P., sec. 1754, subds. 1, 3; secs. 1758, 1773, 1774, 1794, 1795, 1799, 1801, 1802, 1805, 1808); excepting that the provision of Rule 15 as to “commissions” of an administrator or executor does not apply to guardians (C. C. P., sec. 1776).

Rule 22. Rules 8–11, 17–19, as Applying to Guardianships.—Rules 8 to 11, 17 to 19, shall apply to guardianship proceedings (C. C. P., secs. 1747–1810), unless the theory of any of such rules shall in the particular case appear to be inapplicable. (C. C. P., sec. 1808.)

Rule 23. Interest on Deposits by Public Administrator.—Whenever the Public Administrator deposits the money of any estate upon which he is administering with any corporation authorized to do business under the act of April 6, 1901, and the act of 1897 amendatory thereof (Amendments and Statutes of 1897, p. 424), he shall, at the time of opening his account with such corporation, make an agreement with the corporation that such money shall bear interest at the rate currently paid by savings banks of the City and County of San Francisco upon ordinary deposits, subject to such reasonable conditions to be approved by the Court as may be required by such corporation.

REQUIREMENTS OF CERTAIN ORDERS IN PROBATE.

It is recommended to practitioners in probate to set out in their orders admitting a will to probate or appointing an administrator a brief description of the property, segregating the real from the personal estate.

Where land is improved, the nature and description of the improvements should be given (e. g., "The improvements on said parcel of realty consist of a two-story frame dwelling with basement known as No. Street"). The value of the improvements thereon should be separately estimated, and the total of the separate values carried out as the estimated value of the land and premises. Where land is unimproved, that fact should be stated. Where there is a mortgage existing against property (real or personal), that fact, with the amount, name of the mortgagee, and date and place of recordation should be stated. Money belonging to a decedent should be identified by a statement as to the custody of the same, and if deposited in bank, the name of the bank with the exact title or designation of the deposit account.

In all orders of sale and confirmation, as well as in orders appointing an executor or administrator, the names of the witnesses examined should be recited and the names of the attorney or attorneys actually appearing at the hearing should be inserted in the orders.

The name and office address of the attorney or attorneys of record should also be indorsed on each paper filed.

CRIMINAL.

Rule 1. Bonds.—Hereafter, in this department of the Superior Court, bonds will be approved only in open Court or in Chambers, and during the hours that the Court is in session. When any bond is submitted for approval, the sureties must be present and the Judge examine them. In case any surety proposed is not personally known to the Judge of the Court, satisfactory evidence of his identity must be furnished. In all cases the testimony of the sureties upon their examination touching their qualifications as sureties will be taken down in shorthand by the official reporter of the Court and reduced to writing, and, if the bond is approved, must be signed by the sureties. The bond must be in the usual form and must contain a sufficient description of the property of the sureties, a statement of its value, and a statement as to whether there are any encumbrances upon it or not.

Rule 2. Motions.—Motions for new trial or in arrest of judgment must be made on the day fixed by the Court in rendering judgment in the case.

Rule 3. Motion to Reduce Grade of Offense.—The Supreme Court of this State has held that, when the testimony in a criminal case has been taken down and returned by the committing magistrate, the responsibility is thrown upon the District Attorney to determine therefrom the offense to be charged.

People vs. Lee Ah Chuck, 66 Cal. 665;

People vs. Vierra, 67 id. 234;

People vs. Giancoli, 74 id. 646.

It thus appearing to be the plain duty of the District Attorney to determine from the testimony taken at the preliminary examination, and in advance of the filing of an information, what offense has been committed, the Court will not hereafter entertain any motion to reduce the grade of the offense of which any person stands charged, whether the same be a higher or lower grade of offense than that for which the accused person has been held to answer by the committing magistrate, but, on the contrary, law matters excepted, will send every case to a jury upon the charge preferred in the information, save only when the accused person has pleaded "guilty as charged."

RULES—SUPERIOR COURT—LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

Rule 1. Departments.—The Superior Court will, ordinarily, hold as many sessions at the same time as there are Judges of the court; and for such purpose, and for the purpose of the more convenient classification and distribution of the business, the court is hereby divided into twelve Departments, and the Judges thereof are assigned to the several Departments as follows:

Department One.....	J. P. Wood
Department Two.....	James C. Rives
Department Three.....	Frederick W. Houser
Department Four.....	Frank G. Finlayson
Department Five.....	Nathaniel P. Conrey
Department Six.....	Charles Monroe
Department Seven.....	Gavin W. Craig
Department Eight.....	Curtis D. Wilbur
Department Nine.....	Walter Bordwell
Department Ten.....	George H. Hutton
Department Eleven.....	Frank R. Willis
Department Twelve.....	Paul J. McCormick

Rule 2. Interchange of Judges.—The Judges of the Departments will interchange with each other, or act for each other, on request, or on the failure of either one of the Judges to attend at the time the Department of the court in which he shall preside should be opened and held by such Judge.

Rule 3. Organization of Business—1. Presiding Judge.—The division of the business of this court among its various Departments shall be supervised by one of the Judges, who shall be known as the presiding Judge. The presiding Judge shall serve for the term of one year, commencing on the first day of May of each year, and the Judges of this court shall serve as such presiding Judge in the following order: George H. Hutton until May 1st, 1912, and thereafter in turn in the order herein enumerated, viz.: Frank R. Willis, Paul J. McCormick, J. P. Wood, James C. Rives, Frederick W. Houser, Frank G. Finlayson, Nathaniel P. Conrey, Charles Monroe, Gavin W. Craig, Curtis D. Wilbur, Walter Bordwell, George H. Hutton. The names of new Judges shall be added to the above list alphabetically in the order of their accession to the bench. Any Judge may be relieved from the duty of so serving as presiding Judge upon his application to and consent of a majority of the Judges.

As cases are filed the presiding Judge shall assign them to appropriate Departments of the court.

He shall keep watch over the condition of the trial calendars of the court and shall readjust the assignment of causes at issue, at or before the time of trial thereof, in such manner as best to dispose of the business.

He shall attend in Chambers during the business hours of each day for the purpose of hearing applications for ex parte orders and to dispose of such other preliminary matters as should properly come before a presiding Judge. If the presiding Judge be absent from his Chambers on any account, he shall call upon some other Judge of the court to attend there in his place.

With the assistance of the other Judges, and beginning not later than the first of December of each year, he shall diligently prepare the necessary lists of jurors to be chosen by the court in January.

The presiding Judge shall hear proof offered in any cause and order judgment therein, where default has been entered, except those for divorce, annulment of marriage, or separate maintenance, regardless of the number of the Department to which such action may have been assigned.

The presiding Judge shall hear all inquests of lunacy and such hearings shall take place at the county hospital.

2. Meetings of Judges.—From time to time at his own instance or on request of any other Judge, the presiding Judge shall call together the Judges of the court for the discussion of such questions as may arise with reference to the mode of disposition of the court's business.

3. Assignment of Business.—In the assignment of business the following rules shall be observed, in so far as the same are consistent with the public interest, namely:

To Department 2 all proceedings in probate, and all proceedings for the adoption of minors.

To Departments 11 and 12 shall be assigned all criminal business, including writs of habeas corpus in all criminal matters, which shall be divided as equally as practicable between said Departments; provided, however, that all writs of habeas corpus in matters growing out of the juvenile court law or involving the custody of infants, shall be returnable before Department 8, excepting habeas corpus writs in cases of children growing out of custodial orders of Departments 2 or 6, which shall be returnable before said Departments, respectively.

All applications for approval of appointments of humane officers and others, as provided in section 607f of the Civil Code, shall be made to the Judge of Department 8.

All proceedings under the laws of this state dealing with dependent or delinquent children shall be heard in Department 8, which is hereby designated as the "Juvenile Court."

All actions for divorce and annulment of marriage and actions for maintenance and all proceedings therein, shall be assigned to Department 6.

All other business of the court shall be distributed as equally as may be among the several remaining Departments.

4. Criminal Cases.—All informations in criminal cases shall be delivered by the District Attorney to the presiding Judge before filing and the presiding Judge shall designate which of the two criminal Departments such cases shall be assigned to; all files in cases of appeal from inferior courts shall be transmitted to the presiding Judge by the clerk as soon as they are received, and the presiding Judge shall assign such appeals for hearing in the same manner as other criminal cases are assigned.

5. Attendance of Juries.—Civil actions in which a jury has been demanded shall be assigned, or reassigned, for trial to a Department in which a jury shall be in attendance. For the trial of civil causes a jury shall be kept in attendance in one Department only, except when required in the probate Department for the trial of contested probate matters, and except also when otherwise specially ordered. A jury may be called by the Judge of the probate Department whenever required for the trial of contested matters arising in such Department. Trials of other civil causes by jury shall be had for a period of six months in one Department, and then such trials shall be had for a like period in the next numbered Department, in rotation, except in Departments 2, 6, 8, 11 and 12, and the Department of the presiding Judge. Commencing with the first day of May, 1912, such trials by jury shall be had in Department 9 for a period of six months, and thereafter each Department in rotation shall hear such cases for a like period of six months. For the trial of civil causes, excepting contested probate matters, a new term trial jury shall be drawn at least once every thirty days.

6. Naturalization.—For the purpose of complying with the federal laws concerning naturalization, the court hereby names and establishes the first, second and fourth Thursdays of each month as the days on which final action will be had on petitions for naturalization; provided, that no such final action will be had within thirty days before the holding of any general election within the jurisdiction of this court. All applications for naturalization will be set down for hearing in the Department of the presiding Judge.

Rule 4. Jury Trials.—In any action or proceeding, other than a criminal action or proceeding, the party desiring a trial by jury must at the time of the setting of the action or proceeding for trial, deposit with the clerk the sum of twenty-four dollars, to be held subject to the order of the court and to be used for the payment of jury fees. If such sum of money be not deposited at the time specified, trial by jury shall be deemed to have been waived and the court will proceed to trial without a jury. If more than one day is occupied by a jury trial, the court shall, at the beginning of each day's session after the first day, require the party demanding the jury to make a further deposit with the clerk of twenty-four dollars and such further sum as may be necessary to satisfy any mileage fees that may be owing to the jurors, except the mileage fees due on account of the attendance of such jurors at the first day of the trial, which last-mentioned fees shall be paid by the county. A failure to make the deposits required by this rule shall be deemed to be a waiver of the right to a jury trial and where such a failure to make such deposits occurs after the trial by jury has commenced, the jury shall be excused from further attendance and the trial shall proceed without a jury; Provided, however, that this rule, so far as the time expressed herein for the making of the first deposit is made to work a waiver of a jury where there is a failure to make such deposit within the time so limited, shall not apply to proceedings specified in Section 1716, Code of Civil Procedure.

Rule 5. Instructions to Jury.—In causes tried by jury any instructions asked for by either party must be presented to the court at or before the close of the evidence, and before any argument is made to the jury.

Rule 6. Grand Jury.—A grand jury shall be drawn and impaneled in December of each year in the Department of the presiding Judge.

Rule 7. Preliminary Restraining Orders.—Applications for restraining orders must be made to the presiding Judge, and he will assign the cause to the proper Department for further hearing.

Rule 8. Motions.—All motions connected with any action, when upon notice, if made in open court, shall be made in the department in which the action is pending, unless otherwise ordered.

Rule 9. Ex Parte Motions.—Ex parte motions, except in probate matters, shall be made to the presiding Judge.

Rule 10. Law and Motion Day.—Monday shall be the law and motion day in the several Departments of this court, and the clerks shall, on every Saturday, make up the law and motion calendar for each Department.

Rule 11. Notice of Motions.—1. Where, by statute, or by these rules, notice of motion is required to be given, copies of all papers to be used by the moving party (except pleadings and other records of the court, and papers in possession of the opposite party), shall be served and filed with the notice of motion.

2. The notice of motion shall specify the papers to be used by the moving party and the grounds of the motion.

3. An order to show cause shall be deemed a notice of motion within the meaning of this rule.

4. A notice of motion to tax costs shall specify the papers to be used on the motion, the items of the cost bill objected to, and the grounds of the objection, as in the case of other motions.

5. Notice of motion must be filed with the clerk at least the day before that on which the motion is to be heard; but when time of notice is shortened to less than one day, it must be filed immediately after service.

6. Upon the hearing of any motion, the affidavits used by either party shall be filed by the clerk.

Rule 12. Failure to Appear.—Upon the regular call of the law and motion calendar, if no counsel appears to support a demurrer or motion, the same may be heard by the court on demand of opposing counsel.

Rule 13. Orders Extending Time.—No order extending time within which any act is required by law to be done shall be made, which, by its terms or in connection with any other order or orders or any stipulation, shall operate to extend such time more than thirty days beyond the time given by law.

In case the time, within which any act is required by law to be done, is extended by stipulation, no extension of time shall afterward be granted by the court or a Judge, which, when added to the time already given by stipulation, shall exceed thirty days; and the order shall correctly show upon its face the extensions of time previously given. Every such order shall be served and filed before 10 o'clock A. M. of the next judicial day.

No extension of time exceeding two days shall be allowed by any Judge, except the presiding Judge, in cases pending in any Department other than that in which he presides, unless the Judge of the said Department is absent from the county; and, provided in no case shall any order be made by any Judge of this court extending the time of a party to demur to any pleading, except upon good cause shown by affidavit.

Rule 14. Motions—By Whom Made.—No order of any kind shall be made or entered by any Judge of this court unless upon the personal motion of a member of the bar authorized to appear in this court, except by the Judge upon his own motion, or upon the application of a party appearing in propria persona.

Rule 15. Amendments to Pleadings.—When a pleading shall be amended during the progress of a trial and a new issue shall be raised thereby, the opposite party may have a reasonable time to plead thereto or to take such action as may be necessary and a continuance, if necessary, unless otherwise ordered, shall be at the cost of the party amending.

Rule 16. Verification of Pleadings.—In all cases of verification of pleadings it shall be made plainly to appear from the pleading itself and by the verification taken in connection therewith, what matters are sworn to on information and belief and what matters are sworn to on the knowledge of the affiant.

Rule 17. Setting Cases for Trial.—Civil actions at issue may be set for trial in the respective Departments where they are pending, upon motion of a party, upon five days' written notice of such motion to the adverse party, or on motion based upon stipulation of the parties. Such notice must be noticed for, and will be heard only at the opening of court at the time the law and motion calendar is called, and will not be granted unless it first appears that the calendar fee has been paid, and that the required notice has been given; provided that the order may be made "by consent" expressed as required by Rule 18.

Not later than the hour for the closing of the Clerk's office on the last legal day preceding the day on which a motion to set an action for trial is to be made, there must be handed to the Clerk of the Department in which the action is pending a memorandum containing the title and number of the case, and other matters of information required to be set forth on the blank form furnished by the Clerk. At the regular hour for calling the law and motion calendar, the Clerk will deliver all such cards, arranged in the order of their receipt, to the Judge, who will thereupon call such cases and set them for trial. If no appearance is made for either party on the first call of a motion to set a case for trial, such motion will be dismissed, and a new notice of motion shall be required to be given before any such cause is set for trial.

Rule 18. Orders by Consent.—Whenever any order or ruling is made "by consent," it must be upon consent of all the attorneys of all the parties affected thereby, expressed in open court, and entered on the minutes, or upon written stipulation of all such attorneys, made and filed in the action. Such minute entries shall show the names of all the attorneys actually in court at the time of the order. Should any order be made in violation of this rule, it shall be vacated upon ex parte motion.

Rule 19. Testimony in Divorce Cases.—No phonographic reporter, or officer of the court with whom the proceedings in an action for divorce are filed, or before whom the testimony is taken, nor any clerk of such officer, either before or after termination of the suit, shall, without a special order of the court or Judge, permit a copy of any of the testimony, or of the substance thereof, to be taken to be inspected or to be read by any person other than a party or the attorney of a party to the action.

Rule 20. Cancellation of Instruments.—In all cases in which a judgment is rendered upon a written instrument, the Clerk shall, unless otherwise ordered, at the time of entering judgment, note over his official signature across the face of the instrument, the fact of the entry of the judgment and its date, with the title of the court, and return the instrument to the party in whose favor judgment is rendered.

Rule 21. Guardians ad Litem.—Any attorney of the court shall act as guardian ad litem for a defendant whenever appointed for that purpose by an order of the court. He shall examine into the circumstances of the case so far as to enable him to make a proper defense and shall be entitled to such compensation as the court may deem reasonable.

Rule 22. Time to Answer or Amend After Demurrer.—When a demurrer to a complaint or cross-complaint shall be upon the law and motion calendar and no one shall appear in support of the same and the demurrer shall be overruled, or if in any case the court, in overruling a demurrer, shall decide that the same is frivolous, the party demurring shall not be given leave to answer, except on the payment of ten dollars to the opposite party, and the time to answer in such case shall be limited to five days. In all other cases upon the overruling of a demurrer to a complaint, the party demurring shall be allowed ten days in which to answer, unless otherwise ordered by the court. When a demurrer to a pleading shall be sustained, the adverse party shall have ten days in which to amend, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

Rule 23. Attorney not to be Surety.—No practicing attorney of this court shall be received as surety on any bond or undertaking to be approved by this court or any Judge thereof in any proceedings of this court.

Rule 24. Reporters' Fees.—1. Unless otherwise specially ordered, the per diem fee of the phonographic reporter, in all contested cases called for trial must be advanced and paid to the Clerk for the reporter on the first call of the case each day of the trial, one-half of such fees to be advanced and paid by the plaintiff, and the other half by the defendant; provided, that if the contesting party fails to appear at the trial, the whole of such fees shall be paid by the plaintiff or other party appearing; and provided, further, that if there be any intervener, or any party other than the plaintiff and defendant, or two or more actions shall be tried together, the court or Judge thereof shall in such case or cases, fix the proportion of such fees to be advanced and paid by the parties respectively; and when so fixed each of such parties shall advance and pay his proportion so fixed.

2. In actions of divorce on default and in all other actions and proceedings when so ordered by the court, the testimony shall be taken by the reporter, and his fees therefor shall be paid in advance.

Rule 25. Custody of Papers.—No papers on file in the office of the Clerk of this court shall be allowed to be taken from the Courthouse, except exhibits, which, upon order of a Judge of the court, may be taken from the files upon there being left in their places certified copies thereof; provided, that in cases where default has been entered against a party exhibits offered in making proof against such defaulting party may be withdrawn without leaving certified copies thereof upon order of the Judge of the Department where the matter has been heard; and provided, further, that exhibits in any case may be withdrawn without there being left certified copies thereof, upon order of a Judge of the court, where a written stipulation is filed signed by all of the attorneys representing the parties, consenting to the making of such order.

Rule 26. Stipulations.—All stipulations between counsel affecting proceedings in either Department, unless made in open court, and entered in the minutes thereof, or reduced to writing and signed by all of the attorneys of the parties to be bound thereby, shall be disregarded.

Rule 27. Appeals.—In any civil action appealed from an inferior court, if the transcript and papers are not filed in the Clerk's office, and six dollars paid to the Clerk as a deposit for the costs, within thirty days after the notice of appeal and undertaking on appeal are filed in such inferior court, such appeal will be dismissed on motion made upon notice to the appellant.

Rule 28. Publication of Summons.—In any application for an order to publish summons, if the residence is known and stated in the affidavit, the affiant must also give the information upon which such statement of residence is made, and if the information is contained in a letter such letter must be attached to the affidavit. In such case, the applicant may, in his affidavit, suggest the name of a newspaper which he believes to be the one most likely to give notice to the defendant; but if he does so, he must also state in his affidavit the reasons why such newspaper will most likely give notice to the person to be served. If the facts so stated do not satisfy the court, or if the residence of a defendant is unknown, the court or Judge will select for such publication a newspaper printed and published in the county of Los Angeles, and having a substantial circulation, which the Judge believes will be most likely to give notice to the defendant. In addition to any other affidavit used on such application, there must be an affidavit of the plaintiff, unless the plaintiff is a corporation or a person under legal disability.

Whenever the order directs mailing a copy of summons and complaint to a defendant, the order shall name the person who is to mail said documents. On the envelope inclosing such copy of summons and complaint there shall be written or printed directions for the return of the same to the sender, if not delivered by the postoffice department to the party addressed. All such documents shall be sent as registered packages, and the return card of the postoffice department shall be filed with the papers in the case. Whenever any such package shall be returned without delivery to the party addressed, the same shall be filed with the papers in the case. The cost of postage on such packages shall be paid by the plaintiff and chargeable as costs.

Rule 29. Trial of Default Divorce Cases.—Motions to set default divorce cases for hearing shall be heard at the regular calling of the law and motion calendar; provided, however, that in such cases the cards required to be delivered to the Department Clerk under the provisions of Rule 17, must be so delivered to such Clerk not later than the time of the closing of the Clerk's office on the last legal day preceding the day upon which the law and motion calendar is to be called.

Rule 30. Application to Advance Divorce Cases.—All applications to set or advance the hearing of divorce cases, either default or contested, must be made in open court at the time of calling the law and motion calendar.

Rule 31. Proof of Personal Service in Default Cases.—Upon the hearing of defaults in divorce cases where personal service is made in this county by any person other than the sheriff, such person must be produced as a witness by the plaintiff.

Rule 32. Motions to Strike Out.—The party moving to strike out any portion of a pleading shall, in the notice of motion distinctly specify the page and lines or parts of lines, or paragraphs, asked to be stricken out.

Rule 33. Continuances.—When any motion or demurrer is regularly placed on the law and motion calendar, and on call there is no appearance, the matter will be continued one week. If such matter is thus called three times without being presented, the same will be dropped from the calendar, and will not be reinstated unless by order of the court upon good cause shown therefor.

Rule 34. Requirements as to Documents for Filing.—All pleadings, petitions, statements and bills of exceptions, before being filed or served, shall be printed or written on good white paper of legal cap size, with numbered lines, bound at the top and paged at the bottom; but statements and bills of exceptions may be printed or written either on paper or legal cap size as above provided, or on paper eight inches by ten inches in size, with numbered lines, bound at the side and paged in the upper right-hand corner. In all cases where more than one distinct cause of action, defense or counterclaim is intended to be stated, the same shall not only be separately stated, but also plainly numbered. Said pleadings, petitions, statements and bills of exceptions shall be without interlineations unless noted by the clerk at the time of filing; and shall be printed or written upon only one side of the paper. All copies served shall correspond with the original in paging and lines. The office address of the attorney appearing for a party filing any complaint, answer or demurrer, or notice of special appearance, must be indorsed upon such pleading or notice. The character of the action shall be indorsed upon all complaints and the nature of the paper upon all other documents. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit the use of printed blanks furnished by the Clerk of this court.

Rule 35. Size of Paper for Reporters' Transcripts.—All reporters' transcripts shall be written or printed on paper ten inches in length and eight inches in width, with the lines numbered at the left-hand side and paged on the upper right-hand corner; the same being bound together on the left-hand side in volumes of convenient size.

Rule 36. Application for an Order Refused.—When an application for an order has been made to a Judge or to the court, and refused in whole or in part, or granted conditionally or on terms, and a subsequent application upon an alleged different state of facts shall be made, it shall be shown by affidavit what application was before made, when and to what Judge, what order or decision was made thereon, and what new facts are claimed to be shown; and, for a failure to comply with this requirement, any order made on such subsequent application, may be revoked or set aside on ex parte motion.

Rule 37. Counsel Fees.—All applications for compensation for extraordinary services rendered in probate proceedings must be accompanied by an itemized statement of services rendered.

Rule 38. Life Estates, Homesteads and Community Property.—In all proceedings under Section 1723 of the Code of Civil Procedure, where the petition filed prays for a decree terminating a life estate or for a vesting in the surviving spouse of a homestead, notice of the hearing thereof shall be given by posting notices for at least ten days before the hearing, in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be at the place where the court is held, which notice must contain the name of the decedent, the name of the applicant, the description of the property, the date, the book and page of the record of the instrument under which relief is sought.

In cases where a decree is prayed for declaring property of a deceased wife to be community property and vesting the same in the surviving husband, the petition must state the name and residence of each of the persons who would be an heir at law of the separate property of the deceased wife and a statement of all creditors' claims against the deceased wife, with the name and residence of each creditor, and notice thereof shall be given by the personal service of a citation upon all persons residing within this State named, and shown by the petition filed to be interested therein, including creditors, at least ten days prior to the hearing of said petition, and by the publication of a notice thereof, and in like form as is required herein for the termination of a life estate or homestead, for at least thirty days before the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county.

Rule 39. Payments Out of Treasury.—When money has been paid into the county treasury under the provisions of Sections 1691 and 1703½, or into the State treasury under the provisions of Sections 1693 and 1696, of the Code of Civil Procedure, and a person claims the same, or a part thereof, a petition must be filed by the claimant, for an order on the treasury for payment. Such petition must be placed on the calendar for hearing, and, unless otherwise ordered, notice of the hearing must be given in the same manner as upon the hearing of a final account.

Rule 40. Surety Company Bonds.—No bonds or undertakings with corporations as sureties thereon, given pursuant to the provisions of Sections 1056 et seq. of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be accepted or approved in any case, unless, at the time such bond or undertaking is presented for approval, there shall be on file in the office of the Clerk of this court:

First—A copy, duly certified by the proper authority, of the charter or articles of incorporation of such surety, showing the power of such corporation to become surety on such bond or undertaking;

Second—A copy, duly certified by the proper authority, and attested by the seal of the corporation, of the transcript of record of appointment, entitling or authorizing the person or persons purporting to execute such undertaking or bond for and in behalf of such corporation, to act in the premises;

Third—The certificate, or a copy thereof, duly certified, of the insurance commissioner of the State of California, dated within one year before the presentation of such bond for approval, which certificate shall, by its terms, authorize and empower such corporation to do business in the State of California, and shall certify that such corporation has presented to the insurance commissioner satisfactory evidence that it is a solvent corporation, legally qualified to furnish such bonds as require the approval of a Superior Court, or of a Judge of the Superior Court, within this State.

No such bond or undertaking will be approved or accepted unless the fact of the execution of such bond or undertaking by the officer or agent of the corporation purporting to become surety on such bond or undertaking shall be duly attested and acknowledged before an officer authorized to take and certify acknowledgments. Which certificate shall certify the signature of the officer or agent to be the signature of said officer or agent; provided, however, that such notarial certificate shall not be required when the bond shall be executed by such officers and agents in the presence of the Judge approving the same.

Rule 41. Medical Examiners in Lunacy Cases.—There shall be not more than forty medical examiners to serve at inquests of lunacy, who shall be appointed by the Judges of the court. Upon such examiners being appointed in the manner prescribed by law, a list of their names shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and from such list there shall be selected from time to time, in the order in which their names appear upon such list, unless otherwise specially ordered, two of such examiners to serve at each day's examination held. Such examiners shall be notified on the day preceding any such hearing that their attendance will be required, and should any examiner fail to attend through any cause he shall not be called again until his name is reached in the regular order of rotation as hereinbefore prescribed to be followed.

Rule 42. Phonographic Reporters Pro Tempore for Superior Courts; Their Appointment, Duties and Compensation.—Sec. 1. Phonographic reporters pro tempore may be appointed from time to time by a majority of the Judges. Such reporters shall have the same qualifications and pass the same examination required by law for official reporters of Superior Courts, and shall receive the same compensation as is provided for official reporters. Such reporters shall be listed by the secretary of the Court in the order of their appointment.

Sec. 2. All vacancies in the position of official reporter, either in the several departments or in extra sessions, shall be filled from the list of reporters pro tempore in the order of their priority on such list.

Sec. 3. When an official reporter is absent from his Department, with the permission of the court, or the Judge of the Department to which he is assigned, or requires assistance for furnishing daily transcript or other transcript required on short notice, he may call upon another official reporter for such assistance, if one is available. When no official reporter is available, and not otherwise, such assignment shall be made from the list of reporters pro tempore in the manner provided in Sec. 4 of this rule, until an official reporter is available.

Sec. 4. To equitably carry out the above provisions, the secretary of the court shall keep an assignment register, showing where all official reporters are on duty, and when and where reporters pro tempore have been assigned to duty under this rule. Any official reporter not employed may register in this assignment register. When no official reporter is available such assignments may be made by the secretary of the court from the list of reporters pro tempore in the order of their priority on such list. No reporter pro tempore shall receive a second assignment until all other reporters pro tempore have been tendered an assignment. The assignment register shall be open to the Judges and all official reporters and reporters pro tempore.

Sec. 5. When an official reporter or reporter pro tempore assists another reporter in reporting a case he shall share equally with such reporter in the per diem fee, and shall receive the entire compensation for such portion of the transcript as he furnishes, but in no case shall a reporter receive compensation by way of commission or otherwise in or for any case in which he is not himself actually engaged.

Rule 43. Phonograph Reporters for Superior Courts, Their Appointment and Duties.—All phonograph or shorthand reporters of the Superior Courts shall hereafter be appointed or discharged by a written order signed by a majority of the Judges of said court and not otherwise. Such reporters must have the qualifications and have passed the examination provided for in Section 270 in the C. C. P. He must perform the duties as defined in Section 269 of the C. C. P. and he must attend to those duties in the manner prescribed in Section 271 of the C. C. P. and subscribe to the oath of office pursuant to Section 272 of the C. C. P. Pursuant to this rule, the following persons who have already submitted to the test of competency and taken the oath of office and have been heretofore appointed to the position of phonographic reporters of this court are assigned to the departments set opposite their names, to wit:

Reporter in Dept. 1.....	E. C. Thompson
Reporter in Dept. 2.....	Leo Longley
Reporter in Dept. 3.....	Monroe H. Conlee

RULES—JUSTICES' COURT—SAN FRANCISCO.

Rule 1. Filing and Custody of Pleadings.—All pleadings and papers required to be filed in said Court shall for that purpose be presented to the Clerk, who shall there and then mark the same filed, and note the filing of such pleading or paper in the docket of said Court, under the title of the cause or proceeding wherein the same is filed, and, after the filing thereof as aforesaid, the same shall remain on file in the office of the Clerk, and shall not be taken therefrom, except on appeal, or by order of one of the Justices of said Court, and all persons are hereby prohibited from removing them or any of them from the office of said Clerk, and no person shall be allowed to inspect or handle them or any of them unless by consent of the Clerk, and in his immediate presence.

Rule 2. Manner of Pleading.—At any time before the expiration of the time named in the summons within which the defendant is required to answer, the defendant shall be at liberty to enter a special appearance for the purpose of objecting to any irregularity of the proceedings in any respect, and shall state the grounds of his objections briefly in writing, which said objections shall be determined by the Justice before the hearing of the cause upon its merits.

Rule 3. Demurrer and Answer.—When a demurrer to a pleading is sustained, the pleading may be amended within such time, not exceeding two days, as the Court may allow, and such amended pleading may be answered or demurred to within such time as the Court may allow, not exceeding two days. When the demurrer to the complaint is overruled, the defendant must answer forthwith, or in such time as the Court may allow, not exceeding two days, except in cases of unlawful detainer; in such cases the defendant must answer forthwith.

When a demurrer to an answer is overruled the action must proceed as if no demurrer had been interposed.

Rule 4. Day of Trial.—When all the parties served with process shall have appeared, or some of them have and the remaining defendants have made default, the default of such defendants may be entered by the Justice before whom the case is pending, and upon application of either party fix a day for the trial of said cause, and notice of the setting of said cause for trial shall be given to the adverse party.

Rule 5. Precedence of Cause on Trial.—A cause on trial shall take precedence of a cause specially set.

Rule 6. Calendar of Court.—The Clerk shall prepare and compile a daily calendar of this Court, and enter the same in a book provided for that purpose. Said book or calendar shall be so kept as to show for each day the causes specially set for trial by the order of any of the Justices.

Rule 7. Transfers.—In all cases transferred from one Justice to another for trial, as provided for by Section 833 of the Code of Civil Procedure, such transfer shall not be deemed a postponement of the trial, but the cause shall be reassigned and the trial proceed the same as if no transfer had been made.

Rule 8. Papers Presented for Filing.—All papers and pleadings presented to the Clerk of the Court and required to be filed in any action shall be properly indorsed with the title and number of the cause, and must bear the name and address of the attorney or person appearing.

Rule 9. Service of Pleadings.—In all cases wherein a written answer, demurrer, or notice of special appearance is filed, the party so filing the same shall serve a copy thereof upon the attorney for the adverse party, provided such adverse party is represented by an attorney whose office is in the City and County of San Francisco, and, if not so represented, no service need be made; otherwise the same may be stricken out on motion upon notice to be given within such time as may be fixed by the Court, and in case defendant presents an oral answer said defendant must notify the plaintiff or his attorney of such fact, leaving his address.

Rule 10. Statement of Appeal on Questions of Law.—The statement and amendments thereto, as provided for by Section 975 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may be served upon the opposite attorney by delivering a copy thereof, but, unless such service is so made, the party preparing the statement, after having filed the same with the Clerk, and had such filing entered and indorsed, shall serve said statement upon the opposite attorney on the same day, who shall prepare his amendments thereto, and shall, within ten days after the receipt of such statement, file his amendments with the Clerk, and, after having such filing entered and indorsed, shall on the same day serve the said amendments with the statement upon the opposite attorney, who shall within five days thereafter give written notice of settlement before the Justice who tried said action, or the amendments shall be deemed to be accepted.

The notice shall not be less than two days nor more than five days. After settlement the statement shall be engrossed by the moving party and filed within five days, Rule 11. Setting Aside Default.—All applications for setting aside defaults, and relief as provided for by Section 859 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be heard and determined by the Justice who tried the cause, or his successor.

Rule 12. Taxation of Costs.—Unless the costs are taxed at the time of the rendition of judgment the prevailing party, by consent, may within two days thereafter serve upon the adverse party or his attorney, and file with the Clerk of said Court, a written memorandum of his costs and disbursements verified by himself or his attorney, which shall not embrace the percentage allowed by law. Within two days after the service of such bill, or memorandum of costs, the opposite party may give notice to move the Justice before whom said cause was tried, upon a two days' notice in writing, to the adverse party or his attorneys, to retax such costs.

Rule 13. Stipulations.—No agreement or consent between the parties or their attorneys in respect to the proceedings in a cause will be regarded by the Court, unless the same shall have been made in open Court and entered, or unless the evidence thereof shall be in writing subscribed by the party against whom the same may be alleged, or by his authority.

Rule 14. Jury Trials.—The party demanding a jury trial shall deposit with the Clerk of said Court twenty-four dollars as security for the payment of the fees of said jury, and until such deposit is made the right to a trial by jury shall be deemed to be waived. The fees of said jury must be deposited at the beginning of each day of such trial.

Rule 15. Payment of Fees.—Before any trial shall proceed the plaintiff shall pay in advance the trial fee, and procure the papers from the Clerk, who shall not deliver the same until said trial fee shall have been paid. Upon the hearing of a demurrer, the papers must be presented to the Justice, who shall not hear or determine said demurrer until the trial fee is paid.

Rule 16. Signing of Orders.—No orders will be signed or affidavits taken by any of the Justices during the progress of any trial or argument. Such orders must be presented when the Court is not in session, or before the commencement of a trial at 10 A. M. or 2 P. M. All ex parte motions must be made at the above time.

Rule 17. Transfer of Causes.—When a cause has been regularly assigned to a Justice, the same shall not be reassigned by the presiding Justice without the consent of the Justice to whom it was originally assigned, except in cases wherein an affidavit of prejudice has been filed in conformity with the Code regulating such procedure.

Rule 18. Service of Notice.—Causes at issue may be set for trial upon the application of either party, and all orders setting causes for trial must be served on the adverse party at least two days before said day of trial. All notices of motions must be served at least two days before the hearing of said motion.

RULES—POLICE COURT—SAN FRANCISCO.

Rule 1. Numbering and Assignment of Cases.—Commencing July 1, 1911, all cases shall be numbered in regular rotation, felonies commencing at F. 1 and misdemeanors at M. 1, and they shall be assigned in regular rotation to the respective Departments of the court.

Reassignment.—When the calendars have been made up in the morning and sent to the respective departments, the Bond and Warrant Clerk shall immediately be informed as to the last number used in each series, and he shall number the complaints and warrants in regular rotation in accordance with this rule. No one shall have any authority to change the number of a case, or alter the assignment of a case, without an order signed by all of the Judges of the court, provided that the Presiding Judge may transfer any case from one Department to another with the consent of the Judges from whom and to whom it is to be so transferred.

Assignments Where Judge is Absent.—In case of the absence of any Judge for a period of more than three days from any cause, or in case of the adjournment of any court for vacation, the numbers regularly belonging to that Judge or Department shall be assigned in rotation to the other Departments then in session during the period of such absence or adjournment. Where several defendants are jointly charged with any offense, but one number shall be used for all such, and in the event that jury trials are demanded in such cases the Judge in whose department they may be shall report the fact to the Presiding Judge, who shall cause a reassignment of the cases to be made in numerical order among the Departments of the court.

Rule 2. Warrants not Issued Before 11 A. M.—In order that the conduct of the business of the court may be expedited and the disturbance incident to the issuance of warrants may be curtailed, warrants will not be issued prior to 11 o'clock A. M. on any day, except in cases of great or exceptional urgency. The Warrant and Bond Clerk will so inform all persons applying for warrants.

RULES—ATTORNEY GENERAL—LEAVE TO SUE.

In conformity with the practice heretofore followed by this office in so-called "leave to sue" cases, the following rules have been adopted for the guidance of those who may desire to sue in the name of the people upon the relation of a private person:

Rule 1. Application for "Leave to Sue."—The relator will submit to this office his application for "leave to sue," accompanied by:

Original Verified Complaint.—(a) Original verified complaint, together with a copy thereof;

Points and Authorities.—(b) Points and authorities showing why proposed action should be brought in the name of the people;

Notice to Defendant.—(c) A notice directed to defendant to the effect that relator is about to apply for leave to sue in the action therein named, and that defendant may, within ten days from the date of service of such notice, show cause, if any he have, why such "leave to sue" should not be granted.

Proof of Service upon Defendant.—(d) Proof of service of such application, complaint, points and authorities, and notice upon the defendant or defendants.

Rule 2. Defendants to Show Cause.—Defendants will be allowed ten days (or such further time as may be granted) in which to show cause why the application for "leave to sue" should not be granted.

Rule 3. Relator to Reply.—Relator will then be allowed five days (or such further time as may be granted) in which to reply to the showing thus made by defendants.

Rule 4. Proof of Service.—Proof of service should accompany all papers submitted to this office under Rules 1, 2 and 3.

Rule 5. Undertaking.—If the application for “leave to sue” be granted, the relator must, within ten days after receiving notice of the granting of such leave (unless further time be granted), present to this office an undertaking executed to the State of California in the sum of five hundred dollars, with two good and sufficient sureties, to the effect that the relator will pay any judgment for costs and damages that may be recovered against the plaintiff, and all costs and expenses incurred in the prosecution of the said action. The said bond shall be indorsed by a Judge of the Superior Court of the county wherein the action is to be brought, to the effect that if the bond were presented to said Judge he would accept the sureties therein named for the amount of the undertaking.

Rule 6. “Leave to Sue” Filed With the Clerk.—Upon receipt of said undertaking so executed in proper form, the Attorney General will transmit, in writing, to the relator, “leave to sue” in the name of the people, which “leave to sue” should be filed with the Clerk of the court simultaneously with the filing of the complaint.

Rule 7. Complaint Filed.—The complaint filed in the action shall be a copy of the proposed complaint hereinbefore referred to, changed or amended as the Attorney General shall suggest or direct, and the relator shall not thereafter in any way change, amend, or alter the said complaint without first consulting the Attorney General.

Rule 8. Attorney General may Withdraw, Discontinue, Dismiss or Assume Management.—The Attorney General may at all times, at any and every stage of the said suit, withdraw therefrom and discontinue or dismiss the same, as to him may seem fit and proper; or may, at his option, assume the management of said cause at any stage thereof.

Rule 9. Relator must Inform Office of Every Proceeding.—The relator must immediately inform this office of the date of the filing of the complaint, and of the court number thereof, and shall thereafter notify this office without delay, of every proceeding had, motion made, paper filed, or thing done in the action, or in relation thereto, and must send to this office, promptly a copy of every paper or document filed by any of the parties to the action, and when service of any paper in said action is made on the relator by the opposing party, the relator shall secure an additional copy of such paper, which additional copy shall be at once forwarded to this office.¹

¹ The attention of counsel is especially directed to Rule No. 9, and their strict compliance therewith is earnestly requested. The Attorney General is required to keep a complete record of all proceedings, and cannot do so unless the Rule referred to is continuously observed.

RULES—FOR PAROLING OF PRISONERS.

(Adopted September 27, 1909.)

Rule 1. Record of Prisoners.—It shall be the duty of the wardens of the respective prisons at San Quentin and at Folsom to keep a full and accurate record of each prisoner therein confined who may be eligible to parole under the provisions of the law. This record shall include a biographical sketch covering such items as may indicate the causes of the criminal character or conduct of the prisoner, and the advantages and opportunities of education, moral training, employment, etc., enjoyed before arrest by said prisoner; also a personal record showing, so far as possible or practicable, his conduct, demeanor, diligence at labor, and progress in education while confined in such prison; and also a percentage table, indicating the said record of each prisoner, using 100 as a maximum. No prisoner whose record shall not have shown 100 per cent for six (6) consecutive months shall be eligible to parole.

Rule 2. Report on Applicants.—Before considering any case for parole, the board will require the written report, recommendation, and opinion of the warden, captain of the yard, and physician at San Quentin, and of the warden, captain of the guard, physician, and turnkey at Folsom, in the cases of prisoners in their respective prisons. Such officers shall report the general conduct and habits of the prisoner, and the probability, in their judgment, of his remaining on parole without violating the law. It shall be the duty of such officers to obtain all the information possible of the antecedents of each and every applicant for parole, together with such statements of the crime committed by the prisoner, and such advice and opinion concerning the advisability of granting a parole, as can be obtained from the judge who tried the case, the district attorney, and counsel for defense. It shall be the duty of such officers to examine into each and every application for parole, and present to the board all available data at as early a date as possible, together with any and all papers, documents, and records necessary for a proper and full consideration of each application, as provided by these rules. It shall be the duty of such officers to carefully examine and scrutinize the records and percentage tables provided for in Rule 1, presenting such records and tables of each eligible prisoner to this board in tabulated form, and indorsing the same as correct and true, or otherwise, as their knowledge and judgment may determine.

Rule 3. Deposit and Guaranty of Employment.—No prisoner shall be released on parole until satisfactory evidence shall have been furnished in writing, that employment will be given such prisoner by some responsible and reputable person, or that he will engage in some respectable business for himself. No prisoner shall be released on parole until there shall have been deposited by, or on his behalf, with the warden of the prison in which the prisoner is confined, the sum of $25.00. In the event of the violation by said prisoner of any of the conditions of his parole, the said sum of $25.00, and the whole thereof, shall be forfeited by the depositor thereof and shall be retained by said warden to be used in defraying the expense of arresting and recommitting paroled prisoners who violate the conditions of their parole. The moneys thus forfeited shall constitute a fund to be known as the "parole expense fund" and shall be expended for the purposes last above named when authorized by a majority of the board; such expenditures to be made by checks signed jointly by the warden and the clerk of the prison to which such expenditures respectively pertain. In all cases where no such violations occur the entire amount shall be refunded to the depositor on return of receipt, properly indorsed, after final discharge of said paroled prisoner. In no case shall any prisoner be released on parole unless there is, in the judgment of the board, reasonable ground to believe that he will, if paroled, live and remain at liberty without violating the law, and that his release is not incompatible with the welfare of society, nor perverse to the ends of justice.

Rule 4. Notice of Intention.—Each applicant shall cause to be published, at least once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county in which he was convicted, if such newspaper be published, the fact that he intends to apply for parole; and no application shall be considered by this board until the statement of the publisher, with copy of notice attached, shall have been filed. If no newspaper be published in the county, the notice shall be published in a newspaper in an adjoining county.

Rule 5. Half Term must be Served.—No application for parole shall be filed by the clerk until the prisoner shall have served one-half his sentence, unless for some extraordinary reason the same shall have been recommended in writing by the warden, with his reasons therefor, and ordered filed by the affirmative vote of at least four members of the board.

Rule 6. Order of Hearings.—Applicants for parole shall be placed on a calendar in the order of the date on which the completed papers are filed with the clerk, and such applications shall be heard in such order, and in no case shall an application be heard out of order.

Rule 7. Argument and Solicitation.—No attorney shall be heard in behalf of any prisoner; nor shall an oral argument be allowed. All facts which may be thought to entitle a prisoner to parole shall be stated in writing and filed with the clerk. No oral solicitation of any kind will be permitted.

Rule 8. Attorneys.—Each applicant must file with his application a statement of all sums of money which he has paid or promised to pay directly or indirectly to any attorney or other person for assistance in preparation of papers or other cause, or that any other person has paid or promised to pay in his behalf. It is unnecessary to have attorneys in parole cases, and the board will discourage the practice.

Rule 9. Life Termers.—Life termers, and those who have served eight years, solid time, shall be placed on a separate calendar, and their applications shall be considered in the order in which they are filed with the clerk.

Rule 10. Vote Necessary for Parole.—It shall require the affirmative vote of four members of the board to grant a parole or ticket-of-leave, whose names shall be signed to the certificate of parole.

Rule 11. Rehearings.—When an application for parole shall be denied the applicant shall not again become eligible to parole until the expiration of one year from the date of such denial, except that a rehearing of such application may be had within such year if recommended by the warden in writing with his reasons for such recommendation.

Rule 12. Reports of Paroled Prisoners.—Every paroled prisoner shall be required to subscribe in a book, to be kept for the purpose, his signature. Every paroled prisoner shall report in writing, over his signature, to the parole officer in San Francisco on the first day of every month until released by law. Said report shall be countersigned by the person in whose employ the paroled prisoner may be at the time, if employed by another. In addition to reporting to the said parole officer every paroled prisoner shall also report to either a chief of police, a sheriff of a county, a justice of the peace, a constable, or such other person as the board may designate, in such a manner and at such times as the board may prescribe in each particular case. Said prisoner shall make such additional reports as the board in each particular case may require.

Rule 13. Violations of Parole and Forfeiture of Credits.—Every paroled prisoner shall be liable to be retaken and again confined within the prison for any violation of the conditions of his parole, or for any reason that shall be satisfactory to the board; and for any violation of the conditions of his parole, or of any of these rules, or any rules of this prison, the paroled prisoner may forfeit all or any part of his credits, at the sole discretion of the board.

Rule 14. Credits of Paroled Prisoners.—The board shall have the power to determine whether a paroled prisoner shall be allowed his credits, to be deducted from his term of sentence, or shall forfeit his credits, for any offense which would cause his credits to be forfeited if confined in prison.

Rule 15. Amendments.—No alteration or amendment shall be made to these rules and regulations, unless at least four members of the board vote therefor, and no one of these rules shall be suspended without the unanimous consent of the board when at least four members are present.
